HUNTING THE FESTIVE STRAWBERRY.—During a berry hunt at Danbury, a New York visitor came on a cluster of strawberry vines, and went through them in search of a remnant of a delicious fruit. He didn't find it, but when he awoke the next morning it was only with one eye, the other being engaged in holding the cheek, which had marched over it during the night. They didn't find his mouth till near noon, when it was discovered just back of his ear enjoying the shade. The strawberry plants must have been mercury vines, the doctors say.

A PERFECTLY SENSIBLE CLOG DANCER and how he risked his head in support of the elevation of women:

The Missouri Democrat says the Girard House, corner of Broadway and Biddle streets, was at six o'clock yesterday afternoon the scene of an accident which, considering its cause, effect and consequences, is one of the strangest and rarest on record. A young man, named James McIntyre, a clog dancer belonging to the Great Eastern Circus, and boarding with his brother in the hotel, amused himself yesterday with looking through the ventilator of the elevator, when the latter suddenly came down and nearly knocked his head off. The head, however, proved too much for the framework. A piece of wood three feet long by three inches wide, and another three and a half feet long by six inches wide, were knocked off from the coach. The proprietor of the hotel happened to be standing about ten feet from the elevator on the same floor, and came to the relief of the unfortunate youth. He succeeded in stopping the elevator. After raising it about a foot and a half the unfortunate youth was pulled back into the hall. He bled copiously at the nose and vomited a quantity of blood, but was perfectly sensible. Dr. Armstrong, who resides in the hotel, and was just at supper, examined him about three minutes after the accident, and declared that the injured man had no bones broken, but was internally injured, and his recovery is doubtful. He looks rather childish and careless, and one would not imagine, by his appearance, that his neck could stand the weight of an elevator, filled as it was with ladies.

JOURNALISTIC FUN.—An incident in the history of Shadrach Penn's life, which some of the older citizens of Louisville may yet remember, and which doubtless affords them many a hearty laugh, occurred about thirty-five years ago, when Geo. D. Prentice, at the head of the Louisville Journal, and Penn, as editor and publisher of the Advertiser, were running what was called, in those early days of American journalism, a lively opposition. About a year previous to the occurrence, a horrible murder or some great calamity had occurred in the south, not far from New Orleans. It happened that Prentice had saved a copy of this paper, which had not been clipped or cut. His natural wit struck upon a good expedient to get off a good joke on Penn by means of this paper, then a year old. Accordingly he sprinkled the paper, folded it up, neatly pressed it, which gave it the appearance of a new issue, and enclosing it in a large wrapper, backed it: "Compliments clerk of the steamer Waucousta, five days, seventy-eight hours out from New Orleans. Quickest trip on record. To S. Penn, editor Louisville Advertiser." The boy came rushing into the editorial sanctum almost totally exhausted, threw down the paper on the table, and then scampered off. Penn picked it up, tore the wrapper hurriedly, and his eyes immediately rested on the important article of news referred to. No time was to be lost. The paper was nearly up; several important matters were in the form, but they were ordered out, and the new copy was in the hands of the compositors, with a few editorial comments, and very profuse thanks to the gentlemanly clerk of the elegant and fast steamer Waucousta, for the invaluable favor, etc. The whole trick proved successful, and Prentice delighted, on every possible occasion, more especially when Penn had a "big thing" in the Advertiser, to ask: "Did that item of news come by the Waucousta?" The boat referred to was notoriously slow; she had but one engine, and was commanded by Captain Frank Dohrman, of Steubenville, Ohio.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain and distress produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have met from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Alleviator for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, protruding, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

Hon. E. H. Rollins' Speech.

The grand impromptu rally of the Grant men, Friday night, has frightened the Greeleyites, who have been basing their hopes on unsound foundations. No such greeting as Hon. E. H. Rollins received could be extended to any champion of the Dolly Varden school in the State of New Hampshire. Reasons why—Mr. Rollins has the respect and confidence of the men who have for seventeen years followed his lead, and the Republican voters perceive in the present campaign the opportunity to secure the permanent triumph of their principles, by the total destruction of the Democratic party organization. On being introduced by Mayor Marvin, Mr. Rollins spoke substantially as follows:—

Fellow Citizens and Friends: Desiring a brief respite from labor, and seeing by the papers that the great Philosopher was making a trip to New Hampshire to visit his "relatives and playmates of his childhood," I thought I would modestly follow his example. In considering the matter I thought of seeking a first class hotel within easy distance. I confess I have a weakness for a first class hotel—and so I came to the Rockingham and am sure I have found it. I understand our Democratic friends fired the guns a trifle too early, but you have chosen to wait for more reliable information. I sometimes wish the North Carolina election had been a Greeley victory in truth, for no sooner had our Democratic friends imagined themselves safely on the road to victory than the same old evil spirit which was shown during the rebellion, the evil spirit which the southern rebels and northern copperheads shew in times gone by, was developed. We had a glimpse of the result should further hopes of victory arise in that quarter. We should have witnessed such an exhibition of their feeling as we have not seen since the days of Bull Run and Chancellorville. The election of last year in North Carolina was not a political test, the question being on the adoption or rejection of a new constitution. There was a clause in the old constitution which exempted homesteads from taxation, and as there was no such provision in the new one, many of the poorer Democrats voted with the Republicans and the new constitution was rejected. At the most recent election when party lines were drawn, in 1870, the Democratic majority was nearly 5000. That majority has been overcome and the Republican majority will be from 1000 to 2000. This is evidence that no inroads have been made by the Greeley movement in our ranks in the South. North Carolina will throw its electoral vote for Grant & Wilson in November.

We had four years of Buchanan, under whose administration in time of peace the nation was dragged down into a most infernal rebellion. Then came four years with Abraham Lincoln as President, and then four years of Andrew Johnson! Following that comes the administration of President Grant. The country was kept in turmoil in Johnson times because the Executive and legislative branches of the the government were in antagonism. Can we afford to have four years more of such confusion! (Cries of "No!") Such would be the case if Greeley were to be elected. The financial interests of the country cannot afford to be endangered by four years more of such an administration. Johnson differed from Greeley only by becoming a traitor to his party after election, while Greeley becomes a traitor before. Under no circumstances can the Senate be Democratic for the next four years, and with Greeley as President there would be no harmony. The Senate would be against him, passing judgment upon all his appointments, so that with the election of Greeley we should have four years more of Andrew Johnson!

But some persons say, "we must have a change on account of the corruptions of this administration." Well, my friends, who are to control Greeley in case he is elected? The Tammany organization, of course. But the administration of President Grant will bear the most rigid examination. Secretary Boutwell, that faithful and efficient officer of the government, has stated recently, as I see by the papers, that the defalcations under the administration of Johnson were $1,700 000, while the entire amount of defalcations under the present administration is but $64,000 Tammany supports Greeley and would control his administration. One smart, first-class Tammany plasterer could steal more in one day in New York than the whole defalcations of Grant's administration! (Laughter and applause.) And this is true of safe-dealers and others. The rottenness of Tammany is being developed in the impeachment trial of Judge Barnard of New York at Saratoga before the Court of Appeals and State Senate. There I saw the record book of Tammany produced, which showed that Barnard, Fisk and others were members. Thus did Tammany Hall manipulate the courts of justice and administer the law. A gentleman connected with a corporation with whose affairs I am somewhat familiar, lost more in the fall of stocks and bonds in one day, caused by the wicked administration of the law by this Tammany judge, than all the defalcations of the government under Grant's administration.

The charges of fraud and corruption come with poor grace from members of a party whose Secretary of the Navy from Connecticut stole or scattered the ships of the U. S. Navy when they were needed to suppress the rebellion; whose Secretary of War, Floyd, stole all the arms of the government and placed them in the hands of rebels, traitors; whose officials stole the bonds and money of the government. It is this class of men that cry out "corruption."

Thank God, there is no danger of Greeley's election; such a result would in my judgment be a national calamity. What could the business interests of the country depend on in case of his election? Greeley, the father of protection, who was the centre figure in the Democratic free trade caricature scattered broadcast about this State only a few months ago, is now their nominee for President, and receiving the support of these free trade Democrats. It is said that he waives his free trade opinions. He would probably waive all the rest of his Republican principles after his election. What can you expect of such a man, and what reliance can be placed in a man who will waive his principles for a Presidential nomination?

Greeley has been on both sides of all political questions. In 1861, he was willing to allow "the wayward sisters to depart in peace." He was willing the Union should be broken up. Is it strange that the rebels should be willing to support him for the Presidency? In case of Greeley's election, the business men of the country would like to known who would occupy the important position of Secretary of the Treasury, one of vital importance to their interests? Who would succeed the present able Secretary, who has administered the financial affairs of the department with signal ability and unquestioned integrity? Business men cannot afford the change nor the uncertainty incident to the administration of a man so fickle as Horace Greeley. We have all prospered for the past four years, business thrives and the laboring men never received greater pay for their services than now. They can secure more comforts and luxuries of life for a day's labor than ever before "since the morning stars first sang together." But I am afraid your patience will be exhausted, and will close. (Cries of "Go on," "we have not heard half enough.")

Well, I will briefly refer to some of our leaders who have left us, and purpose to speak kindly but nevertheless truthfully. Charles Sumner, whom we have admired and who had a glorious record, is gone. Mr. Sumner is mad, infuriated, and we appeal from the Sumner mad to the Sumner in his sane moments. The great trouble is that Sumner is afflicted with the disease which destroyed poor Chase—Presidency on the brain. (Laughter.) Sumner was as bitterly opposed to Abraham Lincoln's renomination in 1864 as he is now to the re-election of President Grant, though he made no extensive public opposition. He wanted to succeed that pure patriot, Abraham Lincoln, when the Republican party rose up in its majesty and demanded his renomination. He was again disappointed four years later, when the Republicans by general consent and with great enthusiasm placed the Hero of the war in nomination, and it required the best efforts of his personal friends in both those campaigns to reconcile him. Four years later, he saw his Presidential prospects waning, as he was getting along in years, and refused to be comforted. Hence his open and bitter opposition to President Grant. It is evident that these leaders are not drawing after them any considerable number of the rank and file. The party remains intact and is closing up its ranks and moving on to victory. If we do our duty, we shall achieve a victory in November, not only in the State but throughout the nation, as glorious and overwhelming as any we have won in the past. (Cheers.) Thanking you for your kind attention, I now bid you good evening. (Cheers for Rollins and Grant & Wilson.)

Political.

One of the most significant "straws" of the present campaign is the canvass just made of the towns of Chesterfield and Ausable, N. Y. The result of the canvass disclosed just two Greeley Republicans in the two towns, one of whom is considered doubtful; while no less than one hundred and twenty Democrats were found who will not vote for Greeley, sixty of whom are out-and-out for Grant.

The next State election is that of West Virginia, on the 22d of the present month, at which time the question of accepting or rejecting the new and "liberal" Constitution will be voted upon, and State officers elected to serve under it, in case of its adoption. Regularly the term of the present Governor, J. J. Jacobs, would not expire until 1874. He was elected in 1870 as a Democrat by a majority of about two thousand, the result of the votes of ex-rebel soldiers cast for the first time. The Democratic leaders, finding themselves unexpectedly in power, immediately concocted a plan for getting possession of all the offices in the State. This could only be brought about by the adoption of a new Constitution, and for this purpose a Constitutional Convention was voted for in 1871, and the new Constitution framed by this convention is now submitted to the people. One of its provisions excludes colored men from holding office, and it is supposed it will meet the approval of all the Greeleyites in the State.

The Republicans claim Indiana by a heavy majority.

Wendell Phillips will soon deliver an elaborate speech in behalf of President Grant and in review of Mr. Sumner's course.

The liberal convention in Louisana has refused the final offer of compromise made by the democratic and reform conventions, and nominated D. P. Penn for governor.

President Grant has had enthusiastic receptions at Glenn's Falls, Saratoga and Albany, New York.

The New York Tribune says "the Governorship of North Carolina is only an empty honor, unless the incumbent has the Legislature to back him." And yet its chief man is campaigning in New England for the Presidency with the full assurance that certainly one branch of the National Legislature would not back him.—Providence Jour.

Alas! for the Greeley aspirations in New York. Reports are rapidly coming in from all sections of the State. Potsdam, the banner Republican town of St. Lawrence county, was announced as undergoing a tremendous Greeley revolution; but it turns out that the Republican majority of from 700 to 800 will remain unchanged, and that the Greeleyites muster barely 84.

Mr. Greeley, in his speech at Manchester, told his interested audience that once in his youth, while on a trip with his father, they "were compelled, in order to reach home, to take a circuitous route in order to cross the river at this point, by an old and rickety structure." Taking "circuitous routes" over "old rickety structures" is still his forte.

Sangamon county, Ill., reports fifteen Republicans who have gone over to Greeley and four hundred Democrats who have declared against him.

The Worcester Spy says a fine flag bearing the names of Grant and Wilson has just been completed in that city, which was ordered by Democrats of Rochdale who still stick to their old ideas and take this method of showing that they do not agree to the bargain by which Horace Greeley became the candidate of the party for President.

The Manchester Mirror says that there were not fifty voters at the depot to meet Horace Greeley, last week, and at Nashua a half dozen individuals did the reception.

The story that Senator Anthony was about to declare for Greeley was so assured as to scarcely call for a denial. The Providence Journal (Senator Anthony's paper) says: "Mr. Anthony gives to Gen. Grant his earnest support, and has never doupted that the integrity and the honor of the country demand the re-election of the illustrious man who has done so much for both." This disposes of Greeley lie No. 11, 672.

The Nashua Telegraph says:—

Ex-Gov. Goodwin of Portsmouth meets his reported defection with a prompt and decided denial. As a successful business man, and an upright, patriotic citizen, Gov. Goodwin is known and respected throughout the State. His opinions will have much weight, as they ought, and we ask the careful attention of our business men of all parties to his letter.

R. S. Fisk, chairman of the Territorial Republican committee of Montana, telegraphs from Helena to Secretary Edmunds of the Republican Congressional committee, that the delegate election result is still undetermined. Maginnis, Democrat, leads Claggett 170 in the counties heard from. One county which gave 170 Republican majority will, probably, give Claggett 250 majority, which will elect him. Mr. Fisk is sanguine of victory.

Secretary Belknap is in receipt of letters from Iowa most encouraging to the republicans, and from which he believes their majority will not be much, if any, less than forty thousand. Only one democratic congressman is probable in any contingency, in the State, and even this is doubtful. From Michigan the political news through private sources is altogether prosperous, and eight republican representatives and a large republican majority are morally certain from the State in November.

Letters from Arkansas express confidence in Grant's carrying the State.

The Republican rally held in Bangor Friday afternoon and evening was one of the greatest and most imposing political gatherings ever held in Maine. Almost the whole Republican people of the Penobscot valley turned out and the crowd was immense. There was a large procession in the afternoon and another with torches in the evening. Open-air meetings were held, the principal speakers being Secretary Boutwell and Hon. John A. Bingham.

DEMOCRATS are enjoined to paste the following in their hats:—

"I emphatically deny that I ever said, every Democrat was a horse-thief, but I did say that every horse-thief was a Democrat."—Horace Greeley.

—A large moccasin snake was recently killed in Virginia, out of which, after death, were taken eighty young.

TRAVELLERS' TESTIMONY.—Thousands of travellers by land and sea have vouched for the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of the physical disturbances which ordinarily arise from change of climate and the changes of diet, water, &c., incident to a wandering life. Upon systems toned, invigorated and regulated by this genial vegetable antidote the external causes of debility and disease seem to produce little or no effect. Forearmed with Hostetter's Bitters the voyager may bid defiance to seasickness and encounter the chilling fogs of the British Isles, the coast winds of the Antilles, the icy temperature of Northern Alaska, or the burning heat of the tropics with equal impunity. The effect of this admirable medicated stimulant is greatly to increase the vital energy of the system, thereby enabling it to resist and repel the exciting causes of disease.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DYSPEPSIA DESTROYS THE TEETH, unless its effects are counteracted by that pure vegetable tonic and antiseptic Sozodont. No bodily disease can impair them if this antidote to all corrosive elements that act upon the enamel is regularly applied.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Health, cheerfulness, long life, depend upon the regular action of the digestive organs, pure secretions and the vigorous condition of the lungs and the nerves. All these conditions of the system are secured by the use of the above remedies. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box or pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited. 11

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TRIUMPHANT FOR TWENTY YEARS.—More than twenty years ago the Mustang Liniment made its debut in the West. Its cures of the various external diseases of horses and cattle astonished the planters and farmers of the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, and a demand for it sprung up which necessitated its manufacture on an extensive scale. Soon the discovery was made that it was a grand specific for rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, earache, toothache, and other external ailments of mankind. Then it was tried as a healing, pain killing application, in cases of outward injury, such as cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, &c., and was found equally serviceable. The fame of the new remedy for some of the most painful ills that afflict mankind and the lower animals, spread rapidly, and Mustang Liniment soon took rank in every State and Territory of the Union as a standard cure.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

Portsmouth and Dover Railroad.

The annual meeting of the grantees of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad Company was held at Dover on Friday. Hon Frank Jones presided. Director Hatch of Portsmouth made a statement, showing the most satisfactory status of the enterprise. The lease to the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire was announced as strongly protected by the valuable property of said road and the indorsement of the Eastern Railroad in Massachusetts; and the prospective business, especially after the Lake Shore road is built, must be very great and profitable. Some of the most skillful railroad men in the country have warmly praised the enterprise. In Portsmouth, opposition to it now has ceased. There is no doubt but towns and cities can legally issue bonds in aid of railroads. An interesting and encouraging discussion followed.

The following Board of Directors was re-elected: Frank Jones, Daniel Marcy, Albert R. Hatch and John H. Bailey of Portsmouth; Oliver Wyatt, Andrew H. Young and Amos D. Purrinton of Dover. John S. H. Frink, Esq., of Greenland, was re-elected Clerk, and George L. Treadwell, Esq., of Portsmouth, Treasurer.

President Jones was chosen a committee of one to confer with the Eastern Railroad directors in regard to the selection of a Civil Engineer and survey of the road; Messrs. Hatch and Marcy of Portsmouth and Young of Dover were appointed a Committee to consult with the Engineer, and to bond the land on the route selected and make the preliminary arrangements. President Jones and Messrs. Wyatt of Dover and Hatch of Portsmouth were appointed a committee on the construction of the road, and to confer with a similar committee on the part of the Eastern road. The Treasurer was authorized to open the subscription books at once, and the subscriptions were not to be binding until $525,000 is subscribed. There was a large attendance, including many leading citizens of Portsmouth and Dover. The work will be actively pushed ahead.

Death of John Bennett.

In the usual place in our columns will be found a notice of the death of John Bennett, Esq., who for nearly half a century served the public faithfully and acceptably in various positions of trust and responsibility. Mr. Bennett was born in November, 1787, and was at the time of his death in his eighty-fifth year. He held office in this town and city for more than forty years; being Collector of Taxes from 1821 to 1831, and Town and City Clerk from 1832 to 1861, retiring from office in January, 1862,—except that he was Secretary of the High School Committee for several years afterwards. In addition to the responsible and arduous duties pertaining to these offices, Mr. Bennett was for a long time a member of the School Committee, before the District system was established, was for several years Overseer of the Poor, and after the division of the city into wards, was Moderator of Ward Three for a term of years. He was Chairman of the Committee who presented to the Town the plan of the Haven School House, and one of the committee who superintended the erection of that building. For the last ten years Mr. Bennett has lived in retirement, enjoying the respect and esteem of the community he served so well.

Laconics.

An excursion party from Lake Village will visit the Shoals next Thursday.

The liar of the Greeley hand-organ denies our statement that certain rowdies insulted Ex-Governor Goodwin by interrupting his speech. As usual he lies in his denial. Ex-Governor Goodwin endeavored several times to commence his speech, being interrupted as often by the young Greeley rowdies.

Twenty young men, naming themselves the Kearsarge Gymnasium Association, have started a gymnasium here.

Greeley's new allies gave him the go by in Concord, Nashua and Manchester. Now let Horace come to Portsmouth. The Grant men will show him more respect than his supporters in this State have thus far.

In the course of the next month, we shall probably have the new postal cards.

The Lyre says the Republicans have lost several Congressmen in North Carolina. The facts are that in the present Congress there are but two Republican Congressmen and that three Republicans were elected to Congress at the recent election. What a foolish liar that fellow is—or was Joshua right when he said the fellow did not know the meaning of words?

But thirteen Democratic voters attended the Democratic rally at Kittery, Friday night, says our correspondent.

"What makes the Boston and Maine locate their road so near the ocean?" asked the wife of a Boston broker of her spouse, soon after their arrival at Old Orchard Beach. "So they can water their stock more easily," replied Mr. Buyerton, with an expression as if he had hit it.

Willie's arithmetic beats the Dutch. He says the Republicans lost several Congressmen in North Carolina at the recent election, having elected three. In the present Congress, there are but two Republicans from that State. Willie's formula is thus reduced to this:—Three from two leave—several. Go to the head, Willie! Your arithmetic is of the required thickness for Greeley gulls.

The Concord Railroad at one time last week was paying demurrage on twenty-five vessels awaiting to deliver freight at our wharves. This will indicate the importance of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad securing a terminus having wharf privileges at this end of their route. Indeed one of the leading sources of its profits will be the freight it will take from the Piscataqua. Coal, salt, West India goods, and all articles of commerce are to be supplied to the country towns of New Hampshire; and they can as well be furnished by the roads that terminate here, as by those running from Boston. There is a prospect ahead of a large commercial business here, and we hope it will be secured and improved.

Theatre.

Our citizens have an opportunity to witness some excellent acting by Lester Wallack's New York dramatic company at the Temple, this evening. A New York exchange says:—

The "Long Strike" seems to have taken a better hold on the sympathies of the public than even on its first production in this city. Many wet eyes may be observed during the progress of the telegraph scene. As during its first rehearsals in this country, in Mr. J. H. Stoddard's sketch of "Lawyer Moneypenny" was centred the amusement of the night. Mr. Stoddart's "Old Moneypenny" is an exceedingly fine character impersonation. Miss Julia Gaylord, as "Jane Learoyd," was pleasing and effective throughout. Mr. Holland gives a very excellent representation of the Irish sailor, "Johnny Reilly." Mr. Ringgold's "Jem Sharkey" is most effective in every particular, and is a correct picture of the Manchester operative. The capital acting of Mr. Hind, as "Noah Learoyd," is not without its visible effect on the audience, and Mr. Chas. Rockwell acts the part of "Richard Radley" in a most artistic manner.

It should be remembered that the Temple is one of the coolest places in the city.

THE PRICE OF COAL.—The best of coal is selling here at $7.50 per ton. In an article on the price of coal, the Philadelphia Inquirer advises its readers not to take comfort from the low rates in the wholesale market, nor to suppose from them that lower prices will rule. It says, and its authority in the matter is unquestioned, that "coal will not be any cheaper during the month of August than it has heretofore been, and those persons who have been waiting to reach the cheapest point in order to lay in their winter supply will probably find that the best economy which they can practice is to submit to no further delay, and obtain their stock as soon as possible."

—Shakspearean reader to Mr. Fahrenheit's thermometer—"Down, down, thou climbing sorrow!"

—Sterling, Ill., has passed an ordinance forbidding drinking saloons to use curtains or screens at their windows.

—Monogram air pushers are the latest agony among young ladies whose fathers can raise sufficient wind to buy them.

College Life.

Parents who have relied upon our colleges as a help in keeping their sons as far as possible from the "road that leads to hell," naturally feel much anxiety on reading the accounts of the "training," "the betting" the "pool selling" the "banqueting," &c., connected with the late "boat-race." It is highly gratifying that that "wide awake" watchman, Henry Ward Beecher, has very mildly suggested to the officers of these colleges that there is in these things "something for them to think about." And it occurs to the writer to inquire if that President who told his scholars to "ring the bell until it cracks" is willing to be "ranked" according to what this indicates to be his real standing. If great evils like this have got a firm hold there are "rough seas ahead" for our youth. ONE OF THE PARENTS.

THE BRISTOL SUNK.—The magnificent steamer Bristol of the Fall River line, ran into British barque B. Rogers, from Dublin, at anchor near Newport, at 3 o'clock, Saturday morning. The steamer was going at the rate of ten miles an hour. The crew of the barque, sixteen in number, were saved, the vessel sinking in six minutes. Her cargo was valued at $75,000. The Bristol had about 800 passengers from New York and landed 500 of them at Newport, proceeding on towards Fall River. When a few miles out, it was discovered that she was leaking badly and Capt. Simmonds beached her on the Portsmouth flats in seventeen feet of water. The passengers were safely landed in life boats and took the train for Boston at the Tiverton station. The Old Colony will run in place of the Bristol, which is to be lightered to New York for repairs.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
SINGER
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is lighter speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

WIGFALL AND BROOKES.—Louis Wigfall, a native of South Carolina, and long a Senator from Texas, is practising law in this city. He is a man of great originality, aplomb, quaintness and force of talk. He is very earnestly for Mr. Greeley, and it is thought may be sent to the South to stump such parts as have received the infliction of Toombs and Wise. It is very entertaining to hear Wigfall discuss Southern things. The old man loves to revive the earlier scenes of his life, when he lived in the Edgefield district of South Carolina, and made his great contention with the powerful family of the Brookes. The Brookes family had great numbers of negroes and broad acres, and were a sort of hereditary office keepers in the Edgefield district. They despised Calhoun—not for his opinions—but because he could command the attention of the country without wealth as theirs. Wigfall being the henchman of Calhoun in England, the elder Brookes said some mean things about him, at which Wigfall sent him notice that he meant to post him at the court house door, and would spend three hours full in defending the posting. In the Southern style therefore, Wigfall denounced old Brookes as a liar, etc., and waited, with a small arsenal for somebody to knock a chip off his shoulder, taking his liquor in the meantime as he had been doing for the greater part of his days. In due time along came a couple of nephews of old Brookes to tear down the bill, when there was an instant explosion of percussion caps and one Brookes was killed and another badly wounded. This led to a challenge to Louis Wigfall from Preston S. Brookes (the future castigator of Charles Sumner) son of the old man, and they met, and at the first fire both were slightly wounded, and at the second fire both were dangerously wounded. Before Preston S. Brookes died he acknowledged the injustice of his family toward Wigfall, and sent a nephew of the latter to the Naval Academy. These old and ruined rebels are queer objects in existing society, and their stories and legends are listened to as if Captain Kidd or Sixteen-String Jack were to come out of the grave.

BANK'S LETTER is a model in its way, and will repay the careful study of young politicians. It resembles as nearly as may be the letter of a pastor resigning his charge for another of more labor and less pay. What causes Mr. Banks to go over to Greeley, he says, is his belief "that the perpetuation of the present policy of the government is not for the advantage of the country, and that it will not tend to restore its former peace and prosperity nor to promote the interest of any class of citizens." Everybody will be sorry to hear that he makes his declaration "against his inclination and his personal interest." In other words, Banks is the protomartyr of the Greeley cause. Others have gone over because they hated Grant or liked Greeley, or expected something from him, or for the fun of the thing; but Banks goes over from a lofty sense of duty to his country, and with loss to himself. We hope there will not be many other such cases. No Greeley, however great and good, is worth such devotion.—Nation.

GO ME SOME.—If we had a tidy little mill, so as to turn out but a gallon or two daily of juice from the perfect ripe apples, wouldn't it make a luscious drink, coming in a big flagon right off the ice? The women and children would surely like it, before it becomes yeasty, and I reckon it would sell well in the village and city in the cool of the morning, about milkman's time. I don't mean the juice of rotten and wormy apples, served from a musty old cask and a wagon with the look of a swill cart, but fresh, strained, fruity juice, right out of a basement room, cooled with ice, measured out by some proper Ganymede of a farmer's boy in bright tin. If men would act like christians, they might get along with a drink no stronger than that.—Hartford Courant.

SPIDER YARN.—The following spider story comes from Manchester: Mr. E. H. Cotton, the miller at the grist mill belonging to Abbott, Peter & Co., upon entering the mill Tuesday morning last, found a black spider had captured a small mouse and had raised it about two inches from the floor. The mouse was alive when found, but was unable to extricate itself from the silken network which the spider had woven around its body. More than a dozen persons were witnesses of this extraordinary feat.—Patriot.

HOW TO QUIT TOBACCO.—The best thing to hold in the mouth is a mouthful of cold water, renewed every few minutes. It will take away the craving for tobacco quicker than anything else, and is wholly unobjectionable. A pine stick is the best of anything to chew, but the objection to that, and to anything that is chewed, is that it over-exercises and weakens the salivary glands. In quitting the use of tobacco, quit at once, and not attempt to leave off gradually.—Herald of Health.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the choice of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents rearing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human families at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians, that noted PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

In the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "wandering Indians" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEYANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Alleyantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said, and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief of Coughs, Sore Throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distracting pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Corn Salve is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, uncopelled by the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Alleyantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

How They Lie.

E. A. Rollins, who has just resigned the Chairmanship of the Grant Republican State Committee in New-Hampshire, and declared for Greeley and Brown, is one of the shrewdest politicians and most successful organizers that State has ever known.—New York Tribune.

E. A. Rollins was never Chairman of the Republican State Committee. Hon. E. H. Rollins was, however, and the Tribune's compliment to his superior abilities is well merited. Mr. Rollins has not declared for Greeley and Brown. On the contrary, he made a speech in this city, Friday evening, in which he said—"Thank God, there is no danger of Greeley's election; such a result would in my judgment be a national calamity." This disposes of Lie No. 43,919. Next!

Political.

The Terre Haute (Ind.) Express, on learning that Horace Greeley proposed to visit his old home in New Hampshire, thus touchingly alluded to the condition of Mr. Greeley's former home and his past and present political status: "True, there's nothing left of the old home but a part of the cellar, yet that suggestive excavation may serve to remind the philosopher of the grave toward which his political hopes are rapidly tending. And as he marks the ravages that time has wrought amid the surroundings of his youth, it will be well for him to remember that a small fraction of that time—only a few months—has wrought a much sadder change in him, transforming a bold, manly, earnest Republican into a timid supplicant for Democratic votes. That half-filled cellar resembles the old Greeley home as much as the nominee of the Polliwog combination resembles the brave-hearted, earnest hater of Democratic iniquities, who used to edit the Tribune."

The Liberal Republicans of New Hampshire have announced their State Committee. Our space is too valuable to cumber it with their names. We have only to say that if the Committee were all as strong Republicans last year as the members from Sullivan County, Gen. Grant's majority in the State will be about 5,000. Every one of the persons whose names are mentioned as members from Sullivan County were Labor Reformers in March last. Witness Edward D. Baker of Claremont, defeated Labor-Reform candidate for Senator, received 99 votes out of 5,600; L. P. Cooper of Croydon, Labor Reform candidate for Governor, received rising 500 votes in a total of nearly 77,000; and Amos Richardson of Cornish, one of the rank and file, who received nary vote for anything. This is a fair sample of Liberal Republicanism in Sullivan County. There have been many claims put forward by the coalition as to their strength in this County. No more satisfactory argument in answer can be used than is evidenced in the fact that only former members of the L. R. organization could be found to accept the office of member of State Committee.—Claremont Eagle.

The Prairie du Chien Courier, Waukesha Plaindealer and Stevens' Point Pinery are three Democratic papers in Wisconsin that will not support the Greeley and Brown ticket.

Ex-Governor Haight, the last Democratic Governor of California, peremptorily refuses to contribute to the Greeley and Brown campaign fund, and says he will not vote for Greeley.

The unexpected democratic defeats in North Carolina and Louisville, Ky., seem to have had as bracing an effect on the straight-out democrats as they have dispiriting on the Greeleyites. Every day adds strength to the movement for a straight convention.

The Greeleyites who were in such ecstacy over the first news from North Carolina, can appreciate the feeling of the Irishman who tackled the bull, and subsequently remarked: "It's a mighty foine thing I had my laugh first."

Henry Clay Warmoth extends the tips of his dainty fingers across the bloody chasm, and is anxious to shake. Henry Clay is good on the shake. He shook Louisiana for half a million.—Missouri Democrat.

The Rochester Courier says that a staunch Republican, a former resident of that town reported as going for Greeley, writes as follows, which is conclusive evidence that he does "go" for Greeley, and not as a comer-out either: "The signs of the times indicate that the opposition to the Republican party, (now headed by one who has been a trusted leader in it) are relying on the game of brag to carry the election this fall. Their papers are full of what they call an 'enthusiastic' support of Horace Greeley, and of enormous swarms of come-outers from the Republican party. If they believe half they say, they need do no work, for the victory is theirs already, but the sober truth is, that they have gone into this thing with such a rush of artificial ardor, that judging by other things, it is likely to die long before November from sheer exhaustion. Meanwhile, the Republicans are sedate, sober, steady, unfaltering. The battle is not always to the strong, nor the race to the swift. Brag is a good dog! Hold-fast is a better!"

The Republicans in Arkansas are growing more hopeful. Many of the liberals are getting disgusted with the movement and abandoning it, the Democrats are in a quarrel, and their convention adjourned without either nominating a ticket or endorsing the liberal ticket. The modest attempt of the liberals to officer the whole party meets with decided opposition, and it is believed that if the Republicans nominate a popular ticket it will draw to it support enough to secure its election.

The Greeleyites have resorted to the worn out device of crying "fraud," to account for their defeat in North Carolina. It will not work.

The campaign in Indiana goes bravely on. All the indications at present point to the election of the Republican ticket by an increased majority. The Demo-Republican meetings have been thinly attended and devoid of enthusiasm, while on the contrary the Republican gatherings have been almost unprecedentedly large, and the audiences have been filled with an enthusiasm not before manifested since the close of the war.—Cincinnati Gazette.

HOW JUDGE SETTLE WAS DEFEATED. The Greeley-Democrats of the Fifth Congressional District of North Carolina made very desperate efforts to defeat Judge Settle. It was a Democratic district two years ago, when Leach, who was now run against Settle, was elected by about 1,380 majority; but, from the beginning of this canvass, it was manifest that the Republicans would make large gains, and that Settle's prospect of success was very bright. Therefore, in some parts of the district, there were systematic efforts to keep Republicans from voting, and the returns elect Leach by 242 majority. A correspondent of the New York Times says:

"If Randolph and Caswell counties had cast their usual Republican majorities, Judge Settle would have been elected by over 300. Caswell county has a registered colored Republican majority of 400; yet it only gave fifty-eight majority for Judge Settle. I am informed by letter from there that on election day over 200 colored men were captiously challenged and not allowed to vote. Many others who had been temporarily absent in Virginia working on a railroad, whose family and houses were in Caswell, were refused the right to vote, on the ground that they had lost their residence in the State. For the purpose of intimidation, colored men were arrested at the polls, bound hand and foot, and carried off to jail. The effect of the work done by the Caswell Democrats can be easily seen in the result of the election. They elected their sheriff, and came within 17 votes of carrying the entire county ticket, including members of the Legislature. Republican votes were rejected in every township in this county, and I have yet to hear of one Democratic ballot that was refused.

The Chicago Post pays the following tribute to Congressman Farnsworth, who has recently changed his coat:—

"Thirty days ago John F. Farnsworth was an earnest 'Grant man,' a vehement Republican, and a candidate for Congress before the Republican Convention of the fourth district of this state. He was defeated. The republicans of his district thought they had carried him on their backs about long enough. And they substituted a better man. Before that day he was in favor of the re-election of Grant and Farnsworth. After that day he came out for Greeley, because Grant is a nepot, a bribes, a horseracer, a—a—anything you please. But Farnsworth is not a sorehead. He doesn't even claim to be. He is not a demagoge—not any. He is an honest, faithful, conscientious, devoted, self-sacrificing man. He'll tell you so himself."

A letter from North Carolina says that the Republicans have got the lower branch of the legislature and the Democrats the Senate.

Among the Canucks.

SHERBROOKE, P. Q., Aug. 6th.

Dear Chronicle; I feel here like a stranger in a strange land, and propose to solace myself by giving your readers a share of my observations in the queer little place in which I am spending a day or two.

Sherbrooke is situated at the junction of the Grand Trunk and Passumpsic Railroad. Leaving Portsmouth in the morning train for Concord you can reach Sherbrooke at 8 P. M., and be sure of good quarters at the Sherbrooke House. Here, everything in the clothing line is very cheap. Black broadcloth suits that in Boston you would pay $45 for can be had here for $22; and what is more, you can have them made up in 48 hours instead of waiting a week or two. It being Saturday when I arrived, the peasants from the neighboring country had come in to do their marketing, and the street scenes were more like a dream than reality. Here is an Englishman with a white Havelock, or striped "puggery" tied round his hat, followed by Irish laborers in Scotch caps and brogans, with their little pipes. Next a couple of nuns in long black veils, followed by some French Canadians in Blue blouses and felt hats, jabbering a wretched patois to each other. Soon come two or three Indians, and after them an old French peasant woman in huge frilled cap; then the cure, or priest, in long black robes and shovel hat, just as one sees him in illustrated editions of Evangeline; and then two little French milliners in their jaunty costumes.

To be addressed successively as "Yer baner," "Sir," and "Miseurs," to see snow-shoes, and beaver and deer-skins, exposed as regular articles of trade; to read the signs, of which I give four consecutive ones as samples: "P. Champigny, Meubtier;" "E. & J. M. Draper, Milliners;" "J. Odell, Licensed Auctioneer, sign of Queen's Arms;" and, "McDougall and L'Esperance, Merchant Tailors;" and to see all placards printed both in French and English, seems hardly as if I could still be on this side of the Atlantic.

Apparently they have excitement over Canadian elections, as well as we do over ours. At the Kingston election, Sir John McDonald made some remarks on the hustings which his opponent, (a Mr. Carruthers) did not like; so he got up and gave Sir John the lie direct, to which McDonald responded by striking him across the face. Imagine Horace Greeley calling Grant a liar and Grant slapping his face. What an excitement there would be! And yet McDonald is an English nobleman and prime minister of the Dominion of Canada. A youth near me suggests that it was "a striking instance of Sir John's force of character," but he is wholly beneath contempt.

In the antiquity of its buildings, the prevalent style of its architecture, and its evening's quiet, Sherbrooke reminds me of Old Strawberry Bank,— with my best wishes for the prosperity of which, I close this somewhat lengthy epistle. W. R. F.

THE NEW YORK MEDICAL COLLEGE for women will begin its tenth Annual Term of twenty weeks, Oct. 15th, at the New College in Twelfth Street, corner of Second Avenue. —A New Orleans mother was recently questioning her little girl in geography as follows: "Who first went through the Straits of Magellan?" Daisy quickly answered, "Magellan with his squadron." "What do you understand by his squadron, Daisy?" The question was not in the book, but Daisy was ready for the emergency. "Oh, I know; it's one of those women that ain't quite white!"

TRAVELLERS' TESTIMONY. — Thousands of travellers by land and sea have vouched for the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of the physical disturbances which ordinarily arise from change of climate and the changes of diet, water, &c., incident to a wandering life. Upon systemtoned, invigorated and regulated by this genial vegetable antidote the external causes of debility and disease seem to produce little or no effect. Forearmed with Hostetter's Bitters the voyager may bid defiance to seasickness and encounter the chilling fogs of the British Isles, the coast winds of the Antilles, the icy temperature of Northern Alaska, or the burning heat of the tropics with equal impunity. The effect of this admirable medicated stimulant is greatly to increase the vital energy of the system, thereby enabling it to resist and repel the exciting causes of disease.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a fadet character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DYSPEPSIA DESTROYS THE TEETH, unless its effects are counteracted by that pure vegetable tonic and antiseptic Sozodont. No bodily disease can impair them if this antidote to all corrosive elements that act upon the enamel is regularly applied.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Health, cheerfulness, long life, depend upon the regular action of the digestive organs, pure secretions and the vigorous condition of the lungs and the nerves. All these conditions of the system are secured by the use of the above remedies. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box or pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited. 11

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TRIUMPHANT FOR TWENTY YEARS.—More than twenty years ago the Mustang Liniment made its debut in the West. Its cures of the various external diseases of horses and cattle, astonished the planters and farmers of the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, and a demand for it sprung up which necessitated its manufacture on an extensive scale. Soon the discovery was made that it was a grand specific for rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, carache, toothache, and other external ailments of mankind. Then it was tried as a healing, pain killing application, in cases of outward injury, such as cuts, bruises, burns, spasms, &c., and was found equally serviceable. The fame of the new remedy for some of the most painful ills that afflict mankind and the lower animals, spread rapidly, and Mustang Liniment soon took rank in every State and Territory of the Union as a standard cure.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use castor oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit society instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

Laconics.

The ship Arkwright, 1226 tons, built in this city in 1856, has been sold to F. Talbot & Co. of New York, for the California trade, for $28,000.

Capt. Edwin M. Baker, of steamer Appledore, has a benefit excursion this evening, leaving the moorings off the Appledore House at 7 o'clock. Capt. Baker is as popular (and deservedly so) with the multitude of guests at the Shoals this year as he has been in seasons past, and we are confident that his benefit will call out as many wishes as the steamer can carry. Harlow's full Marine Band will furnish music.

Lieut. John F. Merry has been detached from the receiving ship Sabine and ordered to the Navy Yard.

A moonlight excursion on Thursday evening, by steamer Appledore, is advertised in another column. The boat will leave Pier Wharf at 7 o'clock; fare for the round trip, 50 cents. The announcement that one of these enjoyable excursions is to take place is sufficient to fill the boat, should the weather be pleasant.

Thos. S. Nowell, Esq., has been regarded as an independent fire-organization in Portsmouth, from the efficient service he has rendered in preventing conflagrations by the prompt use of the portable Fire Extinguisher for which he is agent. Mr. Melvin Welch now comes into competition for the honors of the independent fire brigade, having twice saved the same house from burning within a year. The house is on Islington Road, occupied by James Kelleher; the last occasion was on Friday morning, as Mr. W. was returning with a milk wagon to the farm of C. Hayes & Son. Noticing a good-sized blaze on the roof, he alarmed the occupants, and with his aid they were fortunately enabled to quench the flames, which in a few minutes more would have been beyond control. Last winter Mr. W. discovered the same roof on fire and assisted in quenching the flames. In both instances the fire was communicated by sparks from an iron pipe used as a chimney. [This is no milk-and-water fire brigade; though only the customers of Melvin will be able to see the cream of the joke.]

Beware of Quack Nostrums.

Those afflicted with the at present somewhat fashionable Political Cold are advised not to touch the Chappaqua sage. It is impotent to cure. Some have tried it, and their stomachs at once ejected the vile stuff. Many were at once obliged to resort to stomach pumps. The multitude who have swallowed the mixture will suffer nausea until the frosts of November come to their rescue. Careful analysis discovers the presence of gall, Carolina turpentine and a large percentage of "forty rod."

"WHAT I KNOW ABOUT HERBS."

Useless Brag.

The loud-mouthed boastings of the boiled-crow-eating Democrats of this city and the handful of former Republicans who have joined the Democratic party, to the effect that a very large proportion of the Republican party of the city will "go for Greeley," are toned down a good deal since the absolute falsity of the statements they have so industriously circulated has been proved in the cases of many individuals, by their coming out as campaign workers for Grant and Wilson with a zeal they have never before exhibited in any political contest. The Democratic game of brag we believe to be about played out, so far as its favorable effect for that party in this city is concerned; the waverers, for whose benefit all this brag has been made, will naturally ask themselves if there is any more truth in the assertion that "one hundred and forty Republican voters" will support Greeley than there was in the assertions so positively made (on the streets) and so decisively disproved by the gentlemen themselves, that Ex-Gov. Goodwin, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, Thomas S. Nowell, Esq., Maj. Edwin H. Leslie, Frank W. Miller, Esq., and a score more of consistent, straight-out Republicans "favored" Greeley and his Tammany managers! And further, if the "reformers" lie so recklessly and persistently regarding individuals whom they cannot help knowing are not traitors to their party and its principles, is it reasonable to suppose they are any more scrupulous about sticking to the truth in their assertions concerning the Republican party in general? The braggarts have widely over-shot the mark, and begin to find that bluster and misrepresentation are not so potent as they had hoped. We rejoice that these evil doings of the Greeleycrats have had the result of stirring up the Republican party in this city,—not because we have ever had any fear that a political campaign which (from the nature of the unprincipled coalition with which it started) must be conducted on principles of evasion, misrepresentation and suppression of truth could be successful, but because the Greeleycratic enthusiasm-manufacturers, finding out the uselessness of such wholesale lying, will possibly give it up, to their great benefit in the next world;—we have no hope for them in this.

Blissful Ignorance.

The Greeleyites have an editor whose ignorance becomes more and more patent. He edits the Lyre, and here is a specimen of his editorial ignorance. In order to back up his statement that the Republicans have lost "several" Congressmen in North Carolina, he says that the members elected from North Carolina to the 42d Congress are seven in number, "four Republicans and three Democrats. The Republicans were Clinton L. Cobb, Charles R. Thomas, James M. Leach and James C. Harper. The Democrats were A. M. Waddell, S. H. Rogers and F. F. Shober."

He classes James M. Leach as a Republican, when he knows that Leach has just been declared re-elected over Judge Settle, Republican, by 242 majority. If Leach is a Republican why does the Lyre rejoice over the defeat of Settle? But Leach is not a Republican and was not at the previous election. The N. Y. Herald, N. Y. Tribune and N. Y. World Almanacs for 1872, all agree that but two members of the 42d Congress are Republicans, Messrs. Cobb and Thomas. Our bombastic neighbor will ascertain that Messrs. Waddell, Rogers, Leach, Shober and Harper, elected to the 42d Congress, are Democrats, by reference to the Herald Almanac, page 140; by reference to the Tribune Almanac, page 53; and by reference to the World Almanac of 1871, 51st page, and of 1872, page 121. At that election, Leach was chosen to Congress by 1239 majority over the Republican candidate, Harper, who the Lyre says is a Republican, was chosen in a Democratic district over the Republican candidate by 3322 majority.

Since writing the above, we find the following in Monday's Boston Journal:

Of the North Carolina Representatives in Congress, five, Messrs. Waddell, Rogers, Leach, Shober and Harper were Democrats, nominated and elected as such, and so recorded in every official register; two only, Cobb and Thomas, were Republicans. So far as the House is concerned, therefore, the Republicans have gained one Representative.

We have shown that the editor of the Lyre is either ignorant or a liar. He can take his choice of either horn of the dilemma. He said the Republicans had lost several Congressmen. On the contrary we have shown that they have gained one, three Republicans being elected to the next Congress.

Now comes the most ludicrous show of Willie's ignorance, and he is a Greeley editor in this enlightened nineteenth century. He complains that we speak of the 42d Congress as the "present" one. And it turns out, that the ignoramus thinks as Congress has "adjourned" (i. e., taken a recess) until December, that it has ceased to exist—become a thing of the past. If Willie will turn to page 164 of McFarland and Jenks' "New Hampshire Register and Political Manuel for 1872," he will find that the 42d Congress expires March 3, 1873. Ignorance on such a common subject as the duration of a term of Congress is inexcusable—but it shows what a small amount of knowledge is required to become a fifth class Democratic editor. Better would it be for Willie were he to abandon editing, alter such a woful exhibition of ignorance, and sell himself to a bone boiler, or borrow a school boy to give him a new set of brains.

Cruelty to Animals.

Editors Chronicle: Allow me to draw the attention of your friend, who complains of the cruelty with which certain horses in this city are treated, to the fact that no society is necessary for the prevention of such cruelty. We have a law that is all that is required. This law provides that "whoever overdrives, overloads, drives when overloaded, overworks, cruelly beats, etc., etc., any animal," shall be punished by imprisonment or fine or both; that "any person found violating the laws in relation to cruelty to animals may be arrested and held without warrant;" and that "it shall be the duty of all sheriffs, constables and police officers to prosecute all violations of this act which shall come to their notice or knowledge."

If your friend or any other citizen, man or woman, who sees any violation of this law on the part of street sprinklers, excursion parties, butchers, drovers, "or any other man," would have the courage and take the trouble to make instant complaint to our City Marshal or "any magistrate authorized to issue warrants," he or she would confer a blessing on the suffering animal or animals, and on the community at large, by showing that there is a law for the protection of the weak, and that the law can and will be enforced.

A society could do nothing unless composed of active individuals who would be willing to take some trouble in order to protect their dumb fellow creatures. And if individuals will do it they can do it now, at once, without waiting for the machinery of a society.

Morning Chronicle.

—Curtin will drop on Pennsylvania in the course of three weeks.

—The Southern Farmer says that a teaspoonful of fine salt or of horseradish in a pan of milk will keep it sweet for several days.

—At Selma, Ala., two buzzards on the wing, high up in the air, south of the city, were struck by lightning, and came tumbling headlong to the ground.

—The editor of the Madison Progress sleeps with a bunch of pennyroyal above him, and the horrible hum of the marauding mosquito gradually dies away in the distance.

—It is said that if King Solomon had lived lately he would have referred the sluggard to the mosquito rather than to the ant, because the former is ten times as lively as the latter.

—The Wabash river is so low that the fish are compelled to stand on their heads to get water sufficient to moisten their gills. The inhabitants walk up and down the river bed and pull fish as they do onions.

—Last spring the intelligent jury worked on Mr. Deberg, of Iowa, and sent him to the penitentiary for five years. He has just been set at liberty, the vague rumors of his innocence having been confirmed.

—The Transcript speaks of a lady at Conway rivalling nature with a mountain which would "Make Ossa like a wart,

O'ertop old Pelion or the skyish head
Of Blue Olympus."

—A prejudiced Providence paper says that Boston drummers, while on the sea shore, wear black trowsers with the knees and seams neatly inked over to conceal age, while their entire salary goes for boot polish and neck-ties.

—When, as in case of sickness, a dull light is wished, or when matches are mislain, but powdered salt on the candle till it reaches the black part of the wick. In this way a mild and steady light may be kept through the night by a small piece of candle.

—Proper-Minded Beadle (to Forward Young Man)—"Come, young gent, you're not wanted in here. There's a wedding coming off." Forward Young Man (to P. M. B.)—"Well, I don't know that either, if you don't let me in, for I'm the bridegroom." (Collapse of P. M. B.)

—A New Orleans youth thought he would commit suicide, and accordingly jumped into the river. Finding it too cold for comfort, he changed his mind, swam ashore and scrambled upon a dock whence he viewed with much interest the efforts of the police and citizens to recover his body.

—An unlettered but well meaning Danbury man who has patiently enquired of his grocer every day for news of the Geneva Conference, completely upset that worthy recently with the following anxious enquiry: "What do you suppose, Mr. F., this conference will do after it has got through with Stokes—nominate a straight out-and-out ticket, or endorse Greeley?"

— The St. Louis Globe (it is a splendid paper by the way) heads a flaming article with the words "St. Louis ahead of Chicago." This appals us until we find that the assertion is based on the statement that a new fire engine brought for St. Louis (but manufactured in Cincinnati) threw a stream of water several feet farther than a Chicago engine. We confess now that St. Louis is more of a squirt than Chicago.—Mail.

—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press has been to Kennett square and discovered the whys and wherefores of Bayard Taylor's desertion of his beautiful home "Cedarcroft" for a three years' trip to Europe. It appears that he had a controversy with the people around his home. Kennett criticises his free notions about drinking customs, and the poet traveller is in a miff. The trouble began at an august gathering of the progressive friends where he had the hardihood to stand on his Chester-county legs and read an audacious paper covering many pages of foolscap, in which he boldly alleged that much as had been said by unwise temperance reformers respecting the evil effects of drink, there were more lives shortened and intellects blunted by excessive pork-eating in his own county of Chester than resulted from the use of drink. Not content with the mere assertion of this heresy, he absolutely proved it (to the satisfaction of some people), after which he proceeded to argue with provoking clearness in favor of the general culture and introduction of native wines as a more effective remedy for the evils of intemperance than the violent promulgation of any mere temperance theories. The good people could not put up with this and so Mr. Taylor may never live among them any more.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
SINGER
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

The Dark Side of the Campaign.

A cockroach sat on a cup of paste
In a newspaper office room;
The man of scissors he calmly eyed,
With never a thought of the tomb.

The cockroach spoke to the man of shears:
"Old friend, you look tired, glum;
Is Greeley likely to lose some ground?
Has Gratz been away from home?"

"Old cock," spoke up the man of shears,
"On those I'll bet till I die;
What bothers me, my brave old cock,
Is seeing newspapers lie.

They lie on Greeley, and lie on Gratz,
They lie on President Grant;
I work and work in search for truth,
But cook, it's powerful scant."

The cockroach spoke to the man of shears:
"Great gun of truth," uttered he,
"The best that a man placed like you can do
Is just to cut what you see.

You can't do better than clip the best
Of lies, else time you will waste;"
The man of shears gave a long, loud groan,
The cockroach slid from the paste.

A DARKEY'S VIEW OF THE WAR. An elderly darkey, with a very philosophical and retrospective cast of countenance, was squatting upon his bundle on the hurricane deck of a Western river steamer, toasting his shins against the chimney, and apparently plunged in a state of profound meditation. His dress and appearance indicated familiarity with camp life, and it being soon after the siege and capture of Fort Donelson, I was inclined to disturb his reveries, and on interrogation found that he had been with the Union forces at that place, when I questioned him further. His philosophy was so much in the Falstaffian vein that I will give his views in his own words as near as my memory serves me.

"Were you in the fight?"

"I had a little taste of it, sah."

"Stood your ground, did you?"

"No, sah, I runs."

"Ran at the first, did you?"

"Yes, sah, and would have run soonah had I know'd it was comin'."

"Why, that wasn't very creditable to your courage?"

"Dat isn't in my line, sah—cookin's my profession."

"Well, but have you no regard for your reputation?"

"Reputation! Nuffing to me by de side of life!"

"Do you consider your life worth more than other people's?"

"It's wuth more to me, sah."

"Then you must value it very highly."

"Yes, sah, I does: more dan all dis world; more dan a million of dollahs sah; for what would dat be wuth to a man wid de bref out of him? Self preservation am the fust law wid me, sah."

"But why should you act on a different rule from other men?"

"Cause, sah, different men sets different value upon dereselves; my life is not in de market."

"But if you lost it you would have the satisfaction of knowing that you died for your country."

"What satisfaction would dat be to me when de power of feelin' was gone?"

"Then patriotism and honor are nothing to you?"

"Nuffin whatever, sah,—I regard them as among the varieties."

"If our soldiers were like you, traitors might have broken up the government without resistance."

"Yes, sah, der would hab been no help for it. I wouldn't put my life in the scales against any guberment dat eber existed, for no guberment could replace the loss to me. 'Spect dough, dat de guberment safe if day all like me."

"Do you think any of your company would have missed you if you had been killed?"

"May be not, sah. A dead white man ain't much to dese sogers, let alone a dead nigga; but I'd missed myself, and dat was de pint wid me."

It is safe to say that the corpse of that African will never darken the field of carnage.—Chicago Tribune.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, and Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords, in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THREAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the choice of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pains in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, has at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nervous, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS. Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREPEDHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

Campaign Rates.

To all new subscribers, we will furnish the DAILY CHRONICLE until after the Presidential Election, for 81; or the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for 50 cts.,—payable in advance.

The Late Election:

The Greeley organs, which were so jubilant over the first returns from North Carolina, have been engaged—since later returns showed their cheering to have been premature—in giving columns of "startling statistics" to prove that the Republican victory has nothing to brag of after all. Before the election we were told that it would decide the Presidential contest, and the State was claimed for each party by a big majority. The Greeleycrats were the loudest in their boastings, of course; the old song of "prominent Republicans pronouncing for Greeley" was vigorously sung, the freedmen were said to be deserting to the Democrats in large numbers, and Grant's prospects of another Presidential term were to be buried beyond hope of resurrection beneath a vast coalition majority. The vast coalition majority existed where the "vast numbers of Greeley Republicans" in the North do—only in the Greeley organs; and as their boasting utterly failed to win a Greeley victory, they now turn their attention to proving that no victory was won by anybody.

As in their treatment of every affair which they have considered since Greeley and the Democratic party swallowed themselves and each other, they display more ingenuity than ingenuousness in their sayings concerning North Carolina. They go back to the time of Holden's majority of 18,641, in 1868, and argue that the recent contest shows a Republican loss of 18,000. But they do not state that Grant's majority was but 12,000, and that the Democrats, at the election in 1870, carried the State by nearly 5000 majority, securing all but two of the Congressmen and 46 majority in the State legislature.

The simple facts are that the Greeleycrats, aided though they were by the most earnest efforts of their heaviest "liberal" great guns,—Schurz, Doolittle, Walker, and every other influential speaker they could get hold of,—with Sumner's appeal to the colored men, and with the additional incentive of the election being considered the opening gun of the Greeley campaign, and with the hope that if it resulted favorably to the coalition it would virtually "beat Grant"—in face of all this and of the fact that many ex-rebel soldiers voted at this election for the first time since the Confederacy collapsed, the Democratic majority of nearly 5000 has changed to a Republican one of 1000 or 2000, the two-thirds' majority in the legislature is reduced to a very modest figure, and in spite of the most outrageous gerrymandering of the State by the Democrats, the Republicans have gained at least one Congressman. If the Greeleycrats think this result of their labors in North Carolina called for roosters and artillery salutes, what a tremendous lot of powder they will expend next November, when a similar "victory" is won by them all over the Union.

One of our Ex-Democratic exchanges says that Sumner's letter was not written in time for the freedmen to become familiar with its contents, and that it will be more effective in future elections. "We beg to differ." The fact that Sumner had declared for Greeley and the Democratic party was known, and the fact would have far more influence with the colored men than his arguments in defence of his treachery to them can possibly have. He tells them to vote for Greeley because the Democrats have all become Republicans, and are now their dearest friends; but they have had too much experience of the dear friendship of their former owners, and are likely to have too much more experience of like character before November, to place mere faith in Sumner's assertions than in their own recollections of wrongs endured and their own observations of how very Republican the ex-slaveholders have become. Even the Richmond Enquirer acknowledges that Greeley, Sumner & Co. cannot break the "compact, black column" of the freedmen at the South; and when the colored men learn—as they will learn—that they are asked to believe that their former oppressors are now their best friends, the number who will follow Mr. Sumner into the Democratic party, on that platform, will not be worth counting by either party.

How sincere the sudden conversion of the Democracy to Republicanism is, Mr. Sumner can judge from the effect the first rose-colored reports from North Carolina had on the Kentucky Bourbons. At a grand Greeley blow-out and barbecue at Lexington, Ky., on the day after the election, when the Greeley organs were claiming some 15,000 majority, Congressman Beck said the Democrats support Greeley as a means of getting into power, and that a Democratic Congress will not only prevent his doing any harm, but will compel him to acquiesce in such measures as the party considers necessary. Col. Blackburn, the next speaker, predicted a victory for Greeley, and that with his success the Democratic party would become more powerful than ever before; it would rule the country, and it would rule Mr. Greeley, no matter what he personally might desire. And an ex-rebel general, one Hodge, claimed that a Greeley victory would be a triumph for the "lost cause," and said that Greeley's letter of acceptance "promises the restoration of our gallant southern leader, Gen. John C. Breckinridge, and other chivalric sons of the South to their former positions of power and influence in the nation." Excellent Republicans these Democrats have become, no doubt!

The Greeley movement is virtually a southern one, and its object the restoration to power of the old Democratic party; yet though the success of the whole scheme was felt to depend largely on the result in North Carolina, and every possible influence within the means of the Democracy was brought to bear upon it, the coalition was defeated,—defeated where it had been said by the Greeley organs to be sweeping all before it, in the South. As a victory, as an omen of the final issue of the hash-party attempt to grasp the loaves and fishes, and as an indication that only earnest work on the part of the Republicans is necessary to insure an overwhelming triumph in November, the result of the North Carolina election is eminently satisfactory to the Republican party. If the Greeleycrats like it also, all the better; we like to see everybody pleased.

Political.

Says the Chicago Post: "It is now understood that Farnsworth made a mistake. He came out for Greeley under the pressure of the Ku-Klux news, 'North Carolina for Greeley by 10,000 majority!' Now that it transpires that the majority is the other way, he is as anxious as Saul was, and is seriously contemplating denouncing his letter as a forgery. He declares that he loathes the document.

The Greeley papers, by way of "letting down easy" the hopes they raised so high by their crowing over the first reports from North Carolina election, now shout "fraud" as vigorously as they then did "victory." That there was a great deal of fraud in that election there is no doubt; but it was to have been expected in a State where the Democrats hold the government and wanted to keep it. Anything more fraudulent than the massing of all the strongly Republican sections of the State in one Congressional District, so as to make a fair division of Congressmen impossible, cannot well be conceived, unless the manner in which the colored voters were intimidated and kept from the polls, may be.

The New York Herald is called a Grant organ by the Greeleyites and a Greeley organ by Republicans. Nice, reliable political paper, that.

Congressmen Golladay, of Tennessee, has declared that he is for Greeley because he signed Jeff. Davis' bail bond and was in favor of paying the south for the emancipation of slaves.

The Springfield Republican and the Cincinnati Commercial call for the withdrawal of B. Gratz Brown from the ticket because of his exhibition of degradation at New Haven.

Somebody is authorized to say explicitly that Judge Davis will vote for Greeley.

The outrage upon the Greeley flag at Kendall's Mills, Me., turns out to have been the work of the men who put it up, who tore it down because they were ashamed of it.

Seward is for Grant and Wilson.

"Tumid twaddle" is what the London Saturday Review calls Sumner's anti-Grant harangue.

For a genuine Greeley paper, commend us to the Kentucky Sentinel. It makes no half-way work of its advocacy. Though a good rebel journal in its day, it is "in downright love with honest Horace already." "We have kissed," it declares, "and forgiven each other, and drowned past animosities in the Sea of Immemor. The sun of reconciliation has shone upon our wrath, and it has been dispelled as a vapor. Our lover has spoken the soft answer, and the arrows of our anger fall hurtless at his feet." Nor is the Sentinel prevented by its ardent affection for Greeley from expressing its still unchanged rebellious feeling. Speaking of what it supposed was a Democratic victory in North Carolina, it says: "How do you like 'the old rebel yell' she gave?"

They say that the Democrats in North Carolina stopped counting votes too soon last week, and that now the Republicans have done the same thing. In fact it is doubtful if anybody was elected and if there has been any election. Let us hear from another county.—Chicago Mail.

Mr. Greeley was greatly impressed with the excellence of the Rhode Island clams. He was of opinion that their furs could be made a profitable article of commerce, care being taken in skinning them so as not to injure the plumage. More pains also should be taken in order to increase the size and the number in a bill.

Pinchback of Louisiana, is out for Grant and Wilson.

Gratz Brown denies that he is intemperate.

Gen. Butler has written a letter refusing to be a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts.

Ex-Gov. Bard, of Tennessee says that State is sure for Grant and Wilson.

The News.

Another Tammany fraud has been discovered in New York. It was in the building of the eighteenth ward market, and amounts to a quarter of a million dollars.

Steamer Bristol has been floated.

Mrs. Matthews, mother of Vice-President Colfax, died on Sunday afternoon of cancer, at South Bend, Ind.

Dr. Lowell Mason, the widely known musician and composer, died on Monday.

SPHERES.—It is a sorry waste of life to be theorizing and wrangling about spheres. For if it be pertinaciously insisted that the sphere of woman is the affections, and consequently the home, what then? If that be so, is she likely to leave it? The sphere of man, the learned tell us, is active life. Very well, are men then, likely to retire to the nursery? Do we exclude them from the nursery by law? And is the disposition to break out of the nursery so much more positive than that of men to break in that they must be bound in straight-jacket? What we all want, men and women equally, is like the prodigal, to come to ourselves—to escape both the glamor of mere theory and the gyves of arbitrary restriction. No direct or indirect permission will cause one woman to be less womanly, nor one man to be less manly and noble. It is not by mere permission or custom of law that men and women fall from real manhood and real womanhood. Yet none of us will deny the annoying force of a false theory. But the true answer to those who answer in dismay about the square pegs and round holes is the verse of the poet, "My mind to me a kingdom is." No round man or woman—that is no one who is complete by mastery of himself—need to be vexed by the question. Those whose success is inward and spiritual, who find it in habitual elevation of mind, in devotion to the obvious duty, in perfect hospitality to every generous thought, in sympathy with every aspiration and effort for "soul liberty," in converse with good books and music and pictures, in the faith of a soul of goodness in things evil—no longer waste their substance in riotous living, but have come to themselves, and for them the father lights up the palace and summons the neighbors to feast and rejoice, for he that was dead is alive again, and—for it is not a parable of sex—she that was lost is found.—Harper's Easy Chair.

—Some one has called Dr. Mary Walker a "great blower." Why not soften the expression by saying she is a wind-lass.

—Some one in speaking against suicide says, as a clincher, that it is the height of impoliteness to go anywhere unless you are sent for.

—Jones writes from the Profile House, that he has discovered a new fall. He found it among the rocks in the rear of the house; and says there was a sharp descent of about a rod, a swift rise of two feet, and a large damn on reaching the flat rock. His friends christened it Jones' fall, at once.

—A young lady in Listowel, intending to be married, was left at the hotel while the groom went down town to get the gloves; during his absence she proclaimed herself so bashful that she would have to run away, which she did with such speed that her lover could not catch up to her until she got home, where she hid herself so securely that he was unable to find her, and returned and dismissed the waiting minister.

—John Schemmerhorn, of Alton, Illinois, thought one of his cows was afflicted with the hollow horn last week. To satisfy himself he caught the beast and held her by the tail while his wife rapped on the horn with a tack hammer. A moment later a barnyard tableau was seen, as Schemmerhorn soared over a ten foot board fence, and his wife has an aperture in her Dolly Varden that a week's constant labor with a sewing machine will hardly repair.

TRAVELLERS' TESTIMONY.—Thousands of travellers by land and sea have vouched for the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of the physical disturbances which ordinarily arise from change of climate and the changes of diet, water, &c., incident to a wandering life. Upon systems toned, invigorated and regulated by this genial vegetable antidote the external causes of debility and disease seem to produce little or no effect. Forearmed with Hostetter's Bitters the voyager may bid defiance to seasickness and encounter the chilling fogs of the British Isles, the coast winds of the Antilles, the icy temperature of Northern Alaska, or the burning heat of the tropics with equal impunity. The effect of this admirable medicated stimulant is greatly to increase the vital energy of the system, thereby enabling it to resist and repel the exciting causes of disease.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DYSPEPSIA DESTROYS THE TEETH, unless its effects are counteracted by that pure vegetable tonic and antiseptic Sozodont. No bodily disease can impair them if this antidote to all corrosive elements that act upon the enamel is regularly applied.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Health, cheerfulness, long life, depend upon the regular action of the digestive organs, pure secretions and the vigorous condition of the lungs and the nerves. All these conditions of the system are secured by the use of the above remedies. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box or pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited. 11

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer hope a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TRIUMPHANT FOR TWENTY YEARS.—More than twenty years ago the Mustang Liniment made its debut in the West. Its cures of the various external diseases of horses and cattle, astonished the painters and farmers of the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, and a demand for it sprung up which necessitated its manufacture on an extensive scale. Soon the discovery was made that it was a grand specific for rheumatism, cold, neuralgia, earache, toothache, and other external ailments of mankind. Then it was tried as a healing, pain killing application, in cases of outward injury, such as cuts, bruises, burns, spasms, &c., and was found equally serviceable. The fame of the new remedy for some of the most painful ills that afflict mankind at once spread rapidly, and for years the Mustang Liniment soon took rank in every State and Territory of the Union as a standard cure.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and peevishing children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Toes, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. s12

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to be held. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

Laconics.

Wallack's New York Dramatic Company drew a large and fashionable audience at the Temple, Monday evening. It is seldom that our citizens have the privilege of witnessing the performance of a company of such talented artists. The acting of Mr. Stoddart, as "Moneypenny," and of Miss Julia Gaylord, as "Jane Lenroyd," in Bourcicault's Drama, "The Long Strike," was equal to any thing we have seen in Boston or New York. The audience testified their approval by calling them before the curtain at the end of the second act. The other characters of the play were well sustained, by the other members. We understand that this company will visit us again soon, and if so we predict for them a crowded house.

The funeral of the late John Bennett, Esq., took place Tuesday afternoon from the Universalist church, and was attended by the Masonic lodges, the Mayor and Aldermen and other city officials, the past Mayors of the city and a large concourse of others who had known and honored the deceased as a faithful official, a good citizen and an estimable gentleman in private life.

Willie, of the Lyre, holds up the "New Hampshire Register and Political Manual" as his cause for making the egregious blunders we pointed out in Tuesday's CHRONICLE, under the heading "Blissful Ignorance." Willie can crawl through as small a hole as any man we know of, to get out of a tight place, and he is not very particular whether or not the hole is clean, either; but tho' he may be able to find some printed authority for his false statement that the Republicans lost "several" Congressmen in North Carolina we are quite sure that the authority he quotes did not tell him the 42d Congress was extinct! And even if it did, Willie should have been able to correct it, for he assumes to know everything about everything. We do hope, before Willie again attempts to enlighten "the corps of stupid blunderers," etc., that he will at least try to learn as much as any school-boy could tell him, concerning his subject. In the future, should Willie remain ignorant of matters political, we advise him to quote from the Tribune, World or Herald Almanacs. If the printers of the N. H. Register make a blunder, it affords no excuse for Willie to cry baby when he follows a false guide and gets tripped.

Horace.

A correspondent says the Ex-Tribune philosopher proposes to leave Portsmouth and its brilliant coterie of old-line Democrats out in the cold in his tour through New England to visit the "playmates of his childhood." He will spend a few days at the hospitable quarters of G. H. Jenness, Esq., Rye Beach, and perhaps make a trip to the Shoals. It is understood that the farmers of Rye, (that is, those who have made up their minds to eat of the unsavory dish of boiled-crow,) are to meet Dr. Greeley at the depot in a large covered wagon tastefully trimmed and decorated for the occasion, for the purpose of hearing from the lips of the Chappaqua farmer "what he knows about farming"— the discussion of political topics being barred out by the Tammany managers of Dr. Greeley. It is said that the venerable Presidential aspirant, in keeping with a time honored custom of his, freely expresses his disgust at the manner in which he is constantly bored by his quondam Democratic enemies, which fact, however, does not prevent a rival toadyism to the man of their choice(?) by the same individuals, for whom he entertains such a contempt.

Per contra, we hear from Democratic sources that the great Chappaquack will arrive here from Portland at 11 A. M., Friday, and lunch at the Rockingham.

Camping Out

Is as popular this year as in years gone by. Gerrish's Island seems to offer the best accommodations of any place in this region and a party of gentlemen from this city have been enjoying themselves to a high degree. The party is made up of Messrs. John W. Stavers, James H. Dow, Plumer D. Norton, Joseph M. Edmonds, Jr., Walter Stearns, D. Webster Barnabee, Freeman F. Sanborn and Thomas Tredick, Jr. They say the days are too short and their festivities are carried into the evening. Large numbers of visitors call at the camp and all receive a royal welcome. The camp consists of two tents, pitched on the southern extremity of the island, with ample accommodations for the party and their numerous callers. Everything in the way of necessities is provided and the squarest meals are partaken of. All take a hand at cooking, housekeeping, fishing and hunting—and all seem proficient in these branches of primitive education. For neighbors, they have the light-keepers of Whalesback and Boon island, on whom they descend of an evening unannounced. Of all the crowds that won't go home till morning this assemblage of American citizens is the most decided. Does a wherry pass within hailing distance, the occupant is honored by an enthusiastic dipping of the flag, at headquarters. Does a foreign foot (foreign to their party of citizens) touch the ground, three times three and a "tiger" are given, "bang" goes Dow's cannon, "pop" go the rifles and the star-spangled is "out on the fly."

The campers make excursions in every direction; try deep sea bathing, an excellent beach being near camp; hunt the gay and festive froglet and grasshopper; shoot sand-peeps, yellow-legs and mosquitoes; spear lobsters who would a-wooing go, and fish for the lively pollock, the manly cod, the twistative perch, the frosty frost-fish, the merry sculpin and the humorous clam, And such fishing! Two lines to a man, one for the surface of the running tide and the other to entrap the enlightened sculpin. And both lines busy! Happy the man who pulls his pollock line, rebaits his hook and re-casts it into the water in season for the reception of the perch tugging at his sinker. An hour's fun and a boat load of fish astonishes their friends ashore. Then the band plays—and such a band, such a war-dance and such fish cleaning.

There is a traditionary legend about the camp that the first night's rest of a new comer is not wholly free from interruption. The unwitting individual who asks to have his feet tucked into his blanket, is liable to be eaten by mosquitoes does he sleep too sound. And so, when Morpheus has grabbed, there steal forth into the open air from hammock and bunk dusky forms which disappear in the darkness in quaint uniform, and at the signal of the leader, such yells as no Indian would be ashamed to eliminate are heard near the canvass against which reposes the tucked-in new comer! He starts from his couch and bounds into the open air just in season to see a rocket soaring heavenward and hear the roar of the cannon at his very feet. Seeking in vain for his hosts he finds them not until, the cold air having proved too much for his scantily clad pedestals, he reenters the tent, where by the illumination which a lighted match affords, he discovers them ensconced in their blankets listening to the musquito serenade.

The fame of the camp has spread far and near and towards the last of the week an editorial corps from Maine and New Hampshire will partake of its courtesies, and propose to fight it out a few days and nights. Let there be fun alive!

—The cotton raising experiments in California have been a success, and a considerable area will be devoted to the cultivation of the staple next year.

—Professor Johnson, in "How Crops Feed," says that the juice of the pokeberry poured about a plant of the white hyacinth was absorbed and dyed the flowers in one or two hours.

—A new dish is grape leaves fried in an egg batter. It is called a French dish, and is imported from Lake Mahopac. We can't think of anything that would be more delicious than fried grape leaves, unless it is a circus poster on toast.

—An inquiring citizen of Madison Ind., thrust his fingers into a horse's mouth to see how many teeth he had. The horse closed his teeth to see how many fingers the man had. Both of the animals are satisfied but the man is not quite happy yet.

—The latest novelty in amusements is to confine two high-tempered dogs beneath a dry goods box. If this is done at midnight, and in a populous neighborhood, the effect is very grand indeed—in many instances exceeding the most sanguine expectations.

The barn of John B. Hull, on Sixth street, Dover, was struck by lightning, Saturday night, and burned, together with about thirty-five tons of hay. The flames also communicated to the adjoining out-building and thence to the brick residence attached, all of which were burned to the ground. The furniture was removed from the house, but was badly damaged by the rain. The loss is estimated at $5000, on which there is no insurance.

THE MERITS OF HORACE.—The "Fat Contributor" relates the following incident of his search for political information on a Mississippi steamboat:

I ascended to the cabin. A scholarly-looking man was reading by a table. (He was reading by a lamp, more properly, yet he was by a table, too.)

"My friend," I remarked blandly, as I produced a note book and pencil, "do you favor Horace?" (He did favor him a little in his feet.)

"That is a fair question," said the scholarly-looking man, laying down his book, which I perceived was a Latin work of some kind, "and I will answer it without undue circumlocution. While many of the odes of Horace are unexcelled either in his own or any other language, yet his verses lack the heroic ring which the poetic lyre gives forth when a Virgil sweeps the strings."

I told him Virgil might sweep the strings, but could he sweep the south? That was the question.

"Your language, my friend," continued I, "satisfies me that you are in reality a Greeley man."

"How so?" inquires the man of letters.

"You call Virgil a poetic lyre."

Down went the scholarly man for Horace.

She stings them and "brags" about it, and, not content with her own evil career, every month deposits one hundred eggs in some cool, damp place, thus multiplying and perpetuating her kind.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE RESTTENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

A Pathetic Tale.

Ten little bolters, getting into line,
One again bolted, then there were nine.

Nine little bolters, organized by hate,
Fought among themselves, and then there were eight.

Eight little bolters, claiming to be eleven,
One couldn't see it, and then there were seven.

Seven little bolters playing silly tricks,
One got disgusted, and then there were six.

Six little bolters getting in a hive,
One got stung and then there were five.

Five little bolters played a game of "draw,"
One got busted, and then there were four.

Four little bolters getting up a tree,
One tumbled over and then there were three.

Three little bolters sitting in the dew,
One got the colic and then there were two.

Two little bolters talking very freely,
One got mad, but the other stuck to Greeley.

One little bolter sitting all alone,
Swallowed up his own self and then there were none. —Springfield Union.

Gen. Sherman's Pirate.

BY ELIZABETH KILHAM.

On the northern boundary line of our national capital, almost under the shadow of the hill now crowned by the Howard University, lies a tract of land which during the first year of the war was confiscated by the government, and on which extensive barracks were erected, known at first as Campbell's barracks; afterward, from the purpose to which they were devoted, as Campbell hospital. At the close of the war, the place was made over to the Freedmen's Bureau. Some of the buildings were fitted up as tenements, a few converted into school houses, and the remainder were used as a hospital for freedmen. Visiting this hospital shortly after its establishment, the surgeon in charge said to me: "We have a very original character here now, in whom I think you will be interested."

"Ah! who, and what is he?"

"Name, Henry Dodson; profession, pirate. He came sick from the army, from Sherman's headquarters. He calls himself General Sherman's pirate; and now he is convalescent in No. 3."

The army seems not to afford a very appropriate sphere of action for characters of piratical tendencies, and General Sherman appeared to me altogether too respectable a gentleman to countenance any such outlaws. I expressed my surprise at the doctor's statement.

"Well," said he, "suppose you come down to the ward and let him tell you the story of his connection with General Sherman, and how he came to be a pirate.

"Ward No. 3" was deserted, save by one old colored man, who rose as we entered, and smiled a greeting. In face and figure he was one of the finest specimens of his race. His features were straight and regular; his hair—not wool, but hair, smooth, soft, and silky—was snow-white, and combed back from his forehead in the Jacksonian style, giving an air of calm, keen penetration to his eyes.

After a few enquiries as to his health, I said, "The doctor tells me you have been a pirate."

"Yaas, missy; I se proud to say I wor a pirate wid Gen'al Sherman."

"How did you come to be a pirate?" I asked.

"Wall, yer see, missy, I wor born an' raised in Virginny; but mos'ly twenty year ago I wor' sol' down in Georgia; and dar's whar I wor a libbing when de Unions comed in. My marster, he want neber canted wid hisself no place, and he went here and dar—he war going mos'ly all de time. I used to tend to him particular, brush his clothes and sich; peared like he could'nt get along widout me noways, and wharsomeber he went I wuzz. He wor powerful fon' o' ridin', and he went horseback mos'ly all froo Georgy and de Cal'ine; and I got to know all de roads so I could find dem de darkes' night. Bimeby de wor comed, and my marster, he went wid de fustest of dem all. I wan' ter go wid him, fer he wor allus kin' an' good ter me; but he say no, he mus' git along wid waiting on hissel' now.

Den, we heard one t'ing and we heard 'noder. De white folks de kep telling us dat de Yankees wor all killed. But we thought of dat war so, why don't marster and de rest come home, 'stead of stayin' on, and se'din' fer mo' ter go wid 'em. Den bimeby we got word dat de Unions wor coming, and we knowed it wer true, kase de white folks wor toting off dar 'tings, and going clar down in de back country. Day in and day out, we lis'ened and watched. Den one day dar comed a sound; 'twor so fur off dat we couldn't tell rightly what it wor; but 'peared like de good Lord spoke to me Hisself, and telled me twor de Unions. But fer all I wor so glad, I couldn't stir to go and meet 'em like de rest. I thought that these old eyes were done wid crying, but if you belieb me, missy, I jest kneel down, and I cry like a little young chile dat cry for his mammy. Den I sot down in de do' ob my cabin, and waited fer what the Lord ud be pleased ter bring ter me. 'Twas pretty well along inter de night, when I heard steps coming, and den some one call my name. AYER'S

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so close the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding such other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the oppressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians, and the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, QUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of secret ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Alleviator absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, safe and effectual, and let merit and success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Alleviator for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

Address to the Republicans of New Hampshire.

The Republican State Committee issue the following stirring address to the Republicans of New Hampshire:

Once more the voters of this State are charged with the grave responsibility of actively participating in the election of a President and Vice President of the United States. On four occasions the electoral vote of New Hampshire has been cast for candidates representing the Republican party and pledged to the great principles of liberty, union, emancipation and equal rights. On all these issues we have been confronted by a compact and powerful Opposition. No longer able to cope with us single-handed, that Opposition has accepted the alliance of a faction of Republican stragglers and deserters. Under the cry of "peace! peace!" they now seek the overthrow of the party which has alone made peace and reconciliation possible by a rebellion crushed, a union saved, and slavery abolished. Professing oblivionsness to the past, they offer not security but demand place and power for the future.

Instead of a great historic party, whose triumphs are the glory of the age and whose aspirations are the hope of humanity, they offer us a motley, incongruous organization, whose history began in chicanery, and whose aspirations were born in hate, disappointment and ambition. They ask us to condemn an Administration which has kept the peece, paid the debt, reduced the taxes, crushed the Ku-Klux, and contributed largely to an unparalleled and abounding prosperity. They ask us to exchange stability for uncertainty, fidelity for profession, skill for the lack of it, patriotism for dissemblingl, and "well enough" for "ills that [illegible] the tried, modest and reliable Grant, for the loquacious, uncertain and intriguing Greeley. They would have us reject the noble and faithful Wilson for the disgraced and faithless Brown. We shall not do it. The Republicans of New Hampshire cannot aid in such folly and madness. Honest Democrats will not, for that would be adding injury to the insult of forcing upon them their life-long opponent and traducer.

Republicans of New Hampshire! The history of our State for seventeen years is your history. It is without spot or blemish. Whatever advancement it has made in accumulated wealth, in organized industry, in nobler aims and happier living, that advancement has been made by your aid and encouragement. The present campaign but just completes your majority. Behind you is the most brilliant record ever made by so young an organization. Before you are grand opportunities for serving the highest interests of your State and country. Comrades! Stand firm! Stand together! Close up the ranks wherever weakened by stragglers and deserters. And the consciousness of duty well done will be the benison of the Victory.

O. C. MOORE, Chairman.

B. F. PRESCOTT, Secretary.

Political.

Letters from the South report a very marked increase in Republican strength since the North Carolina election, and that the morale of the party throughout the entire South is steadily improving.

Since the nomination of Horace Greeley by the Democrats at Baltimore, Confederate bonds have risen in England. Why?

John Quincy Adams, for three years past the Democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, declares that he will not vote for Greeley.

Brick Pomeroy's Democrat has been suspended. His subscribers are, however, just as well served. They have gone over to the New York Tribune.—Toledo Blade.

The hand-clasping business does not seem to have a very soothing effect on our neighbor, the Times. Because Hon. Thomas H. Bond has not seen fit to partake of the "boiled crow," which the Times finds so palatable, it calls him a "venerable old posy," and an "old puppy." Eight years ago, in 1864, when the same gentleman was the democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor, the Times pronounced him "an eloquent debater, a citizen esteemed and honored by all who knew him." At that day, it is safe to say that even refusing to take Mr. Greeley for a standard-bearer would not have induced the Times to call Mr. Bond or any other man an "old puppy." Tempora mutantur, or in plain English, the Times has changed its coat.—Hartford Courant.

When Tammany fired 100 guns in New York, because it was thought North Carolina had defeated the Republican candidates, the "Liberals" of La Crosse, Wis., did so too. Now they are hunting for the smoke, and trying to put it back into powder again.

"Greeley Bitters" is the name of the latest bowel disturber. Only four drinks are necessary to cause the victim's pants to climb into his boots, while six make his neckvie slip around beneath his left ear, and his hat assume the real Greeleyan shape.—Washington Republican.

The place to find the Greeley voters is indicated by the New York Sun, which says: "The patients in ward 7, Bellevue Hospital, voted recently 19 for Greeley and 0 for Grant."

It is stated that General Hillyer announces his determination to accept the wager of $10,000, offered in the New York Daily News, that Greeley will be elected, and also to wager the value of a house and lot in Harlem, two to one, on Grant.

The New York Tribune, in its joy at getting Jere. Black into the Greeley fold forgot to read his letter carefully before printing it, and actually indorsed the opinion advanced by Mr. Black that the amendments to the Constitution are a bill of attainder and are "frauds" from which Mr. Greeley's election will free the country.

A gang of Gratz Brown's ministers of "reconciliation," armed and masked in the usual way, have whipped and driven out of Carter county, Mo., Thomas Lawson, one of the "apostles of hate," and others are afraid to make complaint for fear of greater outrages. The apostles are helpless Union men. The reconcilors support Greeley and Brown.

One of the grandest ovations ever extended to a public man was given to Senator Wilson at Indianapolis. The principal feature was a torch-light procession three miles in length, passing through streets that were thronged with people the entire distance.

James W. Carson, a prominent Democratic of Cleveland, has resigned the chairmanship of the county Democratic central committee. The reason he assigns is, that a sound business policy compels him to vote for Grant. Many other business men of Cleveland announce their determination to follow his example. The prospect is, that the Republicans will carry Ohio by a greater majority than at the last election.

The Cleveland Leader says Charles O'Conor is spoken of, and is said to have been determined on, as the candidate of the straight Democrats for president. If this nomination is made at Louisville, September 3, there will be such a stampede of Democrats from the Greeley ticket that Horace won't know he is a candidate by election day.

SEALING THE VOW.— A correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, writing from the Round Lake camp meeting, tells the following story:

Many people sleep in the same tent here, being separated by partitions. As young Methodist fellows are thrown with pretty young ladies a good deal, it is nothing against them that they sometimes fall in love.

Last night, they say this happened. A young Methodist fellow from Ballston had become quite interested in a pretty daughter of a religious farmer. Last night, while a dozen old cold-hearted fellows were trying to sleep, they were continually disturbed by the lovers' spoony talk which they distinctly heard through the cotton cloth partition.

They heard him say in a low, sweet Clarendon voice, "Now Caroline, dear, do let me seal the vow—do!"

"No James, I cannot. What would my father and mother say?" replied a sweet girlish voice.

"But, Caroline, you have promised to be mine—now let us seal the vow—let us, do let us—won't you? Do kiss me!"

"No James, I cannot—O, I cannot."

In a moment the tent partition parted, and a big-whiskered brother, who wanted to sleep, shouted: "For thunder's sake Carrie, let Jim seal the vow. He'll keep us awake all night if you don't."

The vow was sealed.

When I told a young lady, who is here from Congress Hall, about this sealing joke, she said that "James reminded her of some of the Congress Hall fellows—only they always wanted to seal things before there was anything to seal. She said Brown's boys down in New York, got engaged to young ladies just to seal the vow, and after they had sealed it all winter, they went off and got up another vow with a fresh young lady."

I told her that such bad young men ought not to be countenanced—"that every young lady should set her face against them."

"Alas!" she replied. "I have set my face against them too much already. They will never reform till we take our faces away from them altogether."

THE ANTIOCH EARTHQUAKE.—A letter from Beyrout gives some statistics of the earthquake at Antioch in April last. Before the shock there were 3003 dwelling houses in the city. Of these 1960 were ruined, and 894 so damaged as to be uninhabitable, leaving only 149 in good condition. There were besids 1331 other buildings,—shops, mosques, cafes, factories, etc. Of these there are left but 349 shops, one mosque and one soap factory,—so that of the 4334 buildings of all kinds only 500 are left. The population was about 17,000, of whom 500 were killed and an equal number wounded. In Luedia there were 2150 houses ruined, and more than 300 persons were killed and wounded. The amount contributed toward rebuilding the city is only about $4500, which will not go very far; but the government has until the present time refused to allow people to rebuild at all. The winter is looked forward to with anxiety. This Antioch calamity seems to be one of the most favorable opportunities for charity.

The News.

The thunder storm at Newburyport on the afternoon of the 13th was the heaviest for years.

In Philadelphia, the Athletics defeated the Eckfords at base ball, 12 to 9. In Baltimore, the Baltimores defeated the Eckfords, 5 to 1.

The barque sunk in Newport harbor by the Bristol will be pumped out as she lies, at the bottom, after closing the breach made by the steamer. This will be done by divers, after which a powerful steam pump will finish the work.

The Hartford Courant accuses the Tribune of an attack of the Democratic measles. Isn't that a little "rash"?—Titusville Herald.

TRAVELLERS' TESTIMONY.—Thousands of travellers by land and sea have vouched for the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of the physical disturbances which ordinarily arise from change of climate and the changes of diet, water, &c., incident to a wandering life. Upon systems toned, invigorated and regulated by this genial vegetable antidote the external causes of debility and disease seem to produce little or no effect. Forearmed with Hostetter's Bitters the voyager may bid defiance to seasickness and encounter the chilling fogs of the British Isles, the coast winds of the Antilles, the icy temperature of Northern Alaska, or the burning heat of the tropics with equal impunity. The effect of this admirable medicated stimulant is greatly to increase the vital energy of the system, thereby enabling it to resist and repel the exciting causes of disease.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DYSPEPSIA DESTROYS THE TEETH, unless its effects are counteracted by that pure vegetable tonic and antiseptic Sozodont. No bodily disease can impair them if this antidote to all corrosive elements that act upon the enamel is regularly applied.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Health, cheerfulness, long life, depend upon the regular action of the digestive organs, pure secretions and the vigorous condition of the lungs and the nerves. All these conditions of the system are secured by the use of the above remedies. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box or pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited. 11

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TRIUMPHANT FOR TWENTY YEARS.—More than twenty years ago the Mustang Liniment made its debut in the West. Its cures of the various external diseases of horses and cattle, astonished the planters and farmers of the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, and a demand for it sprung up which necessitated its manufacture on an extensive scale. Soon the discovery was made that it was a grand specific for rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, earache, toothache, and other external ailments of mankind. Then it was tried as a healing, pain killing application, in cases of outward injury, such as cuts, bruises, burns, spasms, &c., and was found equally serviceable. The fame of the new remedy for some of the most painful ills that afflict mankind and the lower animals, spread rapidly, and Mustang Liniment soon took rank in every State and Territory of the Union as a standard cure.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Costiveness, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Issues, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has been gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

Senator Cragin is at Salisbury Beach.

Mr. Joseph Frost, of Eliot, Me., has shown as a sample of fodder corn the seed, which was planted on the 13th of June, the corn now standing from eight to nine feet high, the stalks shown us being fully nine feet long. Mr. Frost planted 3 1-4 square rods, and raised about 800 lbs. of fodder in two months, which he thinks is not at all bad.

The moonlight excursion of the steamer Appledore, before announced for this (Thursday) evening, has been postponed to Tuesday evening, August 20. See advertisement.

A canvass of the passengers on the Eastern Railroad train, between Wenham and Boston, Wednesday morning, resulted as follows: For Grant, 84; for Greeley, 36.

Our old friend D. Horace Holman, besides getting married, has been elected a member of the Lewiston Republican city committee, Chairman of the Overseers of the Poor, Superintending School Committee and Clerk of Common Council. Horace can fill all those places well.

The card of Dr. C. A. Norton, homeopathic physician, may be found in another column. Portsmouth having been without a physician of the homeopathic school for some time, Dr. Norton's advent will be hailed with satisfaction by many who believe in the creed, "the less medicine the better."

A fireman requests us to publish the following extract from the Portsmouth correspondence of the N. Y. Sunday Mercury:—

Items printed in the evening daily of this city having been copied by some of the Boston papers, representing that there is considerable dissatisfaction existing among both firemen and citizens with the present chief engineer, I will take this opportunity to explain. The dissatisfaction is in reality confined to two persons—one citizen who was kicked out of the department because he was simply worthless. He is dissatisfied because the chief will not reinstate him against the wishes of the company. The other, an engineer, is so blinded by self-conceit as to think that he is capable of handling this department when in reality he cannot handle himself. He is ready to be the tool of any one, no matter how low and mean they may be, so long as they will assist him to misrepresent and undermine men whose only fault is that they are better firemen than he dare claim to be.

Go Down River.

That's our advice to everybody who prefers cool comfort to sweltering in a close office or a still closer drawing-room. Down river, if there is any "cool" anywhere, you will get your share of it. If you are so depraved as not to care for the heat; if your taste is so vitiated that you do not love blue water when its surface is ruffled by the breeze, and your heart does not swell with joy at the sight of a long-handled frying-pan full of nicely-browned cunners and another one full of fried onions; if the ambitious eagerness of your early days has departed, so that you no longer exult when you have succeeded, after burning up all the drift-wood you can find, scorching your whiskers, smuttying your nose, blistering the back of your hand, and burning a hole in your pants, in making the coffee-pot boil,—if you are that kind of a man, don't go down river; go West, go anywhere, or stay at home.

A trip down river in good company, with plenty of pop beer, milk, lemon syrup, etc., with eatables in abundance, a box of cigars, fish-lines for the company and a tin canister of angle worms, is when properly carried out, about as enjoyable a method of spending a day as we know of. One gets rid of work, for one thing, which of itself is enough to make most people happy. Then the experienced down-river man will greatly enjoy seeing his companions prick their fingers while taking the sharp-spined cunners from their hooks, while he quietly smokes, unmolested by bites, as he fishes with an unbaited hook. Then the cooking of the dinner on the rocks, and the brewing of palatable drinks from the pop beer, lemon syrup, etc., impresses each one with the pleasantly delusive idea that if there is any one line in life in which he could particularly shine if he chose, it is as steward of an ocean steamer or cook at Delmonico's.

We tried it recently, and we know how it is. A pleasanter party than ours on that occasion, a finer day or a better time, we will not ask for. The Marshal showed that he could fry as much pork and potatoes in a given time as it is given to mortals to do; his professsional assistant came out strong on fried onions: none could slice cucumbers and turn out pop beer with the easy grace of the caterer; but the crowning glory of the day, making the coffee-pot boil, fell to our share. The Judge with a companion, wandered off on a tour of observation, and made a great geological discovery, viz.; that it was quite easy for both of them to hide out of sight among the rocks until the rest of us had got dinner ready. And when dinner was ready, what an appetite each one brought to bear upon it; and what just encomiums were lavished upon the coffee. Excellent coffee we had, and abundance of cunners and fried onions. What more could be desired?

After dinner we made a call upon the party of gentlemen who are camping out at Gerrish's Island and imagine themselves enjoying the exact experience of the California pioneers of '49. We called upon them at the top of our united voices as we sailed past their tents on the point, but a young man who was engaged in some sedentary occupation (probably sewing a button on his shirt with a fork and a piece of twine, after the manner of backwoodsmen in general,) in front of the tent, told us "Dow is off there fishing," giving his hand a sweep half around the compass. Then we chased a boat containing two young men for a half-mile, authoritatively roaring at them to "Stop," under the impression that they were two of our friends; and when they finally brought their boat to the wind to see what under the sun we wanted, and we found they were entire strangers, we all tried to look calm and unembarrassed, and failed,—though our apologies seemed to afford the two young men much amusement. [We desire those young men to take notice that the row of bottles they eyed so suspiciously, on our boat's forecastle, were pop-beer bottles, and empty. We also desire to inform our friends that one day's boating is sufficient to injure our delicate complexion, and that we consider it impertinent for an acquaintance to put his finger on his nose and enquire: 'Say, old fellow; what's your regular beverage?"]

Our sail back to the wharf, past the boat in which the campers-out were fishing, with faces the color of mahogany, was as pleasant as the rest of our day's excursion; and to complete our happiness and render our trip a perfect success, we learned on arriving at home that our friends there had been miserably uncomfortable all day from the excessive heat.

Communicated.

"Cease Firing."

Dear Chronicle:—For pity's sake, do use your influence to try and stop the useless effusion of gunpowder, that is so popular—no, not popular, but fashionable,—with both political parties, when they have won a victory, or think they have. If any of us, of either party, feel jubilant, why let us hurrah, march about the town, get out a Band, make speeches; but for mercy's sake what is the use of firing cannon? Besides the more than useless expense, and the actual and unnecessary danger to not a few, the noise is not agreeable to anybody, and is positively painful and cruel to many, especially the sick who are in near vicinity of the discharge. I go in for a lively campaign—a sharp political "fight," if that term suits anybody's ideas of a peaceful contest better than it does mine; but unless a better reason for the faith in big guns can be adduced than ever occurred to me, I hope, if gunpowder must be burnt, that it will be sent up in the shape of fire-works. Do stop the cannon except when desired to kill somebody. Yours, S. O. R.

Concluded from first page.

den he say: 'De Unions is 'quiring fer some pussum dat can show 'em de road froo the mountings; and we done tell 'em dat you knowed all de roads cl'ar to de Ca'line, and de Gin'al done sent for yer.'

Dey tuk me ter Gin'al Sherman, and he ax me 'bout de roads, and all de time he war looking at a big pieter he hed spread out afore him, and making marks onto it. Den he say: 'Will yer go wid us froo the mountings, fer a pirate?' And I tole him I wor most wishful ter be a pirate fer de Unions, and I'd go wid him jes' whar he say.'

Wall, missy, I won't tell yer all whar we went, fer likely yer gets tired with de ole man's talk; but I wor de pirate fer de Unions a'l de way 'long till we come to Richmon.' 'Spees yer done heerd about the vaccination of Richmond, missy? I wor dar dat time. Den I tuk sick, and dey done send me up yere; and I'se mighty well tuk care on; I ain't got neflin to ax fer; only I'd like ter see de Gin'al agin; fer sence I wor his pirate, I feels jist like I belong to him."

I saw the General's pirate often during the winter, and talking with him one day, I asked: "Uncle Henry, did you never have a wife?"

The pleasant smile faded, and the old eyes looked sadly in the distance, as he answered:

"Yaas, honey, I did hab the bes' wife dat ever a man was possessed wid; but it'll be twenty years next corn-shucking since I wor sold away from her, and I nebber 'spees to see her agin in dis world."

His voice trembled with the weight of pain and sorrow, and I reproached myself for the thoughtless question that had waked such bitter memories. It was but a few days after this conversation that I met the doctor, who said, "Do you know that Uncle Henry's wife is at the hospital?"

"No. When did he find her,—and where—and how?"

"Don't ask me," said the doctor with a quiver in his voice: "I shall spoil it in the telling. Go and see them together, and let them tell you."

I found Uncle Henry lying on his cot, completely prostrated by the excitement, but with an expression of perfect content upon his face, grasping tightly the hand of an old colored woman who sat beside him. She rose at my approach, and he said: "Nancy, dis is de lady dat I spoke ter you ob. Make yer respec's ter her." Then with a half shyness, infinitely beautiful and touching, he looked up at me. "I s'pose," he said, "dat some folks 'ud wonder what I sees in dis ole woman ter t'ink so much ob; but dey looks at her, and dey jest sees a wrinkled ole 'ooman; but I looks at her, and I sees my wife, dats been true ter me all dese many years."

Then he told the story of their meeting. "I wor setting on de bench by de winder, and a man come in an say dar wor a 'ooman outside dat wor wishful ter see me. I didn't know what business no 'ooman hed wid me, but I tole him to send her in. So she comed in, and set down on de oder end ob de bench; but I didn't take no notice ob her. I knowed e'r she hed say word ter say she'd say it widout me axing her; 'kase when women's got anything ter say dey can't hold in long widout saying it. Dey'd bus ef dey couldn't talk, sho's trufe. So I sot dar and she sot dar; but 'peared like she wor mighty oneasy, an' bimeby she kind of rix up a little, and she say, 'Henry?' Den I look round, fer I wonder what wooman wor calling my name like dat; and when I caught de fust blush ob her face, den I knowed her. She wor ole'r and I wor ole'er dan we wor twenty year ago; but she wor Nancy, and I wor Henry all de same."

"How did you know that Uncle Henry was here?" I asked her.

And then I learned how "truth is stranger than fiction," and how all powerful is faithful love.

Washington was the Mecca of the freedmen. Hither they flocked, expecting not only freedom and its accompanying blessings, but reunion with those who had been separated from them years before. In this hope Aunt Nancy came, and found employment in one of the hospitals, where for nearly two years she worked, con-tantly searching and inquiring for the husband, between whom and herself rolled such a gulf of years that each would hardly know the other when they met. Then came the winter of 1865—'66, when the small-pox raged in Washington. The Kalorama, the small-pox hospital, was crowded to overflowing, and an advertisement for nurses appeared in the daily papers. Aunt Nancy offered her services, and an ambulance was sent to take her to the Kalorama. On the way, the driver, socially inclined, spoke of people and doings at Campbell Hospital, where he and the ambulance belonged, and at last mentioned the name of Henry Dodson. Said he; "I never saw anything act like that women. She just gave a screech, and tumbled on her knees in the ambulance, and went to praying and crying, and calling 'Henry,' till I thought she was gone stark, staring mad." Arriving at last at a comprehension of the case, he turned his horses' heads towards Campbell Hospital, and there the two faithful hearts by man "put asunder," were once more "joined together."

Uncle Henry had been made Wardmaster of "No. 3." Two rooms in the hospital were given to him, and here the old couple took up the thread of life that had slipped from their hands twenty years before. Their manner to each other was beautiful to witness; on her part such unvarying deference; on his such perfect gentleness. She did nothing without consulting him; and his usual answer was: "Berry well, Nancy; jab yer wish. I has no objections. I allers trust ter yer lady-ship ter do ebverything ladyfied and proper, becoming de wife ob a preacher of de Gospill."

For Uncle Henry was preacher as well as pirate; and though his sermons were not modelled after either the Princeton or Andover school, his prayers were supremely beautiful; and never did he omit a petition for a "particular blessing onto top of Gin'ral Sherman's head, and onto de tops of de heads of all his family."

Four years of happiness were given to them after their reunion, and then Uncle Henry laid down upon the bed from which he was to rise no more. He never uttered a complaint, or expressed a wish for anything different, but met those who visited him with the old peaceful smile and cheerful words. To one who went to bid him goodbye before leaving town, he said: "I doubts about seeing you again, honey. 'Pears like I'se nearly done wid dis ole frame, and ef 'twaren't fer Nancy, I'd be glad; but its hard fer her to be left so lonesome again. But I ain't noways troubled. I'se settin' top o' de Lord's will, and ef he luff me heah a while longer, or ef he take me ter hisse'f tonight, I has no word ter say."

The "old frame" was indeed nearly done with, and with the waning summer "General Sherman's Pirate" went to his rest."

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Falling to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
SINGER
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED: it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

Carry the News to Hiram!

The Savannah Republican, under the inspiration of the "very earliest news from North Carolina," strikes its lyre and carols the following "bewitching" strain:

Old Farmer Horace has an axe,
Carry the news to Hiram!
He lops the limbs with mighty whacks,
Carry the news to Hiram!
Oh, Hiram Sam Ulysses Grant,
Once you could but now you can't—
Then let your uncle and your aunt,
Carry the news to Hiram!

That is only the voice of a Southern "mocking bird." Now hear what those North Carolina pines are singing:

Old Farmer Horace has an axe,
And that's no news to Hiram!
He lops the trest but he can't lop facts,
Which is "nuts" you know for Hiram!
The Old North State has gone for Grant,
Who doesn't quite see the point of your "can't"!
And so, without waiting for uncle or aunt,
We'll carry the news to Hiram!

THE BLASPHEMOUS CROW.—At a certain cross-road in the State of Alabama, stood a small grocery or whisky shop where "bust-head" and "chain lightning" were dealt out to the thirsty unwashed at five cents a drink, or twenty-five cents a quart.

The presiding genius of this delectable institution was one Bill Sikes, who, among various pets, had a domestic crow, black as the ace of spades. This crow had learned, among other things, to repeat quite plainly the words "damn you!" which he, of course, heard frequently used in the grocery. During the prevalence of a knock down and drag out fight one day, however, the crow was frightened from home, and flew off to the woods never to return.

About three miles from the grocery was a settlement meeting house—an old tumble down affair, only used on certain occasions, when a circuit preacher came that way. Into this building went the crow, taking peaceable possession; and, two days thereafter, the church was thrown open to preaching, and a very large crowd assembled, among whom was a very old lady, who was compelled to use crutches in walking, who took her seat in the front pew, and was soon absorbed in the eloquence of the preacher. The reverend gentleman had scarcely got under full headway, and commenced thundering his anathemas at all grades of sinners, when a hoarse, croaking voice from above uttered the ominous words:

"Damn you!"

The preacher and congregation looked aghast at such profanity, and each peered into his neighbor's face in vain to detect some sign of guilt. Quiet was at length restored, however, and the sermon proceeded; but ere ten minutes elapsed, the ominous "damn you!" again electrified the audience, and just as the preacher cast his eyes upward in search of the delinquent, the crow flew down from his perch, and lighting upon the Bible, calmly surveyed the terrified crowd and gave another doleful croak:

"Damn you!"

The effect was electrical. Giving one startling and electrified glance at the intruder, the preacher sprang for the window, carrying sash, glass and all with him, and set off at a breakneck pace through the woods, closely followed by his horror-stricken congregation, who had piled out of the building pell-mell after him. In the general scramble the old lady with the crutches had been knocked down in the church, where she lay, unable to rise; and, on observing her, the crow who was after something to eat, flew down beside her, and looking up at her very knowingly, croaked out:

"Damn you!"

Then the old lady eyed him savagely for a few moments, and burst forth in a tone of reckless defiance:

"Yes, and damn you, too! I had nothing to do with getting up this old Methodist meeting—and you know it!" The poor old woman had mistaken the crow for the devil, and concluded, if possible, to propitiate his Satanic majesty by denying all complicity in the affair. The world is full of just such people.

—It has been recently decided that banners suspended in mid-air are an obstruction in the streets of New York, and hereafter none will be located, either political or mercantile, without the consent of the mayor or street commissioner.

—A French speculator is making money by manufacturing mummies from the raw material of the Paris dissecting rooms, and exporting them to Egypt to rejoice the hearts of curiosity hunters.

—The man who never told an editor how he could better his paper, has gone out West to marry the woman who never looked in a looking glass.

—Mr. Miller of Indianapolis went on a cat shooting excursion and wounded a school-ma'am who was studying astronomy.

—A robin conquered a bantam rooster in Indiana and picked his eyes out one by one.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage in which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing to its favor.

Is the ultimn thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will contract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitating and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Alleviator absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, clergymen, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pains from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are the only potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Alleviator for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries past, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By uncasing study and experimenting, Dr Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

Maine.

Our most reliable advices from Maine point to a grand Republican victory next month. The immense mass meetings in the central and southern parts of the State have shown that no danger of defeat need be apprehended. That portion of our neighboring State adjacent to New Hampshire will show handsome gains next month. Leading Republicans inform us that the Democrats have not the ghost of a chance of gaining a Congressman in the 1st district, and we do not doubt that every district will return a Republican Congressman. "Sun-struck Republicans" are scarce, down-east, and grow scarcer.

In the fourth district, on the 14th, Gen. Samuel F. Hersey of Bangor was nominated for Congressman by the Republicans, receiving all the votes cast. The "liberal" candidate is Marcellus Emery, whose outrageous course during the rebellion caused the returned soldiers to spill the type of his paper in the streets. So distasteful is the nomination of Emery, the "sun-strucks" swallow him with wry faces and at first demanded that he retire from the candidacy that they might support Hon. John H. Rice for the position. Mr. Rice is a Republican Ex-Congressman, but has been claimed for Greeley & Brown. Imagine the consternation of the falsifiers who have deserted the Republican party, at the appearance of Mr. Rice as a speech maker at the convention, where he spoke as follows:—

Fellow Republicans: I have no sentiments to disguise. I am a Republican to-day as I always have been. I have never cast a Democratic vote, and I never expect to cast one. I will support the nominee of this convention to-day [cheers], and although I understand very well that the most significant vote for Grant will be a vote for Perham for governor next September, I shall vote for him. There have been some things in the conduct of the Republican party that have not been satisfactory to me—matters of policy and perhaps of principle. I am free to admit this. We cannot all think alike, but the only thing we can do is to be governed by the public sentiments and judgment of the great party with which we act. I have expressed, and freely, dissatisfaction with the administration. I hope the day will never come when a man will be prevented from expressing his sentiments of the conduct of his party within its limits or without. I understand the significance of this reception. You regard it as a welcoming back of a lost sheep to the Republican party. I have thought much since the nominations. I have not been satisfied with what I have seen in the Republican party. I have wanted reform. It may have some personal feeling. We are all human. But I have reconsidered all that and I stand here to-day without wishing or expecting anything. I have come to the conclusion that vote for Greeley I cannot, and therefore I shall vote the entire Republican ticket on the 9th of September. I never supposed I had a swallow large enough to take down Marcellus Emery. I have nothing to say against him personally, but I cannot vote for a man who, if he lives up to his often-expressed sentiments and convictions, would if in Congress vote for the reopening of all the troubles settled by the war; who would vote for the repayment to the South for the slaves emancipated by the nation; who would vote for pensions for rebel soldiers. It is not an idle thing to say that the time will come when these questions will be again mooted in Congress, and it is every man's duty to see to it that no man is sent into Congress who might give his votes for these or any other rebel measures. The Democrats have among them smart business men. They are not going to put in ninety-nine hundredths of the capital and not take ninety-nine hundredths of the dividends; and Horace Greeley being a just man is not going to withhold from them their share of the dividends if he is elected. Therefore I can see no reform through the party supporting him. So far as my influence is concerned I am with the Republican party. Your friends are my friends, your faith is my faith, your gods are my gods.

At Bath, on the same day, a Republican mass meeting was presided over by Edwin Reed, Esq., who had been claimed as a Greeley man. Hon. John A. Bingham of Ohio made a telling speech to an immense audience. At Biddeford, Gov. Noyes of Ohio addressed a large audience. These are samples of the Maine canvass and it is very evident that the Republicans of that State mean business.

The voters can now take their choice between the two men for President—the one that whaled Jeff. Davis, or the one that bailed him.—Wolfeboro' News.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.—Blanton Duncan's Democratic committee are evidently making considerable headway. Advices from the Northwestern States state that there will be full delegations sent to Louisville, selected from among the most respectable Democrats. In Michigan, for instance, the brother of Senator Ferry, always a Democrat, will be a delegate. Wisconsin and Minnesota will send full delegations. Nearly all the States will be represented by bona fide delegates. The break-up against Greeley is far more complete, especially in the South, than coalition managers dream. The failure to beat or bully Pinchback and his faction in Louisiana into the coalition insures that State beyond all question for Grant, even without the fact that the regular Democrats will not go Greeley and Warmoth. In Georgia, the schism is open and bolted. There are a dozen influential Democratic papers following the lead of Stephens' Atlanta Sun, which advises a regular Democratic State ticket, and urges attendance at Louisville in order to secure the nomination of some one like Charles O'Conor. The Greeley papers denounce Mr. Stephens' course as in the interest of Grant. It is considered that now at least 25,000 Democratic voters in Georgia will support the regular nominations to be made at Louisville. In West Virginia there seems little doubt but what the new Constitution will be defeated on the 24th inst.; that Jacobs, the anti-Greeley Democrat, will be elected Governor. If the Constitution be defeated the State officers' election will be null and void. The regular State election will then be held in October. A letter from Florida says there is no reason to doubt that the Ku-Klux are reorganized and on a flourishing basis. They appear to have discarded the more ruffianly members, and the more violent methods, though they yet aim at securing a white man's government; want pensions for rebel soldiers, redemption of Confederate bonds, and payment of war losses. Various publications have been made in northern Florida, purporting to emanate from the reconstructed plan and they all pronounce for Greeley.—Boston Globe.

THE NEXT STATE ELECTION will be that in West Virginia, on the 22d of the present month, when the new constitution will be voted upon and State officers to serve under it in case it shall be adopted. Mr. Jacobs, the present governor, was elected in 1870 as a Democrat by about two thousand majority. The unexpected accession of the Democrats to power so elated them that they formed a plan to obtain all the offices in the State. To this end a constitutional convention was voted for in 1871, and the instrument subsequently framed by this body it is that now to be decided by the people. One of its provisions deprives colored men of the right to hold office in the State.

Mr. Jacobs has been a faithful and efficient governor, and gives general satisfaction to all except the Democratic ring of politicians, who defeated him for a renomination because he refused to indorse some of their iniquitous schemes. In the natural order of event his term would not expire until 1874. Johnson N. Camden has been nominated to succeed him, but his election is not very probable, the Republicans and a large section of the more honest portion of the Democratic party having determined to support Governor Jacobs, who is running as an independent candidate. The election will be of very little significance so far as the Presidential contest is concerned. The vote in the last Presidential and gubernatorial contests was as follows:

	Rep.	Dem.	Majority.
1868	29,025	20,306	8,719 Rep.
1870	26,742	28,865	2,123 Dem.

The Democratic majority in 1870 was mainly composed of the votes of ex-rebel soldiers, who then voted for the first time.

AN UNEXPECTED REVERSE.—The Republicans have not looked for much comfort from Louisville, Kentucky, but it seems that the grand Greeley combination has just received a very black eye in that city, in an election for city and county officers. There was a Greeley Democratic ticket in the field, and also a Citizen's ticket; the latter was supported by the Republicans and straight-out Democrats who refuse to have anything to do with the Baltimore swindle.

The Greeley journals tried hard to bring up their line, and every influence was brought to bear. The Courier-Journal spoke of the Citizens' ticket as virtually a radical ticket, and said, "We cannot afford to have it go abroad that the Democratic party has been beaten in the chief city of Kentucky." The Ledger said that if the regular nominees were defeated it would be heralded over the country as a Radical victory, and in that way would have a disheartening effect. The Anzeiger spoke to the same effect. All of the Greeley organs called for such a rousing majority for the regular ticket as would thrill with rejoicing the heart of every friend of the Liberal movement in the State. The Democratic city and county committees issued an address imploring the Democrats, in view of the Presidential contest, to stand by the regular Greeley nominees.

Judge the feelings of the Dolly Vardens when the result showed that the Citizens' ticket was elected by 3,000 majority! And that was not enough of a shot; Fayette County, the home of Congressman Beck, elected the Republican ticket by 600 majority—a gain of 350 on last year's figures. This is one of the most significant and hardest kicks that the Greeley-Liberal ticket has had, and it was received, moreover, in a Democratic stronghold.—Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

Political.

"Hope for a season bade the world farewell, and Greeley shrieked when North Carolina fell."

Greeleyites have been indulging hopes that at least Wendell Phillips would help them in their attempt to kill the Republican party. But now this hope is gone, for in a private letter of last week, Mr. Phillips says:—"I have already written for Grant as against Greely, and shall take a more active part, for I feel what is at stake. Greeley is simply wax in the hands of traitors. How sad Sumner's act! I cannot understand it. It is the great mistake of his life—a terrible fall."

Senator Cragin denies that he has expressed himself as believing that New Hampshire is a doubtful State. He has full faith in the re-election of President Grant and has no doubt New Hampshire will be found in the Republican column. This disposes of a Boston Post falsehood.

A couple of Greeley men, on a street corner in Syracuse, were discussing the probabilities of the coming of the comet. The conversation was closed by one of them with the remark: "Well, let it come; anything to beat Grant."

The Democrats have been dieting so long, they now are capable of receiving crow on their weak political stomachs, which have not seen meat early and often of late.

The difficulty of correcting a misstatement is shown by the following item which we clip from the New York Herald of August 13th:—In "New Hampshire the defection of Hon. E. H. Rollins from the Grant and Wilson ranks virtually settles the election and secures the State for Greeley and Brown. The influence of Mr. Rollins carried the State for Republicans last Spring, and his desertion of Grant is the most serious blow the cause could receive in the Granite State." Very complimentary! But Mr. Rollins could not be induced to support Greeley and Brown.

Horace Greeley, in his speech at Portland, denounced the Tammany ring, but he omitted to tell the people that every despised Tammany thief is a Greeley man, and without the votes of these scoundrels Horace Greeley will not carry the city of New York.

At the Delaware Democratic convention, an electoral ticket was formed and Curtis W. Wright was nominated for Congress. The proceedings were very boisterous. A proposition was made to indorse Greeley. A committee reported a resolution approving Greeley in a qualified manner, but it and a substitute in much stronger language were laid on the table and no resolution adopted. Great excitement prevailed throughout the proceedings, and a number of the delegates after the adjournment declared that Delaware would vote for Grant.

It is currently reported that at a place not a thousand miles from Wolfeborough, certain Democrats have prepared a Greeley and Brown flag, and that said flag has been ready to be put out for several weeks, during which time the Greeley Democracy have been anxiously in search of a Liberal Republican to assist in raising the flag. As yet no one has been found sufficiently liberal to lend a helping hand in so unpromising a cause.—News.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cures of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

TRAVELLERS' TESTIMONY.—Thousands of travellers by land and sea have vouched for the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of the physical disturbances which ordinarily arise from change of climate and the changes of diet, water, &c, incident to a wandering life. Upon systems tioned, invigorated and regulated by this genial vegetable antidote the external causes of debility and disease seem to produce little or no effect. Forearmed with Hostetter's Bitters the voyager may bid defiance to seasickness and encounter the chilling fogs of the British Isles, the coast winds of the Antilles, the icy temperature of Northern Alaska, or the burning heat of the tropics with equal impunity. The effect of this admirable medicated stimulant is greatly to increase the vital energy of the system, thereby enabling it to resist and repel the exciting causes of disease.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.,) Journal.

DYSPEPSIA DESTROYS THE TEETH, unless its effects are counteracted by that pure vegetable tonic and antiseptic Sozodont. No bodily disease can impair them if this antidote to all corrosive elements that act upon the enamel is regularly applied.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Health, cheerfulness, long life, depend upon the regular action of the digestive organs, pure secretions and the vigorous condition of the lungs and the nerves. All these conditions of the system are secured by the use of the above remedies. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box or pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited. 11

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TRIUMPHANT FOR TWENTY YEARS.—More than twenty years ago the Mustang Liniment made its debut in the West. Its cures of the various external diseases of horses and cattle, astonished the planters and farmers of the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, and a demand for it sprung up which necessitated its manufacture on an extensive scale. Soon the discovery was made that it was a grand specific for rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, earache, toothache, and other external ailments of mankind. Then it was tried as a healing, pain killing application, in cases of outward injury, such as cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, &c., and was found equally serviceable. The fame of the new remedy for some of the most painful ills that afflict mankind and the lower animals, spread rapidly, and Mustang Liniment soon took rank in every State and Territory of the Union as a standard cure.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Morphine, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

Laconics.

Trains for East Boston leave this city at 10.30 A. M. daily.

Horace Greeley is expected to arrive here at 11:30 A. M. to-day, lunch at the Rockingham, drive to Rye Beach, and leave for New York to-night.

Hamilton camp meeting commences next Tuesday. Trains leave this city for the camp at 6.15, 8.25 A. M., and 6.30 P. M. Trains leave Asbury Grove for Portsmouth at 8 A. M.; 1.30, 4.10, and 5.40 P. M. Tickets at reduced rates may be purchased at the Eastern R. R. stations, and free return tickets at the camp ground.

Correspondents are requested not to send us communications for publication when they have nothing to write about. We cannot spare time to wade through page after page of manuscript in which there is no item of news.

The severe thunder shower of Wednesday evening caught quite a number of excursionists napping. Several boats full of ladies and gentlemen were in the lower harbor, but all escaped serious injury, tho' some arrived home in a drenched condition. Those parties who were pic-nic-ing or camping out at the mouth of the river were obliged to stay all night.

The new postal cards will not be ready for use for three months.

The crow-eaters have been lively about town for a few days, getting ready to receive that huge Democrat, Horace Greeley, for whom they propose to raise two or three more flags.

A large party from Lake Village went to the Shoals in steamer Appledore and returned on Thursday.

If Horace Greeley could know how few of his supporters there are who ever voted a Republican ticket, who to-day welcome him as the "liberal" candidate for President, he would experience a feeling of sadness which all the cheers he may receive would not erase from his thoughts.

Another severe thunder shower passed over this city, Thursday evening. The residence of Joseph Locke on Water Street was struck. Nobody injured.

The circumstances connected with the death of Mr. Frederick A. Green are somewhat peculiar. He left his home at the South End in this city a few days since, intending to visit Baltimore, taking with him about $300 in money and nearly all of his wardrobe. He had a presentiment at the time of his departure that he should not return alive, and requested his mother in case of his death to have him buried under the auspices of the Universalist denomination, whose views he had recently embraced. He reached a town some distance beyond Rochester, N. Y., when feeling ill, he concluded to return, but died shortly after reaching Rochester.

Fred Green,—as he was familiarly called,—was a singular young man. He was formerly a very active member of the Second Advent church in this city, and possessed a wonderful memory; when but 15 years old he would astonish the audiences there assembled by his familiarity with the contents of the Bible, and his early life seemed to be completely absorbed in the theme of the immediate coming of a personal Christ. As above mentioned, however, he abandoned this idea a short time since, and evinced an equal ability in his arguments in support of his new faith. He will be remembered by many for his long flowing hair, his slight build, and his singularly "etherial" appearance. His age was 22. His body arrived in this city on Thursday evening and was interred in the cemetery at the South End.

The News.

Hugh Donnelly of Dunkirk, N. Y., was murdered in the lockup of Corry, Pa., by James Nevills, an insane man, whom he was conveying to the asylum. His head was chopped off with an old axe.

The grand jury of the court of general sessions were discharged without finding an indictment against Mr. Jennings of the New York Times, in the suit of General Kilpatrick.

On the 14th the steamer Norwich, running between Boston and Calais, Me., went ashore on Dog Island. She was got off with high water and taken into port at Eastport.

Bostons 4, Mutuals 2.

Col. Russell Connell of Somerville, Mass., of the Mass. 2d Regiment, addressed the sabbath school in the Congregational Church at North Hampton on the 11th. Delegations were present from Hampton, Greenland, Stratham and Rye.

BLANTON DUNCAN ON GREELEY.—The circular address issued to the Democracy, and signed by Blanton Duncan, as chairman, calling a straight-out Democratic convention to meet in Louisville on the 3d of September, is not very pleasant reading for Mr. Greeley and his friends. It deals most unmercifully with the Liberal leaders, and denounces the Baltimore bargain as fraud and hypocrisy which must be repudiated and spurned by every man who has a spark of honesty in his heart. The committee of which Mr. Duncan is the head ask: "Can Democrats who have boasted that they support 'principles, not men,' agree to falsify their past life by clasping hands with the worst men of the Radical party—Sumner, Schurz, Trumbull, Fenton and the thousand other leaders who rally around Greeley, and would control his administration if his election can be secured? Who are the men that thus seek for the highest honors and emoluments of this country, and who have obtained the support of the trading politicians of the Tammany school by a promise of dividing the spoils? Without exception they are the bigots, whose bitterness has been evinced for the past twenty years in defamation of their opponents. They are the men who have uttered the most unchristian, the most ferocious, the most villainous sentiments about and against the southern people (women and children as well as men) during the war, and who have done most to develop and pass that legislation since the war which true Democrats denounce as subversive of liberty and against the spirit of our institutions. They are the men who have riveted the South in the chains and burdened it with its increased debts, the proceeds of which have gone into the pockets of the select few who have fattened upon the misfortunes of the people, and who turn to the new ring and Tammany alliance in order still further to enrich and ennoble themselves."

It then proceeds to point out and to describe the Liberal leaders; Warmoth, of Louisiana, who has increased the debt of that State by $45,000,000 in three years; Governor Pease, in Texas, whose "arbitrary course was so nobly rebuked and thwarted by the generous acts of Hancock," Rice, in Arkansas, "who was the first to concoct the infamous despotism which disgraces that State;" Gratz Brown, "who outheroded Herod for disfranchisement and persecution;" Blair, who "came into the party to destroy it;" Schurz, who "would sweep the South with a besom of destruction;" Burbridge, "the most detested of Kentucky's citizens," and so forth. The leaders of the movement in the North the circular pronounces to be "incited by jealousy, rage and revenge, because of their failure to receive the dispensing of patronage from the Government. The entire coalition is a rope of sand, with no cohesive power but that of plunder in perspective. The people have always and in all countries placed the stamp of their condemnation upon similar bargains. They will do it again. The only precedent in history for the immediate selection of a deserter as commander-in-chief is that of Coriolanus, and for the Democrats the comparison is unfortunate. Coriolanus betrayed his army and spared Rome when she was prostrate at his feet. So Mr. Greeley, with Sumner and other champions of negro social equality (reindorsed with emphasis since his nomination;) truculent advisers of centralization and tyrannical oppression of their adversaries; uncompromising enemies of that Constitution which to them is 'a league with hell and a covenant with death;' ready to do anything for power and place, will unscrupulously betray their own followers if necessary for their own advancement, even in the hour of victory."

—Montana grasshoppers are more ravenous than usual this season. They eat wagon-tires, and have been known to tickle a mule in the ribs until he kicked, and devour his shoes while his feet were in the air.—St. Louis Globe.

SENATOR WILSON ON THE CAMPAIGN. Senator Henry Wilson returned yesterday from Indiana, where, in fulfilment of a promise made some months ago, he has recently been helping his party by "stumping" the State. He stayed at the Astor House, and in the course of a frank, unrestrained little chat with a representative of the Herald, gave the following hopeful view of the November race for the Presidency:—

Reporter—You look as if your trip out West had in no way disagreed with you, Senator.

Senator Wilson—Well, taking into account the way we have been working out in Indiana, I am in splendid health, a little hoarse, perhaps, but that is all. In twelve days I have made twenty-one speeches, and twelve of them were from an hour to an hour and a half in length.

Reporter—You are stripping for the fight with your old enthusiasm, sir.

Senator Wilson—The enthusiasm of the people out there makes every one a little more earnest than usual, I can assure you. I never saw anything like it. In Indiana, the Republicans have begun the struggle with an energy that is sweeping the State from one end to the other for the good cause. I spoke in Richmond, Muncy, Indianapolis, Brazil, Crawfordsville, Lafayette, Logansport, Laporte, South Bend, Kennedysville, Fort Wayne and Warsaw, and everywhere the meetings were attended by immense crowds of people, and the enthusiasm was, I tell you, such as I never witnessed before, though my political experience has been pretty extensive.

Reporter—The Republican party, then, mean to win?

Senator Wilson — They certainly mean not only not to let the election go against them by default, but to carry the country by heavier majorities than ever. In Indiana there have been a thousand meetings already held, and Tom Brown, our candidate for governor, has himself spoken sixteen times.

Reporter—How was it that you went to Indiana so early in the struggle, Senator?

Senator Wilson—Because I had made a promise to go there, and I was not sure of being able to fulfil it at a later date.

Reporter—Had you promised to go there before the Philadelphia convention?

Senator Wilson—I promised to go there immediately after the convention. You remember that my nomination was made unanimous on the motion of the Indiana delegation, and as their favorite candidate had of course been Mr. Colfax, the Massachusetts delegation were very grateful for the kindly spirit manifested, and called upon the Indiana men that evening to thank them. A great many expressions of good feeling were made on both sides, and finally, when Massachusetts asked what she could do in return for the compliment paid her, Indiana said, "Send Henry Wilson to us for a week to stump our State." Of course some one else ought to tell that story than myself, but it shows that the loyalty and unselfishness which kept the Republican party together during the darkest days of the war are still its most conspicuous characteristics.

Reporter—What are the prospects of the campaign?

Senator Wilson—Our ticket will carry every free State but two, I am sure, and in those two there are strong, very strong hopes of victory.

Reporter—And those two are—

Senator Wilson—New York and New Hampshire. New York you know all about, probably, better than I do, and though the result is doubtful, I think all the signs of the times point to the success of the Republicans even here. And I may say the same of New Hampshire where the fight is always a very close one.

Reporter—And does this hopeful view prevail generally in the party?

Senator Wilson—Out West as I have told you the enthusiasm and earnestness are such as I have never seen. I find one very cheering sign, too, everywhere, and that is that the vast majority of our young men are Republicans. In Indiana there are electioneering regiments, with a regular Grant uniform and mounted, who are doing splendid service in animating and rousing all the loyal men and friends of good government to a sense of their duty. All of those organizations are composed of young men, most of whom served in the war and helped to save the Union.—N. Y. Herald.

—The Crispins make no discrimination as to relative skill in their trade. They hold that this truth is self-evident, that awl men were created equal.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely; and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
SINGER
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and HAS THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the choice of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with marvelous suddenness, warning when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY PHYSICIAN prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed, with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in an advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

In the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LICORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria,

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for 'internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

A Difficult Job.

"Rollins made a good speech, and no mistake," remarked a Democratic acquaintance to us, about an hour after Hon. E. H. Rollins finished speaking at the Rockingham House on the evening of the 9th; adding, after a few moments' pause, "but there; how easy it is to make a good Republican speech! A man can go straight ahead; there's nothing to dodge!"

This remark naturally turned our thoughts to the great difficulties which lie in the way of any one's making a good Greeleycratic speech here in the North, in presence of a mixed multitude. If the hearers were known to be all Ex-Republicans, the speaker would have plain sailing; he would only have to denounce Grant; eulogise Greeley as an "original abolitionist" and the most vituperative enemy the Democracy, individually and collectively, ever had; denounce the men who say he has gone over to the Democracy as "liars and villains;" claim that the Democratic party in approving the Cincinnati platform gave up their ancient creed and become true converts to Republicanism, and that in nominating as their candidate for President their bitterest Republican antagonist they but proved their faith by their works. This, which is good "liberal" Republican doctrine, and precisely the kind of talk we hear from the few back-somersaulters who have managed to tumble into the Democratic party and yet deny that they are Democrats, would no doubt arouse "intense enthusiasm" for Horace in an Ex-Republican assemblage; but it wouldn't do at all where (as is the case at every Greeley meeting) forty-nine fiftieths of the hearers belong to the party whose superlative virtue Mr. Greeley once said was to drink rum. The Democrats strenuously deny that they have abandoned their old party and come to them; so what is good for the "liberal" Republicans wouldn't do at all for the Ex-Democrats. Were the assemblage composed entirely of Ex-Democrats, the speaker would have plain sailing; he could denounce Grant and Republicanism both alike, claim that Greeley has abjured his former party principles and become a Democrat, and that his election would be a Democratic victory. This is good Ex Democratic doctrine, as we every day hear it privately expounded by former Democrats who now "favor Old Horace." But it won't do on the stump; the "liberals" are as obstinate in asserting that Greeley is still a Republican and that the Democrats have gone over to him, as the Democrats are in asserting that Greeley has left his old party and become a Democrat; and though the latter view of the relative political situation of their party and their candidate might bring cheers from the Democrats if boldly presented by a public speaker, it would of course displease the "liberal" Republican hearers and might drive them from the coalition, thereby destroying all hope of the success of the object the Democrats had in view when they rolled in the mud at Baltimore—the winning of Republican votes enough to defeat the Republican party.

It will not do for the Greeley orator to conflict with the views of either wing of the Greeley party, lest—like the hog which rubbed against the bottom of the forty-foot ladder on the top round of which the negro painter was standing—he "make mischief." It will not do to denounce Republicanism and the Republican party, the Baltimore convention having declared the righteousness of the principles which the Republicans fought for so long and so successfully, and the "liberals" still claiming to be true to those principles; and it will of course not do to denounce the Democrats or their former principles, for if Greeley is ever elected it must be by Democratic votes, and his Democratic supporters deny that they have changed their political faith or abandoned the ancient principles of their party.

Like the clergyman who on entering a strange pulpit was warned that if he would satisfy the congregation he must preach neither religion nor politics, it is more necessary that the Greeley orator should know what not to say than to know what should be said. "Politics" must be ignored entirely, and his talk must be made up of abuse of the "Grant party" and vague but vigorous charges against it of "corruption," eulogy of "Honest Old Horace" and his "goodness of heart" and "unimpeachable purity of motive," with meaningless, clap-trap bifaltin about "binding up the wounds of the Union" and "clasping hands across the bloody chasm" thrown in ad. lib.; this is the only declaration of "principles" a Greeley speaker can make before a political gathering in New England, without making feathers fly from one or the other of the ill-matched wings of the Greeley party. As arguments in support of the above "principles," all the Greeley advocate can say is "We shall win! Hurrah. The Democrats are a unit in support of the great and good Greeley, and all the influential Republican leaders and nearly all the voters have come over to us! Come on, quick, all you who still hesitate but want to be on the winning side!"

In the South, where Greeley's ante-convention strength was sufficient to force his nomination at Baltimore, the ex-rebel speakers seem to lack the caution necessary to maintain the harmony of the coalition; several bright and shining lights of the Democratic party made terrible havoc with the "liberal" Republican statements concerning the convesation of the Democrats, at the largest and most important Greeley gathering yet held south of Mason and Dixon's line. Congressman Beck claimed that Greeley's election would be a Democratic victory; another speaker said a coalition victory would be a complete triumph for that "lost cause;" and a third announced the the Democratic leaders had received "positive pledges" from Greeley before his nomination, which were perfectly satisfactory to them.

The Greeley orators in the North may learn a lesson from the result of this indiscreet blurting out of the truth by their southern friends; for Louisville, Ky., (it was at Lexington, Ky., that the Democratic speakers told the truth,) went against the Dolly Vardens by 3000 majority, and Fayette county, the home of Congressman Beck, elected the Republican ticket and gave a gain of 350 over the previous year, in face of the heart-rending appeals of the Greeley press and the Democratic city and county committees. The grand Greeley combination calls for any amount of "enthusiasm," but it cannot stand up by too close an examination into its composition that neither honest Democrats nor honest Republicans can stand it. Greeley orators, as you value success more than anything else in the world, do be careful what you say, and not discuss either principles or politics in your harangues,—leave those things to the Republican speakers, who can discuss them fearlessly and consistently.

The night train over the European and North American Railway, between Bangor and St. John, will begin running on Monday next, leaving Bangor on the arrival of the Maine Central train for the West.

The President has appointed Capt. Daniel Ammen, Chief of Bureau of Navigation, to be Chief of Bureau of Yards and Docks.

Hon. William B. Johnson of Cohasset, Mass., died suddenly during the tempest of Wednesday night. Some of his friends attribute his death to heart disease, but others say it was the result of mental excitement produced by the heavy storm.

Political.

In Indiana, the Republican campaign clubs are mustered by regiments uniformed and mounted, and are doing splendid service in animating and rousing all loyal men and friends of good government to a sense of their duty. All of those organizations are composed of young men, most of whom served in the war and helped to save the Union.

"Charge, Bennett, charge! On, Stanley, on." So came last news from Livingstone.—Punch.

Ex-Senator Wade of Ohio represents the political situation in that State as most favorable, and predicts that President Grant will be re-elected by one of the largest electoral majorities ever received by any president. Mr. Wade expects to do some active campaigning in his own State later in the season.

In Georgia a call is out, signed by a list of twenty names from twenty different counties, for a State Convention at Atlanta, on the 20th inst., "for consultation and advisement as to the best course to be pursued in the furtherance and support of the (Democratic) party and constitutional liberty." A full representation from Georgia will undoubtedly be present at Louisville, as there will also be from many other States.

It may be mentioned as quite significant that one of the Greeley and Brown flags now flying at Portsmouth, is attached at one end to the residence of a brewer, and at the other end to the brewery itself. Who ever saw the philosopher's name so associated before? Have the brewer and brewery reformed or has Greeley made friends with old King Alcohol and his minions, that this is so?—Wolfeboro' News.

William H. Kemble of the Republican National Executive Committee states that a letter has been received from Governor Curtin announcing his intention of returning in September to stump Pennsylvania for Grant.

Moseby predicts a large majority for Grant and Wilson in Virginia.

Theodore Tilton having remarked that H. G. stands for Honest Government, somebody replies that T. T. stands for "Too Thin."

Republican managers are quite elated over some recent developments in New York, which they feel certain ensures their party success in that State. A significant straw is one which Gen. Porter states: A person interested in betting, who has recently travelled over the Empire State with the view of making a slate, offers large odds on Grant's carrying the State by twenty thousand majority.

The Concord People says of Hon. E. H. Rollins:—"To him to the party is indebted for whatever victories it has won within the last ten years." The People also says—"we do know that as an organizer and manager of a campaign his equal cannot be found."

David P. Lewis has been nominated as the Republican candidate for governor of Alabama.

Joshua F. Bailey, the defaulting internal revenue collector of New York, has figured largely in the "liberal" and copperhead Greeleycratic papers, which have included his appointment in the list of President Grant's delinquences; even the leading Democratic paper of the country, the New York Tribune, has within a few days used Bailey as a brick to throw at the Administration's head. This has called out the publication of three letters of recommendation which led to Bailey's appointment; the first is signed "Horace Greeley," the second "R. E. Fenton," and the third "Theodore Tilton,"—the Dolly Varden candidate for President, one of his chief and most earnest editorial supporters! Tilton, in his letter of recommendation, says that he has long and intimately known Bailey, and that he is "an incorruptibly honest man!" This excellent judge of character is now stumping for Horace Greeley for the same reason that he recommended Bailey, because he is "incorruptibly honest."

DR. LOWELL MASON.—The death of this widely known musical author and compiler is announced as having occurred at Orange, N. J., on Sunday, at the age of 80 years. He exhibited a passion for music when a mere child, which he cultivated, and devoted himself wholly to during his life. He took up his residence in Boston in the year 1827, and it was through his influence vocal music received a new impulse in Boston and New England; the Boston Academy of Music was established, and teachers' institutes for training teachers and choir-leaders were brought into fashion. In 1855 the University of New York conferred upon him the degree of doctor of music. The first musical degree ever conferred by an American college. Of late years Dr. Mason has given much attention to congregational singing in churches. He was the author and compiler of more musical works than any other author in America, and he composed some of the most popular of our modern hymns.

DEATH OF A NOTED HORSE.—Lexington, the great race horse, died at Spring Station, Ky., a few days ago. This horse ran the fastest four miles that were ever ran were accurate watches and timekeepers where in vogue. He was the sire of more race horses than probably any horse that ever lived.

TRAVELLERS' TESTIMONY.—Thousands of travellers by land and sea have vouched for the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of the physical disturbance which ordinarily arise from change of climate and the changes of diet, water, &c, incident to a wandering life. Upon systems toned, invigorated and regulated by this genial vegetable antidote the external causes of debility and disease seem to produce little or no effect. Forearmed with Hostetter's Bitters the voyager may bid defiance to seasickness and encounter the chilling fogs of the British Isles, the coast winds of the Atlantics, the icy temperature of Northern Alaska, or the burning heat of the tropics with equal impunity. The effect of this admirable medicated stimulant is greatly to increase the vital energy of the system, thereby enabling it to resist and repel the exciting causes of disease.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his pos-ession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DYSPEPSIA DESTROYS THE TEETH, unless its effects are counteracted by that pure vegetable tonic and antiseptic Sozodont. No bodily disease can impair them if this antidote to all corrosive elements that act upon the enamel is regularly applied.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, and all skin diseases, indicate impure blood. The Ointment reaches and obliterates the poison in the veins, while the Pills remove all internal obstructions. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot or box. Ask for new style: The old is counterfeited. 12

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TRIUMPHANT FOR TWENTY YEARS.—Lin Liniment made its debut in the West. Its cures of the various external diseases of horses and cattle, astonished the planters and farmers of the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, and a demand for it sprung up which necessitated its manufacture on an extensive scale. Soon the discovery was made that it was a grand specific for rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, earache, toothache, and other external ailments of mankind. Then it was tried as a healing, pain killing application, in cases of such a nature, such as cuts, bruises, burns, spasms, &c., and was found equally serviceable. The fame of the new remedy for some of the most painful ills that afflict mankind and the lower animals, spread rapidly, and Mustang Liniment soon took rank in every State and Territory of the Union as a standard cure.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Bilious Heads, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Horace's Visit.

The most prominent Democrat (just at present) in the United States, "incidentally" arrived in this city in his swing around the circle to visit the playmates of his childhood, by the Eastern Railroad train due here from Portland at 11:30 A. M. Shortly before that hour a procession of twenty-eight persons formed opposite the Democratic headquarters on Congress Street, and moved off for the depot to the excellent music of Harlow's Marine Band. A rather hard looking Irishman, who had evidently imbibed considerable "enthusiasm" and was smoking a long pipe, raced after the procession of well-dressed men to take a share in what was going; but as we did not see him afterwards we suppose he was choked off somehow.

A goodly number of people, including many ladies and anti-Greeley voters, assembled at the depot; and when "Honest Old Horace" appeared he was greeted with cheers, which it would be unfair to describe as being either enthusiastic or feeble; the cheering was as loud as could be expected from Democrats for the man who has spoken so plainly of them in the past and who is now (according to his own words long ago) "in a false position."

The procession of carriages numbered some eight or ten; we did not count them. The teams were fine—some of them magnificent; the black horses from R. H. Beacham's stable, attached to a handsome open carriage containing the reporters of the associated press and two of the New York dailies, deserve especial mention: as also the four-in-hand immediately following, which drew the barouche in which were seated Mr. Greeley, Hon. Frank Jones, Hon. Daniel Marcy and J. S. H. Frink, Esq. It is but just to state that the whole procession, including the appearance of the occupants of the carriages, was very creditable to the Dolly Vardens,—the carriages being filled with the elite of the Democratic party of Portsmouth, including the entire "liberal Republican" party of the city. We were especially pleased to see that our Democratic friends did not forget places of honor for Capt. J. Albert Sanborn, A. F. Craig, Esq., and E. D. Coffin, Esq. all recent accessions to the Democratic party; this we thought most commendable on the part of the Democratic managers, (tho' we think one "liberal" in the carriage with Horace would have made the thing look still better,) and we understand they are expected to act as liberally in the distribution of offices after Horace is elected!

One incident which was not down in the bills attracted our attention,—the passing down Vaughan Street just ahead of the procession, of four huge brewery wagons. We were unable to decide whether the beer wagons were part of the "liberal" procession or not, until they turned off in another direction.

During the progress of the pageant, a large Greeley and Brown flag was dropped between Masonic Hall and a pole on the opposite side of the street, and another one was stretched across the head of Daniel Street; both flags are handsome ones, and they will doubtless go as far as anything else towards electing Horace to the Presidency. The flag on the Custom House was also displayed.

Henry F. Wendell, Esq., acted as Marshal of the procession, and piloted it over a short but crooked route,—emblematic of the brief but devious course the hybrid coalition has to run,—to the Rockingham House, which was dressed out with bunting for the occasion. Here a large crowd was assembled to see the man who will not be the next President, though the assemblage was probably but one third—certainly not more than half as large as that which greeted Hon. E. H. Rollins. Mr. Greeley was introduced by J. S. H. Frink, Esq., and talked pleasantly for perhaps five minutes without saying anything.

On being introduced, Mr. Greeley in a squeaking voice and drawling tone made a brief speech explaining why he always deemed it necessary to say he was born in New Hampshire he reviewed the records of New Hampshire's sons, boasting of their loyalty from the time of King George III to the breaking out of the rebellion—and then finding himself in deep water and liable to hurt the feelings of some of his hearers who had consented to "eat crow," he abruptly closed.

No one could mistake Horace's identity who has ever seen one of the Greeley fans—he looks just like them. A Democrat (anti-boiled-crow) said, "He looks like a kindly, good-natured old farmer; and when you've said that you've said all. As for statesmanship—bah! He looks a mighty lot like a statesman, don't he?" We were rather pleased with the old man's looks, and cannot but admire the excellent management of his Tammany guardians, in sending him around the country with his tongue tied on all political questions. His presence gives the various local fuglers of the Dolly Varden onslaught on the barrier which separates them from the loaves and fishes, a good chance to get up a jamboree to aid in preventing the rapidly-waning "enthusiasm" from being entirely extinguished; and as long as he is not allowed to say anything he won't be likely to create much of a split in the conglomerate party. At the close of the speech there was some more moderate cheering.

After refreshing the inner man at the Rockingham House, Mr. Greeley was escorted to Rye, where he was to be the guest of G. H. Jenness, Esq.

As a whole, the reception of Mr. Greeley was by far the most "respectable," and the least enthusiastic and noisy of any Democratic demonstration we have ever seen. The "pugilists, blacklegs, thieves, burglars, keepers of dens of prostitution," etc., whom we have high authority for saying are "almost unanimously Democrats," and the "lewd ruffianly, criminal and dangerous classes," whom the same high authority says are attached to the Democratic party by "a purely selfish interest," kept themselves discreetly in the background; and the large proportion of ladies and Republicans in the gathering brought its morale about up to the standard of an average Republican one. The local Dolly Varden managers may well be proud of the audience which attended their grand show; and if they are as well satisfied at the "enthusiasm" displayed over it as we are, they have nothing at all to regret.

Communicated.

A Protest.

Messrs. Editors:—I crave a little space in your columns to enter my protest against the use of what is virtually a Masonic building—Congress Hall—as a support to and a point from which to send out a partizan political banner. I do not believe in making a political stepping-stone of the ancient and honorable order of Free Masonry, for any man; least of all for one who, like Mr. Greeley, has always been an opponent of it. And though I would not vote against him solely for that reason, yet I fail to see why it can be any more proper to throw out a flag bearing his name from a Masonic Hall, than it would be to send out Grant and Wilson flags from a custom house or city hall.

F. & A. M.

Kittery.

The Republicans of Kittery met on Thursday evening in Bartlett's Hall, and organized a Grant & Wilson Club, with the following officers:

C. L. Hayes, President; Daniel Perry, D. M. Shapleigh, Vice Presidents; Henry Taylor, Secretary; John Wentworth, Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer; Wm. H. Sanborn, C. H. Bartlett, D. C. Norton, Geo. Shannon, Robert Briard, Wm. Hancock, Charles E. Hayes, T. J. Pettigrew, Executive Committee.

Our Kittery correspondent says: "Next week the campaign will be fairly opened here, and several more Grant and Wilson flags will be thrown to the breeze. The attendance at the formation of the club was quite large and enthusiastic, notwithstanding the very heavy rain. We have established a regular head-quarters in Bartlett's Hall, which will be opened day and evening for a reading and business room, where will be furnished a good assortment of the leading Republican papers of the day. I hope it will never be discontinued as a reading room. We expect a grand rally soon."

City Council.

On Thursday evening, August 15, the Board of Aldermen heard petitioners for a new highway from Islington Street at estate of the late Ezekiel Frye, to the land of Josiah H. Morrison, on Cass Street. W. H. Y. Hackett, Esq., appeared for the petitioners, and the Board voted to visit the premises on Tuesday afternoon, August 20.

The Committee on Streets were directed to report on the condition of the roads in Dist. No. 1, and concerning the expenditures on the same. Subject of painting powder magazine was referred to Mayor, with power to act.

Application of Mead, Mason & Co., for leave to obstruct Summer and Chatham Streets for building purposes was granted, under supervision of Commissioner of Streets.

The Board voted to widen Pleasant Street between Edward Street and Haven lot two and a half feet, on land of E. Parry; and between house occupied by A. F. Craig and the Universalist church, to the trees on land of Mrs. Burroughs, on south side of the street.

Petitions of members of engine companies for increased pay was referred to a committee—Ald. Mendum, Giddings and Waldron.

A joint resolution sent up by the Common Council, authorizing the purchase of a new steamer, was read and laid on the table pending the report of the committee on pay of firemen.

A joint resolution requesting the Mayor to have the street lights kept burning till midnight, sent up by Common Council, was read once and tabled.

A joint resolution suspending so much of the joint rules as was necessary to enable the Common Council to adjourn to the call of the Mayor was received. The following was passed as a substitute:

Resolved, that the Joint Rules of the City Council be so far amended, that either Board may adjourn to meet again at the call of the Mayor.

Committee on Fire Department recommended that the pay of firemen of steam fire engines be placed at $120 each per annum. Referred to Committee on pay of firemen.

Committee on Streets were empowered to put the old part of Wibird Street in repair, and make earth sidewalk on the west side.

In our advertising columns will be found a notice of the loss of a portion of the setting of a mosaic bracelet; it is valueless to any one but the owner, and will be liberally paid for if returned to this office, as its loss ruins the set. The design of the mosaic is a landscape.

The Eastern Railroad has bought the landing occupied by the Boston & Maine Railroad at Lake Winnipesauke, and paid $10,000 for it. The new branch from Union Village to Wolfeboro will probably be opened in a few days and then the whole Lake region may be reached by the Eastern road direct.

One of the "liberal" adherents of Greeley and Brown, in this city, is a ramrod temperance man whose ultra temperance "principles" have in years past impelled him to oppose the election of any Republican candidate who believed that any question besides that of prohibition was entitled to consideration. Now he has raised a flag in honor of him who feasts on buttered watermelon, soft-shell crabs and cherries. What he has done with his temperance "principles" is not stated; but probably he has laid them away in some safe place to keep for use in future State and municipal elections.

We learn upon good authority that quite a little breeze was stirred up at the meeting of the Dolly Vardens last Wednesday evening to make arrangements for the reception of Horace Greeley. Some of the unterrified objected to making Generals of the new recruits; and a little war of words ensued because one of the wily political managers of Ward Three got ahead of the ex-sheriff in the matter of inviting the hero. The joke was a steep one, as it occasioned the journey of the ex-official to Concord to personally invite the great Chappaquack, while his shrewder friend staid at home and quietly used the telegraph, receiving an answer of acceptance before the quondam sheriff had got half way to Concord. There was some tall swearing, but it was of no avail. Comment is superfluous.

It sounds oddly enough to hear those Democrats who have sold their "principles" for a hope of office, denouncing those of their former associates who refuse to be bound by the corrupt compact, as "renegades to the Democratic party!" We heard them so spoken of by a prominent and influential crowd-eater, Thursday evening,—and from his talk we gathered that the said "renegades" are even more numerous in this city than we had imagined, tho' we previously knew there were many. Not less amusing is it to hear one of the most blatant opponents of the war for the preservation of the Union,—a man who defended the Democratic anti-draft riots and denounced Lincoln as a murderer and the Union troops as "Lincoln's hirelings,"—now denouncing the ex-guerrilla Moseby as a "rebel!" As he was told by a Democrat who cannot bring himself to partake of the boiled-crow feast, "It's lately come to your turn to acknowledge that there is such a thing as a 'rebel' in the country." Moseby supports Grant and Wilson—that's what's the matter.

A government steamer arrived in the lower harbor on Friday with the wreck of a sloop.

NATURE'S REMEDY.

VEGETINE

The Great Blood Purifier.

A valuable Indian compound, for restoring the health, and for the permanent cure of all diseases arising from impurities of the blood, such as Scrofula, Scrofulous Humors, Cancers, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Canker, Salt Rheum, Pimples and Humors on the Face, Ulcers, Coughs, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Neuralgia, Pains in the Side, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Costiveness, Dizziness, Piles, Headache, Nervousness, Faintness at the Stomach, Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Female Weakness, and General Debility.

This preparation is scientifically and chemically combined, and so strongly concentrated from roots, herbs and barks, that its good effects are realized immediately after commencing to take it. There is no disease of the human system for which the VEGETINE cannot be used with PERFECT SAFETY, as it does not contain any metallic compound. For eradicating the system of all impurities of the blood, it has no equal. It has never failed to effect a cure, giving health and strength to the system debilitated by disease. Its wonderful effects upon these complaints are surprising to those who have been scared by the VEGETINE that have tried many other remedies. It can well be called

NICE PARLOR GAME.—A New York correspondent says: There is a pile of inventive genius in Connecticut. A gentleman from New Haven showed me some of the sweetest little games for children I ever saw. I appreciate his efforts to please the children. I believe innocent parlor games have a tendency to make home pleasant, and keep the children from going to the circus. He showed me his highly interesting, moral and entertaining game called "The fly-leaf."

I would advise every parent to get one. It is done in this way: Take a sheet of writing paper, kalsomine it on one side with gum mucilage, then catch a fly, turn the fly on its back, stick the back of the fly on the paper, then catch another fly and do likewise; put the flies close together, heads all one way; keep on doing so until you get the sheet full, then turn the paper over, and you'd swear that paper was alive.

It will run all around the room. When you tire of this sport turn the paper over and admire the movements of the flies' legs.

It will be a perfect fac simile of grass swayed by a zephyr. This will be cheaper than taking the children to the country to see it. Zephyrs are an expensive luxury now-a-days.

—Harry—"Your dawg is werry thin, William." William—"He is werry bad, but when he dies I am going to stuff him, Harry." Harry (insinuatingly)—"Hadn't you better stuff him before he dies?"

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhea arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

The September number of The Atlantic Monthly opens with a sketch of Japanese life, entitled "A day in a Japanese Theatre," by E. H. House. The instalment of Mr. Parton's biography of Jefferson is entitled "Thomas Jefferson as a Sorcheed." Clara Barnes Murtin contributes a pleasant sketch of the quaint and picturesque city of Nuremberg. Mrs Lynn Linton rehearses the points of an ingenious essay by Maurice Morgann, published nearly a century ago to vindicate the character of Falstaff from what the writer assumed to be a misapprehension of Shakespeare's ideal. "Aunt Rosy's Chest" is the title of a story of southern domestic life by Oliver A. Wadsworth. Mrs. Leonowens tells a strange and powerful story entitled "The Favorite of the Harem," which is a leaf from her unique experience while a governess at the court of the King of Siam. Charles Seymour contributes "A Western View of Inter-State Transportation."

The Edinburgh Review (Am. reprint) for July contains: Complete works of Bishop Berkeley; The Stuarts at St. Germain; Helps' Thoughts on Government; The Popes and the Italian Humanists; The Southern States since the War; Memoirs of the Marquis of Pombal; Researches on Life and Disease; Reform in Japan; and The Bennett Judgment. $4 per year; Leon. Scott Pub. Co., 140 Fulton St., New York.

LINED.—A writer says: I was in a drug store when in rushed a fellow who called for a pound of camphor, and downed the whole of it. It was a surprise party to me, and I said, "What the deuce did he do that for?"

"Why," said he, "he is lined."

"Lined," says I, "what is that?"

Then the clerk told me:

"Some years ago a gentleman, about to give a dinner party, spent a whole week showing his servant how to make mock turtle soup. When the day came she made the mock, the turtle, and the soup all right, and just as she was about to pour in a bottle of claret a little boy distracted her attention, and she made a mistake and poured in a whole bottle of hair tonic."

"Did it make it hair soup?" said I meekly.

"Alas!" said he, "the results were sad."

"But," said I, "how did the mock turtle wind up?"

"Ah!" said he, "two went to the Morgue, four to the hospital, and all who didn't die were called the survivors, and that fellow you just saw is one of 'em."

"What the devil does he swallow so much camphor for?" says I.

"Well" he said, "that tonic started the hair growing down his throat, and he took the camphor to keep the moths out."

A STORY OF THE SEASON.—A gentleman who came up the Hudson on the St. John tells this story:—

"I noticed," he said, "a serious-looking man, who looked as if he might have been a clerk or bookkeeper. The man seemed to be caring for a crying baby, and was doing everything he could to still its sobs. As the child became restless in the berth, the gentleman took it in his arms and carried it to and fro in the cabin. The sobs of the child irritated a rich man, who was trying to read, until he blurted out, loud enough for the father to hear—

"What does he want to disturb the cabin with that d—— baby for?"

"The man only nestled the baby more quietly in his arms without saying a word. Then the baby sobbed again."

"Where is the confounded mother that she don't stop its noise?" continued the profane grumbler.

"At this the father came up to the man and said: 'I am sorry we disturb you, sir, but my dear baby's mother is in her coffin down in the baggage room! I'm taking her back to Albany, where we used to live.'

"The hard-hearted man," says my friend, "buried his face in shame, but in a moment, wilted by the terrible rebuke, he was by the side of the grief-stricken father. They were both tending the baby."

—Timber culture is not a bad business if a man can afford to wait. Half a century ago, a worn-out field in Western Connecticut was planted with young trees, and when cleared last year, produced fifty cords per acre, besides furnishing fencing timber for the whole farm and ten cords of wood annually for the past twenty years.

—Two Troy milliners, who hated each other as only rival milliners can hate, started for Europe, each flattering herself that the other was ignorant of her intention, and found themselves occupants of the same state-room on the steamer. The way they avoided each other was a study for a philosopher.

—The revisers of the New Testament are now engaged upon the revision of the Gospel of St. John.

—California's biggest tree is only forty-five feet in diamter.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever acquired so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,
Pulmocine Cordial
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cured for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all those afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
For Coughs,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, &c.
USE BUCHMAN'S
PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

$1000 REWARD.
BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.
COUCHS. Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.
CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twingling from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described, thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciating public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.
PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.
Every Man His Own Physician.
CAUTION.
THE immense demand for HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT, has tempted unprincipled parties to counterfeit these valuable medicines.
In order to protect the public and ourselves, we have issued a new "Trade Mark," consisting of an Egyptian circle of a serpent, with the letter H in the centre. Every box of genuine HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT will have this trade mark on it; none are genuine without it.

Campaign Rates.

To all new subscribers, we will furnish the DAILY CHRONICLE until after the Presidential Election, for $1; or the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for 50 cts.,—payable in advance.

NEW YORK.—The Utica Herald says: "New York has always been a Republican State, on a full poll, since the Republican party was formed. The Tribune is authority that its electoral vote was stolen from Grant in 1868, and that Hoffman was placed in the gubernatorial chair by fraud. In 1870, Reuben E. Fenton, by a speech, at Jamestown, complaining of "unfortunate federal appointments," and the consequent apathy in New York city, re-elected Hoffman by keeping at home as hopeless thousands of Republicans in the western counties. In 1871, in spite of the secret opposition of Mr. Fenton and the ruinous pretence of support by the Tribune, the Republican State ticket was elected by a majority of 18,907. This result was achieved, although the politicians who are in the pay of Tammany, while calling themselves Republicans, all labored for the success of the Tammany ticket. * * * * Two things the State Convention to meet here next Wednesday must do. It must consolidate the Republican strength and give it vigorous expression. It must appeal, as was done so well a year ago, to the conscience and convictions of honest Democrats against the jobbery and fraud of which Hoffman and the party organization in this State have been the instruments and supporters. New York city will help in this canvass. It will not return one-half of the majority counted for Seymour and Hoffman in 1868. The State is Republican, and all we need to do, is to make a platform and a ticket that will arouse the popular confidence, and New York will make an end of Tammany Democracy and of those allies who have been long in its pay and service. These last are now doing openly what for years they have done secretly. Now we know what they are [illegible] the larger in [illegible] vember, with intelligent and manly effort."

PENNSYLVANIA.—Private letters from prominent Republicans of Pennsylvania speak with great confidence of Hartranft's election in October. The recent changes have all been in the interest of unity and consolidation within the party, which is in much better condition than a month ago. The influence of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad has been secured. The disclosures of Buckalew's course during the rebellion, and others more damaging which are to come, have had a very unfavorable effect upon the Democratic prospects.

NORTH CAROLINA. — A Washington dispatch states that a letter from the Governor of North Carolina, in response to a request for a copy of the certificate of election from the Secretary of State, says that the result of the election officially will not be made until after the Speaker of the House opens all the returns in presence of both branches of the Legislature, which does not convene until the third Monday in November. There are some fifteen counties yet to hear from, except partial returns. The most heard from are semi-official, and it is pretty satisfactorily ascertained that Caldwell's majority will range from 1800 to 2500.

A Raleigh special says that official returns from eighty-four counties are received, giving Caldwell 94,565, Merrimon 91,862. It is believed the latter will not contest the election, unless Greeley is elected President.

GEORGIA.—The straight-out Democrats of Georgia are developing unexpected strength in all parts of the State, and will put an entire ticket into the field at their convention at Atlanta. Herschel V. Johnson, who is now a strong supporter of President Grant, is likely to receive the nomination of governor, and in that event will be adopted by the Republicans as their candidate. A letter from a prominent railroad official, who has just returned from an extensive tour through that State, says that there are thirty thousand Democrats in Georgia who will not vote for Greeley.

Political.

A call has been issued, signed by William Dean, recently Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Delaware, for the election of six delegates to represent the State in the Louisville Convention. Dean has also organized a straight-out Democratic club, and a large number of Democrats, it is claimed, are ready to join it.

The Republicans have gained 183 votes in Lewis county, Ky., since last February, according to the official returns of the late election.

The New York Times says the accounts of a confidential nature of the political situation in Pennsylvania are exceedingly favorable to Republican success, both in October and November. There is no appearance of that over-confidence which begets indolence, but success is expected through labor. There is little appearance of dissatisfaction with the State Republican ticket, which it is thought, will receive a majority of 10,000 in Philadelphia alone, unless unlooked for changes occur in a short time.

The New York Herald says of the colored meeting at Cooper Institute on Thursday night, that Saunders (negro Democrat) met with scant comfort and no courtesy, but was called a liar, traitor, etc., and it is evident that Greeley will encounter the opposition of the entire colored vote in the State.

The Dayton Journal irreverently calls the Greeley vice, B. Crabs Brown.

North Carolina cost the Democratic committee $60,000. And yet they are not happy.

The Binghamton (N. Y.) Republican contains the proceedings of a straight Democratic Club, at Hale's Eddy, Broome county, on the 7th inst. The following is one of the resolutions adopted by the meeting: "That we do not regard the action of the late Convention at Baltimore as binding on the Democratic party, but denounce it as a base, shameful and dishonest attempt to obtain power at the sacrifice of principle and honor, deserving the condemnation of every honest man." The names of one hundred voters are published in the Republican as having united in the call for the meeting.

A. T. Stewart of New York, who has been claimed for Greeley, declares that in his opinion, the election of Greeley to the Presidency would be a great national calamity.

The Philadelphia North American says, "Every day furnishes fairer presages of Republican unity and victory, and promises at least 15,000 majority [illegible] the larger in [illegible]

Theodore Bacon, Esq., of Rochester, N. Y., one of the originators of the Cincinnati movement, has imitated the example of Judge Matthews of Ohio, abandons Greeley and advocates the election of Grant and Wilson.

Joseph M. Smith, Esq., of Herkimer, N. Y., a life long Democrat of influence, is out for Grant and Wilson.

The colored men of West Virginia are waiting anxiously to know if Charles Sumner commands them to vote with the Greeley men for the new constitution which excludes them from holding office. Perhaps the Tribune will muster up courage enough to give its views on the subject, but then, it might injure Horace among his ku-klux friends.

The Christian Union justly says that the real issue, which often escapes notice in the storm of personal obloquy, attack and recrimination, is: Shall the government surrender its power of protecting the colored people of the south or not?" The Greeley Democratic party says, "Yes." The Republican party says, "No. We hope there will be no occasion to use this power, but its necessity has been so lately apparent that we dare not yet relinquish it, and we believe that its existence in the hands of an executive magistrate who is known to be willing and able to use it efficiently when the need arises, is the best security against the continuance of that lamentable state of things which has made its use necessary."

The Missouri Democrat says the opposition candidates have a queer way of dressing. Greeley wears his pantaloons in his boot tops, and Gratz Brown wears a brick in his hat.

State News.

New seats have been built at the Hedding Camp Ground at Epping, which will accommodate 4000 persons. They are of chestnut, oiled and arranged in a circle, each having a back.

Hiram Buckham, while intoxicated, drove his horse into the river at Dalton and drowned it.

Chief Justice Chase is at Northwood.

Mr. D. Weston of Amherst was thrown from a load of hay a few days since, and cannot survive his injuries.

Miss Mary E. Griffin of Deerfield, committed suicide, on Saturday morning, by cutting her throat with a razor, while standing before a looking-glass. She lived only a few minutes. Sickness is supposed to have been the cause. Her age was 35 years.

During a heavy shower at Belford on Wednesday, a barn of Mr. Thomas J. Wiggin was demolished by a whirlwind which tore up by the roots many trees belonging to farmers in the neighborhood.

Judge N. D. Day of Stratford was drowned on Thursday in a mill-pond near his residence. He is supposed to have jumped into the water during a fit of insanity. He was 72 years of age.

There are now 1000 persons at the seashore in Rye.

The Hedding camp-meeting at Epping begins to-day and continues until September 2.

It is expected that the Wolfeboro' extension will be open to-day. The train leaves this city at 10.10 A. M. The first freight from this city passed over the road on Friday, being a car-load of salt from C. E. Walker & Co.

The house of Mr. Thomas B. Adams in Henniker was burned a few evenings since.

A boy who drives a dump team on the line of the Wolfeborough Railroad rashly went to sleep on his load, wasn't seen and was dumped into deep water, escaping being drowned by his cargo.

The News.

I. D. Turnwall, living in the southern part of Chicago, who was bitten a few days ago by a pet dog, was seized with symptoms of hydrophobia on Wednesday, and died in horrible agonies the next night.

A rhinoceros belonging to a circus escaped at Monroe, Ill., killing two men, knocking down the tent poles and seats, causing several dislocations of arms of the spectators and capsizing the cages of other animals. He was finally captured, after doing $3000 worth of damage.

Flannigan, who murdered his wife in New York on Thursday night, was a raving maniac, his insanity being caused by recent sickness and the extreme heat.

On Thursday Mr. Charles L. Knight, an engineer on the Newburyport branch of the B. & M. R. R., was crushed between two cars while attempting to shackle them. There is no chance for his recovery.

[illegible] to pay $350 for damages occasioned by the breaking down of their circus seats at St. Albans.

—Eli Perkins being sworn in to preach the Gospel at Saratoga, spoke as follows, and if he knows anything knows that he produced as much effect as if he had not uttered a word. "No, my hearers, men admire style, but they fall in love with beauty. A beautiful arm or a sweet mouth filled with pearls will catch a man's heart quicker than all the cold style in the world. (Voice—Hear, hear). No man ever fell in love with false hair or a panier, even if it were twenty feet high and made out of six hundred newspapers. The girl's original back was good enough for Phidias and Canova. A panier would not improve the Venus di Milo or that Florentine Venus di Medici. So much hair disgusts a neat man. It is not sweet, and sweetness and neatness about a woman catch a man quicker than anything else. (Cheers by the fellows). Why bear down the head like Atlas with a ponderous globe? The fellows discount all this humbuggery. (Voice—You bet.) They get through the paniers, false hair, and gewgaws, and fall in love with the girl herself, or they don't fall in love at all. (Voice—Just so.)

—There is such a scramble and sometimes even fighting among the young men of Oneonta, N. S., to escort young ladies home from church Sunday evenings, that it is thought it will be necessary to put a police force around the church doors here after.

—The Toledo Blade says, "When a St. Louis imbiber desires a bird of a feather to saturate with him, he merely remarks, 'Will you shake hands across the bloody chasm?' Which is rather neat."

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union St.

TRAVELLERS' TESTIMONY.—Thousands of travellers by land and sea have vouched for the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of the physical disturbances which ordinarily arise from change of climate and the changes of diet, water, &c., incident to a wandering life. Upon systems toned, invigorated and regulated by this genial vegetable antidote the external causes of debility and disease seem to produce little or no effect. Forearmed with Hostetter's Bitters the voyager may bid defiance to seasickness and encounter the chilling fogs of the British Isles, the coast winds of the Antilles, the icy temperature of Northern Alaska, or the burning heat of the tropics with equal impunity. The effect of this admirable medicated stimulant is greatly to increase the vital energy of the system, thereby enabling it to resist and repel the exciting causes of disease.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DYSPEPSIA DESTROYS THE TEETH, unless its effects are counteracted by that pure vegetable tonic and antiseptic Sozodont. No bodily disease can impair them if this antidote to all corrosive elements that act upon the enamel is regularly applied.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, and all skin diseases, indicate impure blood. The Ointment reaches and obliterates the poison in the veins, while the Pills remove all internal obstructions. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot or box. Ask for new style: The old is counterfeited. 12

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TRIUMPHANT FOR TWENTY YEARS.—More than twenty years ago the Mustang Liniment made its debut in the West. Its cures of the various external diseases of horses and cattle, astonished the planters and and a demand for it sprung up which necessitated its manufacture on an extensive scale. Soon the discovery was made that it was a grand specific for rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, earache, toothache, and other external ailments of mankind. Then it was tried as a healing, pain killing application, in cases of outward injury, such as cuts, bruises, burns, spasms, &c., and was found equally serviceable. The fame of the new remedy for some of the most painful ills that afflict mankind and the lower animals, spread rapidly, and Mustang Liniment soon took rank in every State and Territory of the Union as a standard cure.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Colic, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

The Boston Advertiser considers Horace Greeley's reception in Portsmouth a tame affair. How could it be otherwise under the auspices of such a tame crowd?

Rear Admiral Pennock will be relieved of the command of the Navy Yard on the 5th of October, with orders to proceed to San Francisco by the 15th of that month, to assume command of the North Pacific station. The California will be his flagship and will meet him at San Francisco. He will be accompanied by Capt. DeKraaft, now at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, acting as chief of staff. The new commandant of the Yard has not been named.

We were favored with Greeley weather last week. No one could tell when it would rain or shine, the weather was so unreliable.

It is conceded that Col. Kent has promised one of the Liberal Republicans who is to vote for Greeley, the Collectorship of Customs of this port, in case Horace is elected; a safe proposition.

The Boston Advertiser's correspondent likens the "enthusiasm" shown here for the Greeley procession on Friday to that consequent upon "the advent of a first-class circus." Correct.

A correspondent of the Biddeford Journal writing from Eliot says: "We hear much said in Democratic journals about the great number of Republicans from Eliot and York who will vote for Greeley. As for Eliot, I have yet to learn of one Grant man heretofore who will vote that way. On the other hand I can name fifteen or twenty Democrats who will never vote for Horace Greeley although they hate Grant. We have a great many of them who have principle enough not to sell out."

Dr. Josiah C. Eastman of Hampstead, who was beaten for delegate to the Baltimore convention by Hon. Frank Jones, repudiates Greeley. He favors the election of Grant and Wilson.

The members of the Republican organization for street parade and all others interested are requested to meet at their headquarters on Congress Street this evening at half-past seven o'clock.

The residents near the head of Richards Avenue were, in the wee small hours of the night, last week, "moved with concord of sweet sounds," which proved to be a series of airs by Harlow's Marine Band, which gave a serenade to a young gentleman on the eve of his departure from Portsmouth, to commence business in a Western city.

The parties who have purchased Star Island are N. F. Mathes, Esq., and a Boston merchant. The land and houses of Messrs. J. B. Downs and Wm. Robinson are not included in the purchase.

A meeting of the Portsmouth Music Society, and others musically inclined, is called for Wednesday evening next, at Mr. Tilton's room, to decide as to a picnic, rehearsals, &c. See adv't.

A Careless Convert.

We observe with regret that the editor of Foster's Dover Democrat seems not yet to be fully aware that he and his party have become converted to Republicanism—in fact are so very Republican that the old Republican party cannot begin to keep up with them in bidding (with big promises) for the negro vote. The editor (who formerly ran the Portsmouth copperhead organ, and more recently the Manchester Public Forum,) persists in using that obsolete Democratic term "niggers," when speaking of the colored voters,—which is very wrong indeed, it is so embarrassing to those "liberal" Republicans who have gone over to the quandom Democrats, and hope—very faintly indeed they hope—to march to victory in November, shoulder to shoulder with Joshua L. and the "colored citizens" and the Ku-Klux, and all the rest of their heterogeneous conglomeration of antagonistic fragments of parties. There is no such a thing as a "nigger" now, Joshua; at least, only the men who have remained in the Democratic party now use the word; say "colored citizens" when you refer to the freedmen, or they won't vote with you. Take example from your brethren of the Liberal-Republican-Greeley-Democratic press; see what a great improvement merely pretending to be abolitionists and Republicans has wrought in their language. A year ago they were speaking of one J. Sella Martin as a "black Radical nigger bible-banger;" now he is "that eloquent and patriotic colored clergyman, J. Sella Martin;"—that's the way your former coadjutor, the editor of the Portsmouth crow-eaters' organ, now refers to him. Go thou and do likewise, Joshua. And the soldiers and sailors who fought for the Union are no longer "hirelings" and "pap-suckers," but patriotic heroes, as per resolution of the Baltimore Convention of marketmen—"We remember with gratitude the heroism and sacrifices of the soldiers and sailors of the republic, and no act of ours shall ever detract from their justly earned fame or the full reward of their patriotism." So don't refer to the soldiers and sailors as "Radical assassins," nor say "niggers" any more,—don't, please.

Clippings.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

—Heavy fogs have prevailed to a considerable extent outside Portsmouth harbor the present week. The tooting of fish-horns and ringing of bells on board of vessels has resounded on all sides.

—We are told that the intense cold of last winter proved so destructive to the high-bush blackberry that there will not be half a crop of that fruit. In many localities the bushes were almost entirely destroyed.

—At the annual meeting of the corporation of the Portsmouth Savings Bank held the 7th inst. there being three vacancies in the board, Washington Freeman, Lewis W. Brewster and Benj. F. Webster were chosen corporators.

—Abraham Amazine, a soldier of the war of 1812, who served for the defence of Portsmouth harbor for one month and twenty-nine days, has recently had his claim for pension disallowed, as he must have served sixty days to be entitled to it. As the law stands, if he had been in service a few hours longer he would now be in receipt of a pension from his grateful country, —Fruit and vegetable thieves have already commenced depredations in some parts of the city. One gentleman had his grape-vine about stripped of the green fruit lately, by one who evidently intends to do some "pickling." The invader will doubtless not only be personally "in pickle" but get "preserved" should the police catch him.

—Another contemplated improvement by the Eastern Railroad for the safety and convenience of its passengers will be the placing of gong bells—one at each end—on the passenger stations along the route, to be electrically struck by approaching trains when within half a mile, either side of the station, to warn the agent and others of its approach.

—We learn that the Eastern Railroad are to have all their old style cars, twenty-three in number, refitted with the Miller platform, Monitor roofs and Westinghouse brake, as fast as they can be taken care of in the shop.

The trains on this road are crowded with travellers to and from the beaches, and thus far all have been transported without accident. The speed of the trains on this road has been increased of late, until now, with its superb appointments, the road stands second to none in the country.

—There are no indications, as yet, that our summer evenings are to be enlivened by band music. We doubt not citizens would be willing to provide the means, if some one were to take the lead in soliciting them, for almost any reasonable undertaking will succeed here, if only a competent leader can be secured. The Cornet Band are ready and willing to play for a fair remuneration. They are hard workers as well as able musicians, and it is a duty our townspeople owe them, to show due appreciation for their long labors in behalf of sheet music. Two-thirds of the summer has already gone, but the evenings of the early autumn will be equally as pleasant, and if arrangements could now be made for music to be furnished once a week in the open air, our visitors and many residents who are about to return from the country, will have the privilege of enjoying it with those who have remained in town all the summer.

The barn of Mr. William Rollins, in Newington, was set on fire at about 11 o'clock, Sunday forenoon, and destroyed, together with Mr. Rollins' house, a shed, fifteen tons of hay, farming implements, etc. The contents of the house were saved. Loss $3000; insured in the Farmers' Ins. Co., for $1200.

—A Lockport barber, the other day, pocketed his razors and decamped. Just as he was leaving he presented his wife with an old pair of pantaloons, with the remark that she had always "worn the breeches," and she might keep these as a souvenir of their family difficulties. She wasn't very sorry for his loss, and she did not weep inconsolably, but she hung up the old pantaloons and labelled them: "Wanted—a man to fill these pants. There has never been a man in them." The deserted wife is a peg ahead now.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cures of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of those same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Dissentery, Costiveness, Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhoea arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Morning Chronicle.

A Great Acrobat.

Among all the specimens of acrobatic ability given us by the Ex-Democratic editors of the country, none excites more admiration than the magnificent somersault of the former editor and proprietor of the Portsmouth copperhead organ, now editing the Dover Democrat. Our readers will remember him as a second-rate imitation of Brick Pomeroy; but, unlike "Brick," he has swallowed Greeley—and pretends that he tastes good. In April last, speaking of the reported conference between "liberal Republicans" and "leading Democrats in and out of Congress," the bold Democrat says:

"Leading Democrats in and out of Congress" ought to have something else to do. It they want to go over and support the men and principles of the other party, let them do so. But their following will not be large. We do not, the party does not, intend to be sold out by "leading Democrats in or out of Congress," nor by anybody else. No doubt these men think themselves very shrewd and smart. They proceed upon the ground that politics is a matter of dicker and trade, and that nobody has any more principle than themselves. These are the men whose conduct tends continually to demoralization and destruction of the Democratic party. And were it not for the sterling, unyielding convictions of right in the minds of the great body of Democrats, the party would probably have gone to pieces years ago by the conduct of these "leading" traffickers "in and out of Congress." * * * It is an attempted contract stamped all over with failure and disgrace. * * * It is said that the platform of the "Liberals" is substantially Democratic. But those who assert this, only show their own demoralization. As we understand it, these "Liberals" are in perfect accord with all the officially proclaimed principles of the Republican party. The only issue they make with their party is on the nomination of Grant for another term. They still maintain all the principles which have disgraced their party rule and cursed the country for the last dozen years. * They might possibly be willing to "divy" on the spoils, but what sort of principles would be victorious? And what assurance can there be of any sort of victory? The thing was fairly tried in Connecticut and it was a miserable failure. * * * Now we have a set of men who want the Democrats to try this wretched game in the Presidential election.

Alas! for the weakness of human resolutions. The first issue of the Democrat after the Baltimore trade was finished, contained the following, in a double-leaded editorial:—

We accept the ticket, and shall give it our cordial, hearty and earnest support. * * One sentiment of pure, unselfish patriotism inspired its [the Convention's] every act.

So the fearless, unterrified Democrat, in spite of "sterling, unyielding convictions of right," meekly allowed itself to be handed over by the "leading Democrats in and out of Congress" in fulfillment of their share of a "contract stamped all over with failure and disgrace." Now will it answer its own pre-convention question, and tell us "what sort of principles would be victorious" if the man who said that the fundamental articles of the Democratic creed were "love rum" and "hate niggers," should be elected by the coalition? The "Liberals" say the Democratic party have abandoned their former principles, and that Greeley's election is the surest way of permanently securing all the objects for which the war for the Union was waged; how is it, Mr. Democrat?

A SIGHT TO DRAW TEARS FROM EYES THAT NEVER WEEP.—He leaned against the Times building and with clasped hands, his face wearing a very sickly and disgusted look, incoherently spake:—"Norsh C'lina (hic) s'worsh sing (hic) I ev'r she. Times shed gone f' Growly and 'n Brown (hic) twenty sousan' 'jority—d—(hic)—m lie 'n I c's prov'r shur's bour. —How handy some people are in drawing on the resources of heaven for favors to their friends. We overheard a young fellow at an up-town gate the other night observe to something he was holding in his arms, "Heaven bless you, dear Matilda." And to save his miserable life he couldn't raise influence enough to secure a kick from a Queen Anne musket.

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

HERE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

GOOD ADVICE TO GREELEY.—Gen. Grant, with his Havana, his handshaking and his infinitesimal oratory among the Thousand Islands, has an advantage over Mr. Greeley in this respect which a people so sensitive to the grotesque and the ridiculous as the Americans will not be slow to appreciate. It may not be exactly what one would define as hauteur, or the more comprehensive term "dignity," but it is as distinct from the late caperings of Mr. Greeley as the role of "walking gentleman" in the theater is from that of a clown in a circus. We refer to the Rhode Island clam-bake, where amid a voracious crowd of admirers, he cuts all sorts of ludicrous figures in a scramble for chowder. The side picture, too, of hungry adorers of his Sapience being hurled ignominiously from the table to languish in vain for the succulence of the bivalvular repast does not add to the dignity of the situation. It would seem from the samples of how Greeley's friends intend to "run him" in the campaign that the feature of eccentricity to the border of lunacy is to be kept well before the people. The wood-chopping performances before a select few, which it was well understood would be chronicled for the million the day after, were passed over with an allowance for that form of harmless weakness among the noted of men which made Frederick the Great ostentatiously partial to dogs, and even King David so proud of his harp-twanging and heel-kicking that he performed in public before the ark. But we scarcely imagined that the moral wax-work was to be so extensively applied as the baby-hugging, clam-scrambling since would lead us to believe. It is funny; it will amuse thousands sickened of the asprities of political personalities; yet the side-splitting sport may be the death by ballot to Horace, as the stone-throwing was to the frog in the fable. Let the white-elephant business be stopped. If his advisers insist on the wax-works, let the white hat, the white coat and the old boots be toted round the States; but let the philosopher himself be stowed away like a barrel of winter pears, not to be served up for a dessert before Christmas. As the ingenious Mrs. Jarley was not particular about likenesses, the historical habiliments might be worn by some venerable local celebrity wherever the exhibition is made. Bring the philosopher back, ye liberal lights, even to wood chopping, and spare him the after-feeling of shame which follows when an old man discovers he has been making a fool of himself for the gratification of his enemies.—N. Y. Herald.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Inside the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croup, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the choice of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician can be got out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMONCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, POKEL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor also cures many obscure and curious properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy. $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the worst instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely uncelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

PHILLIPS ON SUMNER.

Wendell Phillips, having been asked in a letter signed by some forty colored citizens of Boston to speak in that city on political issues, preferred to give his views in writing. His opinions are as follows:—

Of course the first thought that occurs to you and me just now is, that one of your best, ablest and most watchful friends, Mr. Senator Sumner, advises you to vote for Horace Greeley, and believes that your rights will be safe only in his keeping. I touch with reverent hand everything from Mr. Sumner. I can never forget his measureless services to the anti-slavery cause and to your race. Whenever I read his words I read them overshadowed by the memory of his early and entire consecration to the service of impartial liberty,—of that zeal which has never flagged,—that watchfulness which has seldom been deceived,—of that devotion which has so rarely shrunk from any sacrifice,— which no opposition could tire and no danger could appal. From such a counsellor I venture to differ with great reluctance, and only after mature deliberation. I should hesitate to publish my dissent if I were not sure that I was right, and that he was wrong,—that the occasion was very important, and his mistake one which leads to fatal results.

My judgment is the exact opposite of Mr. Sumner's. I think every loyal man, and especially every colored man, should vote for General Grant; and the nation, and your race are safe only in the hands of the old, regular Republican party.

Some may ask how I came to think thus, when I was one of the few loyal men who protested, in 1868, against Grant's nomination, and see that I have so often affirmed that the Republican party had out-lived its usefulness.

Gentlemen, the reasons which lead me to my present opinion, in spite of my former views, ought to give my judgment more weight with you. I am forced by late developments to my present position.

You remember that in 1868 I emphatically denied General Grant's fitness for the Presidency. Derided by the Republican press, I went from city to city protesting against his election. In private with Mr. Sumner and others, I argued long and earnestly against putting such a man into such an office. At that time they saw only his great merits and supported him heartily. The defects of his administration are no surprise to me. I may say, without boasting that I prophesied those defects. I do not wish to hide them to-day. I entirely agree with Mr. Sumner as to the grave fruit and intolerable insolence of the administration in the St. Domingo matter. I think the frequent putting of relatives into offices highly objectionable, and the sad career of Webster is warning enough against any man in public life venturing to accept gifts from living men. These and other defects are no surprise to me. The eminent merits of General Grant's administration are, I confess a surprise to me.

His truly original, statesmanlike and Christian policy toward the Indians is admirable, and, standing alone, is enough to mark him a statesman. His patience and innumerable difficulties in our foreign relations is wonderful in one bred a soldier. The aid the administration has given to the industrial and financial prosperity of the country is a great merit. General Grant's prompt interference for justice to working men in defiance of those about him, relative to the execution of the eight-hour law, I shall always remember. The crime of the Republican party in tolerating the Ku-Klux is flagrant. But the President and his immediate friends deserve our gratitude for their efforts and success in that matter. His services to the fifteenth amendment I shall never forget. When some, even of the foremost abolitionists, doubted and were lukewarm, I received a letter from Senator Wilson asking him to urge General Grant to put three lines into his first message, commending the measures to Congress and the Country. The answer came back, "You are too late. General Grant's message was finished before your note arrived; and the recommendation you wish is in it." It still remains lamentably true that the colored man has no full recognition at the North and no adequate protection in the South—shame to the administration and to the Republican party! But their friends may fairly claim that during the last three years the negro has steadily gained in the safe exercise and quiet enjoyment of his rights.

I know the defects of General Grant's administration as well as any man. I think, distrustful as I was of him, I am able to see the good service he has unexpectedly rendered the nation.

But no matter for those defects. At the most they are not fatal, and events have lifted President Grant into being to-day the symbol and representative of loyalty. The conspiracy between southern secessionists and northern copperheads, of which, very naturally, Mr. Greeley is the tool, and unfortunately, Mr. Sumner is the indorser, and, I think, the dupe,—leaves room but for two parties—those who are for the nation and those who are against it. I bate no jot of my brotherly regard and sincere esteem for Mr. Sumner in thus holding him deceived. The entire faith I have in his honesty of purpose obliges me to think him duped. The only wonder is how this is possible when the South is so insolent and shameless in proclaiming her intentions. The South has long seen her mistake and often confessed it. The Tribune itself makes this statement as late as June, 1871. That mistake was to contend for her ideas with muskets and outside the Union,—leaving us the government and taking herself the part of a rebel. She has often announced— in the last instance by the lips of Jefferson Davis—that the cause was not lost, and must be won by getting position of the government and leaving us in the opposition. Such is the present plot. That Mr. Greeley sees it would never prevent his aiding it. That Mr. Sumner does not see it is to me matter of profound astonishment. At such a moment the regular Republican party becomes again the accepted and only instrument of resistance, and Grant represents loyalty as Lincoln did in 1861. I do not care for his defects, were they ten times greater. Chatham and Junius rightfully forgot even the infamy of Wilkes when he stood the representative and symbol of the rights of a British subject. Even if I accepted Mr. Sumner's portrait of President Grant,—which in some sense is true, but in no sense is the whole truth,—I should still vote for him against a rebellion at the ballot-box, to which disloyalty gives all the strength, and childish credulity all the character.

To stop now for criticism of such faults as those of General Grant is like blaming a man's awkwardness when he is defending you against an assassin.

In proof that the conspiracy I charge is real and no fiction, I need not cite Jefferson Davis' late speech, or the confession of Mr. Greeley's adherents. Every impartial man who comes to us from the South bears witness that the mass of southern whites are wholly unchanged in opinion and ready for another revolt whenever the way opens. The wide spread organization of the Ku-Klux shows the same thing. That organization existed only because public opinion there cheered it on, and in suppressing it our government had no idea of help from former rebels. All this was to be expected. It would be contrary to history and experience were it otherwise. To put the slightest faith in the protestations of copperheads and secessionists, made only to get office, is building on a quicksand. With the exception of Mr. Sumner, no leading Liberal Republican does really put any faith in those protestations. They are hypocrites, not dupes. They know well the plot, and for the sake of office are willing to help it and risk the consequences. They know that Mr. Greeley's election means the negro surrendered to the hate of the southern States, with no interference from the nation in his behalf; that it means the constitutional amendment neutralized by a copperhead Congress, our debt tampered with, and our bonds falling twenty per cent. in every market. The Democratic millionaire who is willing to risk this has already "hedged." He holds millions of Confederate bonds and is plotting to make on them more than enough to pay four times over for all he loses on the national securities, and then safely laugh at the small bondholders he has duped.

Observe that I count as Mr. Greeley's allies only the copperheads of the Democratic party. It is loose talk to say he has joined the Democrats. Such a statement is an insult to the Democracy. The exact truth is, he has joined the copperhead wing of the Democracy—its worst element. They are his reliance.

I know some honest war Democrats wish to change their base and accept heartily the result of the war. All honor to them. But their place is not with Greeley, but with Grant. They fought at his side; there they should stand to-day. I know it is hard to confess mistakes; but I practice what I preach.

If General Grant is set aside, who is offered us in his place? Horace Greeley. I need not tell you, my friends, what Horace Greeley is. We abolitionists know him only too well in the weary years of our struggle. He had enough of clear moral vision to see the justice of our cause. But he never had courage enough to confess his faith. If events had ever given him courage, he never would have had principle enough to risk anything for an idea. A trimmer by nature and purpose, he has abused even an American politician's privilege of trading principles for success. But for lack of ability he would have been the chief timeserver of his age.

Mr Sumner trusts him as "a life long abolitionist." This is certainly news to you and me. You and I know well, when abolitionist was a term of reproach how timidly he held up his skirts about him, careful to put a wide distance between himself and us. You will find few working abolitionists who stood in the trenches from 1840 to 1860, willing to trust the negro race to Horace Greeley. I can remember the day when he and his fellow-Republicans quoted our criticisms upon them as certificates that they were no abolitionists. We can give him just such a certificate now with a clear conscience. Judged by the files of the Tribune itself, there never was an hour when Horace Greeley could have been trusted with the care of the black man's rights. * * *

Doubtless we could find a man who would, even if elected by rebels, still use them for his own purposes. And it is possible that, in rare moments of exceptional courage or virtue, Mr. Greeley may dream of doing so. But in cool and sane moments he knows he is their tool, and is contented to be so. Every man of common sense sees that, of course, if copperheads and secessionists lift Mr. Greeley into the White House, they will claim—and it is now understood that they shall have—their full share in shaping the policy and filling the offices of the administration. They are no bunglers, but shrewd at a bargain, and sure to get good security for a promise. The corner-stone of their policy is to repudiate our debt, or assume their own. We shall surely hear that advocated. We shall probably see Jefferson Davis in the Senate, and certainly have his agents in the Cabinet. No doubt he will be consulted in the construction of the cabinet. This is to put in peril all the war has gained. I am not ready for such an experiment. An old friend, now residing in Georgia, who stood, rifle in hand, in Kansas all through that fight, told me, just after the Cincinnati convention:—

"Sir, before Grant arrested those twenty Ku-Klux in North Carolina I never slept without a loaded musket at my bed-head, and never ventured into the village unless fully armed. Since that stern interference in North Carolina I, even afar off in Georgia, sleep and walk about as safe, careless and free as you do here."

"If Greeley is elected, I suppose," said I, "you'll load those revolvers again."

"Never—I know, by Southern boast, what that election means. I'll never risk living in Georgia under Greeley—I'll sell out and come North."

Such is the testimony of a loyal man in the South! That is how it looks in Georgia.

Gentlemen, I have another interest in Grant's election. The anti-slavery cause was only a portion of the great struggle between capital and labor. Capital undertook to own the laborer. We have broken that up. If Grant is elected, that dispute and all questions connected with it sink out of sight. All the issues of the war are put beyond debate, and a clear field is left for the discussion of the labor movement. I do not count much on the recognition of that movement by the Republican concentration, though I gratefully appreciate it. But I see in the bare success itself of General Grant the retiring of old issues and the securing of a place for new ones.

If Greeley is elected, we shall spend the next four years in fighting over the war quarrels, constitutional amendments, negroes' rights, State rights, repudiation and Southern debts. And we shall have beside a contemptuous ignoring of the labor question. Its friends were at Cincinnati. The convention scorned their appeals, and Mr. Schurz himself affirmed that labor was "not a live issue." President Grant means peace and opportunity to agitate the great industrial questions of the day. President Greeley means the scandal and wriggle of Andy Johnson's years over again, secession encamped in Washington. * * *

We do forgive. We have forgiven. But duty to dead and to the negro forbids us to trust power to any hands without undoubted, indubitable certainty that such hands are trustworthy. If we fail in this caution we shall only decoy the negro into danger and leave him doubly defenceless. I wish my voice could be heard by every colored man down to the Gulf; not because they need my advice. No: they understand and see the danger. But I should like to rally them to help us, a second time, to save the nation. I should say to them—"Vote, every one of you, for Grant, as you value property, life, wife or child. If Greeley is elected, arm, concentrate, conceal your property—but organize for defence. You will need it soon and sadly."

Working-men, rally now, to save your great question from being crowded out and postponed another four years.

Soldiers, at the roll call in November let no loyal man fail to answer to his name. We decorate our loyal graves with worse than empty ceremonies if over them we clasp hands with still revengeful enemies. When parties and politicians betray us, do you rally, as you did before, and under the same great Captain, to save the State.

If Grant is defeated I am not sure we shall see traitors in the Capitol parting the nation's raiment and casting lots for its flag. But we are sure to see Congress full of traitors and in the White House their tool. Let every man who would avert that danger vote for Grant.

WENDELL PHILLIPS.

Political.

The Waterville Mail says that a zealous advocate of Greeley who lately visited in Waterville, frankly stated as a reason for his choice of candidate, that he has a hundred thousand dollars in Confederate bonds, which he captured during the war, and which he thinks will become valuable if Greeley is elected.

Republican excursions pay railroad companies well. The Maine Central netted $2000 by the Bangor excursion trains.

The crow-eaters and sun-struck Republicans are to fix upon a coalition electoral ticket for Greeley and Brown, but New Hampshire will not endorse it. The truth is, Greeley will not poll as large a vote in this State next November as would have been cast for a straight-out Democrat had the Baltimore convention nominated such men as Hoffman, Groesebeck, Hendricks or Hancock.

The President yearns to make the Granite State the Grantite State. Louis. Cour. Jour.

And yearns not in vain.

Election in West Virginia next Thursday. Republicans hope the proposed new constitution will be defeated.

TRAVELLERS' TESTIMONY.—Thousands of travellers by land and sea have vouched for the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of the physical disturbances which ordinarily arise from change of climate and the changes of diet, water, &c., incident to a wandering life. Upon systems toned, invigorated and regulated by this genial vegetable antidote the external causes of debility and disease seem to produce little or no effect. Forearmed with Hostetter's Bitters the voyager may bid defiance to seasickness and encounter the chilling fogs of the British Isles, the coast winds of the Antilles, the icy temperature of Northern Alaska, or the burning heat of the tropics with equal impunity. The effect of this admirable medicated stimulant is greatly to increase the vital energy of the system, thereby enabling it to resist and repel the exciting causes of disease.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and gray heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, and all skin diseases, indicate impure blood. The Ointment reaches and obliterates the poison in the veins, while the Pills remove all internal obstructions. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot or box. Ask for new style: The old is counterfeited. 12

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TRIUMPHANT FOR TWENTY YEARS.—More than twenty years ago the Mustang Liniment made its debut in the West. Its cures of the various external diseases of horses and cattle, astonished the planters and farmers of the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, and a demand for it sprung up which necessitated its manufacture on an extensive scale. Soon the discovery was made that it was a grand specific for rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, earache, toothache, and other external ailments of mankind. Then it was tried as a healing, pain killing application, in cases of outward injury, such as cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, &c., and was found equally serviceable. The fame of the new remedy became of the most painful ills that afflict mankind and the lower animals, spread rapidly, and Mustang Liniment soon took rank in every State and Territory of the Union as a standard cure.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. Dr. Spinner's Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are sickly and old, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and will your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

Hon. Geo. M. Robeson, Speaker Blaine and Hon. Jacob H. Ela were in town on Monday. They go to Maine, and will be heard on the stump.

Peaches retail at 20 cents a quart here.

Mosquitoes about town are excessively impudent. One saucy fellow was observed standing on a curb stone at a house on Islington Street, one day last week, staring into the window. The imp was actually waiting for the inmates to go to bed!

Plantamour's comet was the dampest affair within the memory of the person residuate in the vicinity of this sphere for the preceding three and ninety years. Do so no more, Planty!

The richer your food, the poorer your appetite.

Hon. Jacob H. Ela sends word to us that the statement in the Lyre that "Lieut. Ela and his two brothers openly avow that they have renounced Grantism and shall vote for Greeley," is false.

Strangers say there is more bunting flying in Portsmouth than in any other New England city.

Hon. Geo. M. Robeson, Secretary of the Navy, is summering at Little Boar's Head. At the earnest solicitation of many Republicans, the Secretary has consented to enter the Maine canvass, and will make his opening speech at Kittery, this evening. The Cornet Band will furnish the music. A large delegation will attend from this city. At half-past 7 o'clock, there will be a flag raising.

Wanted—a copy of the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE of Aug. 17th, to complete files.

Schooner Gov. Goodwin arrived at Harding & Doane's wharf on Sunday, from the Banks, with 1700 quintals of fish, said to be the largest load ever brought to this port in one vessel.

Two new Pullman parlor palace cars, the "Mystic" and "Franconia," are nearly finished for the Conway branch of the Eastern Railroad.

Capt. D. M. Fairfax has been detached from the Navy Yard and placed on waiting orders. Capt. Earl English has been detached from special duty, and ordered to succeed Capt. Fairfax as executive officer. Commander Carpenter has been ordered to equipment duty in the Navy Yard.

A concert company, consisting of Mr. H. C. Barnabee, Mrs. Smith, Miss Cary and the Germania band will give concerts in Bangor, St. John and Halifax.

Steamer Appledore leaves Pier wharf for an excursion to the Shoals this evening at 7 o'clock. Fare 50 cents.

A Compliment.

We copy from the Salisbury Beach correspondence of the Boston Commonwealth the following high compliment to two gentlemen, whose many friends in this city will not question that it is well earned:

The brothers J. F. and E. J. Morrill are the proprietors of the Atlantic House; and when I tell you of meals so abundant, sweet, wholesome and well-ordered that you might fancy yourself in your own comfortable home; when I add that the vegetables are fresh from their kitchen-garden; and when I tell you of airy sleeping-rooms with snowy bed-linen, plenty of fresh water, soap and towels, you will understand that they "know how to keep a hotel." Indeed hotel-keeping is in their blood—their father having been, in years past, at the Amesbury Hotel; while Mr. E. J. Morill, formerly of the Rockingham House, Portsmouth, has added to his New England training a large Western experience. I can add one thing more in their praise; their permanent boarders are very apt to send to their friends to join them, and there are frequently large family parties here for weeks in succession, with board at $1.50 and $2.50 per day. Do not, however, take my word for anything, but just slip down for yourself for a day and a night, if no more, and see if I have told you the truth; but there is one thing you can take my word for—if you come once you will come again.

The Guards.

An enthusiastic meeting of those who desire to take part in the Republican parades was held at headquarters on Congress Street, on Monday evening. There was a large attendance. Hon. Thomas E. O. Marvin presided and Mr. J. Ed. Colcord was Secretary. On motion of John H. Locke, Esq., it was voted to form an organization to be called the Grant & Wilson Guards, for street parade. It was voted to purchase 100 uniforms (cap and cape, with torch) immediately. The battalion then organized as follows:

Major, D. J. Vaughan; Quartermaster, T. E. O. Marvin; Adjutant, Josiah N. Jones; Sergeant Major, W. B. Randall; Quartermaster Sergeant, Chas. A. Hazlett; Capt. 1st Co., Wm. H. Sise; 1st, Lieut., Ben. F. Winn; 2d Lieut., Jos. Pettigrew; 1st Sergeant, John H. Mawbey; Capt. 2d Co., Wm. H. Lovell; 1st Lieut., M. H. Bell; 2d Lieut., John S. Perry; 1st Sergeant, John Moore. Other companies are to be formed.

The Wolfeboro' Branch Railroad.

The Wolfeboro' Branch Railroad was formally opened on Monday, the occasion being one of great rejoicing for Wolfeboro' and the adjacent towns. A large party from this city left on the 10:10 A. M. train,—including Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, Hon. Frank Jones, William H. Hackett, Esq., Dr. J. F. Hall (who formerly practised physic in Wolfeboro.' for twenty-five years,) J. S. Peirce, Esq., representatives of the Portsmouth daily papers and others, a number of the gentlemen being accompanied by ladies. The run to Wolfeboro' Branch station was made in the usual time, and there the Portsmouth party, with representatives of the press and invited guests from other cities and a numerous delegation from Great Falls, Rochester and other places along the line of the Eastern and Portsmouth, Gt. Falls Conway Railroad, took the cars on the new road, packing the train pretty full. From this point to the end of the branch is twelve miles, and the run was made at a fair rate of speed, the train be saluted on the way by screaming whistles and ringing bells.

Arrived at the end of the route, the visitors formed in procession and proceeded to a beautiful grove not far from the terminus, under escort of Carroll Engine Company, No. 2, the Wolfeboro' Cornet Band furnishing music, and a large concourse of citizens on foo and in carriages bringing up the rear. At the grove a plentiful and excellent lunch had been provided and was duly attended to, after which the Wolfeboro' Choral Society sang (and sang well) a song of welcome, words and music being original; after which short speeches were made by several gentlemen.

Abel Haley, Esq., of Wolfeboro' presided, and first introduced Director Henry L. Williams of the Eastern Railroad, who was followed by Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, Gen. E. W. Chamberlain of Boston, Hon. Chas. Levi Woodbury, Wm. H. Hackett, Esq., Chas. Bartlett, Esq., of Great Falls, Col. Peter Sanborn, of Concord, and others. J. S. H. Frink, Esq., in answer to a call, spoke from among the audience, requesting to be excused; his remarks would have passed very well for a speech, had they been made from the stand. Hon. Frank Jones, as President of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, was called upon, but declined to speak, as he said there is not yet any such thing as the P. & D. R. R. in existence; but he promised a speech when that road is built. At the close of the speaking the choral society again sang, three cheers were given for John W. Sanborn, Esq., (to whose exertions it is largely due that the road has been built,) the Band struck up "Yankee Doodle" and the occupants of the grove marched to the cars by a short cut through the trees.

The day was apparently a holiday for Wolfeboro', and large numbers of people from adjoining towns were present. We estimated the audience in the grove at from two thousand to three thousand. The whole proceedings passed off without a hitch; the speeches were all brief and most of them to the point; the vocal and instrumental music was good; and the lake-country people seemed to fully appreciate the importance to their district of the occasion they celebrated.

Concerning the influence the opening of this road is likely to have on this city, the Boston Advertiser says:

As long ago as 1811 a charter was obtained for the Winnipesauke Canal, as it was called, to be cut from the lake to Dover landing, whence boats were to be towed by the Cochico and Piscataqua rivers, to Portsmouth. The feasibility of the investment was discussed in the columns of the Gazette and the Oracle papers at Portsmouth for several years. In 1817, in the advertisement of an extensive sale by auction of wharf property, the sellers say: "In the opinion of some of the most judicious of our citizens, real estate has fallen to its lowest price, and the rational expectation of the revival of business and the prospect of a canal from Winnipesauke Pond to the tide-waters of the Piscataqua cannot fail, within a few years, to raise real estate in Portsmouth (wharves and water privileges particularly) to more than a hundred per cent. from the present value." The connection is now by rail, and these new railway avenues to Portsmouth have already had a marked influence on the value of wharf property in the old sea port.

—The Cape May mosquitoes are the most expert of their kind. They divide themselves into two distinct classes, one class working by day and sleeping at night, and the other class beginning their labors at sunset. Thus the blood-letting goes on without ceasing.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of those same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Diseases of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dropsical Swellings, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

The News.

Horace Greeley has gone to New York.

The slaughter of the rebels in Cuba continues, but the Spanish authorities admit that a winter campaign will be necessary.

Two women were drowned while bathing at Long Branch on Saturday.

A petrified buffalo has been found in Iowa.

The Bostons beat the Forest City Club of Cleveland on Saturday, 15 to 7.

The loss of Bayley's hat factory at Amesbury will not be so much as was supposed, being about $50,000; insured for $23,000.

Judge Barnard of New York has been found guilty of nearly all the charges preferred against him.

THE AGE OF NIAGARA FALLS.—By all this we see that the Niagara itself has made the rapids, and that, as it cut its way downward, its forsaken banks have assumed the character of terraces. And we see by the low banks and absence of old banks above the rapids, that even the highest of these ancient banks did not contain a greater river than this which flows through the narrow gorge to day. We assume, then, from all the monuments the river has left of its own history, that the present rate of recession would be a fair measure of the past, except at the Whirlpool and Ferry Landing. Six inches a year, on the channel, would place the falls at Lewiston 74,000 years ago. We have no means of knowing how long the quartzose sand-stone, which forms the lowest part of the bank at the Whirlpool, would have arrested the cataract. This stratum is 24 feet thick, and, as its southward dip is 20 feet a mile, and the slope of the river channel 15 feet a mile, the Falls would have to cut back through this rock more than half a mile. The halt may have been many thousand years. Add another period for the halt at the landing, and the age of the channel, from Lewiston to the Horseshoe, may not fall below 200,000 years. Unquestionably the channel has been excavated since the close of the glacial epoch, which science has well-nigh demonstrated occurred about 200,000 years ago.—Prof. Gunning, in Popular Monthly for September.

CURIOUS.—It is a strange coincidence, to say the least, that such phenomenal weather should have prevailed on and since the date named for the appearance of Plantamour's comet. If, as it was claimed, Plantamour never prophesied the comet at all, the coincidence is still stranger. Wednesday night, the date on which the destruction of the world was anticipated by the nervous and the credulous, witnessed a storm that is without parallel in this part of the world and one that might well excuse any fear that the crack of doom had at last arrived. Even in the tropics where the elements rage in all their fury such fearful exhibitions of lightning and thunder are rare. The rain for the past two days has played the most eccentric antics. It has fallen in torrents without cooling the air; on the contrary the heat has been more than ever, and the murkiness of the atmosphere has been almost unbearable. Truly it would seem as though we were about to experince some remarkable change, some overturning of the present order in the economy of nature.—Boston Globe.

QUITE TOUCHING.—Said Horace Greeley in a speech at the Rye Beach clam-bake as Secretary Robeson stood beside him:—

While my distinguished friend on my left and I are somewhat at variance on the more important questions of the country, we find ourselves in perfect accord on the subject of clams. We are here then together to illustrate and emphasize that accord. Clams unite us in this delightful intercourse where we need only a little more delightful surroundings of weather. Therefore while we recognize no discord, we will, if you please, dispense with oratory and discuss clams.

—An ex-Mayor of Augusta, who is a Grant and Wilson man, bears some slight resemblance in appearance to old Uncle Horace. An ex-Governor and a well known upper Kennebec gentleman who is brother to an ex-Governor, were in the office of one of the foremost citizens of that city yesterday, when the former, who knew of the presence of the said ex-Mayor in an adjoining room, waggishly asked the upper Kennebecker, "Have you seen Mr. Greeley to-day?" No; I supposed he was coming to-morrow," "Oh," said the ex-Governor, "let me introduce you to him," and leading the way to the ex-Mayor's presence, said "Mr. Greeley, allow me to make you acquainted with Mr.——, one of the first citizens of our State." "How do you do, Mr. Greeley; I have read your Tribune a number of years and have heard you lecture a number of times. I recognized you in a minute." The ex-Governor roared; the ex-Mayor looked ashamed and then amused, and the upper Kennebecker has lost his interest in the whole subject.—Portland Adv.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood.

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

The Chronicle.

HON. GEO. S. HOAR of Massachusetts tells the following:—

I had the honor a short time since of dining at the house of a friend, then and now a member of the Cabinet, in company with the President. There was about twenty guests, but they constituted perhaps the most distinguished assemblage it ever has been or ever will be my fortune to see. Several members of the Cabinet, several of the most distinguished members of the Senate, the Chief Justice of the United States, Generals Sherman and Sheridan, some officers of high rank in the Navy, two or three eminent men of science, and perhaps the most famous poet of the country, Mr. James Russell Lowell, were of the company. Commodore Alden remarked, half in jest, to a gentleman who sat near him, that there was nothing he disliked more than a subordinate who always obeyed orders. 'What is that you are saying, Commodore?' said President Grant, across the table. The Commodore repeated what he had said. 'There is a good deal of truth in what you say,' said General Grant. 'One of the virtues of General Sheridan was that he knew when to act without orders. Just before the surrender of Lee, General Sheridan captured some dispatches from which he learned that Lee had ordered his supplies to a certain place. I was on the other side of the river, where he could not get communication from me till the next morning. General Sheridan moved on at once without orders, got to the place fifteen minutes before the rebels and secured the supplies. After the surrender was concluded, the first thing General Lee asked me for was rations for his men. I issued to them the same provisions which Sheridan had captured. Now if Sheridan, as most men would have done, had waited for orders from me, Lee would have got off." I listened with wonder to the generous modesty which before that brilliant company could remove one of the proudest laurels from his own brow to place it on the brow of Sheridan.

—A curious and fatal accident lately befel a gymnast in Switzerland, named Paul Machon, who gained his living by the strength of his jaws. On this occasion he took a barrel of flour in his teeth and attempted, with no other aid, to throw it over his head. The molars stood it, but his back-bone wasn't equal to it, and snapped in two.

—Out West, where they ought to know about hogs, they call their flesh "squeal meat."

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning; when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents rearing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the painful coughing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians, who called it the best PULMONIC LIVER TONIC he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, QUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, Itching, Humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest Instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Alleviator for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and Itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

CAUTION.

THE immense demand for HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT, has tempted unprincipled parties to counterfeit these valuable medicines.

In order to protect the public and ourselves, we have issued a new "Trade Mark," consisting of an Egyptian circle of a serpent, with the letter H in the centre. Every box of genuine HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT will have this trade mark on it; none are genuine without it.

Mount Desert.

CHAPTER III.

Editors Chronicle; Every point on the summit of Green mountain commands a prospect of great beauty, but there are two that far excel the rest, and that would richly reward the lover of nature for a much longer journey and more laborious ascent than ours had been. One of these may be viewed from the piazza of the hotel, where a tasteful rustic seat offers its hospitality to any three who may choose to accept it. We established ourselves on a rocky slope, a few yards from the house, and with the noon sun blazing full upon us, our winter garments were not too heavy Now if we had taken a chart of the coast of Maine, as we ought to have done, and shall do when we repeat our visit, (which will be on the first opportunity,) I could give "a habitation and a name" to many objects in this wide and varied view, and convey to you a more definite conception of its extent. But we had neither chart nor guide, and were about as well informed as Adam was when he saw his first landscape. He found it very interesting, notwithstanding his ignorance, I have always understood, and so did we. One thing we did know, that a long dark strip, fifteen miles from shore, where the waves seemed running from side to side, with some tall object at one end of the commotion, was Mount Desert Rock and light-house. Without a glass we might not have observed it. And we knew besides, that in clear weather, Mt. Katahdin, found by the Coast Survey to be one hundred and ten miles distant, is distinctly visible from here. But we lost this mountain in the multitude of little white clouds that were loitering about the horizon, yet adding so much to the beauty of the day, that we readily forgave them this deprivation. I was about to say that here our knowledge ended, when I remembered that that would be to slight the blue Atlantic, the chief glory of the scene, occupying full two thirds of the expanse before us, coming up to the very feet of the mountains with the air of an old friend, as he is, and stretching away to vanish in silvery distance, his broad bosom ruffled with white sails and studded with green islands.

He was very gracious that day, and seemed quite untroubled by the guilty secrets he had to keep. Far off among the islands we saw the sparkle of his bright waves; he dented the shore below us with little creeks and coves where small craft might take refuge from him in his dangerous moods. The beautiful hills of Maine, pale blue and purple, and warm grey, bounded the view on one side, a long strip of coast line with wooded islands closed in the other, and between were the mountains, clothed with forests nearly to their summits, declining toward the sea-level with a gentle sweep that filled the beholders with rest, or pitching suddenly down into a deep gorge. Low blueberry bushes grow in the crevices of the rocks, and while we were dividing our time between the fruit and the view, a boy with a tin pail came up to ask if we found many. "One ripe on each bush," I said. "I could show you a place where you wouldn't say that." "Where is it?" I asked, of course. "O! that's telling!" and he left us, realizing that there is not so much difference between the mountain boy and the boy of the meadow, as between the mountain and the meadow cranberry. He is the same in all languages, all religions, all ages;—perfectly reliable, because we know always just where to find him,—and that is, in the wrong place. Science cannot master him, and thus far has discreetly refrained from making the attempt. He is incapable of civilization. The utmost that can be done for him is to prevent him from devastating the whole region in which he lives, and destroying himself and family. This requires about twenty years of incessant watchfulness, great strategic skill and occasionally some muscle. But we found the place of blue-berries, no thanks to that boy, when we went to take a view from the north-east. The Mariner went first, down the declivity, saying that if he saw anything worth the scramble, he would signal for me. In a few seconds I judged from the great vigor with which he impersonated a rickety wind-mill in a gale, that something very well worth the scramble was in sight, and hurried down to join him. "There!" he said, "This one view pays for the trip down here." And it did. DeCosta, in his pleasant book on Mount Desert and the Coast of Maine, speaks of it as "the grandest on the island," and to us it was far more beautiful than the view towards the open sea.

Here, though the ocean is still in full view, and a broad expanse of it, it is not the most prominent feature of the scene. We looked down into a ravine scooped out to the depth of a thousand feet or more, between the mountains on which we stood and its spur, Dry Mountain. Before us the cliffs dropped perpendicularly into the gulf; Newport Mountain lifted its fine peak opposite, the wide deep gorge was luxuriantly wooded with evergreens, and the pretty little estuary of Otter Creek was seen, to the right, making up into the valley under its shady banks. Looking toward the west, the gorge opened far out on a wide stretch of field and meadow, and nearly level wood-land, the white houses of Bar Harbor clustered near the shore, looking about as large as barnacles; Frenchman's Bay, smooth as a mirror beyond, with the five Porcupines apparently just starting off to sea, and still beyond the soft, beautiful blue Schoodic hills;—such a combination of the grand, and the lofty, the wild and the domestic elements of beauty, ocean and mountain, forest and crag, valley and plain, as the Mariner had never seen in all his world-wide travels, and I most surely never. We wished for every appreciative friend we had, and agreed to bring them all down with us another year, and up to this Mount of Vision. It was only in the hope of thus visiting it again that we could bear to leave this lovely spot. It had its lowlier attractions too, for here were blueberries by the wholesale. The bushes were loaded, the berries very large, and covered with bloom like grapes.

While we sat picking them and overlooking the gorge, we wondered if it was not that very spot from which the two girls fell, whose story we had heard on board the steamer. They had come up on the mountain for berries, and were sitting as we were, on a great rock that overhung the gorge, when it rolled and carried them down with it. One of them was instantly killed; the other by some miracle was saved and found, after what seemed to her an eternity of horror, and how long a time no one can ever know, clinging for her life to the steep mountain side, unable to ascend, and expecting every instant to share the fate of her companion. The fluttering of her dress had been seen from the valley below and friends had hastened to her rescue. She is still living, and it was from her husband that my informant had heard the story. The accident occurred before he knew her, and he said that in all the years of their married life he had never mentioned it to her,—that no one ever did. The thought of it made us shudder as we looked our last down the precipice, and then left the spot, for we heard the dinner-horn.

Arrived at the house we found three guests besides ourselves; a party of yacht-men having already dined were enjoying the view from the piazza, and trying to "drive dull care away"—with wonderful success, judging by the noise, which was sufficient to drive almost anything away. The three who were to dine with us were the two pleasant-faced boulders and an elderly gentleman, who told us that he didn't dare to let them go down the mountain with the rest of the party, fearing the consequences if they did not take time to recover from the fatigue of the ascent. "You know they are so heavy!" he said, and we couldn't deny it. But they were very agreeable and we enjoyed this impromptu dinner party very much. The conversation naturally turned on the views we had just seen, and comparisons were instituted between them and mountain-views elsewhere. This gentleman's son had told him he would enjoy the prospect from this summit more than anything he had seen at the White Mountains, but he did not find it so, although very much pleased. We learned that they had not been to the north-east brow of the mountain, commanding by far the finest view in our estimation, and we directed them to the spot we had just left. I wish I could have heard their opinions after seeing that picture, but we descended the mountain before them and saw them no more.

Before starting, however, we went to take a look toward the south, where we were introduced to an old mountain with the top very badly out of repair, more broken and dilapidated than any other we had seen, and called Jordan's mountain. Besides this patriarch there were many mountains more, with Eagle Lake amongst them and the pearl-white clouds above them. These were our companions nearly the whole way down, changing shape with every curve of the road, until at last we lost them in the woods at the base. Here we found our wagon, which preceded us, as the Mariner didn't want to ride down the steep, rough road, and I didn't dare to. The driver said he liked a "tantrum team" best for the mountains, but I object to that kind, anywhere. We met several parties walking up, looking warm and anxious, and they all asked us the same mournful question, "How far is it to the top?"

Arrived at our hotel, there was time for a long siesta and an elaborate toilet before supper, but we took more for siesta and less for toilet. A mysterious yellow preparation appeared on the table that night, which after much investigation and alternations of "Is it?" "No! it can't be!" "Yes, it is!" "Well! isn't that comical!" etc., was pronounced finally to be "mush," or "hasty pudding!" Do they ever have it at Parker's? And next morning how very popular it was, fried in delicate brown slices. We heard old Portsmouth spoken of at the table as a very pleasant town, where the "Pemigewasset House was!" And an affable lady opposite said she stopped there once at the "Agamont House!" We thought not.

After supper we found a Shaker in the parlor, at Deering's, with a very smooth face and a very broad-brimmed hat, anxious to display the contents of two chests he had brought in. Everybody discouraged him with assurances that they didn't want to see them and shouldn't buy them; but he knew better, and went on calmly unpacking. The result was that everybody in the room bought something and several went away loaded with purchases. He had feather dusters, beautiful feather fans, white and grey, and innumerable tasteful articles made of thin stripes of white-wood, plaited. But the conglomeration of colors in some of the dusters would have done credit to an American Indian. I saw some feathers from Magenta fowls, such as took a prize a few years ago at one of our Agricultural Fairs; also the feathers of a guinea-fowl spotted with magenta,—and I felt very thankful that these varieties were not common.

When the Shaker's sale was over, there was nothing for strangers like us to do but to sit on the piazza and watch other people, which we did faithfully. An empty hay-cart attached to a handsome steer was standing in the street, and a gallant young man invited some young ladies to get in and take a ride. They complied, so far as the getting in went, but the other part was not so easy. The steer wouldn't move, though the young man whistled and shouted "get up!" and chirruped and used all arts he was wont to find successful with a horse, his performances not producing the least impression upon the noble animal, who would only move as far as necessary to get the next blade of grass. But by-and-by, after much laughter and noise, there was a sudden commotion on the green before the hotel; a lively girl came running toward the house jerking one end of a rope, and the steer with his hay-cart followed briskly at the other. "And then and then was hurrying to and fro," for he went side-ways and cross-ways and every way he wasn't expected to go, and nobody could tell where he would bring up. Just then the driver appeared upon the scene, the animal was called to order, the hay-cart filled up with a gay party, and they soon disappeared up the road in high spirits. We lingered until the long twilight had deepened into a clear and star-lit night, a streak of pale orange still marking where the sun went down, and the dark mass of the mountains, seeming always smaller by night than by day, still sharply defined against the sky.

The Mariner surprised himself and me by retiring before ten o'clock every night,—preparing for the Presidential campaign by taking some months' sleep in advance. But his alacrity in going to bed was a small matter compared with the firmness with which he maintained his position there in the morning. Nothing like it has been seen since the days of Casabianco, and owes it to my efforts that he isn't there yet.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union St

TRAVELLERS' TESTIMONY.—Thousands of travellers by land and sea have vouched for the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of the physical disturbances which ordinarily arise from change of climate and the changes of diet, water, &c, incident to a wand-ring life. Upon systems toned, invigorated and regulated by this genial vegetable antidote the external causes of debility and disease seem to produce little or no effect. Forearmed with Hostetter's Bitters the voyager may bid defiance to seasickness and encounter the chilling fogs of the British Isles, the coast winds of the Antilles, the icy temperature of Northern Alaska, or the burning heat of the tropics with equal impunity. The effect of this admirable medicated stimulant is greatly to increase the vital energy of the system, thereby enabling it to resist and repel the exciting causes of disease.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DYSPEPSIA DESTROYS THE TEETH, unless its effects are counteracted by that pure vegetable tonic and antiseptic Sozodont. No bodily disease can impair them if this antidote to all corrosive elements that act upon the enamel is regularly applied.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, and all skin diseases, indicate impure blood. The Ointment reaches and obliterates the poison in the veins, while the Pills remove all internal obstructions. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot or box Ask for new style: The old is counterfeited. 12

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TRIUMPHANT FOR TWENTY YEARS.—More than twenty years ago the Mustang Liniment made its debut in the West. Its cures of the various external diseases of horses and cattle, astonished the planters and farmers of the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, and a demand for it sprung up which necessitated its manufacture on an extensive scale. Soon the discovery was made that it was a grand specific for rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, earache, toothache, and other external ailments of mankind. Then it was tried as a healing, pain killing application, in cases of outward injury, such as cuts, bruises, burns, spasms, &c., and was found equally serviceable. The fame of the new remedy for some of the most painful ills that afflict mankind and the lower animals, spread rapidly, and Mustang Liniment soon took rank in every State and Territory of the Union as a standard cure.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

Gen. Butler is at the Ocean House, Rye Beach.

It is a two hours' ride by rail from Portsmouth to Wolfeboro'.

Not being satisfied with thirteen campaign flags, the Republicans are to raise more.

The correspondent of the Advertiser thinks Grant and Wilson will have 300 majority in Portsmouth and 3000 in the State.

Navy Department contracts for lumber have been awarded to Trickey & Jewett. Chas. E. Walker & Co., of this city, have been awarded the contract for coal.

Hon. Jacob H. Ela is stumping Maine for Grant and Wilson, yet the Lyre says "the whole (Ela) family" are for Greeley. That is a sample of Willie's lying.

The Grant and Wilson Guards are to attend the grand mass meeting at Portland next Tuesday. It will be a gala day. Extra trains will be run at half fare.

Mr. G. L. Cushing, formerly of this city and more recently of St. John, N. B., has accepted the position of leader of orchestra in the Royal Lyceum Theatre of Toronto, Canada West.

Joseph P. Morse, Esq., has been appointed deputy sheriff of Rockingham county—a most excellent selection. It is said his petition was signed by all the lawyers in the city, Democrats and Republicans.

By reference to the advertisement in another column it will be seen that Joe Jefferson, the famous actor, has sufficiently recovered his eye-sight to return to the stage, and will give our citizens opportunity to witness one of his inimitable impersonations of "Rip Van Winkle" on the 6th of September.

Hon. Cyrus Eastman, at the Pierce cottage, Little Boar's Head, has an original way of decorating his high flag staff. Upon the top is an old white hat, intended to represent Greeley and beneath the character "&," a brown hat, intended for B. Crabs Brown. The lower hat, it is presumed, to do justice to the subject, has a brick in it.

We learn that quite a distinguished party of visitors are stopping at the private boarding house of L. Thomas Sanborn at Rye Beach. Among them may be mentioned Prof. Joseph Henry, Secretary of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington; Gen. Gilman Marston of Exeter; Hon. Ira Perley, ex-Chief Justice of the State of New Hampshire; Judge William C. Thompson of Worcester, Mass.; Gen. John L. Thompson of Chicago, formerly Colonel of the 1st New Hamhpsire Calvalry, and Rev. Leonard Tenney of Vermont. In addition to this distinguished array of talent Mr. Sanborn has invited Hon. James W. Patterson, who has signified his acceptance of the same, and will visit Rye Beach within a few days.

MAINE.—Republicans claim the election of Burleigh to Congress in the first district by a majority of at least 1500. Colonels Stone of Kennebunk and Wentworth of Kittery, his competitors for the nomination in the convention, are working heartily for his election, and their friends are among his strongest supporters. The district will probably go for Grant by a larger majority than for Perham. The chairman of the district committee states that the number of straight, old-line Democrats in the back towns who declare their set determination not to vote for Greeley, is surprising. In Eliot, fifteen or twenty are named. A large sized bomb-shell is about to burst in the neighborhood of Biddeford, which will surprise Democrats.

Campaigning is vigorous. Secretary Robeson spoke at Kittery, Tuesday evening; Hon. Jacob H. Ela, at North Berwick, Monday; and Judge Bingham in Winthrop, Kennebec county, on the same day. Secretary Robeson will speak in Portland, Thursday, and Gen. Harriman enters the campaign immediately. At the great rally in Portland, Tuesday, Senator Wilson, Gen. Harlan of Kentucky, Gen. Butler and Gen. Burnside will speak. Speaker Blaine thinks he will have over 1000 more majority for Congressman than he ever received before, and predicts the election of the Republican State ticket by a largely increased majority.

WEST VIRGINIA.—The present delegation in Congress consist of two Democrats and one Republican, and their majorities in 1870 were: First district (Democratic) 1267; Second district (Republican), 913; Third district, (Democratic) 1563.

—Mark Twain has secured passage in the Scotia, which sails next Wednesday, and will make a tour of several months through England, Scotland and Ireland.

The News.

A Newark family of the name of Holloway, residing in Nassau street, attempted to punish a four year old daughter on Thursday night by holding her mouth to the spout of a tea-kettle, which was filled with boiling water. The steam rushed into the child's mouth, scalding it so severely as to threaten fatal consequences.

The Bostons defeated the Forest City Club of Cleveland, 12 to 7.

Judge Barnard has been found guilty of the charges preferred against him, and perpetually disqualified from holding office in New York.

The Third National Bank of Baltimore was robbed of $100,000 on Saturday night.

A young man named John Keon was accidentally drowned at Rockaway on Sunday morning, while attempting to rescue two young ladies from the water.

James McHenry, a glass-blower living in Cambridge, Mass., shot his wife in Boston on Saturday afternoon; she died three hours later. He fired two shots into his own head without effect. He was arrested. His wife had refused to live with him and the act was done in a fit of anger at her refusal.

Michael Ward was drowned Sunday night at Laconia, while bathing in the river. He was twenty-one years old and unmarried.

A complete overturn of the government in Peru is reported, the minister of war having led the attack upon the authorities. President Balta was killed. The insurgents held possession of Lima and Callao for four days, but were overpowered and the leaders were slaughtered. Over two hundred persons in all were killed. Pardo has been declared president.

Mr. Van Hyde, a fisherman, was killed by lightning in his boat at Rockaway on Friday afternoon.

The damage to property and the destruction of life caused by lightning in New England this summer are almost unprecedented.

A journey through the six New England States and a portion of New York reveals the fact that the apple crop is equally abundant in all quarters. The trees everywhere are loaded with this staple fruit.

The Ocean Mills of Newburyport have bought $112,000 worth of new machinery, most of it in England, which is expected in a few days. The new agent, Mr. Cumnoc, is reconstructing the centre mill, and by speeding up the engine one-half has succeeded in adding 8000 spindles and 130 looms, which will give employment to 110 new hands.

Political.

It is stated that ex-Senator Fitch of Indiana will support the nominees of the Louisville convention. To this gathering, thirty-one States have already chosen delegates; arrangements are making with leading railroads to issue excursion tickets at reduced rates.

Congressman Delarge of South Carolina writes to the New York Herald that the statement that he has declared for Greeley is false and malicious.

The Claremont Eagle, a sound Republican paper of marked ability, insists that the renomination of Gen. Simon G. Griffin for candidate for Congress by the Republicans of the third district, would inevitably end in his defeat a second time. The Eagle says a new man from Sullivan county should be selected.

Dr. Josiah C. Eastman of Hampstead denies the report started by the Haverhill (Mass.) Bulletin that he is an opponent of Greeley.

And now they do not know in Massachusetts whether Gen. Butler is to be a candidate for Governor or not. The difficulty is, to decide whether Butler means what he says, means more than he says, says less than he means, or knows what he means, less what he says.

Wendell Phillips wants Mayor Buffum of Lynn to go to Congress in the Banks district. Ex-Representatives John B. Alley and D. W. Gooch want the Republican nomination.

The next important political event in Maine will be the Mass Convention of Union Soldiers at Portland on the 27th inst.

At a meeting of Straight-out-Democrats in New York, Saturday, it was determined to send delegates to the Louisville Convention.

A letter from Huntersville, Ala., from a leading republican, claims that State for Grant and Wilson by ten thousand majority.

A popular citizen of Boston was heard to say recently, "I would as soon vote for the man who shot my brother at Chancellorsville as for Horace Greeley."—Traveller. Who shot his brother at Chancellorsville? — Herald. I wasn't a Grant man.—Traveller.

—A writer in Our Dumb Animals says that hunting is a cat's instinct, whether hungry or not, and it is a mistake to suppose that a cat will not hunt if it has meat given it.

—The liberal party claims to be making so many conversions of persons who have had convictions that it is likely to be largely composed of converts and convicts.

—Who is right, Charles Sumner, who says the election of Greeley and Brown will be a Republican victory; Carl Schurz, who says the mission of the Republican party is ended; or Gratz Brown, who says "the republican party no longer exists?"—Hartford Courant.

AYER'S
SARSAPARILLA
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.
A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, Whites, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Morning Chronicle.

THE NAKED ISSUE.—The call of Mr Greeley at Meredith Village had one good result. It brought him face to face with a statement of the issue of the the present campaign that must have fallen upon his ears like a pistol shot. Among those who stood in the crowd at the station was a father who had one son shot and another starved in the war for the union and humanity. As Mr. Greeley made his electioneering bow, this "village Hampden" exclaimed, with startling emphasis—"So help me God, I will never give my vote to make the 'lost cause' respectable." Probably Mr. Greeley was the gladdest man that ever saw a train move on—with himself in it.—Nashua Telegraph.

New Publications.

Oliver Optic's Magazine for September, appears bright and early with an attractive page of contents. "Little Bobtail, or the Wreck of the Penobscot," and "Winning his Spurs," are continued; "Only Girls" is a charming story; the thrilling sketches, "Among the Raftsmen," are continued. The short articles are timely and interesting. Several well-known artists contribute fine illustrations. Lee & Shepard, Boston, publishers; $2.50 per annum.

The Nursery, for September, is a capital number. No child who can read simple language or even enjoy pictures but would be glad to have it. Published by John L. Shorey.

The September number of The Galaxy is a very readable one. Justin McCarthy makes James Anthony Froude the subject of one of his graphic and picturesque character sketches; T. S. N. P. continues his "Desultory Sketches" of public men; Grace A. Ellis tells what she knows and thinks about "Our Household Servants;" "Had she but Known," is a sad love-story by Theodore Gift; Anthony Trollope's story, "The Eustace Diamond," is advanced to the sixty-first chapter; Samuel Blatter tells the first part of a story which will be completed in two more parts, entitled "Sanguinary Simpson;" "Fireworks," is the title of a brief love story which has a novel catastrophe, written by Annie T. Howell. "Sensitive People," is the title of an essay by Harriet Dolsen, who proclaims herself one of them; Phillip Quillibert criticises with a good degree of contempt some of the public statuary in New York city. For sale by J. H. Foster.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for those deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glow and freshness of youth. The compensatively few bald and gray heads that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Billiousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

JOKE ON TOM CORWIN.—When the Patent Screw and Auger line of railway from Porkopolis terminated at Muddleburg—it has since come to be a great national thoroughfare—the unhappy passengers were carried to all parts of the civilized world as well as to New Jersey by the old fashioned stages. These stages ran crowded, and there was generally a contest for seats. Governor Corwin was to leave Muddleburg at midnight for the State capital in a stage. To secure the best seats this humorist sat up all night. He was not alone, for he had a bottle of choice old whisky to keep him company. He then had it made into a mint julep, after he discussed it in the shape of a squash. About eleven o'clock he thought a cocktail would add variety to this spice of life. This he washed down with a hot punch, and then at midnight, just as he heard the stage rattle in, he took all that was left "straight."

Seizing his carpetsack and overcoat he rushed out to find a crowd around the stage, and without saying a word, but in a great hurry, bolted in and enconced himself in one corner upon the back seat. He fell asleep congratulating himself upon having been so fortunate, and had a dim, dreamy consciousness of the stage rolling away.

When he again awakened the stage was at a standstill; the curtains were all down, the windows up; but enough daylight got in to satisfy him that that institution had "done broke" some time since. He hastily started up, and dropping one of the windows, was perfectly amazed to find himself in the wagon-yard of a hotel. Two hogs were getting their breakfast out of a manure heap, while a melancholy cow stood chewing her cud, while working her tail to keep it in practice for flytime. A lazy hostler was entertaining himself with a pitchfork. A further note of the surroundings satisfied Governor Corwin that he was in the rear of the Muddleburg Hotel, and that he had been there from twelve of the night before. Corwin was a man of genius, and it did not take him long to discover the cause of this extraordinary result. He had got into a stage that had come in instead of one going out. The people about his leathern conveyance, when he esconced himself, thought, as he learned afterward, that he was a passenger in search of an umbrella, or some other article, left behind.

The governor opened the door of the stage very softly. He crept out, trying to feel so small that, as he said subsequently, his skin hung loose on him. He could not escape, however, the eye of the hostler, who exclaimed in some astonishment, "Hello, Governor, did dey forgit and leave yer in the stage?" "There, there, my man," answered Corwin, giving him a silver dollar, "you keep your fly trap shut, or there'll be a sudden death in your family."

"Fore God," exclaimed the hostler as Corwin walked away, "dat's most 'stonary; the Governor of Ohio done forgot in a stage coach."

Corwin walked into the hotel, deposited his carpet sack and coat behind the first door he encountered, and then sauntered into the breakfast room, trying to assume an air of a man who had not slept in a wagon yard all night. While discussing the oilled sole leather and muddy coffee, for which the American people pay hotel prices, a friend on the other side of the table, looking up suddenly, exclaimed, "Why Governor, I thought you left for the capital last night?"

"Well," exclaimed Corwin, with one of the whimsical looks with which he was wont to set the table in a roar, "I was under that impression myself."

"Got left, did you?"

"Yes, I believe I was a good deal left."

"How was that, Governor?"

"See here, my friend," exclaimed Corwin, carefully depositing his knife and fork on each side of his plate, as if they were articles of value, "if you will consent not to press a further investigation upon that subject, I will present your wife with a bonnet more like a coal scuttle than any now in the market. If you don't consent," he continued with wild energy, seizing his fork, "I'll murder you."

The story, however, was too good for Tom to keep to himself, and for years after he was in the habit of telling how he slept in a stable yard, and attributed it all to some very bad whisky that Hon. Salmon P. Chase had given him.—Don Piatt.

— The Biddeford Daily Evening Times is one of the most racy, sparkling and readable journals in the country. It is fulfilling its proposition not to be a partizan paper in a manner worthy of imitation by several other "non-partisan" papers of our acquaintance. It has its little laugh to be sure at the ludicrous points presented by both political parties, but it makes fun impartially for the abstract love of fun. Its account of Horace's passage through Saco and Biddeford is the wittiest commentary on the perigrinatory and peripatetic Presidential philosopher which has been given anywhere since the bland and baby-faced but blasphemous old buffer began his great Chappaquacking tour in search of votes. Portland Press.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,
Pulmocine Cordial
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croup, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with such rapidity a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping for breath, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before the profession. The Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LICORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves every pulmonary complaint. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.
USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.
COUGHS, and Much has been said written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.
CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the worst instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the hand, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.
PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are safe, sure and effectual.

Can They Be Trusted?

The tricksters of the Democratic party, who arranged the nominations of Greeley and Brown at Baltimore, are competent of meaner tricks than that even. We find in some of our Democratic exchanges the following article on the duties of electors:—

That Presidential Electors are under no legal, or perhaps moral obligations, to vote for any particular person for Chief Magistrate, is clearly evident from the language of the first section of Article II of the Federal Constitution, which is in these words: "Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of Electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector. The Electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the State with themselves; and they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each, which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate." This is not the whole of the section, but it is enough to show that the Electors have the entire subject matter in their own hands, and can vote at their own discretion, uninfluenced by outside pressure. It is evident that they are invested with a weighty responsibility, but such is the law.

Whether there be any political milk in the foregoing cocoa-nut depends very much on the size of the fruit. We regret to speak of any class of men as tricksters, yet when we remember the unpardonable treason of the Democratic leaders, who endeavored to fasten an unpopular constitution on the people of Kansas; who inoculated the entire South with the dangerous doctrine styled "State Rights;" who debauched the public mind to their utmost by appeals to passion and prejudice; who lifted their hands in enmity against the country of their birth and stole the treasure of the nation, its navy and its arsenals, for its destruction—we do not doubt their capacity for further mischief if a favorable opportunity should offer.

We congratulate the great mass of the Republican party that of its three and a half millions of voters, but comparatively few have found their allegiance to its principles weakened—that so very few have deemed themselves of so much more importance than the party which carried on the measures for the suppression of the Rebellion. There are honorable men who have chosen to join their old political enemies in denouncing the soldier who led the nation's hosts to victory, and we call the attention of these men to the fact that the Democratic leaders are considering that electors "are under no legal or perhaps moral obligations, to vote for any particular person for Chief Magistrate."

If electors nominally favoring Horace Greeley for President had been chosen in every State of the the Union and a majority of those electors were Democrats of the school of 1861-72, would these few "liberals" who have been seduced from the companionship with the Republican party feel quite sure that the Chappaqua editor would be chosen President by these electors? Or, supposing Greeley electors to have been chosen and the death of Mr. Greeley to ensue before they voted for President—do our extremely "liberal" friends have faith that the electors of Democratic breeding would throw away the opportunity to choose a Democratic President and cast their votes for Charles Sumner, Lyman Trumbull or Nathaniel P. Banks? Mr. Greeley may die—as other men do—suddenly. We distinctly remember that Presidents have heretofore died just in the most fortunate time for the interests of the Democratic party. Such an occurrence would be no more singular in the future than it has been in the past.

Persons in business or friendship seldom fully regain confidence in an individual who has once abused their trust. We judge men by their acts, which speak so plainly and more truthfully than words. Judging the Democratic leaders by their past record, does any candid Republican at heart believe that those who engineered the endorsement of Greeley and Brown at the Baltimore convention are worthy of the nation's confidence? Are they not in a desperate condition, like Corwin's woodchuck hunter, "out of meat?" They have shown in the past their capacity for mischief, and the desperation which impelled them to countenance rebellion still exists, cropping out with evil spirit at the first rumors of success. Even now they are endeavoring insidiously to indoctrinate their readers with the sophistry that electors are not morally or legally obliged to elect the man for President on whose merits they may be chosen! If this is not true, what means the publication of this article we refer to in Democratic papers? With opportunity to accomplish their designs, what man who has earnest Republican principles which actuate him, can trust these men, who have been in the past tricksters and have not yet unlearned their peculiar political education?

NORTH CAROLINA.—The New York Times publishes the official vote of North Carolina in all the counties of the State but three. Of the counties not in an official form, Currituck gives Merrimon a reported majority of 410, and Hertford gives Caldwell a majority of 70. Allowing Hyde, which is the only county not reported, to have voted as in 1870, Merrimon would have a majority of 125. The total vote in the counties officially reported is 192,687, of which Caldwell has 97,830 and Merrimon 95,157, giving Caldwell a majority of 2673. Deducting from this Merrimon's majority of 465 in the three counties which are unofficially given leaves Caldwell a clear majority of 2208 in the State. A comparison with the vote of 1870 shows an increase of 19,924 in the total vote, of which the Republicans have 13,796, and the Democrats 6128, leaving the Republicans a net gain of 7668. The Republican gains have been uniform throughout the State, thus proving that the victory could not have been won had not the white voters of the Western counties joined with the colored voters of the East to keep the State out of the hands of the Democrats. The vote also shows that with anything approaching a fair apportionment the Legislature would have been largely Republican, and the fact that there is an adverse majority is only proof that the popular will has been denied expression by the gerrymandering of the State to which the last Democratic legislature resorted in order to maintain their legislative supremacy.

INDIANA.—Vice-President Colfax, in a letter to a friend in Washington, says there is no doubt of Indiana. She is sure in October, and will swell the electoral majority for Grant and Wilson in November.

Gen. Jas. M. Fernell of Louisville, Ky., chairman of the Kentucky State Republican committee, has been engaged in the Indiana canvass, and declares there is no manner of doubt about the Republicans carrying that State at both State and national elections. The Legislature he deems as certain as the governorship. There is the utmost enthusiasm prevailing, and the young men are almost universally on one side and extremely active. The State is swathed in flags, and the cities and towns especially remind one of the most exciting war period.

Greeley's position is illustrated in West Virginia, where the defeat of the new Constitution, on the 24th inst., will be regarded as an anti-Greeley triumph. Yet the Constitution undertakes to exclude colored men from eligibility to office.—St. Louis Globe.

A triangular contest for Mayor of New York is among the probabilities.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union St

A DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE.—Ladies whose faces are clouded by superficial discolorations, and who have resolved to try Hagan's Magnolia Balm as a remedy, have no idea of the welcome surprise they will receive from their mirrors after a few applications of that healthful purifier of the complexion. If at all excitable, they will scream with rapture at holding the change; whether the blemish it is desired to remove be sallowness, blotches, pimples, freckles, roughness, or an unnatural pallor, it is bound to disappear under the tonic operation of this wonderful agent. To say that the blemish disappears, does not, however, convey any idea of the effect produced by this celebrated beautifier. The unsightly tinge, whether diffused over the whole countenance or in spots, or patches, is replaced by a uniform, pearly bloom, to which no description can do justice

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, and all skin diseases, indicate impure blood. The Ointment reaches and obliterates the poison in the veins, while the Pills remove all internal obstructions. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot or box. Ask for new style: The old is counterfeited. 13

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

MISCHIEF IN THE AIR.—We cannot analyze the aerial poisons that produce epidemic and endemic diseases; but the valuable discoveries which have been made in vegetable pharmacy enable us to counteract their malific influence. The most powerful known antidote to every species of malaria is Hostetters Stomach Bitters, a pure botanical medicine, in which the finest antiseptics, tonics, alteratives and stimulants of the vegetable kingdom are skillfully and effectively combined. At seasons of the year when the atmosphere is surcharged with miasma, and whenever the specific virus of any infectious disease is supposed to be present in the air, this famous corrective should be taken regularly as a preventive. All who choose to observe this precaution may bid defiance to intermittent and remittent fevers, and in fact to all disorders generated by foul exhalations or impure water.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person tells their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use Castoria Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

The heavy rains the past week have considerably washed the roads leading to the mountains, and swollen the streams. The damage done to the crops is quite large, extensive fields of rye having been cut, in some instances, and left to rot on the ground, as no opportunity existed for gathering it in a proper condition.

The blackberry crop will be very light.

Daniel S. Perkins, a Boston broker, was before the Nashua police court on Monday night, charged with issuing bogus mileage tickets on the Boston, Lowell and Nashua Railroad. He claimed to have purchased them of a transient person, but failed to establish his innocence, and was held in the sum of $2500 to answer further.

THE ARBITRATION.—There is information from Geneva which warrants the assertion that since the exclusion of claims for indirect damages have already been agreed upon, the indications are that on the conclusion of the adjudication a gross sum will be awarded to the United States, thereby avoiding the reference of the subject to a board of commissioners.

—Here is a new argument against capital punishment: We learn from the papers that a little over a year ago Charles Baker was hanged at Fonda for the murder of Thomas Burdick. Since then, not less than five persons who witnessed the execution have committed suicide by swinging from the fatal noose.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Republican Rally at Kittery.

No more enthusiastic Republicans can be found in Maine than in Kittery, where by energetic efforts and solid work, under the leadership of Gen. Mark F. Wentworth, (who though defeated for the Congressional nomination, never forgets his duty to the cause, and in this campaign has put his shoulder to the wheel with his accustomed vigor,) they have made great inroads into the ranks of the Democracy and will give an account of themselves next month that will cheer every Republican in the nation. On Tuesday evening, the Grant men turned out en masse to attend a flag-raising at the residence of Mr. J. B. Shaw, and the Methodist church was filled and surrounded by ladies and gentlemen who had gathered to listen to the first campaign speech of Hon. George M. Robeson, Secretary of the Navy. The Portsmouth Cornet Band furnished music for the audience and played some popular selections, showing marked improvement in many respects.

As Secretary Robeson entered the church, the audience greeted him with round after round of applause. Calvin L. Hayes, Esq., called the meeting to order and introduced the distinguished speaker with a few happily chosen remarks in which he spoke of Mr. Robeson as a member well and favorably known of the Cabinet of our present and prospective President, who had been spoken of in one of Horace's odes as a man who "had never been beaten and never would be." Mr. Hayes in closing said the wardens desired that due care and respect for the place should be shown.

Secretary Robeson, on rising amid a storm of applause, said he would adopt the suggestion that nothing unworthy of the place should be said or done. He would not speak of personal ideas but would discuss principles. Sojourning for a brief period in the immediate vicinity he had been induced to speak in behalf of the cause which interests all. He had no fears of the American Republic in the presence of the American people. To their intelligence the highest problems of government policy may be safely intrusted, when acting for their own interests and the interests of their families. None should forget that every individual is a member of the government and it is becoming that people gather together to consider for themselves the great principle involved in all contents. He spoke to his audience as to members of a Christian community and would not appeal to any prejudice. Next to his God, a man owes his duty to his country. That country is an organized power which preserves whatever is valuable to him as a man, as a member of a family and as a member of a community.

There is no duty we owe to ourselves, our community or our race, which we do not owe to our God. Try the Republican party by these high standards. Consider well the part each one takes in the government of the country. Take light where you can—take law from nobody. The questions dividing the great parties are vital. All progress and improvement depend on the inspiration of home, the desire of every one to lift himself above his condition and rear his children under more favorable circumstances. Every man though he strive and fail, leaves something behind. Formerly it was held in this country that money earned by a certain class of people belonged to their owners and not to themselves or "the bone of their bone and flesh of their flesh." Providence in wisdom had implanted in all breasts an inspiration upward. God intended every one to work out his own deliverance and the speaker reviewed the development of man from the Dark Ages to the present time.

Christian civilization is founded on the Golden Rule, freedom, justice and the rights of man. Under its auspices labor is associated with political power. This principle was advocated by the men from Northern Europe who landed on Plymouth Rock. Another section of this country was settled by ruined adventurers who inaugurated a system of slavery which was antagonistic to labor and political power. The first honored labor, the last despised it. Slavery embodied the ideas from which the world had been escaping for six centuries. It was an outpost of barbaric origin; our system was the advance guard of Christian civilization. The collision that ensued was national, and the contest must go until one is dead and buried.

We may avoid personal conflicts and meet in friendly communication, but antagonistic principles "never shake hands across the bloody chasm." The speaker would go as far as the farthest in advocating "good will to men," but to yield principles is treason to mankind. He who encourages the old spirit of slavery, re-arms, strengthens and revivifies it, and strikes a blow at the foundations of civil society. These issues are vital. We should think well and act fairly and vigorously—cast off all prejudice and stand forth in defence of the development of country, race and society. The Republican party is the representative of principle; the Democratic party is the representative of rebellion.

War was our theory of progress and development. 'Twas said by some that the republican party had accomplished its mission and should disband. On the contrary, as long as there were new fields of progress to traverse it should not disband. It has not fulfilled its mission so long as any organization remains to combat its principles.

The Democratic party is practically dissolved. Its leaders have abandoned the North and have reorganized on Southern principles. "Imperialism" is charged because the administration has enforced the constitutional amendments—because sworn officers of the law have performed the duty that their oath of office compels. Now the Southern leaders wants to be "let alone" again. "Local self government" is their watch-word, and their candidate for President is the man who waives the questions of his life, revenue and the tariff, and accepts their propositions, declaring that he will not perform his constitutional duties if elected in opposition to the party will!

Of all the millions of confederates, about 300 only have not been amnestied. Among these is Zebulon B. Vance, who was not admitted to a seat in the U. S. Senate. Mr. Greeley writes that he was excluded by the votes of the New England Senators, when he should have been admitted! On the contrary, a constitutional amendment excluded him, for Mr. Vance had been guilty of perjury as well as treason, holding an office in which he had sworn to defend the government, when he went into the rebellion.

We have given the colored race a taste of freedom and now, according to Horace, we must abandon them to the mercies of the local authorities, withdraw our protection, amnesty to the three hundred; if we do not Horace calls it "tyranny." He has been of times the teacher of truth and did valuable service, but imagined the people had followed him and not truth, though he go astray.

Mr. Robeson quoted freely from Mr. Greeley's writings, instancing a quotation of Sept. 17, 1867, when Mr. Greeley said it was a lamentable spectacle to see a man depart from his course in his elder years. Mr. Robeson also quoted from Greeley's correspondence to the Tribune during his Southern tour, last year, in which he said the Democratic party was ready for another rebellion when the time comes, and that Jeff Davis had said he did not accept the situation. Horace Greeley had always said he would be willing to help secession, or let the States secede when their State organizations declared such to be their wish. We want no President committed to secession. It isn't at all inexplicable that the Democratic leaders chose Greeley; some strong motive must have impelled them to forgive his abuse and vilification. He gave up the only principle he advocated. Why do they "eat crow"? Because they care not for side issues and proclamations of civil policy. They get all they want. They take medicine and make extra sacrifices of feeling to accomplish great ends. "Local self government" means the accomplishment of the power to secede with a President to help them!

Wherever the "lost cause" is considered not lost, there is Greeley's main support. His avowed principles and present attitude commit him to aid them in recovering their "lost cause." Mr. Greeley has deserted his old friends and associates, given up the one cardinal principle of his life and gives it the go-by for a Presidential nomination. He associates now with those whom he has denounced as villains and bar-room loafers. Is this evidence of a tower of enduring strength? Is there anything in the character or professions of this old man that we should desert our present firm foundations of security for hope of a better future?

Mr. Robeson declined and disdained to defend Gen. Grant. No other four years of government with the exception of that of Abraham Lincoln had shown such an exhibit of matters accomplished. Grant's services live in this day and generation, though the throat of hell is not blacker than the mouth of calumny open against him. His record lies in the "beauty of its attractiveness"—

> Great in saving common sense,
> And in simplicity sublime.

President Grant has never occupied a position that he did not earn! Our people want a straight-forward, steady government. They accept and trust Gen. Grant, who has been true in every regard to Republican principles. The debt is largely paid, taxation decreased, citizenship secured from violence abroad, and great questions settled by the execution of treaties which render war impossible on those issues between Christian nations. The election of Horace Greeley would shock public confidence at home and abroad. In conclusion, Mr. Robeson paid a glowing tribute to the "little man who occupies the executive chair." His peroration was an eloquent and brilliant effort, seldom surpassed by the attempts of modern orators. The speech throughout was statesmanlike, broad in its character and comprehensive in its views, and was listened to with marked attention.

Masonry not Partisan.

Eds. Chronicle:—I noticed an article in your issue of the 17th inst., headed "A Protest" and signed "F. & A. M.," referring to the partisan flag suspended from the building known as Congress Hall. It is well known to the public that the lower floor is occupied by stores; the second kept by the owners, and let for dancing, lectures, concerts, etc., while the third and fourth stories are leased for a term of years by the Masonic Fraternity, who are the sole occupants. It has been a deep-seated principle of the Fraternity from time immemorial, that nothing of a secular character, either political or religious, shall enter the sacred portals of this ancient institution. From the earliest period of its existence to the present time this principle has been strictly adhered to, and the Temples dedicated to this ancient and honorable institution have never been desecrated by any partisan or sectarian feud. At the time the people of Portsmouth commemorated the funeral services of the lamented President Lincoln, some proposed to drape the Masonic Hall in mourning, but objections were raised by the Fraternity, on the ground that this was not a National, but a Universal institution. The lower part of the building was appropriately decorated, but the part occupied by the Fraternity stood in its grandeur, unadorned by sectarian or national emblem. None had the audacity to press the matter against the wishes of the Fraternity. We have men of every country, sect and opinion, and of every political proclivity, within the portals of our sacred temple; how necessary then, that we should avoid everything that has a tendency to create discord or unpleasant feelings among the members of the craft! It is to be hoped that the individuals who have flown this partisan flag from the Masonic building will think better of the act, and for the sake of harmony have it removed. And let the holy principles of our order have more weight in our actions; let brotherly love prevail; thus shall we render ourselves deserving of the honor conferred and worthy the confidence reposed in us.

[The above communication—which is signed "A Brother who has the good of the Order at heart,"—and the one which follows, signed "F. & A. M.," we request may close the correspondence on this subject. The latter seems to be more of a retort upon an unworthy assailant than anything else, but the temper of "A Brother's" communication is excellent.—Eds. Chronicle.]

Messrs. Editors:—The misconductor of the sheet which you so appropriately call "the Lyre," (though your orthography of the word is not just what it should be,) in answer to my "protest" against the hoisting of a political flag from Congress block, says I am one of "a handful of navy yard employes who happened to belong to the Masonic Order," and who "disgraced themselves and the Order to which they belong, by trying to prevent the hanging" of a partisan flag from the building. I suppose Mr. Wm. M. Thayer wrote that brilliant article, for I know of no other person silly enough to speak of men "happening" to be Freemasons, or to suggest that unworthy acts of members of the ancient and honorable Order could disgrace aught but themselves. But whoever the writer was, I hope you will allow me space to tell him that he is a liar; I not only did not "happen" to be a Mason, but I do not and never did work on the navy yard; and I did not oppose the hanging out of the partisan flag, for it was hung out within a few hours of the time I first heard it mentioned as being intended. At the time when I wrote my first communication I was ignorant as to who had done what I protested against, (indeed, I am not sure that I know now;) I only knew that the hoisting of that flag was an insult to Masonry, which is not sectarian, partisan, sectional, or even national but Universal. Should Mr. Thayer (or any one else) desire my name, you are at perfect liberty to give it.

Every "straw" shows which way the "crow" goes.

Rev. A. J. Patterson, pastor of the Universalist society, Boston Highlands, who has been travelling "out West" on a six months' leave of absence, returned home last Friday. He has travelled some eight thousand miles during his absence, and returns in a fine state of health. His wife, who accompanied him and who was dangerously sick some six weeks ago, is now almost fully recovered.

George G. Lougee, Esq. of Rye, is appointed jailkeeper in this city, and will relieve Mr. Rowe in a few weeks.

The Post-Office department has finally decided upon its sample postal card, and will advertise in a day or two for proposals, to be opened in one month, for supplying the department and public.

The Journal's attack on Mr. William H. Allen seems uncalled for. Mr. Allen informs us that while driving through the streets on a recent rainy day to fill several orders, he was hailed by Mr. Brewster, but did not deem it necessary to disappoint his regular customers for the sake of accommodating persons who never patronize him when other hackmen can be had. We can but think that had Mr. Brewster known the circumstances of the case, he would not have charged Mr. Allen with "boorishness." We have found him accommodating and gentlemanly—and do not think the charge of "boorishness" applicable to any hackman in Portsmouth.

Paymaster Edward Foster, of this city, is detached from U. S. S. Worcester and ordered to settle his accounts.

We find in the Western papers a despatch from this city saying that Horace Greeley was driven through the "densely crowded streets amid wild enthusiasm!" How are you "densely crowded streets" and "wild enthusiasm?"

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration, Uterine Disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Morning Chronicle.

MARK TWAIN was present lately at a meeting of the Farmer's club, and heard Horace Greeley tell what he knew about raising pumpkins. Here is Mark's report on the pumpkin, and his description of Mr. Greeley's method of treating that extraordinary vegetable:—

"Mr. Greeley exhibited a pumpkin of his own raising. As it embodied his solitary and crowning success, after several years of discouraging failure in pumpkin culture, the club surrounded it with uncovered heads and mingled emotions of surprise, admiration and envy. It was a superb fruit; and when Mr. G's. hat was placed on it, to illustrate its size and symmetry, the hat and pumpkin seemed so perfectly adapted to each other, and together produced an effect so startling, that several enthusiastic members swore they would have known who raised that pumpkin if they had seen it anywhere. It is to be phowographed by Gurney, and next year's Tribune subscribers will receive copies. The pumpkin was the flattering produce of one bushel of seed planted on the farm on Chappaqua. Soon after blossoming the vine manifested an inclination to wither. It was, therefore, transplanted to a large flower pot, and removed to the town residence of its founder. For some time it drooped and they sat up nights with it, expecting that every moment would be its last, but every moment turned out not to be its last and with careful nursing it finally rallied and came up to maturity, as cherished and tough a pumpkin as ever grew.

Dr. Sixhammers suggested that the result of Mr. G.'s indomitable struggle with this pumpkin showed how every city family could provide itself with pumpkin pie. He hoped to see the day when every window sill, in every city, will be adorned with fructifying pumpkin roots, and every workman's cottage embowered in pumpkin vines."

"ELI PERKINS," of the New York Commercial, interviewed the President at Saratoga, and his letter gives the following among the particulars of the meeting:

"I suppose you know, ginral, that I am goin' to vote agin you at the next election, don't you?" I asked in a firm voice.

"You, Mr. Perkins! and what for?" exclaimed the ginral.

"Wall," sed I, "I don't like the way things is workin'. I think I orto be kollector of New York. I am aspirin' like Mr. Greeley's Kollector Dana. I have talents into me. I—"

"All rite," sez the ginral, litin' a sigar, "you ken hev the place. Now, what else do you want?"

"Wall, you've got 14 relashuns. You must drown 'em."

"What! drown unkuls, ants, and my own father?" exklaimed the ginral, throwing away his sigar.

"Yes sur. Its rong to have relashuns. Its rong to love your friends—rong to give them anything. Its well enuf to give Vicksburg to your Uncle Sam, well enuf to give Richmond to your Aunt Columbia, and to present Pensacola and Fort Donelson to your politicksl mother, the United States. Its well enuf to give equal rights to 4,000,000 of your own black boys in the south, but it is positively a egregus krime to let your father have that $1100 Covington Post Offis which Johnson gave him. You should cut off his head."

"I see it now," said the President, with a sigh. "But alas! I love my father. The old man is happy when he is at work. He likes to be busy. I cannot break the old man's heart. I—"

"But you must, ginral!" I sed, lookin' him strate in the face.

— An exchange says: We have pleasant, comforting news from B. Crabs Brown. ("Crabs" was not his maiden name; he got it by a circuitous route. He went all the way to New Haven and back for it.) The intelligence is that he has reached home in safety, and is now once more tranquilly domiciled among his lares and penates. He finds the old domestic altars pretty much as he left them, and all the dear little home divinities healthy. But there has been a growth of piety in the community during his absence perfectly unparalled. He was glad to hear this until a committee of deacons waited upon him to know when he was going away again. "Crabs" is not at heart a bad man, but when he recalls the visits of those deacons, he gets into some retired part of the house where the children can't hear what he says.

—An Antiquarian, curious in such matters, rescues from oblivion the following importantand reliable tradition. Some eighty years ago a party encamped on the shores of the Mousam river in York County. They had constructed rude bedsteads in their huts and enjoyed the sports and profits of trapping. One evening a stranger, a seeker after beaver and other skins, appeared at the door and asked shelter for the night. One of the inmates, one of the inmates doubtful whether he could be accommodated, enquired of the proprietor "Can he bunk?" From this simple circumstance, it appears, the name was given to the hospitable and delightful village known as Kennebunk.—Biddeford Journal.

The author of the above has the best wine on tap in York county.

—A remarkable character of the California mountain climate is an extreme intensity and vividness of atmospheric coloring. The deep blue of an Alpine sky is startling on first acquaintance, but in the Sierra Nevada it deepens still farther into violet.

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood.

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are so we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is lighter speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

JOHN AT LONG BRANCH.—I left the Great West to take care of itself for a few days, and came East to attend the Long Branch races. Do you twig that? I came on to attend the branch races. The Plymouth Rock was loaded worse than a cannon, even worse than Plymouth Rock was loaded when the first pilgrims waded ashore. I sat on the guard of that boat, with my delightful little feet hanging overboard, and although there was only half of me on the boat I had to pay full fare. These feet are what I make my monogram in the sand with.

The soil from Sandy Hook to Long Branch isn't very rich; it is only good for sand crabs and clams. The mosquitoes are so large that strangers frequently mistake them for eagles. I saw a mosquito captured last week in a trap. It is supposed to be one hundred and thirty years old. On its back was branded "N. J., 1770." It belongs to the State.

—Europe has less dead limbs on her apple trees than in New Hampshire. —Horace Greeley, at Tilton.

—One lady won four boxes of gloves and another lost a champagne supper betting on the recent Long Branch races.

—Joe Jefferson, the comedian, is in Baltimore. The occulist treating Jefferson's case has pronounced his eyesight perfectly restored.

—It wont do to say "lightning never strikes twice in the same place." Two years ago it struck a pig-stye in Meriden, Conn., without injuring the inmates. Recently the lightning took better aim at the same stye, and killed two hogs that weighed 300 pounds each.

—Lightning does remarkable things every summer, but this year it surpasses itself. The latest reported achievement was to drive a man in Hancock county, Tenn., into the ground, so that he was entirely buried, without materially injuring his mortal frame. A trip hammer could not do it.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lapulina, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, and Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands testify that Briggs' there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Alleviant is for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 23, 1872.

Well Done, New York!

Among the political changes of marked importance none has taken the country more by surprise and been received with greater exultation by Republicans than the nomination of Gen. John A. Dix for Governor of New York. Gen. Dix had recently endorsed Grant and Wilson and was a consistent war Democrat. His name had been used as a candidate for the nomination, but he had dissuaded his friends from pressing it. Other popular candidates were in the field, among them Hon. Wm. A. Wheeler, Gen. John C. Robinson, Hon. Wm. H. Robertson, Gen. Diven and Hon. Freeman Clarke, and it was thought the successful candidate would be taken from this list.

Our readers who are familiar with New York politics prior to 1860, will remember that about that time Horace Greeley, Gov. Seward and Thurlow Weed formed a trio which ruled the Republican conventions, the State being strongly Republican. Mr. Greeley was too ambitious for his comrades and finding his associates disinclined to recognize his talents to the extent he desired, he wrote that famous letter dissolving the firm of Seward, Greeley and Weed. From that time the two factions waged war on each other, and as a natural consequence the Republicans soon lost the State.

Mr. Seward was Abraham Lincoln's principal opponent at Chicago for the Presidential nomination, and Mr. Greeley appeared at the Republican convention and took part in the movement which defeated Mr. Seward. From that time, Thurlow Weed's influence in New York politics weakened, while Mr. Greeley's power correspondingly increased. Mr. Greeley though endorsed in conventions by the nominations of his friends for office, found that at the polls he was powerless and the honors conferred were but empty ones. Of late, the Greeley-Weed-Seward feud seemed to have been lost sight of. Senators Conklin and Fenton became antagonists and Mr. Greeley espoused the cause of Mr. Fenton. Senator Conklin's friends have controlled the more recent Republican conventions and the Republican party has become strengthened by the desertion of Greeley and Fenton to the Democratic camp.

During the past ten years, Thurlow Weed and Wm. H. Seward have been quietly biding their opportunity. With the candidacy of Greeley, the veteran wire puller, now an old man, sees his opportunity to pay off the old score. His election as delegate to the Republican State Convention was significant. The master stroke of his political life is shown by the convention's choice. When Thurlow Weed's name was called in the list of delegates the convention arose and hailed it with three times three cheers for "the old war horse of the Republican party."

The convention supplemented its good work by the adoption of a platform of which this is a section:

Resolved, that we welcome to our ranks honest Democrats, who spurn the unprincipled coalition which seeks to ally themselves with the discordant elements of the Republican party.

After the names of various candidates had been presented, Mr. G. W. Clark of New York spoke for Mr. Weed advocating the choice of Gen. John A. Dix as the candidate for Governor, saying he would draw to his support a large number of honest Democrats of the State. His nomination would increase the Republican majority to 100,000. [Applause and three cheers.] The nomination of General Dix was seconded by E. Delafield Smith, who said: "We are about to meet a powerful coalition, and we must meet it with all our strength. Greeley will secure Republican votes, and we must offset these with the votes of honest Democrats." This speech produced profound sensation. The nomination of General Dix was also urged by H. R. James of St. Lawrence, Henry Clews, S. B. Dutcher and delegates from Ontario, Jefferson, Essex, Cayuga, Herkimer, Livingston, and Madison counties. Gen. Bruce moved Gen. Dix's nomination by acclamation; one by one the names of the other candidates were withdrawn, and the motion was carried amid enthusiastic cheering.

The convention completed its work by the nomination of a strong electoral ticket including the names of Frederick Douglass, Emil Saner and Stewart L. Woodford, at large, and Geo. W. Curtis, S. B. Crittenden, H. B. Claflin, Wm. E Dodge, Andrew D. White and Henry Clews. Gen. John C. Robinson was nominated for Lieut-Governor; and Hon. Lyman Tremaine, for congressman-at-large. The effect of the nominations is already seen. The Apollo Hall Democrats of New York city, led by Sheriff O'Brien, and numbering over 20,000 voters, will support the ticket. Large accessions from the best elements of the Democratic party are being made, and Thurlow Weed will have the pleasure of knowing that his combinations are so powerful that Horace Greeley is practically out of the Presidential contest.

Political.

Blanton Duncan predicts that the Republicans will, before November, be compelled to fight the nominee of the Louisville Convention, paying no attention to the Liberal side show.

> Ulysses was a silent man,
> But in the battle led the van;
> He led the van, and never balked,
> While Greeley stood at home and talked!

Hint to confederate organs about commenting on election returns:—If the election appears to be in your favor, call it a "key note;" if it proves to be against you, call it a fraud.

The Boston Advertiser believes that if the election were held now Grant would have 100,000 majority in Massachusetts.

The campaign is growing warm in Tennessee. It is said that an Ex-Confederate general will be the nominee of the Republicans for governor. Andy Johnson is likely to be nominated for congressman at large, but will be a candidate at all events.

There is talk in Mississippi of Lucius Quintus Curtius Lamar going back to Congress, if he can get rid of his disabilities.

The Toledo Blade gets in this cruel left hander on Jack Casement: "As Senator Casement is confident that Lake County will give a majority for Greeley, will he kindly resign and see whether or not he can be re-elected on the Greeley ticket?"

Hon. Paulus Powell, who was a Democratic Congressman from the Fifth District of Virginia before the war, has declared for Grant and Wilson.

Captain James B. Moore, for a long time Secretary of the Democratic Jackson Association, has been elected Chief Marshal of the Hartranft Republican club of Pittsburgh, Pa., and on the first parade brought out 100 of his old Democratic comrades under the Grant and Wilson flag.

—The editors of the Plain Dealer were in a furious state of rage when they discovered that they were made to quote H. G.'s saying, "You lie, you villain!" and apply it to themselves in an acrostical song they published recently. —Cleveland Leader.

The New York Evening News says that it is authorized by A. T. Stewart to state that the following paragraph, which has been telegraphed over the country, is a falsehood made from whole cloth, viz.: "A. T. Stewart says that the election of Mr. Greeley would be a national calamity to the country. If he is elected God help us."

The news that John Quincy Adams had bolted from Greeley was brought to the philosopher while at dinner. He dropped his knife and fork incontinently, and all he said was, "My God!" This sudden religious turn of Mr. Greeley is one of the most consolatory incidents of the campaign.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

One of the few "big guns" of this State who flopped from the Republican ranks into the Greeley movement about the time of the North Carolina election, is reported "as sick as a b'iled owl."

In the country at large, Horace Greeley is to be the worst beaten candidate since Winfield Scott. The country dares not trust him; the hazard would be too great. The present prosperous condition will not be disturbed.—Concord Monitor.

During the New York draft riot of 1863 a howitzer, trebly shotted, was planted on the Tribune stairway, and men stationed beside it, ready to fire it off upon the first attempt of the mob to storm the building. What a fortunate thing that the attempt was not made! It is fearful to contemplate what a large number of good Greeley voters might have gone down before that howitzer!

Gratz Brown, in his recent letter, claims to have "frequent intervals of abstinence." Somebody said that Macaulay would be a wonderful conversationist if he would only embellish his talk by a few brilliant flashes of silence. Gratz emphasizes his spees by "by frequent intervals of abstinence."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Democratic press have regaled their readers, since their overthrow in North Carolina, with the usual cry of "frauds." The following official figures let in a flood of light on that point: In eighty-four counties the Democratic vote in 1872 is 91,862, or 2863 votes more than that party has ever before cast in the entire State. In the same counties, the Republican vote in 1872 is 94,565, or 1661 votes less than the highest Republican vote ever before cast. Our readers will not fail to draw the right conclusion as to where the imputation of fraud should justly rest.

A bully "shake across the bloody chasm"—the nomination of Gen. Dix for Governor by the Republicans of New York.

The Chicago Times has received a portrait of Mr. Greeley, and says: "Beneath the portrait is the signature: 'Yours for financial arnica and isosceles triangles. Horace Eveliey, Chobluqua, N. Y., June 30, 1872.'"

Fred Douglass spoke at an immense Republican mass meeting at Bangor on the 21st.

Charles Sumner's present term of service in the United States Senate expires March 3, 1875. Mr. Sumner was elected to succeed Daniel Webster, and first took his seat December 1, 1851; and was re-elected in 1857, again in 1863, and was for the third time re-elected in 1869. Mr. Sumner is an advocate of the one term principle, as a means of purifying American politics.

The New York Commercial Advertiser thinks that Mr. Greeley showed his good sense in visiting his native State before election. After that event he won't care about seeing anybody he ever saw before.

They have had a Grant & Wilson flag raising at the Twin Mountain House, Carroll, at which Henry Ward Beecher and others spoke.

A New York paper thinks it precious small potatoes for a man "to hold an office in the Custom House, working ostensibly for the re-election of Grant, but writing letters and talking privately in favor of Greeley."

The Coos Republican reports that forty five Democrats of Bath refuse to "eat crow" and will not vote for Horace Greeley.

Schurz and Trumbull are two of the purest of the simon pure "reformers." Both detest Grant's "nepotism;" both condemn Grant for keeping corrupt officials in office; and Schurz insinuated that the President was actuated only by personal motives in turning his (Schurz's) brother-in-law, Jussen, out of office. We don't know whether or not it is "nepotism" when a Senator procures official position for his relatives, but we presume it is not,—that it is "nepotism" only when the President appoints to office one of his relatives, or fails to remove one previously appointed by another President. Trumbull's answer to the counter-charge of nepotism preferred against him, for having secured the appointment of a host of relatives to office, "I don't see why it should be any disqualification for office that a man is related to me," doesn't apply to the President's case at all. And now it turns out that Schurz's "nepote," Jussen, was removed from office for corruption, the proof of which was furnished to the President by Trumbull himself, who had the pleasure of seeing Jussen kicked out the very next day. Verily it looks as though none need reforming more than these patent-bleached "reformers."

The Republicans of Georgia have nominated Judge Dawson A. Walker for governor.

Mr. Charles O'Conor has declared himself against Mr. Greeley and in favor of a straight Democratic nomination. This announcement, says the Albany Evening Journal, is important for itself and important for what it foreshadows. The name of Mr. O'Conor carries great weight with tens of thousands of Democrats, and his declaration against Mr. Greeley may well carry alarm into the Greeley camp.

Hon. Jason B. Brown, a Democratic State Senator in Indiana, is out for Grant and Wilson, and the Republican State ticket.

The Utica (N. Y.) Herald quotes a couplet from Hosea Biglow, to show Democrats what they may expect from North Carolina in November:

> A betch o' bread thet hain't rise once, ain't goin'
> to rise agin,
> An' it's jest money thrown away to put the > emptins in.

Mr. Carroll, Democratic mayor of Troy, N.Y., will give his powerful support to Grant and Wilson.

At the Republican State Convention in Connecticut, O. W. Slow and H. D. Smith of Southington, prominent Republicans who have been announced as supporters of Greeley, declared themselves as unreservedly for Grant. Mr. Snow said if the Greeley men were depending on such capital they would be bankrupt. Mr. Smith is a prominent temperance man and acted with the party last year. He said he should support Grant and Wilson most cordially.

Thirty-seven Democrats in Leesburg, Ind., have come out for Grant and Wilson.

Tom Brady, of the Muncie Times, thinks that the opposition to Grant may be all arranged under three heads: first, Sorcheads; second, Copperheads; third Sapheads.

Hon. Richard H. Dana, Jr., has written a long letter declaring for Grant in preference to Greeley.

San Francisco has already two Grant and Wilson clubs composed entirely o Democrats who cannot swallow Horace Greeley.

Mr. Samuel F. Chase of Saco, who was to have been nominated for Register of Deeds by the Republicans of York county, but wasn't, writes a letter to the York County Independent, urging Republicans to accept the county ticket as nominated.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for a throat diseases. For sale at the Union St

A DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE.—Ladies whose faces are clouded by superficial discolorations, and who have resolved to try Hagan's Magnolia Balm as a remedy, have no idea of the welcome surprise they will receive from their mirrors after a few applications of that healthful purifier of the complexion. If at all excitable, they will scream with rapture on beholding the change; whether the blemish it is desired to remove be sallowness, blotches, pimples, freckles, roughness, or an unnatural pallor, it is bound to disappear under the tonic operation of this wonderful agent. To say that the blemish disappears, does not, however, convey any idea of the effect produced by this celebrated beautifier. The unsightly tinge, whether diffused over the whole countenance or in spots, or patches, is replaced by a uniform, pearly bloom, to which no description can do justice.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would sell over too, they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DECAY'S EFFACING FINGER.—Will never mar the teeth that are brushed daily with Odenferous SOZODONT. It lends a floral fragrance to the breath as well as protects the teeth from corrosion and decomposition.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, and all skin diseases, indicate impure blood. The Ointment reaches and obliterates the poison in the veins, while the Pills remove all internal obstructions. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot or box. PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

MISCHIEF IN THE AIR.—We cannot analyze the aërial poisons that produce epidemic and endemic diseases; but the valuable discoveries which have been made in vegetable pharmacy enable us to counteract their malific influence. The most powerful known antidote to every species of malaria is Hostetters Stomach Bitters, a pure botanical medicine, in which the finest anti-septics, tonics, alteratives and stimulants of the vegetable kingdom are skillfully and effectively combined. At seasons of the year when the atmosphere is surcharged with miasma, and whenever the specific virus of any infectious disease is supposed to be present in the air, this famous corrective should be taken regularly as a protective. All who choose to observe this precaution may bid defiance to intermittent and remittent fevers, and in fact to all disorders generated by foul exhalations or impure water.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

The Cornet Band played at a grand Republican rally at Saco, Wednesday evening.

The portraits of Greeley exhibited by the crow-eaters about town, flatter the silly old fellow; who in his recent ride through our streets bare-headed, without the least call or excuse for the absurd uncovering of his bald caput, showed plainly by his looks, that it is as easy to flatter his personal appearance, as to tickle his vanity.

The new postal cards are to be of a light amber color.

The Second National Bank, of Washington with a capital of two hundred thousand dollars, will begin business in a few days. Among the stockholders are Assistant-Secretary Richardson and Collector Thomas L. Tullock.

—It is stated that the best speech of Philosopher Greeley during his tour in New Hampshire was upon the subject of clams, at Rye. Whether this was because he found himself at a clam-bake that had previously been gotten up in honor of Secretary Robeson, and it was the example of the Secretary which caused Horace to show himself or the fact that the candidate has just arrived from that city whose ancient political cognomen was "Clamshell Corner," the doubting Democrats could not decide.—Boston Advertiser.

"In wit a man, simplicity a child,"

A valuable horse belonging to Mr. Floron Barri was drowned near Spring Market, Thursday afternoon. The animal was drawing ballast for a vessel, and in backing up to the edge of the wharf backed too far, the wheels going over. The driver, a boy, was sitting on the load, but jumped off upon the wharf in time to save himself. The loaded cart dragged the horse overboard, and neither had been seen up to a late hour, Thursday evening. We are informed that Mr. Barri had refused $300 for the horse.

AN ELECTION BET.—A bet of $1,000 was arranged in this city to-day, between a citizen of a neighboring town and a gentleman from Boston, on the Presidential election. The terms of the bet are these: The New Hampshire man bets $1,000 that Horace Greeley will be elected the next President of the United States, if he lives. The Boston man covers the money with $1,000, and should either Greeley or Grant die before the election, then each man withdraws his money. The money was deposited with one of our bankers to-day. We are authorized to say that another $1,000 is deposited in Minot's Bank, ready for a like bet. Greeley men, step to the front. Further information concerning the proffered bet can be obtained at this office.—Concord Monitor.

Hon J. H. Ela made a brilliant speech, Wednesday evening, to a large crowd on Sullivan square in Berwick, in defence of Republican principles and the policy of the administration. He arraigned the Democratic party for its studied and determined opposition to all the great acts of legislation by the party in power since 1860, which have gone into history and are proved to have been the wisest measures to establish the authority of the government, uphold the flag, maintain the national credit, give amnesty to the people of the South, to secure civil and political rights equally to white and black, giving unprecedented prosperity to the industries of the country. This is the practical question of the hour: "Is it safer to entrust the affairs of the country to a party which now acknowledges itself to have been wrong for the past twelve years, every time and all the time, than the party which is proved to have been right every time and all the time?" The Great Falls Band was in attendance. The speaker was listened to with the closest attention and was frequently applauded.

A MAN CARRIED THROUGH A SEWER. Our citizens will remember how the showers came night before last, in frequent succession, pouring torrents while they lasted, but stopping after a brief pour. Well, there were, at eight o'clock on that evening, seven men at the point in Sycamore and Abigail streets to which is completed the great sewer which is really an up-town extension of the big Eggleston avenue sewer. Their business is to clean the open end of that sewer, so as to prevent delay to workmen engaged in constructing it up Sycamore street. It had occurred to them that by stirring the sediment at the bottom of the sewer the water from the showers would wash it away, and their work would in this way be greatly expedited. After a long cessation in the rain, they went into the sewer some distance, and continued their work. While so engaged, one of those heavy, sudden showers which characterized the evening came up and poured down its tremedous streams. The first warning they had of their peril was a sudden rush of waters upon them, carrying the whole party off their feet. The four men nearest the mouth of the sewer escaped with difficulty, battling up stream against a powerful current; the other three were carried down toward the river by the galloping tide of defiled waters. Two of them caught at a manhole near the canal and succeeded in making themselves heard by their four fortunate companions who had escaped. They were drawn up to the solid ground by these. But John Clark, one of their companions, was not so fortunate. He continued to travel down to Court street, where he made a short turn and thence proceeded before the every moment increasing volume of waters to Eggleston avenue sewer, where he made a turn to the right, whence it was a straight road to the river. Mr. Clark tells the story himself. He says he proceeded down in the darkness, his back to the press of waters and his face to their current. As he could not stand up, he put himself as nearly as possible in a sitting position, and went down the stream very much as a boy slides down hill on a sled, only Mr. Clark had no sled. Coming to the mouth of the sewer, where its waters discharge in the Ohio river, he cried for help. Mr. Lewis, who lives in a tenement wharf-boat at that point, and who hires rowboats to parties, heard his cries, came to his relief, and saved him. Mr. Clark, last night, exhibited a badly torn pair of pants, and a pretty roughly bruised body. Cincinnati Gazette.

A STRANGE CASE.—At Newman, Ga., as the Herald of that town affirms, Rev. R. W. Bingham, an eminent Methodist pastor, was so unfortunate lately as to lose his much beloved wife by death. It was feared by his friends and parishioners that the terrible bereavement would prostrate him, and for a number of days the prostration had every appearance of fulfillment. Suddenly, however, the heart stricken man seemed to throw off the great burden of his grief, and assumed an aspect of reassurance curious to behold. His closed windows were thrown open, he went forth upon his pastoral duties serenely as of yore, and to any address partaking of condolement his response was replete with a spirit of almost cheerful resignation. The change greatly surprised people, of course, as it seemed to go beyond the ordinary resources even of Christian faith; and the current talk on the subject developed much diversity of conclusion until Mr. Bingham explained from the pulpit. Opening his sermon on a recent Sunday with the remark that he should debate no particular scriptural text, but preach generally upon the subject of supernatural visitations, he went on to declare that he firmly believed in the ministrations of spirits from the dead to the living; even as many passages of Holy Writ describe. As the congregation knew, his unspeakable anguish at the death of his dear wife had found a blessed alleviation, and it was his duty to tell them how he had been comforted. In the hour when his grief had reached a pitch little short of madness, God had permitted his sainted wife to reappear to him bodily and assure him of her own happiness and loving guard over himself. Again—in the night, preceded by heavenly music—she had come to him in her mortal semblance, and he had conversed with her as in life. On both occasions, he said, every power of his mind was in full operation, and he saw, heard, and understood the vision as his people could now behold, hear, and comprehend him. "I know that I am neither insane nor superstitious," were his concluding words: "yet I would as soon doubt my own existence as the truth and reality of what I have told you."

—On the 7th, Mrs. Gardiner, wife of a farmer living near Eastmanville, Ottawa county, died under circumstances the most extraordinary. Two of her sisters were dead, one but recently, only a few weeks ago. The cause of Mrs. Gardiner's death was a congestive chill, and after she had been considered dead for six hours and was being prepared for the grave, she returned to consciousness and talked freely with her attendants. She stated to those around her that she had been to the better land and had seen both of her departed sisters with other friends; that it was a most beautiful land—beyond all description! She said that she had permission to return to tell living friends of what she had seen, but that she was anxious to again return. She passed away soon after making her statement and seemingly overflowing with joy and happiness. There can be no question as to the circumstances above related.—Detroit Tribune.

KENTUCKY.—Information has been received from a very prominent Republican, who, being a native of the State and long an active citizen, has unequaled opportunities for knowing the situation, that a thorough and personal canvass of every county has been made with a view of ascertaining the probable extent of the Democratic revolt against Greeley and Brown. The result of this canvass has been tabulated, and the average Bourbon vote is estimated as at least thirty-eight per cent. of the whole Democratic vote. In some portions of the State the defection will be one-half. In the Third Congressional district Golladay is running as a straight Democrat. In the Fourth J. Proctor Knott is running. Both are likely to be elected. In these districts, it is the Bourbons, and not the Greeleyites, who will be the real opposition to the Republicans. Under this condition of affairs, Republican leaders are cherishing hopes of carrying Kentucky. The last vote was 92,000 against 124,800, making a Democratic majority of 32,800. It is conceded that at least 15,000 Democrats will not vote for Greeley. The Republican claim 10,000 colored votes and 15,000 white Republicans whose ballots have never yet been polled. They will get out nearly every negro vote, and a large proportion of the others. Complete organizations are being made. In view of these statements the Republicans hope, and their zeal seems to have reasonable foundation.

The News.

The victims of the famine in Persia number over three millions.

A young girl about seventeen years of age, the daughter of a farmer named Jemison, near St. Josephs, Mo., was leisurely reclining in a swing, when she slipped from her seat and fell to the ground. The fall was only about five feet, but the girl fell headforemost, and her neck was dislocated, causing instant death.

New Orleans has borrowed ten millions of dollars in London, at ninety cents on the dollar.

During a recent thunder-shower in Moosup, Conn., a Mrs. Goff was sitting near a window with her knitting in her lap, when a flash of lightning took one of the needles out of the work and sent it across the room, breaking it into five pieces. Mrs. Goff was not injured beyond a slight numbness, which only lasted a short time.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Morning Chronicle.

—Editors have a first-rate time in Texas. The ladies of a town out there have given to the editors of a paper an embroidered shirt, which contains a pictorial history of Texas, including the war with Mexico, and the meeting of the first legislature, and also pictures of the fruits and cereals of the State, all worked in red worsted. The editor never wore a shirt in his life, and he thought it was a banner for the temperance procession which was to come off the next week. So he made a little speech of thanks, in which he would "fling it out forever to the breezes of heaven, that they might kiss its folds, that until, his hand palsied, it should never be trailed in the dust—never!" The ladies didn't understand him, and when he talked about its trailing they blushed, and they were sorry they made it too long. But a committee-man took the editor aside, and explained the shirt to him in a whisper, and the next day he appeared at the office with the shirt mounted over his coat, and wrote four columns of explanation for his paper. The shirt is much admired by the boys of the town, and whenever the editor goes out for a walk they follow him by regiments, studying the history of Texas, and the fine arts on the back of it.

—It is reported that a man in Cincinnati fell from the top of a four story building, the other day, to the stone sidewalk beneath without being injured in the least. He was a life insurance agent, and struck on his cheek. At the time of his fall he was leaning on the edge of the roof, shoving his papers at a painter whom he had treed on a swinging scaffold underneath.

—A careful analysis by Professor Chandler, of Columbia College, New York, made by request of the Postmaster-General, sets at rest the current story that there is anything poisonous or hurtful in the several ingredients or processes used in the paper, printing or gumming of postage stamps.

—The country along the line of the Union Pacific Railroad is filling up at an unprecedented rate, and towns and villages are springing up as if by magic, hundreds of miles west of Omaha. The red men are disappearing before the rolling tide like snow before the summer sun.

—The Supreme Court of Iowa have decided that where cattle are enticed by the dripping of water from a railroad tank, and are thereby brought upon a railroad track, and while there injured, the railroad company is liable.

—A pastor in one of the Cincinnati churches preaches against lightning rods and insurance companies. He says the one is defying the God of heaven, while the other is a refusal to trust Providence.

—It is said that by pouring molasses around the roots of geraniums and then covering it with earth, they may be made to flower abundantly. Diluted hydrochloric acid will have the same effect.

—Lillian Edgarton is at work on a lecture on female dress—"From Fig Leaves to Dolly Varden." It is a good subject, and has the merit of a striking title, certainly.

—None but the brave deserve the fair. An Indiana lass is now engaged to be married to a young man whose hand she refused seven times.

Carl Schurz charges the Democrats two hundred dollars a night for telling them that their party is dead.

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.
For all the purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,
Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cleanse from within the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best cities, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

Annie and Willie's Prayer.

[The following poem, written by Mrs. Sophia P. Snow, is one of the most exquisitely touching and beautiful we have ever read. It cannot fail to reach the hearts of all who peruse it.]

'Twas eve before Christmas; good night had been said,
And Annie and Willie had crept into bed;
There were tears on their pillow, and tears in their eyes,
And each little bosom was heaving with sighs—
For to-night their stern father's command had been given
That they should retire precisely at seven,
Instead of eight; for they troubled him more
With questions unheard of than ever before;
He told them he thought this delusion a sin;
No such being as Santa Claus ever had been,
And he hoped, after this, he should never more hear
How he scrambled down chimneys with presents each year.

And this was the reason that two little heads
So restlessly tossed on their soft, downy beds.
Eight, nine, and the clock on the steeple tolled ten;
Not a word had been spoken by either till then,
When Willie's sad face from the blanket did peep,
And whispered, "Dear Annie, is you fast asleep?"
"Why, no, brother Willie," a sweet voice replies,
"I've tried it in vain, but I can't shut my eyes:
For somehow it makes me so sorry because
Dear papa has said there is no Santa Claus;
Now we know there is, and it can't be denied;
For he came every year before mamma died;
But then, I've been thinking that she used to pray,
And God would hear everything mamma would say,
And perhaps she asked him to send Santa Claus here,
With the sacks full of presents he brought every year."

"Well, why can't we pay dest as mamma did, then,
And ask him to send him with presents aden?"
"I've been thinking so, too." And without a word more,
Four little bare feet bounded out on the floor,
And four little knees the soft carpet pressed,
And two tiny hands were clasped close to each breast.
"Now, Willie, you know we must firmly believe
That the presents we ask for we're sure to receive;
You must wait just as still till I say the 'Amen,'
And by that you will know that your turn has come then."

"Dear Jesus, look down on my brother and me,
And grant us the favor we are asking of Thee!
I want a wax doll, a tea-set and ring,
And an ebony work-box that shuts with a spring;
Bless papa, dear Jesus, and cause him to see
That Santa Claus loves us far better than he;
Don't let him get recruit and angry again
At dear brother Willie and Annie, Amen."
"Please Desus, let Santa Taus tum down to-night,
And bring us some presents before it is light;
I want he should give me a nice little sed,
With bright shinin' runners, and all painted red,
A box full of candy, a book and a toy,
Amen, and then, Desus, I'll be a dood boy."

Their prayers being ended, they raised up their heads,
And with hearts light and cheerful, again sought their beds,
They were soon lost in slumber, both peaceful and deep,
And with fairies in Dreamland were roaming in sleep.
Eight, nine, and the little French clock had struck ten,
Ere the father had thought of his children again;
He seems now to hear Annie's half-suppressed sighs,
And to see the big tears stand in Willie's blue eyes.
"I was harsh with my darlings," he mentally said,
"And should not have sent them so early to bed;
But then, I was troubled—my feelings found vent,
For bank stock to-da' has gone down ten per cent.
But of course they've forgotten their troubles ere this,
And that I denied them the thrice-asked-for kiss;
But, just to make sure, I'll steal up to their door,
For I never spoke harsh to my darlings before."

So saying, he softly ascended the stairs,
And arrived at the door to hear both of their prayers.
His Annie's "bless papa" draws forth the big tears,
And Willie's grave promise falls sweet on his ears.
"Strange, strange, I'd forgotten," said he, with a sigh,
"How I longed, when a child, to have Christmas draw nigh.
I'll atone for my harshness," he inwardly said,
"By answering their prayers ere I sleep in my bed."
Then he turned to the stairs and softly went down,
Throw off velvet slippers and silk dressing gown—
Donned hat, coat and boots, and was out in the street—
A millionaire facing the cold, driving sleet.
Nor stopped he until he had bought everything,
From the box full of candy to the tiny gold ring;
Indeed, he kept adding so much to his store,
That the various presents outnumbered a score.
Then homward he turned with his holiday load,
And, with Aunt Mary's help, in the nursery 'twas stowed;
Miss Dolly was seated beneath a pine tree,
By the side of a table spread out for her tea;
A work-box well filled in the center was laid,
And on it a ring, for which Annie had prayed;
A soldier in uniform stood by a sled,
"With bright shining runners and all painted red."

There were balls, dogs and horses, books pleasing to see,
And birds of all colors were perched in the tree;
While Santa Claus laughing, stood up in the top,
As if getting ready more presents to drop.
And as the fond father the picture surveyed,
He thought for his trouble he had amply been paid,
And he said to himself, as he brushed off a tear,
"I'm happier to-night than I've been for a year.
I've enjoyed more true pleasure than ever before,
What care I if bank stock falls ten per cent. more!
Hereafter, I'll make it a rule, I believe,
To have Santa Claus visit on each Christmas Eve."
So thinking, he gently extinguished the light,
And tripped down the stairs to retire for the night.

As soon as the beams of the bright morning sun
Put the darkness to flight, and the stars, one by one,
Four little blue eyes out of sleep opened wide,
And at the same moment the presents espied.
Then out of their beds they sprang with a bound,
And the very gifts prayed for were all of them found.
They laughed and they cried in their innocent glee,
And shouted for "papa" to come quick and see
What presents old Santa Claus brought in the night,
(Just the things that they wanted), and left before light.
"And now," added Annie, in a voice soft and low,
"You'll believe there's a Santa Claus, papa, I know;"
While dear little Willie climbed up on his knee,
Determined no secret between them should be;
And told in soft whispers how Annie had said
That their dear, blessed mamma, so long ago dead,
Used to kneel down and pray by the side of her bed,
And that God up in heaven had answered her prayer!
"Then we got up an payed des as well as we tood,
And Dod answered our prayers; now wasn't he dood?"
"I should say that He was if He sent you all these,
And knew just what presents my children would please.
Well, well, let him think so, dear little elf,
'Twould be cruel to tell him I did it myself."
Blind father! who caused your stern heart to relent?
And the hasty words spoken so soon to repent?
'Twas the Being who bade you steal softly up stairs,
And made you His agent to answer their prayers.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,
Pulmocine Cordial
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred PULMONARY DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the source of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescure, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
In the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.
USE BUCHMAN'S
PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupulins, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Palpitating of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.
COUCHS. Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.
CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.
PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 24, 1872.

The News.

The work of the tribunal of arbitration of Alabama claims draws to a close.

Last week a young girl slipped from a rock near Terrapin tower, below the bridge, into Niagara river, and was being swept down by the current when her father sprang in and saved her. The water was shallow enough to allow him to maintain his footing.

Thursday's storm was a heavy one in Boston. Dock Square was inundated.

Russia and China are contemplating war.

The speculators lost $2,000,000 by cornering wheat at Chicago.

Portland claims 35,000 inhabitants.

Returns from West Virginia indicate the defeat of the proposed Constitution and re-election of Gov. Jacob, independent Democrat, over Camden, Greeleyite.

State News.

Thomas Stevens was found dead on Tuesday morning in the woods near his residence at Alton. He was found lying upon his back with an axe in his hand and a pole by his side. A bruise was discovered upon his head, which indicated that he fell, from some cause, striking his head upon a rock.

A Rochester Frenchwoman has for the twentieth time done her level best to augment the French-speaking population of this country.

Snuff dipping at Manchester.

A young lady in Lee recently sold her hair, which was about as long as herself, for $55. She can get a living "out of her own head," if it produces a crop often enough.

Mr. John Mullen of Nashua has second crop grass six feet high.

A horse belonging to Howe's London circus, value $1500, was killed at Grafton on Wednesday morning, and one of the men seriously injured, the roads being nearly impassable on account of the heavy rains.

On the 14th in Tuftonborough, a child of Mr. D. W. Horner was found drowned in a mill pond.

In Nashua, Thursday, Fanny Fuller was badly and possibly fatally injured at the factory of the Nashua Card and Glazed Paper Company by being drawn into a rolling machine under which she was sweeping.

Dr. Kimball of Lowell successfully removed an ovarian tumor weighing seventy-five pounds from Mrs. Michael Haley of Suncook.

There has been another heavy slide in the White Mountain Notch, near the Willey house. No one was hurt.

A barn of Mr. Daniel Chadburn of Great Falls was struck by lightning Thursday, and entirely burned. It contained 200 tons of hay. Loss $3000, and no insurance.

A FAMILY MURDERED.—An atrocious murder was brought to light by the arrest of a man named Osborne, at Cleremont, Mo. Osborne was travelling with a team and covered wagon, and stopped for some purpose, when some men were attracted to the wagon by the stench proceeding from it. Upon an examination five dead bodies were found. Osborne confessed, at the end of a rope, that the murders were committed by one Williams, near Holton, Kansas, and that he (Osborne) was compelled to take the bodies out of the way. He confessed that he had travelled with this load five days. From a memorandum found on the body of one of the victims, it was inferred that they were a party of movers, consisting of Mr. Oms, his wife and two children, and a young man named Dickinson. It is thought that Osborne will be executed by the people who have him in charge.

GOOD EXCHANGE.—A Worcester lady, while riding to Boston recently, was annoyed by the officious politeness of a man who occupied the car seat with her. At his departure, which she hurried by her evident suspicion, she found that he had proved a pocket-picker of her portemonnaie. In her search for the missing article she, however, discovered that while performing his theft he had slipped a diamond leaving it attached to the lining of her dress. Jewelers of Boston offer $250 for the ring, and the lady is just ten times the richer from her adventure.

The Boston Museum lecture room has been transformed into one of the most elegant theatres in the country.

It cost one dollar a minute to light the Coliseum with gas.

Political.

It is a noticeable fact that the farther from Maine the political sages reside, the less belief they have of a Republican victory, while the nearer political prophets are located to the Dirigo State, the greater is their faith in Republican success.

Hon. Robert C. Winthrop says he shrinks "from helping to overturn the coach merely to get a new driver, and certainly a far less competent one"—and shall give his vote for General Grant.

Chief Justice Church of New York declines to run against Gen. Dix as the Democratic candidate for Governor.

The Philadelphia North American is right when it says:—

We know very well that a Republican victory in Pennsylvania is as necessary for the good of other States and the country as for her own, and that if a triumphant majority is given Hartranft first everything is won.

Twenty-five hundred people listened to Secretary Robeson's address at Portland.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says a wagon went through Canton, Illinois, recently, filled with movers going East, and printed in large letters on each side of the card, "Going home to vote for Grant."

The love of the Democracy for Charles Sumner is one of the most wonderful things on earth. It is very strong, considering its extreme youth.

The labor reform national convention at Philadelphia nominated Charles O'Conor of New York for President and Willard Saulsbury of Delaware for Vice President.

What the Democracy wants now is a first class victory somewhere. The only real triumph they have achieved this season was last week in Iron County, Missouri, where a gang of six disguised Democrats dragged an old man and his son from the house, and after beating them ordered them to leave the county. This is hardly a full offset to North Carolina, but it indicates that the Democratic fires still burn in some localities.—Indianapolis Journal.

The New York Tribune and Herald think General Dix the very strongest nomination which could have been made by the Republicans. The Times considers the ticket the strongest that could be made.

The people of the United States know Gen. Grant—have known all about him since Donelson and Vicksburg; they do not know his slanders, and do not care to know them.—Horace Greeley.

What sort of a figure would Uncle Samuel have cut, dismissing George Washington to Mount Vernon at the close of his first term, on account of the slanders of the Schurzes, Greeleys and Trumbulls of that time?

In Rochester, Minnesota, one hundred and thirty Democrats have signed a call to elect delegates to the Louisville Convention.

The Alabama State Journal (conservative) says the ticket nominated by the Republican State convention is an unobjectionable one, far superior to the Democratic and Liberal ticket; that it pleases the people and will be elected.

General Franz Sigel, of New York, will make several speeches for Grant in that State, in September, in reply to Schurz.

Gen. Grant remarked, in reply to some earnest queries as to political matters addressed to him a few days since, that, "while he had no unkind words to utter concerning Senator Sumner, he was perfectly willing to place his acts against Sumner's words."

Hon. Thomas Steere, who was last year the Democratic candidate for Governor of Rhode Island, addressed the Woonsocket Republicans on Wednesday night in favor of Grant and Wilson.

Thirty-one States have chosen delegates to the Louisville Convention. The question will soon arise, which is the "side show" and which the "mammoth circus"—that at Cincinnati or that at Louisville.

Another influential German paper, in Wisconsin, the Botschafter, has come out for Grant and Wilson.

The New York Tribune arraigns Stanley Matthews for inconsistency. There is only one consistent man before the public now, his name is Horace Greeley.

Governor Jewell says that the Greeley defection in Connecticut is like the ignis fatuus—you chase it up and it disappears. It is like the stories of ague—none here, but they have it in the next town. The only deserters are ex-officeholders and unappreciated office-seekers.

Now the question is, Can Greeley carry New Jersey?

To the Editor of the Commercial Advertiser:—During my temporary absence from New York my attention has been called to an article in the New York Star, which says that no one can deny the fact that President Grant has been in my house with Fisk and others, engaged in drinking and debauchery. While I have no interest in defending President Grant, yet I feel that justice compels me to deny such an infamous falsehood. Gen. Grant was never in my house in his life.—H. Josie Mansfield.

A statement having been published in New York that the sum of $10,000 had been deposited at one of the newspaper offices as a wager that Horace Greeley would be elected, several supporters of General Grant made up a purse to take the bet and were unable to find the other parties.

In the town of Warren, Ohio, thirty Republicans have declared for Greeley, which looks bad. In the same town eighty-seven Democrats have declared for Grant, which looks better.

Greeley is a Universalist. Brown is a Presbyterian.

The venerable Rev. Dr. Leonard Bacon, in the Independent, says: "Surely, if there is any such thing as the historical identity of a party, notwithstanding its losses and its enforcements, the party which is now putting forth its strength for the election of Mr. Greeley, and which is sure of being dominant if he shall be elected, is identical with the party which was victorious in the election of Buchanan."

Mosby writes that Grant will carry Virginia unless O'Conor is nominated, who will then carry it.

Judge Bond has arranged to have the enforcement act, as amended by the last session of Congress, enforced in North Carolina during the coming Presidential election.

Nicholsville, Michigan, has 42 voters—all Grant men.

Two ways of looking at it; Gushing Greeley man—"Remember the parable of the Prodigal Son, in the Good Book, and let us show a spirit of compassion, as did the father of the erring one." Practical Republican—"Oh, yes; remember that story perfectly—how the old man went out and met the erring one, and gave him a suit of clothes and a ring, and veal supper, and then a hop in the evening; but I don't remember reading that the old gentleman asked him to take charge of the farm."

A Democratic club organized at Atlanta, Ga., in opposition to the Greeley movement, numbers 400 members and is still growing.

A novel straw was discovered floating on "the tidal wave" at Albany last Saturday. A bet was made that seventy-five Grant men would pass a certain point on Madison avenue before twenty-five Greeleyites would pass. The Grant man won by seventy-eight Republicans to seventeen Greeleyites.

It is a fact worthy of notice, that all the indecent publications are for Greeley.

Hon. Geo. A. Quigley, a prominent Democrat from Philadelphia, and a Democratic member of the Legislature in 1871, is outspoken against Greeley, and challenges any Democratic Greeley man to meet him on the stump to discuss the questions of the day.

Mr. Neff, a Greeley candidate for Congress in Indiana, is only 27 years old.

The Home Journal of Anderson, Grimes county, Texas, prints a likeness of Greeley and Brown, the one bald headed and white whiskered, followed by the hirsute Gratz Brown. An old man was looking at it in the office recently, and said: "If I really thought it would produce such a change I would order a half dozen bottles." He had taken them for the same individual before and after using a hair restorative.

Senator Zach. Chandler wants to bet $10,000 that Grant and Wilson will carry Pennsylvania by 40,000 majority.

Tennessee has her Brown-low, and Missouri has her Brown-high.

The Clayton county, Iowa, Journal, a paper of twenty years' standing, lately advocating Greeley and Brown, has now pulled this flag down and goes for Grant and Wilson heartily.

"The Lord Almighty has just left" was Mr. Lincoln's way of saying he had just received the honor of a visit from Senator Sumner.

—A miserable boy on Rose Hill found a Roman candle in the house, recently and chalking it perfectly white succeeded in palming it off on his aged grandmother as a genuine tallow article. When that excellent lady went to light it, the deception was soon apparent, but by retaining her presence of mind she fell over two chairs without seriously hurting herself. The author of the mischief now sits down with a crutch.—Danbury News.

—Twelve thousand mosquitoes to each cubic foot of atmosphere is the allowance at Key West.

—Flaminius Olympiosthanes Agrippa Williams sets type in San Francisco.

—We wrote yesterday that "white pique costumes are now popular," and were gravely informed by the proof this morning that, "white pine coffins are not poplar." Truth crushed to earth will rise again, they say.—Dadbury News.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for a throat diseases. For sale at the Union St

☞One form of Catarrh begins with uneasiness of nose; the nose is obstructed by the thickened lining membrance and feels dry, a desire to pick it, bleeds a little, sores soon start, spread and get deeper, crust forms on them large and hard to get away, matter discharges, flesh is eaten and the bone decays, breath very offensive and face becomes very di-figured. Terrible disease! Nothing will cure but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery taken earnestly to correct the blood and system, locally, use Dr. Sages's Catarrh Remedy, a healing specific, and to apply it properly, Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche. This reaches all the diseased parts. All these sure means of cure sold together for $2 by Druggists. 605.

A DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE.—Ladies whose faces are clouded by superficial discolorations, and who have resolved to try Hagan's Magnolia Balm as a remedy, have no idea of the welcome surprise they will receive from their mirrors after a few applications of that healthful purifier of the complexion. If at all excitable, they will scream with rapture on beholding the change; whether the blemish it is desired to remove be sallowness, blotches, pimples, freckles, roughness, or an unnatural pallor, it is bound to disappear under the tonic operation of this wonderful agent. To say that the blemish disappears, does not, however, convey any idea of the effect produced by this celebrated beautifier. The unsightly tinge, whether diffused over the whole countenance or in spots, or patches, is replaced by a uniform, pearly bloom, to which no description can do justice.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a fallen character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.,) Journal.

DECAY'S EFFACING FINGER.—Will never mar the teeth that are brushed daily with Odenferous SOZODONT. It lends a floral fragrance to the breath as well as protects the teeth from corrosion and decomposition.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—When the flesh wastes, the strength declines, the liver becomes torpid, and the bowels become irregular, indigestion is the primary cause. In all such cases Holloway's Pills are an immediate, never failing cure. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

MISCHIEF IN THE AIR.—We cannot analyze the aerial poisons that produce epidemic and endemic diseases; but the valuable discoveries which have been made in vegetable pharmacy enable us to counteract their malific influence. The most powerful known antidote to every species of malaria is Hostetters Stomach Bitters, a pure botanical medicine, in which the finest anti-septics, tonics, alteratives and stimulants of the vegetable kingdom are skillfully and effectively combined. At seasons of the year when the atmosphere is surcharged with miasma, and whenever the specific virus of any infectious disease is supposed to be present in the air, this famous corrective should be taken regularly as a protective. All who choose to observe this precaution may bid defiance to intermittent and remittent fevers, and in fact to all disorders generated by foul exhalations or impure water.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged health will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effects it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

—Chicago calls itself a railroad centre from the fact that ninety-two trains depart daily and arrive at that city. When the Rockingham County House was built at Brentwood, the construction of a dam to secure a fall for making the hydraulic rams, to supply the premises with water, caused considerable damage to the adjoining farm of Mr. John Taylor, by flowage. After repeated applications to the different Boards of County Commissioners since, for settlement of his damage, Mr. Taylor recently proposed to refer the matter to a committee appointed by the County Legislative Convention or by the Commissioners; and the latter preferring that the Convention should take the responsibility, a committee of three Representatives, (Messrs. Wm. C. Patten of Kingston, Lovering of Newmarket, and Beede of Fremont,) was appointed from the members during the late session of the Legislature. This committee, with the Commissioners, met at the farm last week, and after examination of the premises and hearing the evidence in the case, awarded $650 for Mr. Taylor's damage. He had previously asked for $1000, and the Commissioners had estimated it at about $500.

Marine Band are to give a grand open air concert on the green in front of the Appledore House at the Shoals, this (Saturday) evening, commencing at quarter before 7 o'clock, giving the guests at that popular resort a chance to hear some of the best music, played in a style not easily to be beaten. The regular Saturday evening "hop" will take place as usual, after the concert by the full Band is over.

Work is progressing on the excavation for the new reservoir which is to be built in the Hanover Street school-house yard, the operations being directed by Mr. Joseph R. Holmes. The reservoir is to be 76 feet long and 10 feet wide in the clear, and about 13 feet deep; 112,000 bricks will be used in its construction, and when completed it will hold about 60,000 gallons of water. A tradition concerning a never-failing spring of water which formerly welled up on the site selected for the reservoir, has been verified by the workmen finding a barrel (evidently the one which was the spring reservoir years ago) several feet under ground, and by the bursting out of the spring itself. The flow of water is so abundant that a steam pump is necessary to keep it down sufficiently for the men to work, and it will probably increase as the hole is sunk further below the level of the spring's fountain-head. If so, it will be a valuable supplement to the scanty water supply of the Fire Department.

Two moonatics have been amusing the crowd on Market Square, evenings, bawling at the top of their voices. They pretend to heal all diseases if a person will follow their instructions, eat no meat, have no home, put no money in the bank, and divers ridiculous directions. The Water Question.

Much has been written and said in relation to a lack of water in our city, and there can be no greater compliment paid to the forbearance of the water-takers of this city than a mention of the fact that they have so long refrained from taking decisive measures toward redressing this grievance. The simple truth is that the Portsmouth Aqueduct Company is a strong monopoly with law and money to back it; and as such is very naturally tyrannical; inasmuch that when complaint is made to the Agent in regard to the irregular supply of water the invariable answer is, "can't help it;" and if further pressed to know what can be done to secure more water, the complainant is met by a threat to "cut it off." Now, in view of this state of things, we want to know how long this grievance is to be submitted to? If it is settled that nothing can be done in the way of of correcting it we would like to understand it, and then we will brace ourselves to meet the exigency martyr like, and get duly duly credited as martyrs to one of the most complete monopolies that ever afflicted a community. TAYLOR'S ADMINISTRATION.—We find a letter in the San Francisco Bulletin giving interesting details of the writer's interviews with Thurlow Weed, who ten years ago was the most powerful politician in the United States. We have room only for the following extract:—

The conversation one evening after dinner turned upon Gen. Taylor, his nomination, election and brief administration. "The history of the administration," said Mr. Weed, "which has never yet been published, is briefly this: In casting about for a Whig candidate for the Presidency, my attention was early fixed upon Gen. Taylor as the proper man to lead the party to victory. After canvassing the matter with friends, and bringing them over to my views, I boldly broke the ice by communicating with Gen. Taylor, which I did through his brother, Col. Taylor, going down the Hudson River one night. I told him to tell the General that public sentiment which had not yet developed, would eventually centre upon him in due time; that what he had to do was not to look back toward Washington, but to look forward to Mexico, and that under no circumstances must he write letters or make pledges. The programme worked quite as well as I expected. Millard Fillmore, who owed everything to me, and in whom I had confidence, was placed second on the ticket. We were successful. Gen. Taylor who felt his want of experience, was disposed to lean upon Vice-President Fillmore, and even wished to make him ex-officio, a member of the cabinet. Hardly was the inauguration over when Fillmore began to act as if he were the head of the government. He turned his back upon the men who had made him, and endeavored to destroy their influence.

One day on going to Washington, I found to my surprise that I was rejected at the Departments and denied access to the White House. I saw there was something in the wind, and resolved to meet it at once. I called on Col. Taylor, brother of the President, and told him what had happened. He was equally surprised and indignant, and promised to see the President at once. Soon after I received a summons to the White House, where I was most cordially received and my requests promptly granted. From that time forward my relations with Gen. Taylor were of the most friendly character.

Near the end of the session of Congress of June '49, I was sent for by the President, who told me he wished to consult me about matters of the most grave importance to himself, the party and the country. He said in substance that he had made up his mind to reconstruct his Cabinet; as it stood it failed either to satisfy him or the country. Two of the members he had learned with pain and surprise, were interested as parties or counsel in a notorious claim against the government; another was arrogating functions belonging to the Executive "There must," said the General, "be a change, a radical change, and at once; and I have sent for you to assist me in organizing a new cabinet." I reluctantly consented, and before the interview was over two of the members of the cabinet were fixed upon: Hamilton Fish for Secretary of the Treasury, and Edward Stanley, then of North Carolina, now of California, for Secretary of War. The matter was kept a profound secret even from the gentlemen themselves, the intention being to announce the new Cabinet immediately after the adjournment of Congress. But before the programme could be carried out, President Taylor was taken suddenly ill and died in a few hours. Fillmore succeeded to the Presidency, threw off the mask, and stood revealed an ingrate to his friends and traitor to his party. Gov. Stanley was told years after by me how near he came to being a Cabinet Minister."

—It is now claimed that the architect of the great "Chinese wall" was a woman; but a woman wouldn't do anything to keep men out in that way.

L. BLUMAUER'S

Morning Chronicle.

—At our annual district school meeting it happened that one half of the electors that gathered were my kinsmen. The other man—there were four of us all told—was a chum of mine, so that we had things pretty much our own way. But we were cautious. The opposition are making such a row about "nepotism" that I nominated a man only related to me by marriage, for "moderator," with fear and trembling. Robin the mason—he's colored, you know—called in, but being a modest man, and thinking he wasn't wanted there, probably, took his leave before the meeting was organized. The horror of putting relatives in office was so strong in my bones that in the caucus preceding regular action, I proposed Robin as school committee man. I didn't see how a white man could nominate another white man to any place without being more or less guilty of nepotism, so I went for Robbins as not being so nearly connected by blood with my family. Robin has a household of children and must be as much interested in schools as any of us—without it is somebody who wants to get a place for one of their children to teach close by home. But although there seemed no opposition to Robin from any one present, his name was allowed to drop from the caucus, chiefly, I reckon, because it was thought that he might not want to bother with office-holding just now. So we put in an upright man of the opposite party—school committee, district clerk, and treasurer, all under one head, and adjourned. I believe in the one man power, so you get the right man, and let him know that you trust him to do the best thing. The next day I fell in with a matron of this neighborhood, and mentioned how we had considered Robin as an eligible candidate for the first office in the gift of the district. Bridling up with a severe look of inquiry, she asked me if I thought Robin fit for a committee man, and if I thought the district would put up with a nigger at the head of the school affairs? I was a little struck aback by this but having been a district functionary for a year past, I knew something of the duties of a school committee man, and had made up my mind that any average pair of shanks could do all the district wanted done. There was a cheap school marm to hire—we don't want ours chool to cost us anything—a broom, a pail, a dipper, and a box of matches, to buy, and probably some whitewashing and puttying, and the like, to see to. All the accounts to be supervised by the magnates of the town, with a deal of running from one to the other of 'em. Rather small business for Robin, I called it. I would trust him with bigger matters. My questioner, you see, would probably—if she had a vote this fall—put in a "liberal" ticket, and I had supposed since the things at Baltimore, that prejudice against color was abated. But I reckon Robin knows better. And the chief objection to his being committee man is, that there are still some in the district who haven't much that they can justly take pride in except the color of their cuticle. No honorable, sensitive man, fit for public or private service, can do his level best unless he has the confidence of his employers. As for Robin's knowing what sort of a teacher to hire, I'd trust him for knowing a teacher of a sterling sort quicker then any man in the district. His race have had their perceptions sharpened in that direction. Robin knows a gentlewoman or a gentleman as quick as our hens know a hawk. As for Robin's respectability, or financial condition—bless my soul, marm!—he's got three of the best acres of tobaccco in this town! Still this matron was unconvinced. I reckon she hasn't seen much of the Tribune or its editor, unless that has happened very lately.—Hartford Courant.

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood.

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cures of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Corporations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

ESTABLISHED 1862. | MARSTON & FREEMAN, PROPRIETORS. | GEO. W. MARSTON, I. P. MILLER, EDITORS.

The Chronicle.

—Margery Deane says that the belle of Newport is a white haired Philadelphia lady.

—The Greeley family used to spell their name Greele. The change has been a "y's" one.

—Lightning set the grass on fire at a New Jersey picnic,and everybody thought the comet was upon them.

—In a recent article in the Dublin University Magazine, insanity is defined as dyspepsia of the brain.

—A railroad brakeman in St. Louis nearly twisted his wife's ears off in his sleep recently. He dreamed he heard the long whistle.

—A woman has been sent to jill for three months by the Liverpool magistrates for stripping children in the streets and selling their clothes.

—They do smoke out mosquitoes at Stanwich, Mich. The last time they tried it they burned a girl and a boy and scorched a woman.

—A colored soprano singer who went from Boston to Great Britain having met with pecuniary success, a company has made arrangements to export to England a large supply of black bass.

—Among the petitions presented to M. Thiers is one presenting a plan to preserve the heads of the guillotined, and to exhibit them from time to time as a warning to evil-doers; also, a scheme that citizens should receive numbers instead of names.

—The Port Byron (N. Y.) barbers are restrained by ordinance from shaving on Sunday within the village precincts. They accordingly set up their chairs outside the corporation, on the day of rest, where they do a brisk business shaving the grizzly chins of canal drivers and whoever chooseth to patronize them.

—Gogo is the name of the inner bark of a tree, if not the sapling itself, the produce of the Philippine islands, a few bales of which were first imported at New York from Manila about a month ago. Two of them have since been sold at fifteen cents currency. This article is a natural curiosity, having the properties of ordinary soap, and is used for washing and cleansing purposes for which it seems well adapted.

—A young Ausonia merchant did a bright thing. He was walking home with his sweetheart and having an errand to do at the hotel had stopped there a moment, while the lady walked on slowly. On coming out he espied her (as he thought) ahead, and approaching stealthily, threw his arm around her, wishing to make a surprise party. He succeeded as well in surprising himself as the lady, for she turned a strange face on him and said "Sir!" and he went right away without answering "Ma'am."

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract the effects of poisons, barbels pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Corative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the softest Insteps, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. TEACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the choice of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

What Do They Mean?

More than one Republican sorehead, as a reason for going over to the Democratic party, has advanced the brilliant idea that "the Republican party, having been called into existence for a specific purpose, now that its mission has been accomplished should disband." But not one of the wise men who have thus authoritatively decided that the Republican party has existed as long as it has an honorable right to, has told us what the special mission of the party was, for which it was called into being. From this we are inclined to believe that each individual sorehead imagines the special mission of the Republican party to be to give him office and power; and that its failure to fulfil that important mission is the true reason why they desire its disbandment. If not, what do the turncoats really mean by the "mission" of the Republican party?

The destruction of human slavery could not have been the "specific purpose" for which the Republican party was organized, for it required two years of a desperate and bloody war to bring the party up to a determination to abolish that gigantic curse; and it could not have been the preservation of the Union which called the Republican party into being, for the Democratic party would never have attempted to destroy the Union if they could have had their own sweet will in all national affairs. But suppose either of these objects was the specific one for which the Republican party was called into existence, what grounds would its fulfilment offer for the dissolution of the organization? The principles of the two great parties were antagonistic from the first; if the mission of the Republican party was to destroy slavery, that of the Democratic party must have been to preserve it; and in this case that the latter has utterly failed to fulfil its mission is a good reason why it should disband,—why it should have done so years ago. If saving the Union was the special mission of the Republican party, we fail to see why the fulfilment of that mission can be a reason for disbanding the organization and handing the preserved Union over to the party which failed to carry out its special mission of destroying it.

The sapient gentlemen who tell the Republican party that the time has come for it to disband, seem to entertain an idea that the Democratic party has a sort of perpetual "divine right" to rule the country, and that though the Republican or some other organization may sometimes be necessary to correct the blunders of the Democrats and give them political chastisement when they get too far from the right path to be able to get back without aid, yet the corrective organizations are but temporary affairs and are in duty bound to give way to the permanent Democratic party, as soon as the latter professes to have become good enough to be once more entrusted with the government. We can't see it in that light.

Our idea of the special mission of the Republican party is, that it was called into existence to secure for the country a purer and better government than was possible under Democratic rule, and to make American liberty something more than a satire, which was all the Democratic party had made it. If this mission has been fulfilled, all the more reason that the party should be maintained—to fulfil other high and holy "missions." If our idea of the matter is incorrect, will some wise "liberal"—we don't care who or where he is—have the kindness to explain to us what the special mission of the Republican party was, and why its fulfilment is sufficient reason for the disbandment of the organization? And while he is at it, we would like to have him explain what the special mission of the Democratic party was; whether or not it fulfilled that special mission,—if it did, why it did not at once disband, and if it did not, why it should not have disbanded all the sooner; and what "special mission" (other than "Anything to beat Grant," with a fresh division of the loaves and fishes thrown in,) now calls for the restoration to power of the party whose desperate efforts failed to achieve the fulfilment of its own "special mission" or to prevent the fulfilment of the "special mission" of the Republican organization.

Political.

In Missouri a coalition between the Democrats and liberals has been formed and a joint nomination for governor made, the candidate being a Democrat, Silas Woodson. The liberals get a large share of the other State offices.

Jem Mace goes for Greeley.

It is said that a letter from Charles Francis Adams has been received, in which he declines to be a candidate for governor of Massachusetts, and declares for President Grant.

O'Baldwin goes for Greeley.

One of the editors of the St. Louis Globe has conversed with a prominent gentleman just from North Carolina, who asserts, from his observation of the strength of Republican sentiment, and from figures and facts obtained in his travels over a large portion of the State, that the majority for Grant and Wilson will be ten thousand, instead of that now conceded by the Democrats.

The contributions to Mr. Greeley's civil-service record during the week have not been of a kind to make one feel hopeful about his administration on this point. It appears that he warmly recommended for office Joshua F. Bailey, the defaulting revenue collector of this city, whom the Tribune has since been denouncing as one of the rascals for whom the Administration is responsible. It also appears that, having lent $15,000 to a son of Commodore Vanderbilt, a shiftless and irresponsible young man, and having in vain applied to the father for payment, Mr. Greeley deliberately proceeded to recommend his debtor to Mr. Stewart (that horrible illegal Secretary) for employment as an assessor of internal revenue — young Vanderbilt's salary, got from the public treasury, being his only means of paying his confiding patron. In ordinary times such facts as these would damn a "reform candidate" at once, but when you mention them to a Greeleyite he smiles and begins to talk about the weather, or denounces the "tyranny of party," or wants to "clasp hands."—New York Nation.

All the roughs go for Greeley.

A letter from the editor of a prominent Republican paper in Oregon predicts that that State will give two thousand majority for Grant and Wilson unless the favorable course of affairs should be checked by a reverse in Maine.

The comet, the New York Tribune insists, may come yet, and people had better not commence being wicked and reckless at once. "Comets are eccentric. Astronomers are fallible. The comet may have stopped somewhere to wood and water. When it was first observed it was 3,000,000,000 miles from the earth. Its rate of travel is nineteen miles a second. Now, when we come to cypher from numerical data like these, it is easy to make a mistake of a few billions of miles or so." To be sure. Figures are delicate things, and easily disarranged. There were those first figures from North Carolina, for instance, and North Carolina is but a short distance from New York.—Cincinnati Chronicle.

Mr. Greeley gave his New Hampshire friends some valuable information about the proper treatment of dried-apple trees. He prefers that kind to any other because they can't be tapped in the spring for cider, like the horrible crab variety whose sap so seriously affected poor Brown's health in New Haven the other day.—Chicago Post.

John Morrissey goes for Greeley.

In Indiana the Republicans have begun the present struggle with an energy that is sweeping the State from one end to the other for their cause.

The Pennsylvania labor reformers are opposing Buckalew, the Democratic candidate, vigorously, and will aid in defeating him.

Senator Wilson emphatically denies that he ever said to Rev. C. W. Denison that "President Grant drinks too much," as Mr. Denison alleges.

The Richmond Enquirer, thoroughly alarmed, pleads with Mr. O'Conor as a man pleads with a brother, not to taint his high reputation by permitting his name to be used against the immaculate democrat, Horace Greeley.

Rev. C. W. Denison, whose report of Senator Wilson's conversation on the personal habits of President Grant the Senator sharply denies, hasn't an altogether untarnished record himself. The records of the War department, it is stated, show that he lost his chaplaincy of a volunteer regiment for conduct unbecoming an officer, and his observance of the obligations of the Masonic order has also been too liberal and spasmodic to meet the demands of a consistent member.

Doolittle stumped New Hampshire, and it went Republican; Doolittle stumped Connecticut, and it went Republican; Doolittle stumped North Carolina, and it went Republican; Doolittle is now stumping Maine—that means that Maine will of course go Republican.—Kentucky Statesman.

A few evenings since at the Twin Mountain House there was a "sheet and pillow-case" party, and two of the party, for fun's sake, approached Mr. Beecher, and extending their congratulations, announced themselves as "Greeley men." "I am glad to see you," responded Mr. B., "and hope to see all your party in grave-clothes before November."

Tennessee advices represent the Democracy of that State as very badly demoralized by ex-President Johnson's independent race for congressman at large. The opposition to the clique of rebel generals which defeated him in the convention is very strong, and the Republicans now have hopes of carrying three districts in Tennessee.

The Republicans of North Carolina have nominated F. J. Moses, jr., for Governor.

Greeley, being charged with having prophesied that he would carry two of the Eastern States, emphatically denies that he said any such thing. This relieves him of the derision which the absurd statement must have brought upon him, if it had stood uncorrected.—St. Louis Globe.

The Republican party is gaining strength in Kentucky, and unless Greeley is thrown overboard the Democratic bulk may be wrecked in its own swamps. —Illinois State Journal.

The anti-Blair men of Missouri propose to nominate Hon. James S. Rollins for Governor. Mr. Rollins was the Free Soil candidate for Governor in 1856.

This is the way Greeleyism is "growing, and swelling, and sweeping over the land."

In May—"Hurrah for Old Horace and Reform!"

In June—"Greeley has his faults, but we can stand them."

In July—"Anyway, Greeley is better than Grant."

In August—"No Greeley in mine, thank you."—Cleveland Herald.

Since the nomination of Judge Henry Baxter as the Republican candidate for Governor of Arkansas, the Democrats admit that the State will be Republican by 20,000 majority.

A dispatch from Marthasburg, West Virginia, states that enough is known of the election in the State to show that the Constitution is defeated by two to three thousand majority, and that Jacob (Independent Democrat) is elected by the same vote. The word "white" as a qualification for office was submitted for a separate vote, and almost unanimously voted down.

It is reported that Horace Greeley is to withdraw as a Presidential candidate.

A GOOD HIT.—The Boston Advertiser makes a palpable hit in remarking that there is a prospect of seeing the "coalition" organs, with aid from the "independent press," strive to prove Horace Greeley a better Republican than General Grant and a better Democrat than Charles O'Conor.

The News.

Great floods are reported in Brazil, and the Amazon is said to have overflowed. Much suffering has been caused in the neighborhood of Rio and Para.

Order appears to be restored in Belfast, Ireland. The damage wrought by the mob amounts to £50,000.

A farmer in East Andover N. H. has realized an average of $6 from each one of his flock of ninety sheep this season.

CHAFFING NEGROES.—A correspondent of the New York Post, while traveling on a railroad train in Virginia a few days since, overheard the following conversation:

At the station several miles beyond Farmville, where clay pipes and fried chicken appeared to be the principle articles of African traffic, the New Yorker, always in the lead, put his head out of the window and said:

"Hello! Aunty, what have you there?"

"Chicken, sar—fried chicken."

"Spring chicken?"

"Yes, sar."

"This spring's or last spring's?"

"Dis spring's, sar, sartin, shore."

"Well, where did they spring from?"

After a moment's hesitation, the woman said:

"Dunno, sar, onless dey sprung from de aags" (eggs).

At this a dark-eyed little girl who sat in front of me laughed outright, and said:

"That was an excellent repty, Aunly."

"Well," said the New Yorker, nothing abashed, "I wish you'd tell Horace Greeley to step this way a minute. I want to speak to him."

"I don't know sich a man."

"What, don't Horace Greeley live here?"

"No, sar, he done move away."

"Well, Grant lives here, don't he?"

"No, sar, he done goned away, too. All dem people done clean gone."

"Who are you going to vote for, then?"

"Me, Boss? I ain't gwine to vote for nobody. I gwine vote for meat and bread, I is."

Baffled quite, the New Yorker drew his head in the window, and thereafter let the negroes severely alone.

—The St. Louis Democrat's Indian reporter says: "The One-That-Hunts-the-Tiger was up at Lem Wakefield's, last night, and lost all his wampum on the ace."

—At Watch Hill they have anchored a couple of night-hawks in the only bar room in the place, so that when an habitue desires to saturate, he innocently remarks to his wife that he is "going down to the aviary." A man is never asked to drink.

HELP NATURE TO RALLY.—After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the efforts with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing lends to the physician or the pharmacopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy (as well as a preventive) of dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed this effects a cure.

THE PEOPLE'S STAMP OF VALUE.—The Government endorsement, which legalizes the sale of Plantation Bitters, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous Vegetable Tonic. It bears, in addition to that official sanction, the still more valuable stamp, public approbation. This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a tonic, Corrective and Alterative, is of much earlier date than the Government credential, for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the Grand Specific of the Age long before Congress thought of taxing proprietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail, the properties of this wonderful Vegetable Invigorant. The best reference that can be offered to those who desire the full particulars of its virtues, is the General Public. Ask those who have tried it as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, intermittent fevers, nervous debility, rheumatism, sea sickness, low spirits, or loss of vital power, what Plantation Bitters has done for them, and be governed by the response they make to your inquiries.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.,) Journal.

DECAY'S EFFACING FINGER.—Will never mar the teeth that are brushed daily with Odenferous SOZODONT. It lends a floral fragrance to the breath as well as protects the teeth from corrosion and decomposition.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—When the flesh wastes, the strength declines, the liver becomes torpid, and the bowels become irregular, indigestion is the primary cause. In all such cases Holloway's Pills are an immediate, never failing cure. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Aches, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

Second Grand Gift Concert.

DAY OF THE DRAWING FIXED.

No Postponement from Sept. 28.

To the Public:

The Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky being satisfied from the large sale of tickets already made, and the daily increasing demand for them, that there will be no occasion for postponing the second drawing in the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky, have instructed me, as their agent and manager of the Gift Concert, to say to the public and ticket-holders that the drawing will positively take place on September 28th next, and will not be postponed. An active demand for tickets comes from every State and Territory of the United States, and from the Canadas, giving assurance to the Trustees that no circumstances can prevent a drawing at the appointed time.

A sufficient clerical force is engaged to keep up with the orders for tickets, and in order that this office may be relieved of the immense pressure incident to the business for the week or two immediately preceding the drawing, agents especially, and those desirous of procuring tickets, are requested to send in their orders immediately, as sales will have to be closed in time to make the necessary preparations for the drawing. It is the wish of the management to fill every order for a ticket, as well as to sell all the tickets, but those who apply first must first be supplied; and, if those who put off buying until sales are closed, have their money returned, instead of the tickets ordered, as in the first Gift Concert in December last, when thousands of dollars that came too late were sent back, they will have none to blame but themselves.

The little boys and girls residing on State Street, having procured a flag and inscribed on it the names of Grant and Wilson, will raise it this evening at 8 o'clock. Harlow's Marine Band will furnish music.

The Grant and Wilson Guards have been recruited to 113 members and a Junior company is forming. At a meeting held Saturday evening, it was voted not to attend the mass meeting at Portland on Tuesday. Mr. William H. Gardner, was chosen 1st lieutenant of the 2nd company, vice Meshach H. Bell declined. The battalion will meet for parade next Wednesday evening, when three more Grant and Wilson flags will be raised.

Just for the pleasure of the matter, we wish President Grant would visit Portsmouth during the present campaign—just to show the Dolly Vardens how pleasant it is to see a public man meet people who have confidence in him, and to show them "enthusiasm" that they could not evoke for Horace were they to "eat crow" five and twenty centuries.

The Lyre says that at a flag raising on Russell Street there "were present four women and three boys." Wonder if said boys are supported by their Grandpa, while the father lives in style at a Hotel?

Essex Engine Co., No. 4, of Lawrence will visit this city on Thursday, and be received by S. F. Engine Co. No. 2.

Hon. Frank Jones is anxious to extend a track from the Eastern Railroad to his malt house, where he will discharge grain from the cars by means of an elevator, and save a large sum annually expended in teaming.

C. West Abbott has been appointed conductor of the train on the Wolfboro' branch.

The Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad Company have filed a bill in equity praying for an injunction against the Boston and Maine road, on the ground that the location of their extension, near the station of the former company at North Berwick, practically renders their location at that place useless; and a hearing will be had in Portland next Saturday.

After the morning service at the Unitarian Church, Sunday, Rev. James DeNormandie took occasion to say that having carefully considered the matter of accepting the call to St. Louis, he had found the ties of friendship here so binding that he had finally concluded to remain as pastor. A happier audience never issued from a church, than did the listeners to his morning discourse. Rev. Mr. DeNormandie will be absent from the city during the month of September.

The Republicans of Kittery had another rousing meeting, Friday evening, the Portsmouth Cornet Band furnishing fine music. A. A. Strout, Esq., of Portland, made a speech which aroused great enthusiasm. Four campaign flags were raised. Kittery boasts of sixteen flags—thirteen bearing the names of Grant and Wilson, and three Greeley and Brown. Several more Grant flags are to be raised. Several hundred Republicans will attend the Portland mass meeting. A division of the Grant and Wilson Guards is to be formed.

An advertisement of interest to persons desirous of procuring a pair of finely matched horses, may be found in another column.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENTS.—For some time past a series of very interesting experiments in the testing of a new quality of cannon powder has been in progress at Fortress Monroe under the direction of the Navy Bureau of Ordnance. The results thus far attained are fifty per cent. increased force, greater velocity and diminished pressure on the walls of the gun. One of the latest trials was the firing of a fifteen-inch smooth bore with the same charge as was fired from a twelve-inch rifle at the turret of the British iron-clad Glatton. The impact of the smooth bore projectile was found to be 9635 tons to the square inch, while the impact of the rifle shot on the Glatton's turret was but 6100 tons, or nearly fifty per cent. increase. It is certain that had the charge used against the Glatton been of the same quality as that fired at Fortress Monroe, the turret would have been completely disabled. Naval authorities at Washington regard these results as placing the United States ahead of the other great nations in the contest between ordnance and defensive armor.

THE GRAND CENTRAL HOTEL.—Of the many modern triumphs in superb hotel accommodations, the above house, on Broadway, New York, stands incomparably the greatest. It lifts its lofty front of white marble eight stories high, exclusive of basement and sub-basement, while towering above this immense height are three turrets and Mansard roof. It is divided into eight hundred apartments—a small world within itself—and the highest floor is reached in less than a minute by the finest elevator in the world The Grand Central has an air of freshness and purity about it, with a richness and beauty of decoration, combined with a wealth of luxury and taste calculated to please the eye and charm the most fastidious taste. The cuisine is excellent, the servants well trained, and the system and discipline superb. The visitor is impressed with the idea that no conceivable comfort or convenience is lacking. It is midway between what the "Gothamites" call "up town" and the "down town," and convenient to most of the churches and places of amusement. Mr. H. L. Powers, the proprietor, seems naturally qualified to superintend this mammoth establishment, and ministers to the wants of his numerous guests with a politeness and gentle courtesy that recalls the famous hotels and hostelries of the past, where we had all the comforts and warmth of home. The prices are only from $3 to $4 per day, according to location of room. The Grand Central now gathers praise — as it gathers its guests—from every clime.

—Bachelors, attention! The Rondout Freeman states that in the mountains of Shandaken there are hundreds of young ladies from the city boarding during the hot weather. One small farmhouse in Broadstreet Hollow contains no less than forty "school ma'ams." The country is completely overrun by women, who, by the aid of exercise and mountain air, have become as fresh, ruddy and handsome as any lot of girls one can see. In the mountain gorges, between Shandaken and Lexington, there is hardly a house but has a dozen or two. Most of them are young women who do their work with their brains, and take this summer vacation because it is good for their health, and because it is cheaper than living in the city. It is almost as much as a man's life is worth to travel through that section now-a-days, especially a young man. A young gentleman was driving along the road leading to Lexington recently, and says he never before had such a greeting. It was a perfect ovation. Young ladies crowd the piazza and wave their handkerchiefs, while hardly a piece of romantic woods could be passed without a half dozen handsome girls would spring into view to catch a glimpse and welcome the new comer. It much resembled a journey of the King of France in old times, the cry of vive le roi! resounded from the wayside. The cry is not vive le roi! in this case, but "O, there's a man! O, there's a man! o-o-o-o!" and there is a clapping of hands, and waving of handkerchiefs, and shouts of joy—in fact a perfect and most delightful welcome.

U. S. SOLDIERS.—As the papers which are opposed to the present administration frequently charge that large numbers of soldiers are kept in the Southern States ostensibly to reserve order, but really in order to intimidate the people, we subjoin the following facts and leave our readers to judge for themselves: An official statement has been prepared by the War Department, by which it appears that the whole number of troops in the twelve Southern States excluding those in Texas on Indiana duty, on the remote frontier, is but 3159. In Virginia there is not one soldier at the present time; in North Carolina but 283; in South Carolina, 1007; in Georgia 260; in Alabama, 257; in Florida, 153; in Mississippi, 520; in Louisiana, 257; in Arkansas, 53; in Tennessee, 349; in Texas, none except those on the frontier. Total, 3129. This statement shows that there is but one soldier stationed in the South to every 333 voters, and effectually disposes of the charges made that the administration is keeping a large military force in the South to prevent the people from expressing and acting their own sentiments.—Globe.

—A workman in a pork-packing establishment in New York, which caught fire, rushed into an ice box when he found himself unable to escape, fainted away from fright, and was brought out safe and sound after the structure was destroyed.

—A Pekin (Ill.) woman was asked by the preacher if her husband feared the Lord. She replied, "Fear him! why bless you, he is so feared of him that he never goes out of the house on Sunday without taking his gun along."

—It would seem that in heavy storms at sea, iron ships are inferior to those built of wood. Of forty two Atlantic steamers lost at sea between the years 1841 and 1872, thirty-eight were of iron and four of wood.

—Times are rather dull in Danbury. SUPERANNUATED DORIES.—A boat is a joy forever, unless she is leaky—in which case the joy is not so long-lived. (I have known one to feel very rich on account of owning a boat, and not much of a boat either.) If one feels exhausted after in-door labor, a boat is always ready if the borrower has returned it; you can depend upon your pull, unless she is sunk or aground, or unless the boys have stolen her, which seldom happens more than nine times in ten. To own a boat is next door to being a pawn-broker—one may do so much loaning. "If I were President," says Vater, "and knew a man who had a temper and a boat and could keep both, I would make him keeper of 'Squam Light for life." There is some compensation: boats never have the horse-ail, nor spavin, nor the blind staggers; but, after all, an old boat is a pitiful thing. Even after her seaworthiness is a thing of the past, she passes from owner to owner, and each will discover some promise in her,—some sign of the breath of life. And so one nails and calks, tars and pitches, and finally launches her only to find her memory grown so poor that she has forgotten how to swim. Then the owner "puts her away." The next possessor hath the same hope as the former. She is tarred and calked and nailed and launched again, and the owner sees how sad a sight is a boat without a memory. We are a nautical people and boast of our nurseries for seamen, but we have no asylum for superannuated dories.—Hiram Rich, in Scribner's for September.

The Science of Health for September contains Popular Physiology, profusely illustrated; an article on the different Medical systems; Editorials on the Cholera, Hay Fever; Mud Baths; Electro-Magnetism, and Killing no Murder, as shown in the Fisk-Stokes case. AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Billiousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

— OF —

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pustulous and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

THE SUN MISBEHAVING ITSELF.—The fears about Plantamour's comet, which were in fact a libel on Plantamour, have hardly been set at rest, when danger shows itself in a new quarter of the heavens. The London Spectator, which publishes articles from time to time discussing, with great interest and ability, the condition and prospects of the sun, brings out the fact, apropos of the recent tremendous heat in England and America, that the Italian astronomer Tacchini, who devotes himself to spectroscopic observation, reports phenomena in the solar envelope absolutely unprecedented in his experience. They consist in the evolution of enormous masses of vapor of magnesium, which produced on him the impression "that he could see the surface of our great source of light renewing itself." From this the writer in the Spectator deduces the conclusion that the sun may be using himself up, as other stars have done, and may suddenly fall off in heat and brilliancy, or may in the process of renewing the supply of heat and light suddenly increase the power of his rays to a degree that would make the earth uninhabitable. In fact, it seems as if a new and most horrible source of anxiety was about to be introduced into new life. With a Greeley administration, framed on the model of the Greeley wing of the New York Republicans, and with the sun behaving in a fitful and uncertain manner, life, in this country at least, would be to many people, a very doubtful good.—The Nation.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its numerous dependents. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c. It equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.
COUCHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.
CORNS! The excruciating pain that results from the pressure of Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heals of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.
PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By uncasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.
For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAYFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,
Pulmocine Cordial
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong medical agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could procure, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.
USE BUCHMAN'S
PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

West Virginia Election.

A Wheeling despatch says Brown, Republican, is probably elected sheriff in that county, by three or four hundred majority. This is the most lucrative position in the State, and there was a great fight for it.

Gov. Jacob is re-elected over Camden, Greeley Democrat, by 6000 majority. The result, is regarded as both satisfactory and encouraging to the Republicans. The victorious party, though not friendly to President Grant, represents the opponents of Greeley, and will evidently follow the Louisville movement with considerable unanimity. The election thus practically assures a division of the Greeley strength which will very likely result in the loss of the State in November.

News.

One man was killed and another badly injured by the fall of a derrick at the Lowell Railroad station at Boston, on Saturday afternoon.

Another new star, the 124th asteroid, has been discovered.

Deaths in New York last week, 788; increase, 36.

The returns of the Spanish elections which occurred on Saturday, indicate a triumph for Amadeus and his ministry.

State News.

The Browns of the Berlin Mills Company allow no alcoholic liquors in the village they have erected.

Mr. E. M. Laphron, United States engineer, has been at Dover surveying the Cocheco River at the narrows, preparatory to the giving out of the contract, which amounts to $8000.

Mrs. Lydia Wentworth, widow of the late Hon. Paul Wentworth, died in Concord, at the advanced age of eighty, on Saturday morning. She was the mother of Hon. John Wentworth of Chicago.

The annual meeting of the Rockingham East County Bible Society will be held at North Hampton, at the Congregational Church, Sept. 5th, at 10 o'clock, A. M. Services in the morning by Rev. Mr. Chase of Exeter. In the afternoon there will be a discussion on the question, "Is the Bible Society losing its hold of New England life?"

A large lot stolen goods were found in the house of John H. Brown, of Warner, on Saturday.

Dr. Asa Wheat of Canaan gave his wife some choloform before extracting some teeth on Sunday. After extracting three, he noticed something was the matter and laid her upon the sofa, when she immediately expired. She was a lady well known and highly esteemed in the community.

The body of Benj. L. Clark was found in the river at Tilton on Sunday. He had been missing since Thursday.

A LIBERAL REPUBLICAN.—The Worcester Gazette has hit upon a representative of this class of politicians, and describes him thus:—As to Mr. Charles G. Davis, who was willing to rehearse dirty slanders of Grant, in revenge for the exposure of Gratz Brown, he is worth very little breath. Mr. Davis was a Republican and an internal revenue assesor: when Andrew Johnson swung around the circle, Davis swung with him, but unfortunately for him, he could not swing back in time to save his office, though he jumped quickly; the Congressman of his district wanted it for a better man. Mr. Davis has since been eager for "reform." Last year, he came to the Republican convention in Worcester, and then went home and voted for Adams. His anxiety for a political change is natural, but too conspicuous.

HIS TWO FACES.—An amusing and suggestive contrivance has been arranged in the show-window of a Boston druggist, which the Transcript thus describes: "Two Greeley fans are joined together so as to make a head, which is placed on a pivot, and by some concealed machanism is made to revolve, showing each face alternately. The inscription on one face reads, 'Greeley the Republican;' on the other, 'Greeley the Democrat.' The head revolves quite rapidly, so that the observer has only just time to read one inscription when the other appears."

—Tennyson smokes,—and smokes a clay pipe!

Played Out.

The Greeleycratic game of brag is about played out in this section; in this city the Democrats and "liberals" are despondent, and not a few of them openly acknowledge that there is not a ghost of a chance for Greeley; and the Greeley newspapers in this State, in place of shouting "all the leading Republicans are coming over to Greeley," and "the Maine election will be a crushing defeat for the Radicals and will result in the choice of the 'Liberal' candidate for governor," as they have been doing for the past month or more, are now "hedging" for a crushing defeat of the coalition. One of our exchanges, which has all along been publishing statements from "reliable correspondents" of tremendous Greeley gains in Maine, (which if true would not have left the Republicans a school district in the State,) and predicting the defeat of Speaker Blaine, the gain of at least two Congressmen by the coalition and the election of the Dolly Varden candidate for governor, and that "if the people keep tumbling as they have since the Cincinnati convention, the State will be carried for Greeley by at least 10,000 majority," now goes back to the Republican majority at the last Presidential election for a starting point, says "well informed men in Maine claim" that the Republican majority in that State will not be more than half as large as it was last year, (some 10,000.) and argues that even should the Republicans keep their majority up to last year's figures it will be "a net loss of 18,000" from the Grant vote of 1868 and "will show a defection sufficient to give Greeley the electoral votes of two-thirds of all the States in the entire Union!" As the same paper (Foster's Dover Democrat) still gallantly claims a great coalition victory in North Carolina, we have no doubt it will manage to figure out something intended to be comforting to its readers after the Maine election comes off; but the fact is patent to all who are not determined to be blind, that all the newspaper brag of the Greeleyites, all their slanders of Grant and his administration, all their glowing reports of "enthusiasm" on their side and all their persistent claiming of every Republican of note as being for Greeley, have miserably failed in keeping Greeley stock up to the quotations given just after the Baltimore political brokers threw it on the market. That there is more enthusiasm in the present campaign than in any previous one we have taken part in except the Fremont campaign, is certain; but it is equally certain that all the genuine enthusiasm is on the Republican side. The game of bluff is played out, and Horace Greeley is further from the Presidential chair than he was before he bought the coalition nomination.

A PERPETUAL WEATHER TABLE.—The following was sent to one of the widely circulated journals of the day by Mr. J. Cool, of Indiana. He says it was constructed by the celebrated Dr. Herschel upon a philosophic consideration of the sun and moon. It is confirmed by the experience of many years' observation, and will suggest to the observer what kind of weather will probably follow the moon's entrance into any of her quarters. As a general rule it will be found wonderfully correct:—

If the moon changes at 12 o'clock, noon, the weather immediately afterward will be very rainy, if in summer, and there will be snow and rain in winter.

If between 2 and 4 o'clock, P. M.; changeable in summer—fair and mild in winter.

Between 4 and 6 o'clock, P. M.; fair in both summer and winter.

Between 6 and 10 o'clock, P. M.; in summer, fair, if the wind is north-west. in winter, fair and frosty, if the wind is north or north-west; rainy, if south or south-west.

Between 10 and 12 o'clock, P. M.; fair in summer and frosty in winter.

Between 12 at night, and 2 o'clock, A. M.; fair in summer and frosty in winter, unless the wind is from the south or south-west.

Between 2 and 4 o'clock. A. M.; cold and showery in the summer and snow and storm in winter.

Between 4 and 6 o'clock, A. M.; wind and rain in the summer and stormy in the winter.

Between 6 and 8 o'clock, A. M.; changeable in summer, rain, with a westerly wind and snow with an easterly wind in winter.

Between 10 and 12 o'clock, A. M.; showery in summer, and cold windy in winter.

AN EXCITING AFFAIR.—Wisconsin is next to have the mild excitement of a national convention of Quakers.

—Life, according to the Arabic proverb, is composed of two parts; that which is past, a dream; and that which is to come, a wish.

—Henry Miller perished from thirst lately on the Mojave desert.

—England's fruit crop is the smallest ever remembered.

Political.

D. C. Forney predicts the election of the Republican Congressmen-at-large from Pennsylvania next month by 15,000 to 20,000 majority.

Vermont election next Tuesday.

The Cincinnati Gazette says:—"The Springfield Republican insists that Gratz Brown shall be dropped. That would be taking all the spirit out of the ticket."

Andy Johnson has announced himself as a candidate for congressman at large in Tennessee, in opposition to Gen. Cheatham, the regular Democratic candidate.

Barnum has once more given evidence of his wonderful ability as a judge of humbugs, by going for Greeley.

"Eating crow" is Doctor Greeley's last prescription to reconcile the South with its "lost cause."—New Orleans Times.

New Jersey has chosen delegates to the Louisville Democratic Convention.

In the extremity of his undying bitterness, a Southern editor of a Greeley paper calls the President "Ulickus Grant."

The San Francisco Alta says: "We are sufficiently posted as to Greeley's strength in this city and State, and can safely predict that Grant will carry San Francisco and California this year by a far larger vote than he did in 1868."

A wealthy Republican of Windham county, Connecticut, has wagered $75,000 on Grant's re-election.

The Boston Journal has published a Campaign Guide which will be of great convenience for reference during the present political campaign.

A. T. Stewart of New York denies that he is opposed to the re-election of President Grant.

It is a very curious thing in journalism now to watch the New York World teaching the New York Tribune how to edit a Democratic newspaper.—St. Jo. Herald.

The New York World speaks of Greeley and Brown as "in shoals." Just so; they are very near bottom and liable to strike any time within ten days of the date of the election in Maine.

The democratic lion and the liberal lamb are now lying together, and it is difficult to tell which lies the most.—Cincinnati Gazette.

The St. Louis Globe says the Democracy must gain nearly 100,000 votes from the vote of 1868, to carry Missouri.

The Buffalo authorities have squelched the sale of indecent publications. As this shuts off Frank Leslie's Day's Doings, it is a direct blow at Greeleyism. Toledo Blade.

There is said to be a growing feeling among the Illinois Democrats against Greeley and in favor of the Louisville movement. They will send a large delegation to the national convention.

Maine will be better represented in the straight-out convention at Louisville than it was in the Cincinnati conclave. We hear of five prominent "hard-shells" who have agreed to go.—Portland Press.

Senator Wilson addressed a mass meeting at Hudson, New York, on Friday night, saying that he had no doubt the Republicans would carry twenty out of twenty-one of the free States of the country.

A Democratic correspondent, speaking of two Greeley Republicans, innocently adds that they were postmasters under Lincoln. The trouble with these men is, they are not postmasters under Grant.—Toledo Blade.

The New York Herald says "it is evident that the enthusiasm for Greeley and the opposition movement is dying out."

An exhange says: "The first bet decided this season came in this wise: An enthusiastic member of the Grant and Wilson Glee Club bet a well-known Liberal on North Carolina, and the money was put up in the hands of a member of the Democratic Glee Club. He decided the bet by running away with the money!"

The Manchester Union gives up Maine to the Republicans. How convenient it is for people to give up things they never had any prospect of having!

The Democrats of the country, temporarily forsaken by their leaders, are rapidly recovering their organization, and in Maine, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland, Illinois, Missouri and other States the independent movement is fast gaining strength.

A prominent Republican of Lake Village has made a bet with a Democrat that Greeley will not get a single electoral vote.

The Calhoun Democrat, published at Hardin, Ill., which has been, since its establishment, a Democratic paper, announces in the last issue its purpose to support in the future the Republican party and its candidates.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for a throat diseases. For sale at the Union St

HELP NATURE TO RALLY.—After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the effort with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing known to the physician or the pharmacopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy (as well as a preventive) of dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed this effects a cure.

THE PEOPLE'S STAMP OF VALUE.—The Government's endorsement, which legalizes the sale of Plantation Bitters, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous Vegetable Tonic. It bears, in addition to that official sanction, the still more valuable stamp, public approbation. This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a tonic, Corrective and Alterative, is of much earlier date than the Government credential; for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the Grand Specific of the Age long before Congress thought of taxing proprietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail, the properties of this wonderful Vegetable Invigorator. The best reference that can be offered to those who desire the full particulars of its virtues, is the General Public. Ask those who have tried it as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, intermittent fevers, nervous debility, rheumatism, sea sickness, low spirits, or loss of vital power, what Plantation Bitters has done for them, and be governed by the response they make to your inquiries.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DECAY'S EFFACING FINGER.—Will never mar the teeth that are brushed daily with Odoriferous SOZODONT. It lends a floral fragrance to the breath as well as protects the teeth from corrosion and decomposition.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—When the flesh wastes, the strength declines, the liver becomes torpid, and the bowels become irregular, indigestion is the primary cause. THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.

Second Grand Gift Concert.

DAY OF THE DRAWING FIXED.

No Postponement from Sept. 28.

To the Public:

The Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky being satisfied from the large sale of tickets already made, and the daily increasing demand for them, that there will be no occasion for postponing the second drawing in the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky, have instructed me, as their agent and manager of the Gift Concert, to say to the public and ticket-holders that the drawing will positively take place on September 28th prox., and will not be postponed. An active demand for tickets comes from every State and Territory of the United States, and from the Canadas, giving assurance to the Trustees that no circumstances can prevent a drawing at the appointed time.

A sufficient clerical force is engaged to keep up with the orders for tickets, and in order that this office may be relieved of the immense pressure incident to the business for the week or two immediately preceding the drawing, agents especially, and those desirous of procuring tickets, are requested to send in their orders immediately, as sales will have to be closed in time to make the necessary preparations for the drawing. It is the purpose of the management to fill every order for a ticket, as well as to sell all the tickets, but those who apply first must first be supplied; and, if those who put off buying until sales are closed, have their money returned, instead of the tickets ordered, as in the first Gift Concert in December last, when thousands of dollars that came too late were sent back, they will have none to blame but themselves.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

The flag raising near the corner of Pechallow and State Streets, by the children of the neighborhood, is postponed until further notice.

Admiral J. C. Butler's only excursion of the season will take place to-day in Steamer Appledore, Capt. Baker, leaving Pier Wharf at 11 o'clock and returning at 6 P. M. Tickets 75 cents for the trip, may be purchased at Butler & Laighton's.

Referring to the late Timothy G. Senter, who formerly taught school in Lynn, the Reporter says:—

As our friend lived so he died—contented with his lot in life, and firm in the faith of a blessed existence hereafter. His many friends will miss him and mourn for him, yet with the pleasing consciousness that he has not lived in vain.

The straight Democrats have been stirring the political waters hereabouts, and finding themselves numerous, are now engaged in corresponding with other "straights" in the interior of the State with a view to the selection of a full set of delegates to the Louisville convention.

The great Republican mass meeting at Portland comes off to-day. Speeches will be made by Senator Wilson, Gens. Butler, Caldwell, Harlan, and Burnside, and Fred Douglass. Several hundred persons from this vicinity will attend. A special train leaves Kittery at 12.-30, returning at 11 o'clock. Fare for the trip $1. The affair is to be the greatest of the Maine campaign. The special trains are to carry cannons, and salutes will be fired as they pass through the towns en route. The demonstration closes with a torch-light procession of organizations from Portland, Biddeford, Saco, Lewiston, Auburn and other places.

U. S. S. Mayflower arrived at the Navy Yard from Washington, on Monday, to take the place of the Speedwell while the latter is being repaired. The officers and crew of the Mayflower return to Washington by rail.

A Sunday dispatch from this city to the Boston Advertiser says:—

Secretary Robeson returned to Portsmouth from a week devoted to the canvass in Maine. He opened the week at Kittery, and closed it with an address to the citizens of Belfast on Saturday afternoon. His reception in the Pine Tree State has been most pleasant, and he everywhere found enthusiastic and agreeable audiences. He brings from Maine the most encouraging reports. It seemed to him very evident that the Republicans are fully alive to the importance of the canvass, and that the well-directed and earnest efforts of the Republican leaders were met by the most cordial and hearty support of the Republican masses. If the enforcement of the prohibition law shall in any degree weaken Republican majorities in the large towns visited on the western coast, there certainly need be no apprehensions, he thinks, regarding the cities at the mouth of the Penobscot. The doubts which have been expressed concerning the fifth district—that of Mr. Hale—to him seem to have no longer an excuse. The district has been visited by Senators Morrill and Edmunds, delivering alternate addresses in the principal towns. Mr. Blaine, he says, will largely increase his own majority, three thousand being confidently claimed for him; and he adds that Governor Perham's majority will largely exceed the figures claimed earlier in the canvass. He is certain that the spirit of Republicanism is fully awake in Maine, and that the happiest result of the canvass may be anticipated.

In view of the probable upsetting of the Greeley applecant Democratic convention at Louisville, it becomes a question, "What can be done with the Greeley and Brown flags?" We beg leave to suggest to the chief stewards of that boiled-crow festival in this city, that they may possibly be able to save themselves from loss by hurrying their coalition investments off into the Democratic strongholds in the back part of the State, where no papers are taken and the unterrified have not yet heard of the Louisville revolt. They may find purchasers there for their Greeley and Brown dry goods, but they must be quick about it; if they waste another fortnight they won't be able to give them away, even in Coos county.

Greeley at Rye Beach.

[From the Washington National Republican.]

My Dear Editors: When I came here I did not know that I was coming to such a nice Democratic corner. But such is the fact. This district is heavily Democratic; with the exception, among the very few Republicans, I must mention that Job Jenness stands foremost. This strip of land from Portsmouth to Rye Beach is strewn by Jennesses or by immediate relatives of the Jennesses. Job is really the patriarch, but the descendents are not so honest as he. Many of them think politics a lucrative trade, and hold themselves ready for the market. They are, therefore, Greeley men, because they hope that the change will bring them grist to their mill.

G. H. Jenness invited Greeley to visit Rye Beach, and Greeley came. We heard at the Ocean house that Greeley was to visit the Farragut House, where he was to receive an ovation in the shape of a clam bake. No one expected him here, as Job is an outspoken and staunch Republican. Imagine our astonishment, therefore, when, as we were just going into dinner, we were informed that Mr. Greeley would honor us with a short visit. Yes, there was the telegram heralding his arrival within an hour. I wondered, therefore, if the Greeley men in our house had sought that honor and were ready to receive the distinguished guest with becoming enthusiasm. I was therefore much surprised when, just as I was doing justice to a plate of soup, I was requested by Mr. Jenness to rise and do the honors of the occasion. He being confined to his room by sickness, and his son too young to welcome the farfamed veteran, some person had to be selected to offer the hospitality of the house to the remarkable candidate for the Presidency. I suppose I was the available man, and I was chosen. I had scarcely recovered from the honor so suddenly thrust upon me, when the bugles announced his arrival. I went on the piazza, and there alone stood watching the procession approaching. First, a band drawn by a four-horse team, followed by another, in which I recognized the venerable head of Mr. Greeley. I had never seen him before, but I had seen the Greeley fans and that enabled me to recognize the venerable countenance. Not another human being was on the piazza, although over three hundred guests were in the house, all of whom had been notified of his arrival.

What had become of the Democrats and Greeley men, particularly of that large party from St. Louis, who have for weeks walked these piazzas talking of the absolute certainty of Greeley's election? Not one was to be seen. I invited Mr. Greeley and his friends to alight and come to the parlor. I was shocked to find not a soul in the parlor. I began to feel quite badly for Mr. Greeley. This, surely, could not be meant for an intended insult! As I began to spy some curious eyes coming out of the dining room I beckoned to them to come and be introduced to their great chieftain. A few ladies and gentlemen finally, but timidly, came in. They shook hands with him as if they had been frozen from a bath. The Greeley men seemed to stand further back than any of the others. The scene was one of painful suspense until the person who had been in charge took him off to the sick-room of Mr. Jenness, who could only say that he was glad to see Mr. Greeley, although he intended to say that he was glad to see Mr Greeley bring to the Republican fold so many of the hard-shell Democrats whom he had tried for so many years to convince that Greeley was a great man, and to add that the sudden conversation of his copperhead neighbors was the greatest feat that Mr. Greeley had ever achieved. He did not even make that speech, so Mr. Greeley and friends withdrew, took to their carriages, and under an unsympathizing rain, drove off.

At 4 o'clock I went to the clam-bake to see if he would get a better reception at the Farragut. Of course they had had their dinner there, and they were all on the piazza when the procession arrived. It seemed the day for Washingtonians to do their honor to the great philosopher. Mr. Jessie Brown started a feeble hurrah, and Mr. Stoughton received him with a speech. I could not hear Mr. Stoughton's speech particularly, as in the midst of it the piazza gave way, and the ladies screamed, of course. No one was hurt, fortunately, and I suppose Mr. Stoughton made a nice little speech. Mr. Stoughton never says anything that is not nice.

Mr. Greeley acknowledged the compliment, and then said that he worked all his life, that he is worked hard now, and that there is no rest for him. Having said so much he gave the people his blessing and went to the clam-bake on the rocks, a hundred yards from the hotel. It was raining and they had to sit at the table under their umbrellas, Mr. Stoughton on his right, Hon. Mr. Robeson on his left. Greeley seemed glad to find somebody to talk to, so he did not eat clams; but Mr. Robeson seemed glad to find something to eat, so he ate clams.

The evening Mr. Greeley passed at Mr. G. H. Jenness' house. They borrowed our band for the occasion, to the great disgust of our girls, who are not for Greeley, but for a dance. This led to a stupid evening, for which we must thank the great philosopher.

Job Jenness is quite disgusted with the affair, and is very particular in having it understood that he neither promoted nor connived at this great reception of the Presidential candidate.

I asked my Democratic friends what they meant by such a mean reception of their candidate, and they answered that while they would vote for Greeley they did not care to shake hands with him. Things seem rather ruined in the Democratic camp.

Yours, truly, TULLIO S. VERDI.

N. B.—The Boston Post of next day says that the people of the Ocean House were all on the piazza, gave three hearty cheers at his approach, and the band struck up "Hail to the chief." Well, I suppose "distance lends enchantment to the view," hence the Post's paragraph. If they derive consolation from such news we will not grudge them the privilege of enlarging. T. S. V.

A Submarine Trotter.

The savan of the Lyre gravely informed his readers last week that the horse lost overboard near the Spring Market on Thursday "must have walked across (to Navy Yard bridge) on the river bottom." Just imagine the poor animal dragging a cart laden with a ton of ballast, down hill and up, over rocks, tumbling into ravines, scrambling along with and against the tide and eddies of the river, through mud and debris, making a detour around Pumpkin island, for the purpose of depositing himself on the Kittery shore, a distance of nearly three quarters of a mile! Yet a Greeley editor who promises Horace 140 Republican votes in Portsmouth and states that not over five Democrats can be found here who will vote for Grant, who tells Horace that his reception here was "enthusiastic" and that he will get the electoral vote of New Hampshire by we-don't-know-how-many thousand majority, shows the simplicity of his character and imposes on the credulity of his readers, by asserting that a horse can engage in such a trot under water and live long enough with ten fathoms of water over his head to reach the place where he was found! Shades of crab apples and lobster vines, how is that for hatchets and cherry trees?

The postal cards cannot be issued this year, no appropriation having been made for them by Congress.

B. P. Shillaber will soon come to the surface again with a new book called Partingtonian Patchwork; everybody will welcome the dame.

Morning Chronicle.

An Exciting Scene.—During the thunder storm which passed over London on Tuesday night, a most exciting scene took place near the York road station, on the Metropolitan railway. The station in question is situated in a deep cutting, and the fall of rain was so heavy that a large amount of water accumulated, extending from a considerable distance. As soon, therefore, as the 6:18 train from Barnet, which was filled with passengers, emerged from the tunnel, the water had reached such a height that it put the engine fires out, and the train was consequently brought to a standstill. It was found that the points would not work, and that owing to the storm the wires of the electric telegraph could not be used. This latter misfortune was all the more important, inasmuch as the express which runs on to Farrindon street was overdue. Another engine was procured by the officials, and chains were attached to the train. Every effort in this direction was unsuccessful, owing probably to the sleepers, which were floating about in all directions. The excitement at this period was painful in the extreme. The majority of the passengers were unable to leave the carriages, owing to the depth of the water, which was making down the line in a perfect torrent; women were fainting, and even the servants of the company seemed paralyzed with fear, being totally unable to prevent what threatened to be a terrible disaster. A few of the passengers, by dint of the greatest exertions, had been removed from the train, when suddenly a shout announced that the express was coming, and a huge wave was seen issuing from the tunnel as the train approached. The same cause, however, which had placed the Barnet train in its terrible position proved its salvation, for the water also put out the fires of the express engine, which drew up, to the immense relief of all the bystanders, within about five feet of the hindermost carriage of the former train. It is needless to say that no blame attaches to the servants of the company, and the prevention of the frightful accident can hardly be regarded as otherwise than providential.—London, Ontario, Advertiser.

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood.

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Pustulous Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

THE BUFFALO.—The first impression produced by a buffalo on the stranger is that of ugliness. The huge fore quarters seem quite out of proportion to the light hind legs; the masses of hair on the forehead and chin have a particularly untidy appearance, and give the head a badly defined oval shape at a distance. The impression is not improved when they strike into a slow canter, for the immense tufts of hair depending from the fore-legs swing awkwardly, and the tail, which is held straight up, with a short curve down again at the middle, is ridiculously small. When however, a herd, roused from its lethargy, rushes at a speed of eighteen or twenty miles an hour, contempt is changed for admiration. The once lumbering body is now handled with perfect ease; all the clumsy appendages become streamers in the wind, and the huge withers give the flying body mass and power. The black eyes glisten beneath the matted hair; and were the hoofs changed for claws and the horns hidden it would not be difficult to believe that one of the old giant lions of antediluvian days had come to light.—Southern Magazine.

—Catch six cockroaches; pin these roaches to the wall, legs out; then let your children sit in front of them and see how many chapters in the Bible they can commit to memory before the last leg dies. The game is calculated to exalt the morals of the young, and cause them to grow up good citizens.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one people but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUCHS. Much has been said and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the choicest PREVENTIVE. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

I is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it. Before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, VIOLET ROOT, SERPENTARIA ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a genuine specific, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.
USE BUCHMAN'S
PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

North Carolina.

The Hillsboro Recorder, a strong Democratic Greeley paper, published at Hillsboro, N. C., has the following on Merrimon's contest:

And they want to contest Caldwell's election. Well, it is all bosh, again. Caldwell is certainly elected, and that we had certainly better make our minds up to, right off. The people have been fooled sufficiently. Noddle-headed old jackies and linen-duster and chewing-tobacco and pipe-smoking corner-loafers and street-talking politicians have beguiled our men in the corn-field and the working-shops long enough. And we tell these people now that Caldwell will surely take his seat. And we tell them that as to frauds, we have known of no frauds committed, and if they were, we would as soon expect them on the one side as on the other.

Letters from North Carolina report that the election excitement has entirely disappeared, and that both parties concede that Caldwell will receive the certificate of election and assume the governor's office without opposition. Merrimon's talk of a contest will probably amount to nothing, and is kept up more for breaking the fall from victory to defeat than because he intends to do anything but submit to the result. The State board of canvassers is now making the official count of the votes, which the legislature is obliged to accept and inaugurate Caldwell. A correspondent of the New York Times says:—

The "straight-out" Democrats are developing a great deal of strength in this State. I have conversed with many of them. They think that now is the time to put forward a strong Democratic ticket, and they feel confident that with such a ticket they can succeed. I am reliably informed that North Carolina will have a full delegation in the Louisville Convention, and that a strong "straight-out" Democratic electoral ticket will be put in the field immediately after the adjournment of that Convention. Active steps are now being taken to perfect a thorough organization in the State. The Republicans of North Carolina are alive, and hard at work. Grant and Wilson Clubs are being formed all through the State. The greatest enthusiasm prevails every where, and Republicans have no doubt they will carry the State in November by from ten to fifteen thousand majority. The Democrats give it up. The transmontaine counties will give Grant and Wilson an increased vote over that of 1868.

Clinton L. Cobb, M. C., from the first district of North Carolina, was re-elected in his new district, the second, under peculiar circumstances. Mr. Cobb was, with Gen. Butler, the progenitor of the original Ku-Klux act. When he was renominated the Democrats were furious. It was on the above ground that Cobb accepted the issues and, having fought with sole reference to the merits or otherwise of that legislature, he carried the district by 2000 majority, though the counties in it gave 700 majority in 1870. North Carolina Republicans claim that the Legislature has been carried, and that John Pool will be re-elected United States Senator on a joint ballot by seven to ten majority.

West Virginia Election.

A special despatch says that thirty-one counties give Jacob 5298 majority, and twenty-eight counties give 1167 majority against the constitution. Davis (independent Democrat), for Congress, is elected.

A special correspondent of the Herald writes from West Virginia: Never was a local party organization over tumbled from such a height by their own mismanagement as the Democratic party of this State is the election. They are completely demoralized, and the Republicans may reap a lasting benefit from their chaotic condition if they will.

A COMMONPLACE INCIDENT.—Max Adeler says: The papers are publishing a curious item, a statement to the effect that "a horse in Iowa pulled the plug out of the bunghole of a water-barrel and slaked his thirst." As the horse could not have slaked his thirst without pulling the plug out of the bunghole of the barrel, we do not see anything extraordinary in the occurrence. Now if the horse had pulled the barrel out of the bunghole, and slaked his thirst with the plug, or if the barrel had pulled the bunghole out of the plug and slaked its thirst with the horse, or if the plug had pulled the horse out of the barrel and slaked its thirst with the bunghole, or if the bunghole had pulled the thirst out of the horse and slaked the plug with the barrel, or if the barrel had pulled the horse out of the bunghole and plugged its thirst with a slake, it might have been worth while to make some fuss over it. But none of these things seem to have occurred.

Mount Desert.

CHAPTER IV.

Editors Chronicle:—Perhaps you are tired, and, like the poor Mariner, had rather not ascend Newport Mountain with me to-day; not that he has the temerity to say so, and if I were to ask him he wouldn't own it for the world But I know very well that to drag a weather-beaten old sailor about over rocks and mountains, or to take him on the water and make him row, isn't so much of a treat to him as to leave him under the piazza with his chair tilted against the wall and his pipe making ten knots an hours, to spin yarns with another old sailor like himself. I allow him this luxury every evening, but in the daytime I cannot spare him. Besides, as he is still a bachelor, and liable at any time to be overtaken by fate, I think it is just as well to inure him to trial, so that when he finds he can no longer have his own way it won't seem so odd to him. His docility is such that I consider the prospects of the coming woman to be very fine in this particular; but viewing him as a financier, she will not draw a prize. A sea-faring life is not favorable to the development of this kind of talent, and the Mariner had none to start with; his business notions bear date about the Age of Chivalry, and although very elegant and knightly, they fare, in an encounter with a Yankee of the nineteenth century, no better than the armor and fortifications of the former date under the cannon-balls and bomb-shells of the latter. This morning our landlord inquires anxiously for him, to disclose, with the fidelity of a brother Mason, the turpitude of our yesterday's driver, who, not satisfied with charging us an exorbitant price for his team and his society, was so indiscreet as to boast aloud on the green before the hotel, of his light load and his heavy pay. The Mariner, who might have been lured on to ruinous extravagance by a more reticent swindler, becomes a volcano of indignation when he learns the truth; but instead of exercising the privilege of volcanos, and overwhelming the fellow with lava and hot ashes, when he appears with his team and a face full of great expectations, to take us, as agreed, to the foot of Newport, he pierces his soul with the words of doom, "We shall not need you to-day!" The expectant face falls sixty degrees in the twinkling of an eye, and its owner retreats in disorder, without venturing to ask any explanation. His guilty conscience needs no accuser. It sends him presently to refund twenty cents commission which he had taken on the cider, saying, "I charged you a little too much, for I thought it was fifty cents a bottle, but when I went to pay I found they'd fell!" This return to virtue does not reinstate him in the service of the Mariner, who, less confiding than Mr. Sumner, doesn't regard him as a "regenerate party," but dismisses him with the remark that when he knows a man has cheated him once, he never gives him a second opportunity.

All this has caused a little delay, you see, so that we start later for Newport than we did for Green Mountain, the landlord having provided us with a luncheon so generous that it almost amounts to a rudeness. We decide to swallow the insult, however, supposing that he must have seen us at the table. It is one of those sottly-clouded summer mornings which are especially delightful for riding, the tempered light wearies the eye so much less than bright sunshine, and the tone of the landscape is beautifully tender. A mile on the Schooner Head road, one of those country miles that have no end if you are walking, brings us to a turn towards the right, which we take, and go through a long stretch of woods, by one of those lovely Dolly Varden roads with two green stripes between the wheel-tracks. It is hardly possible, with only one nose, to do justice to such an olfactory entertainment as this. Oh! for a dozen, of the largest calibre, to take in the sweetness of this balsamic air, for the evergreens are breathing out their very souls to one another and to us. The Mariner tries to like it and to make me think he does; but it is quite evident that his heart, like that of any smoker, is in the bowl of his pipe. Araby the blest would be a desert without it. "The desert were a Paradise if thou wert there" is the language of his eyes, as he watches the curling smoke like a lover. Every few minutes Newport shows his great shaggy head straight before us, then dodges behind the trees again,—it is a game of hide and seek all the way. The first pines we have seen stand along this road, great, splendid, lonely things, only one here and there above the fire and spruces, "sighing through all its leaves," the saddest sound in nature, I believe.

Our elderly, round, good-natured driver stops suddenly in a damp hollow of the wood, saying "That's all I can do for ye;" a self-evident proposition, for the road ends in a black pool, which we cross on stones and logs, to find a narrow foot-path running like a thread up the woody steep, for this is Newport Mountain. DeCosta's book tells us to look for small cairns marking the way to the top, and we find them in greatest force just where it is a physical impossibility to get out of the right path, which causes the Mariner to jeer at them and lose his respect for them. We are obliged to walk single file, the path is so narrow, but it is well worn and easy, and we have to part the branches as we go, which is very charming. At intervals we emerge upon a bare ledge of granite, swept by the sea-breeze, and overlooking a most beautiful green valley, the pretty little village, and the Porcupine Islands. Here we look up with awe at the precipitous sides of Newport above us, and over the brink of the dizzy cliff below. The blueberries in the hollow invite us to lunch and of course we accept Amongst some brushwood near one of these spaces, an Old Man of the Mountain, like a blasted pine with a beard of silver moss, looks at us as we go by and startles us by saying "You'll find 'em all up there ahead of ye." At last we leave the woods and now our work begins.

This is a genuine mountain-peak, the only one I have ever climbed, sharp, steep and bare. The Mariner, despising the cairns, undertakes to get me up by a better way, much to my dismay, for he must have selected the very worst. An hour and a half from the black pool, we reach the highest point, very thankful it is no higher. We find it marked by a large cairn, a pole left by the Coast Survey, and a pail containing a quart or two of berries. The owner is invisible, but we hear laughter among the rocks and bushes further down the peak, and see a flutter of pink calico occasionally as the girls chase each other in and out. What a place to play tag! The old man's words are explained now; he took us, from our style, for some of the country people, going up for berries.

Well, having arrived here, what is to be seen? The bare, bleak mountain peak, ages old, the ocean spread beneath it, older yet; all other details of the scene are lost in the grandeur of these two. We enter the hush of that illimitable past in which they have dwelt here together. We seem to be looking at the sea, but not many persons ever do that; they look over it and beyond it, as we do; the eyes take a far off expression, as if trying to pierce the twilight of its vast antiquity, to look backward through those shadowy milleniums to where "the earth was without form and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep," when "the spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters," even as it does to-day. All over these ancient rocks is written the sublime revelation of Geology; that age after age, in God's most awful patience, went by while the earth was burning and seething, heaving and drowning and tossing, apparently eternal chaos and eternal desolation. And now so beautiful! So tame that the gentlest, frailest flowers rustle round her by myriads, the lowly grass may creep all over her, and hosts of living things dwell in her bosom. Only enough of the old terror left to enhance her beauty and touch it with sublimity. And that more wondrous order and beauty of which all outward things are but the type, "the new heavens and the new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness," what august ages, what "dim, ocean periods," must wait on their creation!

"Dread is the patience up above,
The white He sits whose name is Love,
And waits, as Noah did, for the dove,
To wit if she would fly to him.

He waits for us, while, houseless things,
We beat about with bruised wings
On the dark floods and water springs,
The ruined world, the desolate sea;

With open windows from the prime
All night, all day, he waits sublime,
Until the fulness of the time
Decreed from his eternity."

Political.

Joel Colby, Esq., of Bingham, one of the most influential men in the northern part of Somerset county, Maine, advocates the election of Grant and Wilson. Mr. Colby was a war Democrat and has represented his town in the legislature. He has also been a candidate for senator on the Democratic ticket several times.

There is a row in Tammany Hall, and the prospect is that the anticipated Greeley ratification meeting will not take place at all. The committee find it impossible to harmonize the elements. The rupture seriously threatens the peace itself of reconstructed Tammany.

A number of straight-out Democrats, including Senator Stockton of New Jersey, Henry Thompson of Pennsylvania, J. R. Gilbert of Kentucky, Wilson H. Curtis of Ohio and Henry Williamson of Maryland, met at Long Branch to hear the report of the executive committee appointed by the conference held at Long Branch last June. After the reading of a long report, a speech by Chairman J. R. Gilbert and the passage of a series of resolutions, the following were appointed delegates to the Louisville convention and instructed to support Charles O'Conor as the nominee for the presidency:—Horace Black of Delaware, Henry R. Williamson, Robert Preston and Edward Jerald of Pennsylvania, Richard Henderson of West Virginia, Wilson Perry of New Jersey, J. R. Gilbert of Kentucky, Rufus Rogers and Theobald Davies of Ohio, and Charles Martin, George Gulden and James O' Brien.

At a Grant and Wilson meeting in Indiana the speaker was comparing the sudden conversion of the Democratic party to that of Saul of Tarsus. "What angel of the lord," said he, "has met the Democratic party and turned them their own evil course?" "Horace Greeley!" shouted a voice from amoung the crowd, and the speaker sat down.

There was a tremendous uprising of Liberal Republicans in Waverly, Ia. Sixteen of them uprose.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for a broat diseases. For sale at the Union St

HELP NATURE TO RALLY.—After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the effort with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing known to the physician or the pharmacopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy (as well as a preventive) of dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed this effects a cure.

THE PEOPLE'S STAMP OF VALUE.—The Government endorsement, which legalizes the sale of Plantation Bitters, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous Vegetable Tonic. It bears, in addition to that official sanction, the still more valuable stamp, public approbation. This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a tonic, Corrective and Alterative, is of much earlier date than the Government credential; for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the Grand Specific of the Age long before Congress thought of taxing proprietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail, the properties of this wonderful Vegetable Invigorant. The best reference that can be offered to those who desire the full particulars of its virtues, is the General Public. Ask those who have tried it as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, intermittent fevers, nervous debility, rheumatism, sea sickness, low spirits, or loss of vital power, what Plantation Bitters has done for them, and be governed by the response they make to your inquiries.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DECAY'S EFFACING FINGER.—Will never mar the teeth that are brushed daily with Odoriferous SOZODONT. It lends a floral fragrance to the breath as well as protects the teeth from corrosion and decomposition.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—When the flesh wastes, the strength declines, the liver becomes torpid, and the bowels become irregular, indigestion is the primary cause. In all such cases Holloway's Pills are an immediate, never failing cure. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the foot, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists.

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY

Second Grand Gift Concert.

DAY OF THE DRAWING FIXED.

No Postponement from Sept. 28.

To the Public:

The Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky being satisfied from the large sale of tickets already made and the daily increasing demand for them, that there will be no occasion for postponing the second drawing in the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky, have instructed me, as their agent and manager of the Gift Concert, to say to the public and ticket-holders that the drawing will positively take place on September 28th prox., and will not be postponed. An active demand for tickets comes from every State and Territory of the United States, and from the Canadas, giving assurance to the Trustees that no circumstances can prevent a drawing at the appointed time.

A sufficient clerical force is engaged to keep up with the orders for tickets, and in order that the office may be relieved of the immense pressure incident to the business for the week or two immediately preceding the drawing, agents especially, and those desirous of procuring tickets, are requested to send in their orders immediately, as sales will have to be closed in time to make the necessary preparations for the drawing. It is the wish of the management to fill every order for a ticket, as well as to sell all the tickets, but those who apply first must first be supplied; and, if those who put off buying until sales are closed, have their money returned, instead of the tickets ordered, as in the first Gift Concert in December last, when thousands of dollars that came too late were sent back, they will have none to blame but themselves.

Laconics.

The guests at the Appledore House on Monday presented Capt. Edwin M. Baker, of steamer Appledore, with a fine silver watch and elegant gold chain as a mark of their appreciation of his obliging courtesy to and constant care of the passengers by his boat. Glad of it—served him right.

An Isle of Shoals correspondent says: Every watering place has its specialities of dress, amusements or fare. The "particular wanity" of the ladies at Appledore is the wearing of necklaces of small white sea shells which abound in great profusion on all the island, and from the sale of which an old salt reaps quite a revenue. These shells are quite pretty, and are worn in all sorts of ways—around the neck, as bracelets, or twined in the hair—and give to the belles, especially those who have got nicely sunbrowned, quite the look of Indian princesses.

Mr. A. Lawrence Gould of Chelsea, for many years in the insurance business, died on the 26th, at the residence of his brother, of consumption, at the age of about forty years. Mr. Gould was a member of the Common Council for two years, 1870 and 1871. He also did good service in the late rebellion. He was a member of Post 39, G. A. R., and a member of an Odd Fellow's society in Boston. Mr. Gould married a daughter of John P. Payson, Esq., formerly a teacher in Portsmouth.

The Republicans will raise four flags this evening, the Grant and Wilson Geards will make their first street parade, and speeches are expected from home talent. The Cornet Band will furnish music.

Mr. W. Z. Herrman is to give one of his delightful piano forte entertainments at the rooms of E. A. Tilton, No. 32 Market St., this evening, commencing at eight o'clock. A few tickets may be purchased of Mr. Tilton at 50 cents each.

A professional gentleman of this city recently showed us a letter from his brother, (whose business engagements in the West have lately taken him over thousands of miles of territory,) giving a most cheering account of the Republican prospects in the Northwest—all the more cheering for being given in a private letter to a near relative, and not intended for publication. The writer says "out here we are all for Grant—how are you?" He says that when he started on a trip to Omaha, some weeks ago, when the Greeley "enthusiasm" was at its height, he felt quite discouraged by the apparent sweep the Dolly Varden movement was making; but on his return he found the Republicans everywhere wide awake and enthusiastic, confident of success and "working hard to deserve it," and the Greeleyites dispirited and silent. Grant and Wilson flags were flying everywhere, and the Republican enthusiasm and vim recalled the determined and successful campaigns of the war period. He instanced a "grand Greeley ratification mass meeting" at Ferry, Michigan, (we believe that's where it is,) which had been heralded for weeks with big posters, flaming type and much spread-eagle bifalatin, and for which all the available bands and Greeley orators had been secured, which resulted in about three thousand people coming together, two-thirds of whom at least were Republicans? The Greeleyerate part of the performance was terribly tame and spiritless,—but at its close there was plenty of "enthusiasm" and such cheering as had not been heard before that day, as the Grant and Wilson men ran up several flags! The Greeley ratifiers went sadly and silently home, utterly disgusted with American politics. Our professional friend will be able to write a similarly cheering letter to his brother from this city, after the Maine election, if indeed he cannot do so now.

Resolutions passed at a Parish meeting of St. John's church, August 26th, 1872:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God suddenly to take from us by death, our respected and esteemed Junior Warden, Moses N. Jenkins Esq.,

Therefore, Resolved that we desire to testify our sense of his modest and unobtrusive worth as a man, and of the great loss this parish has suffered in his decease.

Resolved, that we proffer our profound sympathy to his bereaved family and relatives in their sudden and sore affliction, and that we commend them to the pity of the all merciful, who alone can bind up the wounds which have been made by his wise and inscrutable providence.

Resolved, that these resolutions be entered on the records of the parish, that a copy of the same be sent to the bereaved family and that they be published in one or more of the newspapers of this city.

Ex-Empress Carlotta of Mexico is dying. Poor Carlotta.

The Democratic Convention.

Our Greeley exchanges just now seem to be dividing their energies pretty equally between attempting to prove that the Democratic convention at Louisville will not amount to anything, and to showing that it is got up wholly in the interest of President Grant. If it won't amount to anything, we don't see why they are so anxious to make out that it is got up to help Grant; and if there has been any shadow of truth in their bluster and brag about the Greeley movement being "a grand up-rising of the people," and of the Democratic party "being practically a unit for the Cincinnati-Baltimore nominees" and platform, we cannot see how the nomination of a third candidate at Louisville can harm Greeley or help Grant. According to the Greeley-Democratic papers, the "wildest enthusiasm" for Greeley prevails in the Democratic ranks; if this is true,—if, as the Greeley press has steadily maintained, there is no disaffection with Greeley in the Democratic ranks, what need is there of our cotemporaries laboring so mightily with their readers to convince them that Horace Greeley is a better Democrat than Charles O'Conor or any other possible nominee of the straight Democratic convention? We confess that we cannot answer our own conundrum.

We do not doubt the Louisville convention will result to the interest of the Republicans and their candidates, just as the conventions at Cincinnati and Baltimore have done, though without design in either case. The Cincinnati convention—caucus, rather—was called in the interest of free trade; but (in pursuance of an agreement previously made between Horace Greeley and certain copperhead wire-pullers) the caucus was captured by Fenton, Frank Blair, Gratz Brown, Tilton, Horace White and other "reformers," and the free-trade gathering nominated Horace Greeley, the most extravagant high-protectionist in the country! This of course at once drove the honest men who met in the Cincinnati caucus back into the ranks of the Republican party, where many of them are now doing yeoman service for Grant. The Baltimore traffickers also strengthened the Republican party by demoralizing their own; for however much the Democratic leaders and papers may try to conceal it, it is every day becoming more and more evident that the professed total abandonment of Democratic "principles" by that convention, and its nomination of the man who stands preeminent for the number and harshness of the bitter things he has said of the Democratic party, embittered a very large proportion of the Democratic rank and file. For the Greeley combination to have been successful in the Presidential contest, an unbroken series of successes was necessary from the time the nomination was made until November; but the coalition defeat in North Carolina gave convincing proof that the tidal wave was not much of a flood after all, the immense and enthusiastic gatherings of the Republicans to greet their campaign speakers exposed the falsity of the assertion that the party was demoralized or disheartened, the accessions of honest non-crowseting Democrats to the Republican side has been seen to more than counterbalance the desertion of disappointed office-seekers to the Democrats—in short, the only argument which could possible be advanced to induce the Democracy to go for Greeley, "Greeley is sure to win," has been shown to rest on a terribly shaky foundation. As the delusive hope of winning some kind of a victory is dispelled, the discontent of the sold-out voters becomes more and more apparent; and if the Louisville convention manages to escape being captured like the Cincinnati caucus, and nominates a respectable Democrat, the Greeley fuglers will see their following melt away like dew before a hot sun, and Greeley stock will soon be entirely out of the market.

The New York World advises the straight Democrats that the utmost they can hope for is to help elect Grant; it says Grant or Greeley will be the next President, and urges those voters who have no preference between the two candidates named to refrain from voting for anybody, and not help elect a man they do not wish to see elected. The Democratic convention can indeed only result in making the Republican victory over the Dolly Vardens in November greater,—for if there ever was a chance for a Democratic victory in the present contest the action of the Baltimore marketmen destroyed it, and Horace Greeley's prospects for an election to the Presidency are to-day but little better than Charles Sumner's. But if such a contingency could arise as the Republican party having to choose between such a man as Charles O'Conor, elected as a straight Democrat, and Horace Greley, elected by the old-curiosity-shop combination of odds and ends, we should much prefer the former,—for the rights of the freedmen and the cause of civil and political liberty for all men would be quite as safe in the hands of straight Democrats as under the political Antiques and Horribles, and the vast financial interests of the country would be much safer. Happily, there is not the slightest danger of our having to make any such choice, the people of the country preferring the certainty of four years more of unexampled properity and progress to any possible results of a dangerous experiment.

Morning Chronicle.

THE JAPANESE have fireworks made expressly to be let off by daylight. A recent festival in Japan, at which a display of these ingenious toys was exhibited, is thus described in the Yokohama Herald: "The second day was occupied with exhibitions of the ingenious daylight fireworks, of the manufacture of which the Japanese appear to be the sole masters. As usual, these consisted mostly of bombs, which, exploding high in the air, discharged sometimes various colored jets of smoke, and sometimes closely folded packages of wire and paper, which unfolded themselves into parachutes of great bulk and symetrical design. They were sometimes fish, which swam leisurely through the atmosphere to the ground; or snakes, which writhed themselves away over the tree tops; or great birds, that hovered kitelike and motionless for an incredibly long time. Occasionally they took the shape of cottages, temples, human beings, magnified crests of daimios, trees and flowers—almost anything that a lively imagination could suggest. The smoke figures, however, were the most amusing. One of the most frequently attempted was a little fish, with a body of thick, fuliginous black, and arms of lighter hues. Of course the illusion was very brief, the wind not allowing the smoke to remain undisturbed for more than a few seconds; but while it lasted it was perfect."

EARTH POULTICES. — The value of earth as a disinfectant and deodorizer is well known, and the treatment of ulcerated sores and gangrenous wounds with it is becoming if very general. A new application has lately been described by Dr. E. S. Bunker, who states that he has recently used clay as a dressing for the face in two cases of confluent small pox, dusting it, in fine powder, over the faces of the patients as soon as pustules became fairly developed. This formed a clean, dry, wholesome scab, absorbing the infectious material, and scaled off during convalescence, leaving an underlaying skin in its natural and normal state. The painful itching, which is one of the worst characteristics of the disease, was entirely abated. The earth used was fine pipe clay.

—A harvest hand at Sandstone knocked the ashes out of his tobacco pipe and burned two haystacks which his employer had carelessly left in the way.

TARRANT'S

SELTZER APERIENT.

The Chemistry of Divine Providence has never produced a mineral water which combines in such perfection the qualities of anti-bilious tonic and cathartic medicine, as that of the SELTZER SPA; and TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT is the artificial equivalent of that great natural remedy.

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take, and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and we have selling them, use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Dropsies and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

DOT'S BABY.

It was the most absurdly incredible thing in the world that Dot should be the owner of a baby. With her soft pink and white prettiness, her crinkling, golden hair, her smiles and her dimples, and her happy, innocent heart, what was Dot but a baby herself? And yet, one day in the rosy ripeness of summer, we had crowded the parlor in white Swiss frocks, with garniture of the loveliest blossoms, and, quite premeditatedly, but all in tears, and with yearning regrets and tender forebodings, and sighing looks backward to the happy girl life which had been a thing of beauty, but would be a fair dream for evermore, had given her away to a tall, handsome fellow, Harry Ascott by name and of whom we knew nothing except that Dot loved him and he loved Dot. It was an awfully audacious thing to do, plucking Fate by the sleeve as it were and bidding her serve us nolens volens; and when, after the cake and ice cream had been served, and everybody had kissed Dot, and everybody who dared had also kissed the blushing bridegroom, and our darling transaure had clung to us all one dreadful moment, and cried in the most heartrending fashion, and said she never, never could leave us, and she was a wretch for thinking of it, and when somebody had announced the time for the train, and Dot had slipped out of her white silk and into her gray linen in a twinkling, and that cool young robber had shut her up in the carriage, and we had flung an old slipper after them for luck, and Harry, all smiles and inky mustache, and Dot, all blushes and sobs and fluttering little rings of gold hair, had vanished in a mist of tears, I went away by myself to my chamber, now desolate forevermore, and had a private little weep of my own, and indulged in the dismal luxury of horrid forebodings.

Harry might be a brute. He might break her heart. They might both be killed on the railway. Harry might lose all his money, and Dot might have to come back, an abandoned, miserable little woman, to the family ingle. But this last picture had a bright side. I dried my tears to look at it, and was presently in condition to take myself in hand and administer a good scolding. Harry did not turn out a reprobate. I was made quite miserable by Dot's happiness as reflected in her letters. Ah, these girls! How confidently, with what utter hilarity, do they flee from the dear old hearthstone, lured away by the might of that strange, potent necromancer, who holds such a marvelous lien upon all human hearts!

By-and-by I had a letter from Dot, begging me to come to her, and lying perdu in the little rose-scented note was the most exquisite secret in the world. I went at once, and before I had been many weeks in Dot's home all the world—our world—knew our secret. There was a day and a night of awful suspense, and the stars in their courses seemed to stand still, and all the great round earth to tremble and quiver in mute, breathless expectation. Then in the hush of the morning, a new little life began, and we laughed and cried over each other, and praised God's goodness, which we had dared to doubt only a half hour earlier.

It was funny to see Harry. He had been lifted in a moment from the valley of despair to the sunlit heights of hope, and the poor fellow was dazed. He stood leaning over her where she lay, like a wilted lily, but with heaven shining in her eyes.

"Oh, Harry, look at him!"

That was just what Harry was doing with all his might. Presently he touched the baby's cheek with his finger. I think he had had a suspicion that it was by no means real flesh and blood, but only a waxen hoax.

"He's a little fellow!" he said, contemplatively.

All the mother awoke in Dot.

"Little! why, Harry! how can you? He weighs eight pounds!"

Harry did not recoil under this monstrous fact. He took it quite calmly.

"Does he? Well!" still doubtfully. I suppose he will grow."

"Grow!" cried Dot, sobbing and laughing. "I should think he will. "It's only a question of time. Give him time enough and he will be as big as you are. Oh, you precious, conceited fellow. I didn't know you thought you were born grown up!"

Dot's baby did grow. It was in a refined, suitable fashion, after my own heart. I never could understand the ecstacies people go into over a huge baby, who only represents so much adipose tissue.

"Look at his arms!" they cry. "Look at his legs!"

"Dear friends, I do look at them and I don't like them. They remind me of pork! It's a dreadful thought, I know, but I can't help it. I suppose it betrays some horrible cannibal pedigree, but I never see one of these over-corpulent babies without thinking how nice he would be cooked. As for a soul, I should despair of finding one in such a mass of advoirdupois.

You may think it only nepotism which makes me declare that Dot's baby, as a baby, was absolutely perfect. His exquisite limbs would have

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUCHS. Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, blending, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREWITHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croup, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the choice of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, ACTEA ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a genuine Cordial, relieving nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Maine.

The great demonstration at Portland on Tuesday was one that the Republicans of the first district of Maine may well be proud of. About 8000 strangers were in the city, and two meetings were held in the afternoon, one in the open air and one in City Hall. In the evening the City Hall was again filled and another meeting was held in Flint Hall. Speeches were made by Gens. Selden Connor, A. E. Burnside, B. F. Butler, John C. Caldwell, John M. Harlan, Senator Wilson and Fred Douglass. Senator Wilson predicted that every one of the old free States and six or seven of the former slaveholding States would cast their electoral votes for Grant. Let the Republicans of Maine give Gov. Perham 10,000 to 15,000 majority and the Presidential question would be settled beyond dispute. While the evening meetings were being held, a procession of Tanners and Boys in Blue, carrying 1500 torches, was parading the streets, the residences of many prominent Republicans being illuminated and fireworks sent up along the route. The Bangor Wide Awakes drew especial attention, numbering about three hundred. They promise 500 Republican majority on the 9th of September. The attendance from the towns along the line of the P. S. & P. R. R. numbered about 1500, an extra train of thirteen cars leaving Portland at 11 P. M., and arriving in this city at 2 o'clock, Wednesday morning.

The only doubt as to the result of the Maine election, has been caused by the fear that the Republicans of the Dirigo State might be caught napping by their vigilant opponents. One day among the Republicans of the first Congressional district convinces us that they are fully alive to the importance of this year's election. The prohibition of liquor sales and the enforcement of the cider law were at first issues in the canvass which threatened a loss of 5000 votes to the Republicans; but the contest has been conducted on national matters, and although in Portland and a few other places, there is still an element in the Republican ranks which will tend to reduce last year's majority to some extent, we are glad to observe that this influence decreases and the Republicans enter the closing weeks of the campaign with most auspicious prospects of a brilliant victory. In York county, where the Democrats gained a State Senator last year, leading Republicans now claim that they will give Perham 700 majority for Governor, and enthusiastic canvassers assert that Mr. Perham will have 15,000 majority in the State. It is evident that our neighbors have but to continue their present effective campaigning to send to waiting millions on the 9th of September cheering news of a grand victory.

—In St. Louis, an old ram jumped through a window into a safe store, and was followed by an entire flock of sheep.

Political.

Hon. Samuel B. Axtell, formerly a Democratic member of Congress from California, has come out in favor of Grant and Wilson. Mr. Axtell is a man of large influence and great personal popularity in his adopted State, having been twice elected to Congress from the San Francisco district, each time by majorities of about 5000—in a district which, both before his candidacy and since, has been carried by the Republicans.

Hon. E. O. Hamlin, late Democratic candidate for Governor of Minnesota, has written a letter repudiating the Greeley movement and expressing a determination to vote for Grant and Wilson.

The "Liberal" Republicans of Sagadahoc county, Me., had a "mass convention" in Bath on Tuesday, August 27, the same day as the straight Republican mass meeting at Portland. The Bath affair was a perfect fizzle, for though not over thirty-five disappointed and disaffected Republicans were in attendance, they hadn't enough enthusiasm on hand to go 'round. Sagadahoc county is "all ablaze for Greeley!"

Greeley hats are now used for setting hens.

Some too sanguine chow-chow predicted that Hannibal Hamlin would go for Greeley. It has been observed that the ex-Vice President "goes for him" as a hungry hen goes for a grasshopper.

Senator Morton's friends claim Indiana for the Republicans by 15,000 majority.

A New York correspondent of the St. Louis Globe predicts that Gen. Dix, the Republican candidate for Governor, will have 10,000 to 15,000 majority in New York city.

In Indiana, when they want to announce Schurz for a speech, they say: "Hon. Carl Schurz will go for his little $200 at —— this evening."

Mr. Sumner's physician has ordered him to go to the sea shore for his health, and he has gone to Nahant. It is reported that he will not recover sufficiently to take part in the campaign, before the Maine election, and there is reason to fear that a decided Republican victory there will so aggravate his symptoms as to disqualify him for any oratorical exertion before the election.

The Cincinnati Gazette says, referring to Greeley's attempted denial that he offered pledges to the South: "The question for Mr. Greeley to have answered was this: 'Will you, if elected President, execute the Ku-Klux law and other laws and other legislation designed for the protection of the men of the South?' If he answered this question in the affirmative he could not carry one Southern State and he knew it."

The payment of $400,000 to compensate the slave owners for their loss, was Greeley's proposition. "Unconditional surrender," was Grant's terms.

The Carlisle Volunteer thinks that "Buckalew, Hartley and Thompson are magnetic names. Whenever they are mentioned in political circles they create a feeling." The opinion is sound. Judge Thompson made the draft that was necessary to fill up the army and save the country unconstitutional, and said the greenbacks, needed to sustain the soldiers, were illegal. Buckalew would not vote for these illegal and unconstitutional measures, whatever betided the country, and Hartley was whipped or kicked and arrested for the strength of his southern love—then called treason. Such names ought to arouse feeling—ought to be magnetic. But magnetism is of two kinds, attraction and repulsion, and the Volunteer, if it does not disband too soon, will have a chance of learning the kind these names arouse before many more moons have grown old.—Phila. No. American

Mr. Bingham, chairman of the Michigan Republican State committee, writes that the State is good for thirty thousand Republican majority in November.

The New York Tribune published a list of government defaulters and the name of Dan. Able, of St. Louis, headed the list. And now Governor Gratz Brown has just appointed Able to an important office because he is a Greeley man. This is how the reformers reform.

Ex-Mayor Havemeyer strongly indorses the nomination of General Dix of New York, and calls the Greeley party a junk-shop.

In a private letter a prominent Democrat of Natchez, Miss., says: "Politics is getting warm and a variety of sentiments are held. As for myself, I shall vote for Grant in preference to Greeley. A great many of our people won't vote at all. I believe Mississippi will give 10,000 majority for Grant and Wilson."

The Greeleyites say the Republican national committee are sending out two sets of circulars concerning Horace Greeley, the one showing him in his character as a secessionist, the other in his role of enmity and hatred to the South. That the national Republican committee are able to send out two such sets of circulars is not their fault, but Mr. Greeley's misfortune. He is about the only man in the country having so peculiar a record.

The late Judge Barnard, impeached, removed, disqualified, will take the stump for Greeley next week. Horace is getting them all, says the Toledo Blade.

From the Bourbon point of view the following from Alex. S. Stephens is good argument: "Let him, if he can, point out a single unsurpation or act of despotism by the Grant wing of the Radical party, under which the people now groan, which was not approved and is not now sanctioned by Mr. Greeley!"

The Republicans of Missouri estimate Grant's coming majority in that State at 25,000.

Although Mr. Caldwell, the Republican candidate for Governor of North Carolina, was elected by a majority of nearly 3,000, he ran behind the Republican candidates for Congress. This shows that the national administration and its policy is more popular in that State than the Republican candidates for local offices and the local policy of party, and indicates an increased Republican majority in November even if the Louisville movement does not weaken the Greeleyites.

Mississippi has been usually given up to the Grant people, says the Tribune, with South Carolina and Massachusetts, as a State impossible to rescue from the administration party.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for a throat diseases. For sale at the Union St

HELP NATURE TO RALLY.—After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the effort with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing known to the physician or the pharmacopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy (as well as a preventive) of dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed this effects a cure.

THE PEOPLE'S STAMP OF VALUE.—The Government endorsement, which legalizes the sale of Plantation Bitters, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous Vegetable Tonic. It bears, in addition to that official sanction, the still more valuable stamp, public approbation. This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a tonic, Corrective and Alterative, is of much earlier date than the Government credential; for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the Grand Specific of the Age long before Congress thought of taxing proprietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail, the properties of this wonderful Vegetable Invigorant. The best reference that can be offered to those who desire the full particulars of its virtues, is the General Public. Ask those who have tried it as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, intermittent fevers, nervous debility, rheumatism, sea sickness, low spirits, or loss of vital power, what Plantation Bitters has done for them, and be governed by the response they make to your inquiries.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DECAY'S EFFACING FINGER.—Will never mar the teeth that are brushed daily with Odenferous Sozodont. It lends a floral fragrance to the breath as well as protects the teeth from corrosion and decomposition.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—When the flesh wastes, the strength declines, the liver becomes torpid, and the bowels become irregular, indigestion is the primary cause. To all such cases Holloway's Pills are an immediate, never failing cure. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from infernal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY

Second Grand Gift Concert.

DAY OF THE DRAWING FIXED.

No Postponement from Sept. 28.

To the Public:

The Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky being satisfied from the large sale of tickets already made, and the daily increasing demand for them, that there will be no occasion for postponing the second drawing in the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky, have instructed me, as their agent and manager of the Gift Concert, to say to the public and ticket-holders that the drawing will positively take place on September 28th prox., and will not be postponed. An active demand for tickets comes from every State and Territory of the United States, and from the Canadas, giving assurance to the Trustees that no circumstances can prevent a drawing at the appointed time.

A sufficient clerical force is engaged to keep up with the orders for tickets, and in order that this office may be relieved of the immense pressure incident to the business for the week or two immediately preceding the drawing, agents especially, and those desirous of procuring tickets, are requested to send in their orders immediately, as sales will have to be closed in time to make the necessary preparations for the drawing. It is the wish of the management to fill every order for a ticket, as well as to sell all the tickets, but those who apply first must first be supplied; and, if those who put off buying until sales are closed, have their money returned, instead of the tickets ordered, as in the first Gift Concert in December last, when thousands of dollars that came too late were sent back, they will have none to blame but themselves.

Stir up the Enthusiasm.

In view of the sad decrease in the temperature of that ebullient "enthusiasm" for Greeley which we have heard so much about as existing in this city, we would respectfully suggest to the D. V. managers that putting a judiciously-selected motto on each of the Greeley and Brown flags about town would be the correct thing to do. Mottoes are the real trump-cards, gentlemen,—no doubt of that. Perhaps the following extract from the writings of a man who is as much a Republican now as he ever was, would be appropriate for one flag—say the one across the head of Daniel Street:—

"As to the administration of Gen. Grant, I recognize no one as a Republican who is not grateful for its judicious, energetic and successful efforts." Horace Greeley.

That's excellent; that will enthuse the "liberals" even more than the great victory of the coalition in North Carolina and its still greater prospective victory in Maine have managed to do. But it is not enough that the "liberals" be again warmed up—the old-line Demos must be encouraged also, and what so suitable for that purpose as a few of the pithy sayings of their great leader? As our Dolly Varden friends may not have a file of the New York Tribune at hand, we kindly furnish the following:—

"If there were not a newspaper nor common school in the country, the Democratic party would be far stronger than it is."—Horace Greeley.

"Every one who chooses to live by pugilism or gambling or harlotry, with nearly every keeper of a tippling-house, is politically a Democrat. — Horace Greeley.

"The essential articles of the Democratic creed [are] 'love rum and hate niggers.' The less one learns and knows, the more certain he is to vote the regular ticket from A to Izzard."—Horace Greeley.

"To smoke is a Democratic virtue; to chew is that virtue intensified; to drink rum is that virtue in the superlative."—Horace Greeley.

"A purely selfish interest attaches the lewd, ruffianly, criminal, and dangerous classes to the Democratic party."—Horace Greeley.

We do not know exactly how many flags the Greeleyites have up, about town, but if the mottoes we have given are not numerous enough to go over the lot we will furnish more on application. We won't have it said that we failed to contribute what we could to the "wild enthusiasm" of Mr. Greeley's followers in this city.

Laconics.

Who's been sticking a pin in little Willie? Ought to be ashamed of himself, whoever he is, to make the harmless little creature squeal so.

Essex Engine Co., No. 4, of Lawrence, Mass., will visit this city to-day, and be received by a committee of Sagamore S. F. Engine Co., No. 2, who will go with the visitors to the Shoals, where the day will be spent; they will be received on their return by the full company, with Harlow's Marine Band, and escorted to the Franklin House, where supper will be provided. On Friday afternoon the two companies will have a parade, and a collation will be served in Kearsarge engine house, by No. 3's company. The Haverhill Band will accompany the visitors.

The Boston News says Boston consumes 600 barrels of Portsmouth ale, weekly.

A correspondent of the New York World says that the stage ride from the Eastern Railroad to Rye Beach is through country lanes curiously bordered by alternating graveyards and apple orchards. He adds, "I have been unable to explain this curious juxtaposition, except upon the theory that the residents of the region cannot break themselves of a passion for green apples, and that every man keeps a cemetery of his own."

The Republicans of Newcastle have organized a Grant and Wilson club, with the following officers:—Leander Garland, President; Albert H. White, Lewellyn Trefethen, Vice Presidents; J. M. Bickford, Chairman Ex. Com., Wm. A. Meloon, Secretary; Chas. E. Whitehouse, J. M. Bickford, J. E. Yeaton, N. B. Yeaton, J. W. Amazeen, Executive Committee; Albert H. White, Treasurer.

The Grant and Wilson Guards, under command of Major Daniel J. Vaughan, made their first street parade, Wednesday evening, and saluted the various Grant and Wilson flags about town, including those of Messrs. Joseph H. Emery, Robert C. Sides and others recently raised. Speeches were made by Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, and Mayor Marvin; and the Guards afterwards marched to the Bockingham House and tendered the compliment of a serenade by the Cornet Band to Gen. Ambrose E. Burnside, who was stopping there en route to the Shoals. Gen. Burnside responded in a very happy extempore speech, saying that his entire associations had been Democratic, that he is a Democrat and supports Gen. Grant's re-election as the safest way to ensure the welfare of the country. Ex-Gov. Goodwin was also serenaded, and spoke briefly. Gen. Burnside reports good news from Maine and a coming Republican victory.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.—Rev. James DeNormandie of Portsmouth, N. H., has had an invitation to settle over a fashionable church in St. Louis, at the liberal salary of $10,000 per annum. The reverend gentleman prefers to retain his present pastorate at $3500, and we think he has decided wisely. He is in a good field where he has labored with success for five or six years, and has endeared himself to congregation and people by his continued efforts in behalf of the temperance reform and all other good works that promise to benefit his fellow men in or out of the Church.—Boston News.

The News.

A train of oil cars fell through a bridge on the Reading railroad, and a New York freight train soon after ran into the gap. The oil caught on fire, destroying the engine and several cars.

The Boston and Maine railroad has begun laying the track from the rolling mills at Portland toward Saco.

The grand musical festival in Geneva on Sunday proved a complete success. The singing was performed by 225 societies. In the evening there was a torch-light procession, with a fine display of fireworks, and the festival, which had continued through the day, closed with a ball.

DECLINE OF GREELEYISM.—The New York Herald of Sunday devotes an editorial article to the "decline in the Greeley enthusiasm," which it finds quite marked since the North Carolina election, and closes the review as follows:

"In short from the present outlook, the prospect from every point of view is growing somewhat gloomy for Greeley, and unless in the results of the coming State elections he shall make a break in the apparently compact lines of the administration party, the Philosopher of Chappaqua, as a pilgrim for the White House, may

Lay down de shovel and de hoe,
And hang up de fiddle and de bow."

Sheriff O'Brien's Apollo Hall Democracy of New York city have chosen a full set of delegates to the Louisville convention.

No word of denial has yet been uttered in regard to Senator Doolittle's alleged dishonorable cotton speculations. This delay looks bad for the Senator.

The Democratic State committee of South Carolina has adopted resolutions advising the Democrats to nominate no State ticket.

—A man from the suburbs came to the village on Thursday, and bought a keg of nails, one of mackerel, and a barrel of flour. With these articles he started for home. When he reached the river, he thought it the part of true economy to ford and thus save the bridge toll, four cents. He accordingly engaged a boy named Pitcher to show the way, and drove into the river. When half way across the high water washed the wagon box and its contents from the running gear, and upset the latter into the water. The man struck out for shore and reached it, but the boy clung to the box and floated down the river some distance before the box came near enough to shore to warrant an attempt to escape. When the man got to the shore he started off for help to secure his things, believing that the boy was beyond aid, while the boy on arriving on land, legged it for home for fear the man would lick him for getting him into the scrape. The mackerel sunk at once there being so much salt on their tails they could not get away. When you have time you should sit down and figure out how much the man made on his assumed capital of four cents.—Danbury News.

Morning Chronicle.

Concluded from first page.

delighted a sculptor. Indeed, they were modeled more than once, and we might have had quite a museum of casts, only Dot declared she wouldn't have pieces of her baby lying round all over the house.

The little fellow had a name of his own—a very pretty name, too—but he was always spoken of as Dot's baby. When he was three years old I went to spend the winter with Dot.

"It is really time you were married, Ruthy," said Dot. "I have a foreboding that you will be an old maid. I read the other day that there were seventy thousand more women than men in Massachusetts. The paper didn't say that the most of 'em live in the country towns, but I know they do. You shall stay here this winter, Ruthy, and if you don't get a lover by spring, Harry and I will pay your fare to Colorado. Only you mustn't make love to Harry, to seduce the baby's young affections."

This was the week before Christmas, and our principal work just then was to go shopping for presents. One day we had been unusually busy, had lunched down town, and didn't start for home till the short winter afternoon was just closing in.

"I am wild to see the baby," said Dot, as we crowded into the car, already crammed as cars are at the holidays. "I always think when I'm going home, What if anything has happened to him?"

"What should happen to him?"

Dot knit her two aristocratic eyebrows into a frown.

"Don't be a goose, dear, and pretend. You know a thousand things might have happened to him. But I can't tell the man to drive faster because I am worried about my baby, can I?"

I smiled in my maiden superiority. I believe I said something about conceited young women who fancy that their baby's cradle is the axis of the planet. Poor darling Dot! Why couldn't I have foreseen the awful trouble that was to come upon her?

We got home at last, and Dot ran up the steps before me and rang the bell. Mary the second girl, opened the door, smiled at first, glanced past us inquiringly, and then gave a short scream.

"What's the matter?" demanded Dot, turning upon her with a white face.

"Sure, an' it's the baby, ma'am?"

"The baby!" shrieked Dot. "What—what—"

The words died on her lips. She was quite past speech. But she seized Mary by the shoulder, and her eyes were wild and fierce in their demand.

"You said first you'd take him, ma'am, and when I when up stairs and found he wasn't asleep on the sofa, as ye said, I thought you'd tuk him. Howly mother! it's lost he is!"

One awful, fixed, uncomprehending stare, and then, as the truth came home to her, Dot fell forward in a dead faint into my arms.

Oh, how my heart ached! and yet I dared not stop to grieve. We carried Dot up stairs. I sent the cook down to Harry's office, and Mary to the nearest police-station. In half an hour the parlor was full of neighbors and friends, whom the news of our sudden trouble had brought to us. In among them came Harry, pale and wretched, and took Dot in his arms.

"God won't be so cruel to us, my darling," he said.

Her dry, hot eyes, seemed to cling to and devour him.

"I don't know," she sobbed. "Dreadful things happen in the world every day, and He lets them."

What a night that was to live through—what a night to remember! A dear friend came to us, and consulted with Harry. They agreed upon measures for search. Everything was done that could be done. Harry staid by and comforted us. Sleep was not thought of. We walked the floor; we went listlessly from room to room.

"Oh, if Dot could only cry," said Harry, with streaming eyes. I looked at her. Would her heart break?

It was a dreadful risk, but worth the chance. I went into Dot's bedroom, and hunting there, found a little worn velvet cap, with its shred of gold lace, and its dilapidated tassel. We had fancied that the baby looked particularly lovely in it, and had been loth to throw it aside.

"Dot, darling, you know you threw down his coat and his new cap on the bed when you decided not to take him. He must have put them himself. See! here is the old cap, dear."

I put it into her lap. She had been rocking back and forth, her face in her hands. She dropped her hands now, gazed at the poor little chapeau, and great sobs began to shake her.

"Oh my baby, my baby!" she cried, and a rushing torrent of tears swept away the icy despair that had controlled her.

It was better after this. Dot could talk, and her sorrow was easier to bear when it could be put into words.

"I think of him wandering in those vile streets, and the poor outcast children crowding around him—he must seem like an angel to them or a little king—and perhaps one ruder than the rest tears off his cap, and another seizes his cloak, and he is cold, and the winter wind blows his hair about, and he wants his mamma, and he gets hungry, and—oh, Ruthy, how can I bear it?"

Dot cries at the picture, and directly new combinations arise.

We see him running up and down the streets, and he grows more and more heart-broken in his longings and hunger for his sweet mamma.

Just in the gray of the morning the bell rang again. It had been ringing at intervals all night, and again and again our hopes had been kindled only to die.

Harry went down. Dot and I listened at the head of the stairs.

"It's nothing, darling," I said, with my arm around her waist.

But Dot's quicker ear, or more likely, her mother's instinct, divined the truth. She broke from my arms with a cry, and ran down.

I followed, and there was the blessed baby in the arms of a strange young gentleman.

Those arms yielded him instantly.

How he was kissed and cried over! What congratulations, what a tumult of thanksgiving, what tears, what sobbing laughter received the unwitting prodigal! Was it not all witnessed by the handsome young stranger? who was no stranger after all, but an old friend of Harry's, called by him Jack, as familiarly as if he had been his brother.

It was a long, pathetic story, but the gist of it was, that Mr. Conway had rescued the baby from the clutches of a beggar, who undoubtedly meant to use him as capital in her trade.

"I tried to find out his name," said Mr. Conway, laughing, "but all I could learn was, that mamma was 'Dot,' and he was 'Dot's baby.'"

Mr. Conway retired after being, I hope, properly thanked and refreshed.

It was breakfast time now, but who cared for breakfast? We gathered around the table, a happy if not a hungry party.

"Harry, who is Jack Conway?" asked Dot.

"He is an old comrade of mine. We stood shoulder to shoulder at Antietam and Gettysburg."

"Shoulder to shoulder, and he five feet seven, and you seven feet five, is it?"

"A capital fellow," proceeded Harry, not noticing Dot's irrelevant interruption. "In a banking concern down town."

"Mr. Ascott," remarked Dot, with a serious look in her eyes, "may I be allowed to ask why you have never introduced this capital fellow to the bosom of your family?"

"Never thought of it, I suppose. Why?"

"Why? why?" cried Dot. "Oh, the ineffable stupidity of the masculine mind! Because, you precious goosie, he is the man predestined from the foundation of the world to be Ruthy's husband."

"Ah!" said Harry, and surveyed me with a new and critical interest.

"Nonsense, Dot! you're crazy!" I cried.

"Not at all. I'm a much-abused and unappreciated seeress of whom my family are not worthy. Never blush, dear. See if my prophecy doesn't come true."

It did—it really did. And it all came of Dot's Baby.

Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUCHS, Much has been said and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain of the feet, produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be endured. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Chilblains on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the choice of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents are frequently called to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Massachusetts Convention.

The Republican State convention of Massachusetts on Wednesday, August 28, perfected its permanent organization by the choice of Dr. George B. Loring as president, with the usual complement of vice-presidents and secretaries. Dr. Loring addressed the convention in an able speech, after which there was a recess for dinner. On resuming, a series of resolutions endorsing the principles and candidates of the national Republican party was adopted, and the convention proceeded to a ballot for a candidate for governor, with the following result.

Whole number of votes	831
Necessary for a choice	416
George B. Loring,	3
A. H. Rice,	6
Benjamin F. Butler,	259
William B. Washburn,	563

The result was hailed with much enthusiasm. Dr. Loring acknowledged the honor of his three votes in his usual happy style, and moved to make the nomination unanimous, which was done. The result of the ballot for lieut.-governor was announced as follows:—

Whole number of votes	1038
Necessary for a choice	520
Joseph Tucker,	3
J. B. Smith,	22
E. B. Stoddard,	395
Thomas Talbot,	618

There was some hesitation about accepting this result, as there was very obviously a mistake somewhere. But inasmuch as the entire excess of votes could be subtracted from Mr. Talbot's number and still leave him a majority, Mr. Foster of Cheshire moved his nomination, and it was carried. During the afternoon the State central committee was appointed, a resolution of thanks to the president was passed, and Dr. Loring proposed three cheers for Grant and Wilson, after giving which the convention dissolved.

STANTLEY AND LIVINGSTONE.—The Boston Advertiser's special from New York, discussing the question "did Stanley find Livingstone?" says "the opinion rapidly increases that the whole affair is a hoax. Important revelations concerning this matter are promised in a day or two by several persons who know Stanley and were familiar with his plans at the time of the expedition to Abyssinia and previous to his departure for Zanzibar. Several scientific gentleman discussed the subject and the opinion was unanimous that Stanley's story is false. A comparison of Livingstone's letter to Bennett with the private letter of Stanley shows a wonderful similarity of handwriting and several experts pronounce them identical. The discrepancies already pointed out are to be followed by others. The letter to Livingstone's brother in Canada has been sent for and pages from it will be compared with private letters known to be from Stanley's hand. A private letter from a member of the Royal Geographical Society of London says corroborating proofs are daily increasing that Stanley went into Africa as far as Unyanyembe, where he learned of Livingstone's death and obtained his diary and several other articles belonging to him. Knowing it to be a greater feat to find Livingstone alive, he concluded to make up the story and fabricate letters to corroborate his own statements. His denunciation of Dr. Kirk is considered part of a plan to break the force of the letter's exposure of Stanley's fraud, and his remarks about the slave-trade, are intended to divert attention. The letter says the English savans are nearly unanimous in regarding Stanley's story with distrust, and believe that he has imposed upon the Herald and through it upon the whole world."

The News.

The Portuguese steamer Perseveranze went ashore in the fog at Oporto, and thirty lives were lost.

In the United States district court at Providence, Judge Knowles adjudged the Cuban war schooner Pioneer forfeited to the United States, and ordered a warrant for her sale.

A Watertown, Mass., boy, fifteen years old, has been arrested for highway robbery and assault with intent to kill, and when the officer found him he was beating his mother.

Political.

—The Liberal Republican movement, necessitated by the condition of public affairs, is the offspring of the popular will, and derives its support from the co-operation of the people.—Liberal Republican Call.

"Offspring of the popular will" is good when we consider that three self-elected delegates to Cincinnati cast eight votes for Horace Greeley, and thereby secured his nomination. One of them has openly acknowledged that he was requested by Mr. Greeley, three weeks before the convention was held, to go to Cincinnati and labor for his nomination. He did so. If such action is an "offspring of the popular will," it must be of the bastard sort." Nashua Telegraph.

The following is the State ticket agreed upon by the Republican conference committees in New Orleans: Governor, Mr. Kellogg; lieutenant-governor, Mr. Antboine; secretary of State, Mr. Desbondel (colored), instead of Mr. Blanding (colored); auditor, Mr. Clinton; attorney-general, Mr. Field; superintendent of education, Mr. Brown (colored), instead of Mr. Keating (white); congressman-at-large, Mr. Pinchbeck, instead of Mr. Lewis (colored). This action harmonizes the two wings of the anti-Greeley party in Louisiana, and leaves Warmoth and the other hand-shakers very much out in the cold,—another State made doubly certain for Grant and equal rights.

Senator Wilson has written a letter in reply to a number of Brooklyn, N. Y., Germans who requested him to inform them whether he was ever a member of the Know-Nothing party in which he says, "I have never been a member of the Know-Nothing party and have never voted with it," and denounces the repeated assertions of the Greeley press and orators, charging him with having spoken against the filling of militia uniforms with "Irish papists" and "German infidels," as "a calumnious slander" and a "contemptible election manœuvre which, though without success, has been used against me several times, especially in the years 1855 and 1858, by the opponents of the Republican party." As no shadow of proof was even attempted to be offered in support of the slander referred to, which rested solely on the assertion of one Democratic newspaper and was years ago not only denied but proved to be false, Mr. Wilson's recent letter seems hardly needed—and the Greeley men will lie on all the same. But even had Mr. Wilson made use of the language falsely attributed to him, his long subsequent service as the workingmen's champion should be considered by the men who "do not quote St. Paul previous to his conversion" when Mr. Greeley's troublesome record and writings are brought up. Possibly, however, the Saul of Tarsus theory is only meant to apply to Horace Greeley.

Judge Settle's friends say that he has not yet decided whether to contest Leach's seat in the House from the fifth North Carolina district. They urge him to do so on the grounds of justice and believing him to have a clear right to the seat, but he hesitates, objecting to a contest on general principles. Leach's assumed majority is only two hundred and fifty, while it is stated that in Caswell county alone three hundred Republican voters were kept from the polls by the threat of arrest and imprisonment if they voted.

A gentleman of New York city says that he will bet $1000 on Grant and Wilson on every State in the Union, not less than $10,000 to be deposited by each party in any approved trust company, to abide the result.

A young gentleman of this city, who shares in the patriotic spirit of his father and family, returned home yesterday morning from a four weeks' journey through Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Indiana and New York, and on all trains he took votes for Presidential candidates. The total result foots up more than twice as many for Grant as for Greeley. He says his meals cost him nothing, for he would start a bet with a Greeley man, count the train, and eat at his opponent' expense.—Worcester Gazette.

The following resolution was adopted by the Massachusetts Republican State Convention at Worcester: "Resolved, That the traffic in intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage enforcing a tax upon the industry of the people is productive of crime and pauperism, and is against the peace of society and should therefore be suppressed by law vigorously and impartially enforced." It was offered at the meeting of the Committee on Resolutions and rejected by a vote of seven for to seven against it. It was again offered in the Convention and passed by a very decided vote amid much enthusiasm.

A. P. Carpenter, Esq., of Bath, who has been supposed to be slightly tinctured with Greeleyism, recently called for breakfast at the Pemigewasset House. The popular manager, Mr. Morse, politely presented a dish of eggs, on one of which was marked "This is a Greeley egg." Carpenter hastily cracked the marked egg, when, whew! an awful odor came forth; the egg was rotten. Amid roars of laughter, with carpet-bag in one hand and his nose in the other, Carpenter rushed for the Concord train, muttering most emphatically — "your Greeley eggs; hereafter give me Grant eggs, if that is a Greeley egg."—Lancaster Republican.

The Greeleyerats have evidently been terribly troubled lest Charles O'Conor should receive and accept the Democratic nomination for President, and it has been asserted that Mr. O'Conor declined the nomination in advance. We have no more fear of the success of a Democratic ticket than we have of that of the Dolly Varden's, so we do not think it very important who the Democratic convention may nominate; but the following letter published in the Chicago Inter-Ocean may be interesting to those Democrats who cannot eat crow:

NEW YORK, Aug. 27, 1872.

My Dear Sir:— I was and am in favor of the Louisville movement. Even mere profession of adherence to the Democratic ideas must soon disappear, if without our marked dissent the party can be transferred to its deadliest foes.

CHAS. O'CONOR.

The Manchester Mirror has a report of the first Republican campaign meeting in that city, Tuesday evening, August 27. Senator Chandler of Michigan addressed the audience, which filled Smyth's Hall to overflowing, floor, galleries and aisles,—and was one of the largest and most intelligent political audiences ever gathered in Manchester. Such an attendance was quite unexpected, so early in the campaign. The Senator's speech was received with hearty applause. Mr. G. A. Sulloway, president of the Grant club, before introducing Mr. Chandler unrolled a list containing the names of ninety-one Manchester Democrats who refuse to eat crow and have agreed to stand by Grant and Wilson. Tremendous cheering followed this announcement. The meeting broke up with cheers for Senator Chandler and the Republican candidates, and the campaign in Manchester may be said to be well begun.

At a Greeley meeting in Bloomfield, Scott County, Illinois, on the evening of the 14th inst., the audience shook hands across the bloody chasm by cheering lustily for Jeff. Davis. How this would have thrilled Uncle Horace's soul if he had been there!—Chicago Post.

The convention of soldiers and sailors at Pittsburg promises to be the greatest gathering of veterans since the war. Enormous delegations are going from all principal cities in the country.

The Georgia "straight-outs" don't like to be called "strayed-outs."

The action of the New Jersey straight-out Democratic convention is a severe blow to the Greeleyites. It will doubtless give the electoral vote of that State to Grant and Wilson.

The prohibitionists of Massachusetts have decided that it is inexpedient to nominate an independent ticket this year.

North Carolina advices say that Merrimon, late Democratic candidate for Governor, will not contest the election of Caldwell, but will urge his claim before the Legislature for the United States Senatorship, to fill the place of Pool, whose time expires March 3, 1873; in which case there will be a fierce contest between the friends of Merrimon and Vance in the Legislature, which may result in the election of a Republican Senator.

In one of the counties of Oregon there is a solitary Greeley man who is waiting for somebody to come along and organize him into a campaign club.

The Washington Republican has nailed the last lie, and General Farnsworth stands in the unpleasant position of having not only misrepresented President Grant's words, but also of having falsified one of his messages to suit his (Farnsworth's) false statements.

Advices from India report the cholera raging throughout the Empire. The number of deaths are appalling. The greatest alarm prevails among the inhabitants. In Lahore the disease is most malignant. Thousands are carried off, and a general panic prevails. At Meerut the ravages are terrible.

A Louisville despatch states that letters received there give evidence of a large attendance at the Convention. The New York delegates will occupy the Galt House, and large numbers of Labor Reformers have engaged quarters at the hotels. Letters are also received by Duncan from Charles O'Conor, heartily endorsing the movement.

A story is told of a bright youth in a Southern city, who took a position behind a blind organ grinder, and with outstretched hat solicited alms, and when his tile was well filled retired to his native heath, leaving the organist in the dark as to his little speculation. The New York Times says this is a good illustration of the neat trick the Democratic party is playing on Greeley by making him its candidate for the Presidency.

HELP NATURE TO RALLY.—After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the effort with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing known to the physician or the pharmacopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy (as well as a preventive) of dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed this effects a cure.

THE PEOPLE'S STAMP OF VALUE.—The Government endorsement, which legalizes the sale of Plantation Bitters, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous Vegetable Tonic. It bears, in addition to that official sanction, the still more valuable stamp, public approbation. This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a tonic, Corrective and Alterative, is of much earlier date than the Government credential; for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the Grand Specific of the Age long before Congress thought of taxing proprietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail, the properties of this wonderful Vegetable Invigorant. The best reference that can be offered to those who desire the full particulars of its virtues, is the General Public. Ask those who have tried it as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, intermittent fevers, nervous debility, rheumatism, sea sickness, low spirits, or loss of vital power, what Plantation Bitters has done for them, and be governed by the response they make to your inquiries.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a fadeel character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DECAY'S EFFACING FINGER.—Will never mar the teeth that are brushed daily with Odenferous SOZODONT. It lends a floral fragrance to the breath as well as protects the teeth from corrosion and decomposition.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—When the flesh wastes, the strength declines, the liver becomes torpid, and the bowels become irregular, indigestion is the primary cause. In all such cases Holloway's Pills are an immediate, never failing cure. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms' Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will care all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. aug2

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY

Second Grand Gift Concert.

DAY OF THE DRAWING FIXED.

No Postponement from Sept. 28.

To the Public:

The Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky being satisfied from the large sale of tickets already made, and the daily increasing demand for them, that there will be no occasion for postponing the second drawing in the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky, have instructed me, as their agent and manager of the Gift Concert, to say to the public and ticket-holders that the drawing will positively take place on September 28th prox., and will not be postponed. An active demand for tickets comes from every State and Territory of the United States, and from the Canadas, giving assurance to the Trustees that no circumstances can prevent a drawing at the appointed time.

A sufficient clerical force is engaged to keep up with the orders for tickets, and in order that this office may be relieved of the immense pressure incident to the business for the week or two immediately preceding the drawing, agents especially, and those desirous of procuring tickets, are requested to send in their orders immediately, as sales will have to be closed in time to make the necessary preparations for the drawing. It is the wish of the management to fill every order for a ticket, as well as to sell all the tickets, but those who apply first must first be supplied; and, if those who put off buying until sales are closed, have their money returned, instead of the tickets ordered, as in the first Gift Concert in December last, when thousands of dollars that came too late were sent back, they will have none to blame but themselves.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

[Greeleycratic Hand-Clasping.

The Greeley rowdies and ragmuffins who follow Republican processions about town after dark, added another to their list of accomplishments during the parade of the Grant and Wilson Guards on Wednesday evening. On Russell Street they were especially noisy and commenced throwing missiles. At the junction of Hanover and Bridge Streets, Major Vaughan, the commander of the Guards, was struck on the shoulder by a stone, but fortunately was not seriously injured. This hand-shaking-across-the-bloody-chasm business, in which the Greeley conciliators are so extensively engaged and about which they have twaddled so sweetly, though marvellously beautiful in theory doesn't seem to work very well in Greeleycratic practice. To be sure, the Greeleyites may regard the determination of the Republican party to re-elect the man of their choice as a "re-opening of the wounds of the war," and the parade of a uniformed Grant and Wilson organization through the streets, under command of a gallant Union soldier, as a gross insult to the generous and forgiving souls at the South who are willing to shake hands across the bloody chasm and endorse the past in consideration of the work of the past being nullified and they and their lost cause restored to power; but even if this is their view of the case, their pelting the obnoxious Grant men with bricks and stones can hardly be the best way of inducing them to embark in the hand-shaking business, and some persons may be so unreasonable as to think that if Northern copperheads still consider it incumbent upon them to throw stones at the head of a soldier whose face wears a grapeshot souvenir from Gettysburg, the Southern rebels hand-shaking propensities cannot be implicitly relied on as the true groundwork of a happy reconciliation, just yet. But possibly the Portsmouth Greeleycrats do not want to go "way down South" to shake hands across the bloody chasm, and prefer to dig a private one of their own at home, across which they can indulge in a little bit of hand-clasping whenever they choose.

Laconics.

Tax-payers should not forget that today, August 30, is the last day on which four per cent. will be deducted from their tax bills.

Should the Greeley men succeed in securing a dozen persons who are desirous of showing themselves in public procession during the present campaign, we trust that Republicans will teach them a good example by refraining from interrupting their proceedings by insults and stone throwing in retaliation for like treatment by the Greeley mobs.

The Laighton Brothers propose making extensive additions to the Appledore House at the Isle of Shoals. A landing for the steamer is to be constructed, and the establishment increased to double its present capacity.

Both branches of the Dover City Council voted to subscribe $225,000 to the stock of the Portsmouth & Dover R. R., unconditionally, Wednesday evening.

Messrs. Samuel M. Joy, L. V. Newell and others have formed a Grant and Wilson campaign glee club, consisting of a double quartet. They will furnish music at the meetings at the Republican headquarters and elsewhere.

Essex S. F. Engine Co. of Lawrence, accompanied by the Haverhill Band, arrived here at 11:30 A. M., Thursday, and were taken to the Shoals by steamer Clara Bateman. They returned in the evening, and were met at the wharf and escorted about town by S. F. Engine Co. No. 2 of this city and the Cornet Band.

Excursion tickets from this city to Wolfeboro' and return, good on any day until October 1st, are now issued by the Eastern Railroad at $3.30 each, and can be procured of the station agent.

Mr. Alpheus D. Cate, a laboring man employed by Hon. Frank Jones, was accidentally shot in the head by a pistol in the hands of a boy named Ernest Johnson, Thursday forenoon, and died at about half-past 2 o'clock, P. M. His age was about 60 years.

Gen. Butler will address the Republican electoral convention at Exeter, September 10th.

State News.

Hanover has lost eight or ten bridges by the recent raine, and figures up a loss of $2,000 from water.

Eighteen sheep have been killed in the pasture of Almon Cross, in Colebrook, by bears, this summer.

The body of Wilmer Leavitt, of Grantham, eighteen years old, was found in Stocker's pond in that town, Aug. 24. He had been missing since Wednesday night, when, having gone fishing with a companion, both fell asleep. Leavitt was missing when his companion awoke. He may have walked into the pond in his sleep but the whole affair is shrouded in mystery, and the authorities are investigating it. The young men had been drinking.

As Mr. William Wright and Mr. Woodin of Brookline were enjoying a bath in the waters of Potanopo pond, on the 21st, they discovered a large water snake making for the shore. After a sharp chase they succeeded in dispatching her. The "varmint" measured four feet in length and nine inches in circumference. The strangest part of the story remains to be told. They took out of the snake forty-two young ones with an average length of nine inches each, making an aggregate of length for the whole thirty-one feet. The gentlemen displayed a great deal of courage in capturing the "critter," and the boys have voted them public benefactors for destroying the snake and her progeny, as they think they would be very unpleasant bathing companions.—Nashua Telegraph.

The Telegrph says the sixth mill of the Columbian Manufacturing Company which is being constructed at Greenville village, is to have a capacity for 6000 spindles. The main building is 150 feet long and has an addition of two wings 44 feet long. One million and a half of brick have been used in the walls.

More than thirty inches of rain have fallen in the White Mountain districts since the first of May.

The Profile House has nearly 500 guests.

The Twin Mountain House is full to overflowing.

Last week, Walter Shedd, son of J. G. Shedd, of Boston, met with a painful accident at Lancaster. He was on top of a box freight car in the yard near the depot, and was looking over the end to witness the coupling of the engine which was coming up. The jar caused by the engine striking the car threw him over on to the cowcatcher, and one of the bones of the leg below the knee was broken by the fall.

A NOVEL PROCESSION.—The Portland Press gives the following account of the unique manner in which a camp meeting was recently closed at Richmond, Me.: "After singing a stirring song, the president announced that the hour had arrived for the last act of this religious drama. The president, vice president and two other clergymen then, arm in arm, four abreast, took up the line of march around the stand. About a thousand joined in the procession. As they marched they sang some of those wild, pathetic songs this sect is so famous for. Twice around the inclosure the great procession slowly tramped to the music of the song. After the second tramp around around, a halt was made, the men forming a line facing the circle. The sisters, now in single file, slowly passed along the waiting line of men, shaking each by the hand as they passed, many of the more excited sisters throwing their arms around some favorite brother's neck, and giving him a kiss of holy love. After the women had passed, the last brother in the line followed in behind, the line of men thus doubling on itself. Here some of the men followed the example of the sisters, brother kissing brother as they passed. The shouts, and amens, the hallelujahs were hearty and frequent. Perhaps a thousand persons witnessed this extraordinary scene."

—Middletown youths have a novel way of stealing. As excursion trains arrive, a gang of young thieves lay in wait, at the foot of Miller street, with long poles, and knock the handkerchiefs from the children's hands while waving them from the windows of the cars.

FARNSWORTH.—This gentleman, in his published apology for going over to the Democracy, says:

There are many reasons why there should be a change of Administration. I have been a member of Congress thirteen years; and truth compels me to say that, during that period, there has been the most wasteful and extravagant use of public money and the least accountability of those who have disbursed it during the present Administration.

When Mr. Farnsworth came home and sought a renomination to Congress, and through upwards of eighty ballotings pledged himself to support the Republican ticket, he knew of no reason for "a change of administration." But when his constituents finally decided that thirteen years was enough for him, he suddenly discovered that four years was enough for General Grant. Does it not require a degree of effrontery which but few possess, to declare that his thirteen years in Congress enables him to say that the party with which he has acted has been so corrupt that a president of four years can no longer be trusted. If there has been corruption, he has long been charged by the Tribune, which contains his letter, with a full share in it.—Ill. State Journal.

Morning Chronicle.

THE HOODLUM'S HISTORY. — The eastern press is profoundly agitated over the above conundrum. What is a Hoodlum? asks the New York World. Even Manton Marble, with all his classic and eastern lore, fails to catch the meaning of the new California word. We are not surprised. The animal is indigenous to our State, is the growth of our peculiar civilization—belongs to us. We proceed to enlighten the savans of the press. The Hoodlum is a male of the human species, of the genius homo. He dresses in broadcloth, wears polished boots, carries a cane. He is to lazy too work; he is too proud to beg; he is too cowardly to steal. He lives off the hard earnings of the sin and shame of some poor girl whom he abuses and neglects; he stands upon the street corners with his Hoodlum comrades of an afternoon; stares in brazen vulgarity at honest women and assaults with rude gestures and emphatic expressions the soiled doves as they flutter by.

He has respectable relatives from whom he borrows when the wolf chases him too closely and during election times he sells his influence for coin and aids to control political results. He travels on shape and talent; he bullies the weak, and he fawns upon the strong; his ambition is to get some sinecure berth in politics; he is night watchman, or has special policeman's beat—duties which he never performs, except to collect the money. He lives at free lunches; he amuses himself by rowdy actions; attends excursions. His strong effort is to keep out of the clutches of the law. He is the friend and counselor of thieves, swindlers and confidence men, and finally adopts the felon's profession—then he ceases to be a Hoodlum. He becomes a drunkard, and is then called bummer. He gets shabby, and finds no frail woman to support him; he is then vagabond and loafer. During the time of his early success he hangs about theaters; knows, and is useful to, actors and actresses; he is a claequet and deadhead. He brings up in the home of the inebriate, the country hospital or the State prison. He is a disgrace to his family and a nuisance to the community. — San Francisco Chronicle.

—A Chicago reporter announces that "the receipt of another ship-load of blackberries from St. Joe on yesterday created a perceptible ripple in the toothpick trade."

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; is lighter speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Boils or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

DOWN BRAKES!—Ed" is a brakeman employed on the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis Railroad. He was married only a few weeks ago. His wife has been wearing a piece of red flannel round her neck for the last ten days, and complaining of a wry neck. This is how it came to pass:

"Ed" had just been doing extra duty, taking a sick friend's train in addition to his own, and so had not been in bed for forty-eight hours. As a matter of course he was nearly worn out, and as soon as his supper had been eaten he went to bed to sleep, perchance to dream. He was soon locked in the arms of Morpheus and Mary, and dreaming. Again his foot was on his native platform, and he heard the warning toot of the whistle for brakes. The shadowy train bore him swiftly on; the telegraph posts fleeted past quicker and quicker; the whole country fled by like a panorama mounted on sheet lightning rollers. In his dream he heard far off another roar, and swinging out by the railings he saw another train coming at lightning speed around the curve. Both trains were crowded with passengers; in another moment they would rush together, and from the piles of ruin a cry of agony would shiver to the tingling stars from the lips of the maimed and dying. The engineer had seen their danger, for at that moment, in his dream, he heard the whistle calling for brake sound loud and unearthly. With the strength of desperation he gripped the brakes and turned it down. There was a yell of pain, and "Ed" woke to find himself sitting up in bed holding his wife by the ears, having almost twisted off her head.

That's how "Ed's" wife came to wear a piece of red flannel round her throat and complain of a wry neck.—St. Louis Democrat.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.—Some six years ago I saw in your columns a remedy for summer complaint and kindred diseases, which with slight modifications I have since tried and recommended in a great many cases without once having or hearing of a failure. The ingredients are almost always at hand, and are so simple that it does not seem that there can be the least danger in its use in any case. Take equal quantities of good vinegar and boiling water, and a little more common salt than they will dissolve. Pour the vinegar on the salt in a tea cup and the boiling water on both. Stir thoroughly so that as much salt as may will dissolve. Let it settle, and then take according to the violence of the attack 2 to 3 teaspoonfuls; in 20 or 30 minutes 1 or 2 more; then again in one two and three hours, regulating the frequency and size of the dose according to the disease. I find that I can thus shut down the gates about as suddenly or as gradually, in, say about three hours. The first trial I gave it was in the worst attack of diarrhoea I ever had, accompanied with great pain. I took four spoonfuls, and in fifteen minutes two more when the pain began to decrease; laid down on the lounge and in about fifteen minutes took another dose and went to sleep, slept until noon, two hours, when I took one more spoonful and a cup of strong tea and went to my work; at six o'clock took another dose and light supper, and in the morning was as well as ever.—Cor. Country Gentleman.

TO RIPEN PEARS.—To cause pears to col or up handsomely, Josiah Hoop, in the Agriculturist, says "all that is necessary will be to spread a blanket on the floor of a cool room, and then thinly and evenly place the fruit theron. A second blanket must be spread over them, and in a short time the effect of this treatment will be apparent in the most golden colored Bartlett's and rich, ruddy-looking Seckles imaginable. Pears perfected in this manner rarely have the mealiness of their naturally-ripened companions; nor do they prematurely decay at the core, as when left on the trees." This of course implies that they must be picked in advance of ripening on the trees, the time for which is partly indicated by a slight change of color, and partly by a readiness to part from the stem when gently lifted, so that some strain is made on the point of junction. The Bartlett will ripen, even if picked some weeks in advance of ripening on the tree, and even when its growth is not fully attained.—Country Gentleman.

—Two newspaper editors in Montana Territory have bet their offices, goodwill and all, on the Congressional election in a certain district.

—An old fellow who hasn't got through voting for Andrew Jackson for President, sent a letter to the Register of Deeds office, at Augusta, recently, addressed to "John Hovey, Register of Deeds." Mr. Hovey filled that office from 1816 to 1836.

—The most extraordinary instance of patience on record is that of an American judge, who listened silently for two days while a couple of wordy lawyers contended about the construction of an act of the Legislature, and then ended the controversy by quietly remarking—"Gentlemen, the law is repealed."

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Cough, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about fifty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and be in readiness.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the larger Dispensaries of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.
COUCHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.
CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest Insps, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Alleyantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.
PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,
Pulmocine Cordial
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Influenza, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the dance of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human family, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians, that best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
In the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, QUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a nonpoisonous family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid, to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.
USE BUCHMAN'S
PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

GRANT ON BANKS.—A soldier of the Tennessee furnishes to the Cincinnati Gazette the reasons for General Banks' defection from General Grant. It consists of official correspondence between General Grant and General Halleck in relation to the conduct of the Red River expedition in 1864. General Grant evidently appreciated the military incapacity of Banks, and before he started on his ill-fated campaign said:—

"It is important to have some one near Banks who can issue orders to him and see that they are obeyed."

After Banks' disasterous defeat he wrote again:—

"You can see from General Brayman's dispatch to me something of General Banks' disaster. I have been satisfied for the last nine months that to keep General Banks in command was to neutralize a large force, and to support it most expensively."

A few days later he wrote:—

"General Banks ought to be ordered to New Orleans, and leave all further execution on Red River in other hands. I have just received two private letters, one from New Orleans and one anonymous from the Thirteenth corps, giving deplorable accounts of General Banks' mismanagement. His own report and these letters clearly show all his disaster to be attributable to his own incompetency."

And again:—

"General Banks, by his failure, has absorbed ten thousand veteran troops that should now be with General Sherman, and thirty thousand of his own, that should have been moving toward Mobile, and without accomplishing any good result."

On the 3d of May he wrote:—

* * * "It is now too late for Smith's force to return to be of any use in the spring campaign, but I do think it is a waste of strength to trust General Banks with a large command or an important expedition."

And on the 17th:—

"Private letters and official statements from the department of the Gulf show such a state of affairs there as to demand, in my opinion, the immediate removal of General Banks. The army is undoubtedly lost confidence in him."

There were many Connecticut and Massachusetts soldiers on the Red River expedition who will appreciate these extracts and remember how forlornly they used to sing, while retreating down the Red River country:—

"In eighteen hundred and sixty-four, Old Banks skedaddled from Grand Ecore."

STANLEY.—The New York Sun charges that Stanley, the reputed finder of Dr. Livingstone, is a fraud and a swindle of the deepest dye. It publishes fac similes of a letter purporting to have been penned by Livingstone and one from Stanley to Lewis H. Noe, which it says were undoubtedly written by Stanley.

Mr. Noe, who furnishes the Sun with its information on this subject, says that Stanley is a mere adventurer and that his letters are inventions from the begining. Noe says that when a boy of fifteen, near the close of the war, he enlisted in the navy, and was assigned to the frigate Minnesota, in which he discovered Stanley acting as ship's clerk. The future discoverer of Ujiji was conspicuous for his marked ability, intelligence, and skill as a peoman. Between he and Noe a familiarity at once began which soon ripened into the closest friendship. Stanley was full of aspirations for adventures, and proposed a European tour, to hasten which they deserted from the ship at Portsmouth, N. H., in February, 1865, making their escape by means of a pass forged by Stanley. Like all adventurers, they directed their footsteps to New York, where Stanley proposed that Noe should become a bounty jumper. Noe refused, and Stanley sought employment in a law office.

Stanley maintained an acquaintance and friendship with Noe and finally persuaded him to go with him to Central Asia. He pretended to have plenty of funds, but this was false and with a very meagre outfit they started with another man on a tour "through Asia Minor and Persia across Central Asia and through Thibet to the coast of India."

Stanley committed a robbery in a village 500 miles from Smyrna, and the party were obliged to flee. They were captured however by the Turks, who tortured them severely and robbed them of their effects. They were taken before the Cadi at Bfloom—Carra-Hissar, and tried, but managed to escape. Stanley, being penniless, made a visit to Constantinople, and by a plausible story, succeeded in extracting seven hundred dollars in gold from the American minister, Hon. E. Joy Morris. To do this, he represented that his father was a wealthy merchant of New York, and signed a draft upon him for he amount. It is needless to say that t was worthless. He then departed rom Constantinople clandestinely, and made a visit to Wales, his native country. Noe afterwards discovered that his real name was John Rowland, and and that he is a daring knave.

Mr. Noe is said, by his friends however, to be a high-minded, honest man, and he argues from these facts that Stanley's visit to Africa is pretended, that his letters from Livingstone are forgeries, and that the New York Herald is either the victim of his rascality or the perpetrator of a great imposition on the public in claiming that he has discovered Livingstone.

THE "LIBERAL" FRAUD IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The so called Liberal Republican party in this State has an existence only on paper, and even that is largely made up of pretension and fraud. Mr. William W. Wallace of East Canaan informs us that his name appears on the list of the "Liberal" Republican State Committee under misapprehension of his position. He says that he cannot support the "Liberal" ticket, and has special objections to supporting the Brown part of it. He knows Grant personally, and he also knows that he "takes too much." Mr. C. C. Webster of Concord, whose name also appears as a member of the "Liberal" State Committee, declares that he never authorized any such use of his name, and he boldly proclaims his intention to work and vote for Grant and Wilson. We have the best reasons for stating that the two or three Republicans who have gone into the "Liberal" movement in this State are already heartily sick of it. It has got its last recruit, and when November comes we shall not be surprised to see it reduced to the three original "repeaters," Kent, Gove and Baker, who went out to Cincinnati at Horace's request and gave him eight votes. So far as we can judge, the whole movement in this State rests upon a similar fraud. Every Greeley Republican is "repeated" three times, and then the woods are declared to be full of them. But this trio of repeaters has already discovered that the Republicans of New Hampshire cannot be bamboozled "worth a cent."—Nashua Telegraph.

A ROMANTIC STORY.—A Long Branch letter tells a romantic story of a buggy ride and its connubial consequences. The gentleman was a clerk in a banking house in Nassau street, near Pine. The lady was the only daughter of a wealthy dry goods man on Broadway and has a handsome cottage. The two were lovers, but the parents of the heiress were bitterly opposed to her union with the clerk, and after a great deal of solicitation and threatening she had finally consented to yield to her parents' wishes and to break the engagement. While they were out a furious storm arose and frightened their horse, which ran away and dashed the vehicle to pieces, without injury to the couple. They were near a farm house more than two miles from any other habitation, and the storm continued to rage with extraordinary violence. The lover urged that they should remain at the house over night and get married the next day. The heiress yielded to the force of his argument, combined with the force of circumstances and her own feelings, and the two passed Thursday night together in the humble abode. Next morning they were married, and Friday noon the lady, who had leaped into a buggy to bid her lover farewell, returned in a coach eternally united to him.

—Juarez, the late President of Mexico must have had many traits of real nobility. When Miramon held him prisoner at Guadalajara, the liberal forces came up and made an assault upon the city, and Miramon threatened to have Juarez shot within ten minutes if he did not sign an order to his army to desist from the attack. "What is the life of one man to the liberties of a nation? Let the assault go on. My life is in the hands of my Creator!" Juarez was affected to tears when the Princess Salm-Salm and Madame Miramon besought the lives of Maximilian, Miramon, and Mejia, but his reply was, "If they were personal enemies only, I would forgive them in a moment, but the law has rightly condemned them for murder; let justice take its course." When it is remembered that Maximilian and his generals had murdered nine thousand six hundred prisoners in cold blood, one can hardly pity them. On the other hand, Negrete, who had offered $85,000 for the head of Juarez, was forgiven.—Hearth and Home.

POLITICAL PROBABILITIES.—Aug. 27—Probabilities—Mixed weather will gradually disappear in Maine, Pennsylvania, Indiana and other States, with strong majorities for Grant and Wilson in September and October, accompanied by flurries and gusts occasioned by the hurrying back to the Republicans of clouds of "liberals," blown by strong winds from all directions. The great storm in North Carolina and West Virginia occurred as predicted in these dispatches, and the weather down there is now beautifully serene and certain. The heavy weather which threatened New York State is gradually but surely disappearing. The department predicts that on the 7th of November next a clear, strong, irresistible breeze, blowing from Lake Erie and the St. Lawrence to Montauk Point, will sweep over the State, and wipe out the last vestige of Tammany. Thereafter the air will be rarified and clarified, and the disturbing and impure element of Greeleyism will be driven far out into the Atlantic ocean.—Utica (N. Y.) Herald.

—When a life insuranceagent tackles a Terre Haute man, the latter strikes a position and says: "My life is as a withered tree, not worth insuring." An amateur dramatic association, with "Pizarro" as the opening play, accounts for it.

—Statistics show that the people of this country consume more sugar in proportion to the number of inhabitants than any other.

Disaster at Sea.

The steamer Metis, of Neptune line, on her trip from New York to Providence, Friday morning, collided with a schooner at 3 45 A. M., and sunk to her upper deck. About 80 passengers were drowned.

Political.

Frederick Douglass writes to his son from Maine, that he expects 10,000 Republican majority from the State on the ninth of September.

A Grant and wilson club of 749 was organized at Bath, Maine, Wednesday night.

Positive information has been received from responsible sources that O'Conor will accept the Louisville nomination.

One of the Maine Tanners was bothered by the wick of his torch dropping down, in Portland, and said to a crowd standing near who noticed that he had not tools at hand to pull up the wick: "Where's there a Democrat? I want to borrow a cork-screw."

The Boston News congratulates the Republican party on the exodus of Frank Bird, Sam Bowles, Wm. S. Robinson and others from its ranks—and well it may.

There is not an intelligent man in New Hampshire who believes to-day that Grant will carry this State. This kind of talk is mere bluff and brag.—Patriot.

For once we agree with the Patriot to a dot. Such talk as the Patriot's is the sheerest "bluff and brag."—Telegraph.

The New York World, Greeley, says: "Without a good State ticket we must not count too securely even upon carrying New York."

The Cincinnati Gazette tells the following story, the profanity of which must be pardoned in view of the Democracy of the principal actor:—"A bewildered watermelon peddler, caught in town the other night, stood on the corner of Fifth and Main, and watched with curious interest the Grant and Greeley processions as they passed along the latter street. As cheers went up for one candidate and the other, the face of our country friend wore a curious expression of disappointment and disgust. At last, seemingly unable to restrain his outraged feelings, he rushed into the middle of the street and gave one tremendous yell for 'Seymour and Blair.' This seemed to relieve him somewhat, and he returned to the sidewalk with the defiant assertion that 'he wan't afraid of all the black abolitionists in town if he war alone.' A Democrat who eats crow, hearing the well-known cry, and scenting a vote, approached the solitary champion of a lost cause, and endeavored to explain to him that Mr. Seymour was not a candidate, but that Mr. Greeley was now the candidate of the Democratic party. 'Greeley'—he gasped in reply—'Greeley—Democratic candi—oh h—ll! Greeley!' Ten minutes after, an empty watermelon wagon, driven by a furious man, dashed wildly out on the Lockport road, and high above the clatter of the wheels and the imprecations of the driver, came the fearful agonizing wail of 'Greeley a Democratic candidate; oh h—ll!'"

Gen. Butler and Fred Douglass addressed four acres of Republicans at Augusta, Maine, on Thursday.

Senator Wilson was recently knocked down by a team at Portland. The next night he was aboard the sleeping car of a Pullman train which ran off the track and was tumbled out of bed. He escaped injury both times.

Letter from Missouri represent a great reaction for Grant through that State, and it is thought he will carry Missouri by 20,000 majority.

State News.

The second crop of grass to be secured this year will be equivalent to the full crop of hay made in the State last year.

The Exeter News Letter says a four year old son of Rev. C. W. Miller of Dover was knocked down by a runaway horse, Aug. 16th, and had his left thigh broken.

Complaints of rust among potatoes are becoming very common.

Two men, named Moses Philer and John Garland, were blown up at the granite quarry at Concord on Thursday afternoon by a premature blast. Philer is probably fatally injured, being badly cut, bruised and burned. Garland will recover.

Five boys were drowned in the Niagara river, below Buffalo, by the sinking of a canal boat.

HELP NATURE TO RALLY.—After an attack of fever or other acute disease has passed off and nature is endeavoring to rally the debilitated system, help the effort with the standard vegetable tonic of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing known to the physician or the pharmacopolist expedites convalescence like this vitalizing invigorant. Persons who have been prostrated by long continued sickness recover their lost flesh, strength and cheerfulness in less than half the time that would be required to recuperate without it. It is the most genial as well as the most harmless of medicated stimulants, and as a remedy (as well as a preventive) of dyspepsia, bilious attacks, constipation, nervous diseases, &c., has no equal in the world. When all other tonics have failed this effects a cure.

THE PEOPLE'S STAMP OF VALUE.—The Government endorsement, which legalizes the sale of Plantation Bitters, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous Vegetable Tonic. It bears, in addition to that official sanction, the still more valuable stamp, public approbation. This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a tonic, Corrective and Alterative, is of much earlier date than the Government credential; for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the Grand Specific of the Age long before Congress thought of taxing proprietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail, the properties of this wonderful Vegetable Invigorant. The best reference that can be offered to those who desire the full particulars of its virtues, is the General Public. Ask those who have tried it as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, intermittent fevers, nervous debility, rheumatism, sea sickness, low spirits, or loss of vital power, what Plantation Bitters has done for them, and be governed by the response they make to your inquiries.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DECAY'S EFFACING FINGER.—Will never mar the teeth that are brushed daily with Odoriferous SOZODONT. It lends a floral fragrance to the breath as well as protects the teeth from corrosion and decomposition.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—When the flesh wastes, the strength declines, the liver becomes torpid, and the bowels become irregular, indigestion is the primary cause. In all such cases Holloway's Pills are an immediate, never failing cure. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price, 25 cents per box. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and the hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience of its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparations, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, quieting effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 35 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bonions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY

Second Grand Gift Concert.

DAY OF THE DRAWING FIXED.

No Postponement from Sept. 28.

To the Public:

The Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky being satisfied from the large sale of tickets already made, and the daily increasing demand for them, that there will be no occasion for postponing the second drawing in the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky, have instructed me, as their agent and manager of the Gift Concert, to say to the public and ticket-holders that the drawing will positively take place on September 28th prox., and will not be postponed. An active demand for tickets comes from every State and Territory of the United States, and from the Canadas, giving assurance to the Trustees that no circumstances can prevent a drawing at the appointed time.

A sufficient clerical force is engaged to keep up with the orders for tickets, and in order that this office may be relieved of the immense pressure incident to the business for the week or two immediately preceding the drawing, agents especially, and those desirous of procuring tickets, are requested to send in their orders immediately, as sales will have to be closed in time to make the necessary preparations for the drawing. It is the wish of the management to fill every order for a ticket, as well as to sell all the tickets, but those who apply first must first be supplied; and, if those who put off buying until sales are closed, have their money returned, instead of the tickets ordered, as in the first Gift Concert in December last, when thousands of dollars that came too late were sent back, they will have none to blame but themselves. LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

Two little gamins were heard chaffing each other a few days since, and finally began bragging as to the capabilities of their fathers. One finally outdid the other by claiming that his father could take off his hair and hang it on a nail when he went to bed!

Dr. Ryder will be at home and ready to attend to his patients on Monday, the 9th of September.

During a recent session of the Board of Assessors, an Engineer of a railroad running into Portsmouth appeared and asked for an abatement of his annual tax, thinking it too large. On being questioned, he told the members of the Board that they must have thought him a conductor, but he was only an engineer! His tax was abated.

Rev. William H. Alden will preach at the Baptist Church to-morrow, at the usual hours.

The members of Company C (juniors) Grant and Wilson Guards will meet at Republican Head quarters this (Saturday) evening at half past 8 o'clock for choice of officers, &c.

There will be Divine services in St. John's Church to-morrow evening, commencing at 7.15.

The severe storm of Friday disposed of four campaign flags in short order. The large Grant and Wilson flag at the Republican head-quarters was torn away a foot from the top and came down in the mud. The Greeley and Brown flags on Vaughan and Market Streets and the Greeley flag on Congress near the corner of Vaughan Street were also torn away. Some of the other flags that remained flying were uninjured, and others were hauled in. The one at the CHRONICLE office parted its halyards but rode the gale unharmed. The saddest thing for the Greeleyites in all this downfall of campaign bunting is that the most prominent Grant and Wilson flag in the city should be one of those blown away,—our Greeley neighbors could have raved so magnificently about "Radical outrages" and "trampling the nation's ensign in the mud" by the non-hand-claspers, but for that unlucky circumstance.

The Hamilton Camp Meeting, which closed Tuesday night, was probably the most successful ever held on the grounds.

The rainy weather of Friday interfered somewhat with the enjoyment of the visiting fire company from Lawrence, who returned home in the evening train. They were accompanied by the Haverhill Band, a fine musical organization, which serenaded Mayor Marvin at his residence on State Street, Thursday evening. The march of the Band and company to the Franklin House, that night, to the soul stirring "Marching Through Georgia Quickstep," the "Essex boys" joining in the chorus as they passed under the flags near Market Square, attracted much attention. On Friday, they partook of a bountiful collation prepared by No. 3's boys. We hope the company enjoyed their visit sufficiently well to come again and bring the same Band.

Coat makers wanted by J. E. Ham & Co., immediately.

We presume that when the clerk of the weather stirred up the east winds and let fall the moisture which saturated the Republican headquarters flag and tore it from its moorings, he had in his mind the idea frequently expressed by his moisture-inspiring friends that it was proper and honorable in such circumstances as now exist to remember the motto of the crow-eaters and gulls —"Anything to beat Grant!"

A Greeley Republican who went over about the time of the North Carolina election and is too proud to return, now confesses that he feels homesick every morning when he awakes. Poor fellow!

The brig Boston, of Calais, was driven ashore on Rye Beach, near the Farragut House, Friday morning, but the crew remained on board and were not considered in danger.

City Council.

In Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening, petition of S. F. Engine Co. No. 2, for $250, was granted.

C. E. Myers received liberty to encumber Jackson Street,—also to remove a tree under approval of Committee on Streets.

The Committee appointed to value land on proposed widening of Pleasant Street, reported; land occupied by Sam'l Adams, $80.50,—land of A. F. Craig, $15.— land of Mrs. A. R. P. Burroughs, $165. Said widening was referred to Committee on Streets, with Mayor added. It was voted to widen Brewery street, and Ald. Hatch, Annable and Wendell were appointed to award damages.

Clippings.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

—The Sherburne house at Christian Shore was sold at auction by Henry F. Wendell, Esq., on Wednesday last, to Mr. Daniel Ober for $3600.

—Dr. Geo. P. Haines, recently druggist on board the receiving ships Vandalia and Sabine, has opened practice as a physician at Valley Falls, R. I.

—We regret to learn that Rev. George M. Adams and family, now on their retrun from a tour of the East, have lost, by the wrecking of a vessel, the entire collection of curiosities gathered by them in Palestine. The family were not on the vessel.

—The Portsmouth Music Society decided on Monday evening not to make their proposed excursion to Wolfboro'. It is probable that they will picnic at Alton Bay sometime during the camp meeting session. The first regular rehearsal of the Society will be held Wednesday evening next at Tilton's music rooms.

—Joseph Jefferson, who is to appear here next Friday evening in the character of Rip Van Winkle, favors Portsmouth with a rare entertainment. He is too prominent an actor to require an editorial notice, further than the mere announcement of his coming; having received everywhere the welcome that he richly merits.

Nothing "Personal."

A few days since the Lyre squawked once more because its editor thought a squib published in our columns hit him. Then straightway he wished the people of this city to testify that he does not make personal attacks on either of the editors of the CHRONICLE—but only on "its political conduct." Waiving the disputation of such an unimportant matter, we can only regard his plea as one of cowardice. The extract below, which we take from the Lyre of Aug 28th, shows that this plea of not dealing in personalities does not hold when there is no danger of reply. On the evening of the 27th, a gentleman who never injured the cowardly editor of the Lyre, a respectable, hard-working citizen, who supports his family and pays his bills, chose to raise a Grant and Wilson flag, at which there was a large gathering of friends. Not content with abusing a man who had no opportunity of retorting, the contemptible editor chose to drag into his burlesque report, the wife of this gentleman, in the following manner:—

At Russell street they stopped at the house of an exceedingly loyal navy yard employe known as "Gimlet Eye." His wife calls him Joe, which we think is much the best name. Well, Joe run out a peculiar looking banner and the "Squash Bugs" cheered. Joe became excited and rushed madly through the crowd to the spot where the fiery eloquence of certain Grant orators was ready to burst. Joe had his little speech all ready, and with uncovered head he stood up.

The writer of the above "impersonal" extract claims immunity from personalities! He only denounces the "political conduct" of the CHRONICLE! Yet he has never missed an opportunity of making insulting personal flings at such Republicans as the late Mayor Walker, the past editors of the CHRONICLE (even the grave failing to protect from his slurs) and the present Chief Engineer of the Fire Department; and any political opponent of Willie's who may be afflicted with a physical misfortune or infirmity, can be sure the "smart little fellow" will trumpet aloud concerning it at the earliest opportunity. This he considers "smart," but when one of his own numerous tender spots is scraped he whines pitifully about "personalities in journalism"—thus proving himself even more of a cur than he is of a bully. Only twenty-four hours after his dismal squeal at our squib, he goes out of his way to publicly insult in his paper a gentleman and lady, whom he would fawn upon in a dancing assembly with characteristic obsequiousness! From the manner in which he conducts his paper we are every day more convinced of the appropriateness of the pet name applied to him about town, "Frank Jones' poodle,"—for like that noble species of canine he is ever ready to bark at any one who passes without noticing him, and to yelp terribly when kicked.

—A singularly painful circumstance attends the death of a Monroe gentleman, which occurred last week. Last winter he made an agreement with his wife to the effect that should she kindle the fire mornings for six months he would do it for the same length of time. She had just completed her part of the contract when he died. It is a very sad affair.—Danbury News.

—The Kansas Pacific passenger train lost its sleeping car, and the conductor discovered it and went back sixty miles before he found it, and the passengers were sleeping in peaceful innocence wait for a freight train to run into them.

—It is proposed to tunnel under the Strait of Canso, between Nova Scotia and Cape Breton, to land. The distance is about twenty-four miles, and the estimated cost is only two and a half millions of dollars.

—It seems probable that the deficiency in the supply of grain, which the floods in Bohemia and Hungary were calculated to produce this year, will be almost entirely covered by the abundant crop in France.

The Amesbury Journal says;—

"The managers of the Eastern railroad—the directors, Mr. Prescott and Mr. Hatch—were here this week, for an examination of the proposed road from Salisbury to Epping; and are desirous of leasing it as soon as it can be built. It is of the utmost importance to Salisbury, Amesbury and Newburyport has voted $75,000 in its aid. If it is begun this year, that subscription holds good, and we presume that every town along the route will do as much in aid, in proportion to its valuation. This road will give new life, increase business, and make this a railroad centre of much importance."

The Boston and Mutual base ball clubs play on the Union Ground, Boston, to-day.

—A letter from Brownsville, Texas, says that the people are suffering very much for want of rain. Thousands of cattle are dying upon the plains for want of water.

HIS LAST VISIT.—Some years ago, there lived a gentleman, of indolent habits, in Sussex, who made a business in the winter season of visiting his friends extensively. After wearing out his welcome in his own immediate vicinity, he thought he would visit an old Quaker friend, some twenty miles distant, who had been a schoolfellow of his. On his arrival, he was cordially received by the Quaker, thinking his visitor had taken much pains to come so far to see him. He treated his friend with great attention and politeness for several days, and, as he did not see any sign of his leaving, he became uneasy; but he bore it with patience till the morning of the eighth day, when he said to him:—

"My friend, I am afraid thee will never visit me again."

"Oh, yes, I shall," said the visitor; "I have enjoyed my visit very much; I shall certainly come again."

"Nay," said the Quaker; "I think thee will not visit me again."

"What makes you think I shall not come again?" asked the visitor.

"If thee dost never leave," said the Quaker, "how canst thee come again?"

—The value of a letter may be seen by omitting the s from speculation, and you get "peculation," an ugly word. This is a mistake which American printers should avoid for patriotism, if for no other reason. Take away this letter, and what is left of the Stars and Stripes? Nothing more than Tar and Tripe.

—Gold wears away in the handling. Government officials state that in the simple counting and transfer of one million dollars from one vault to another the loss by abrasion amounts to $6.

—He who receives a good turn should never forget it; he who does one should never remember it.

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood.

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They current only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild and yet as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

— OF —

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are so we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does twice the sewing done in this country and possesses its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cures of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Obstructions of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

FEMALE LIFE IN HAVANA.—After sunset the grand Plaza is crowded with a galaxy of beauty. It is to that particular place the youth and beauty of Havana resort, and ladies of the darkest hue to the lightest blondes of the north are seated in their volantes, listening to the beautiful music of the Marine Band, which discourses sweet music every evening, or chatting with some young gent, or, perhaps, promenading on the plaza with some lady friend, followed closely by her father or brother. Speaking of this anti-American custom reminds me of the Circassian that if Susan B. Anthony and her satellites of the Sorosis Club had a taste of Cuban life, their tongues would be forever sealed as to their privileges in the States.

Ladies are prisoners here. To appear on the street without an escort is sure to bring the hisses of the crowd and perhaps an insult; the ladies of Havana, therefore, have to conform to custom —either stay in doors or employ a carriage to come and take them, if only a few blocks distant, and when attending a party, picnic or ball always be accompanied by their mothers. This close system of watching females is not productive of good, and the result is, they are not as healthy and robust as they might be, and by close confinement their offspring are puny and sickly; and in a moral point of view it is equally disastrous. If it was not for the healthy, robust Spanish ladies who emigrate here, this race would in a century or two become instinct.

One may see here a conglomeration of nearly all the races known. The Chinese and African, and Spanish, the Cuban and African and in fact every conceivable form of marriage is indulged in; as to the result of which I leave you to draw your own conclusion. A lady of this island is never supposed to be able to do any thing but eat and sleep, with slaves and servants to do her bidding. In the morning it is first a bath, soap not being used, but in its stead a wash of "aguadiente," similar to our bay rum made from sugar cane, after which they take their coffee, and at 10 A. M. their breakfast.

FOWLS IN ORCHARDS.—The public has yet to learn the full advantage of keeping poultry. Few seem to appreciate what they do among trees in an orchard. Let any one try them in an orchard of a quarter of an acre, where they may be kept by a picket fence four or five feet high; put in, say 125 fowls, and observe the result. They will avoid annoyance in the garden, of which so many complain, while they work among the trees, doing just what is needed and destroying everything that can injure the fruit trees, in the shape of bugs, worms or other insects, and laying a large number of eggs, which are a cash article, to say nothing of the chickens, which pay well for raising at the present time. I have tried it, and know it is so. I have about 100 fowls which have worked admirably among my trees, keeping the ground in condition, keeping off the insects, and promoting the growth of the orchard. I am satisfied that we have yet to learn the full benefit which may be derived from the proper management of fowls; and it is quite possible that the method I have suggested may offer the best way of getting our apple orchards in good bearing condition. — Farmer's Home Journal.

AN INHUMAN CONDUCTOR.—We referred in our Sunday's issue to the loss of a child from a train on the M., K. & T. road, and the mother going back next morning and finding the child by the road dead. We have since heard additional facts in regard to it which place the conductor of the train in a very bad light. The facts, as told us, are these: A train bound for Texas had on board a large number of travelers and emigrants, among them a lady with a little boy aged seven years, who had the ague. When about sixty miles below the State line, the boy, who had been walking about the car during the evening, fell off. This was not known by the mother until the train had gone two miles, and the lady sought the conductor and asked him to back the train which he refused to do. The lady then asked the conductor to stop the train and let her off, which he also refused to do, and in spite of her tears and entreaties carried her down to the next station, where she was compelled to stay over night and wait for an up train the next morning. On return the boy was found. He had crawled up the embankment among the grass, and resting his curly head among the wild flowers of the prairie, and drenched with the terrific thunder storm of Friday night, he was dead.

The action of the conductor, Mr. — Dobbins, in refusing either to return or to stop the train and let the lady get off was heartless in the extreme, and we hope the company will immediately discharge the conductor unless our information is incorrect, which we do not believe it to be as it came from first-class authority; but we hope, for the general reputation of humanity, that it is.—Fort Scott Monitor.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should live it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,
Pulmocine Cordial
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come will scarcely a moment's warning when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen year spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, QUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.
USE BUCHMAN'S
PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the brain, strengthens and exercises the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.
COUCHS. Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.
CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest heels, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Alleyantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.
PILES have been a terror to mankind from time immemorial, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

The Metis Disaster.

Steamer Metis, which was sunk in Long Island Sound, Friday morning, was a freight boat recently altered to a passenger boat. She left New York with one hundred and four passengers, forty-five deck hands, waiters and servants, and a very full cargo, consisting principally of fruit, but comprising besides nine horses and a considerable lot of cotton and dry goods. This unusually large number of passengers was due to the fact that excursion tickets which had been issued were good only until September 2. A severe storm sprang up soon after midnight, and when it was at its height, the wind blowing a gale and the rain falling in torrents, she came in contact with a schooner whose bowsprit pierced her bow and caused a slight shock, which was felt only by a few on board. A few of the passengers awoke, and some dressed themselves and went on deck, where they found everything quiet, and returned to their staterooms. Charles Fillmore, a Nova Scotian, who was in the cook's gallery, went out to see what caused the shock, but the watchman told him that there was nothing the matter, and he went back into the galley. Shortly after, the steamer was fast sinking. Captain Hull and Captain Burton aroused the passengers as fast as they could, told them the vessel was sinking, and ordered them to put on their life-preservers, at the same time calling on the hands to pass them out. Fillmore noticed that the vessel was sinking and went on deck, remarking as he did so, that between decks was clear. He noticed no great confusion, but saw some persons attempting to let down a boat, and helped them. Several jumped into the boat as soon as she touched the water—about twenty, Fillmore thinks—and a wave took it, and capsized it at once. Of the twenty persons in it, he could see but nine when they again reached the boat, which was full of water. At least a third of them were among the nine who regained the boat. No one knows where the others are,—whether they were all lost, or whether some of them were among those who were picked up on spars or bales of cotton. Meanwhile, on the fated steamer, which was rapidly sinking, there seemed to be none of the hurry one might expect of people suddenly aroused from sleep. The passengers seemed dazed or stupid, and failed to comprehend the impending danger. The officers and clerk of the boat seemed as cool as if the land was in sight, instead of six miles distant. But as far as can be ascertained, they paid much greater attention to getting life-preservers ready than to looking after the boats.

James T. Jackson, who was detailed to go in the lifeboat, reports that it was lowered away safely with twenty-three passengers, many of them ladies, only three of whom had life-preservers. A single wave of the heavy sea struck it, capsized it, and twelve of the twenty-three never reached the boat again. Three of the firemen stole one of the boats and were off with it before any one claimed it. By the time that the life-preservers had been distributed, some passengers who came out of their berths to see what had happened, on returning found their life-preservers gone. All the boats had left the wreck and at least fifty, one-third of the whole number of souls on board, found themselves in the midst of the gale on the hurricane deck of the steamer, which was slowly sinking beneath the waves, and no land within six miles. Within less than three-quarters of an hour from the time she was struck she sank in deep water, and the hurricane deck, crowded with men, women and children, floated off. Just as he reached the upper deck having found his life-preserver stolen from his state-room, Mr. A. S. Gallup saw the last boat pulling off. He jumped into it, and that, too, turned over. There were nine persons in it when it was lowered; but five appeared after she capsized. This boat drifted about for four hours, and after passing several vessels, which failed to hear their call, was picked up by Captain George A. Harrison's fishing smack of New London. The other persons in it were the second mate and two deck hands. The hurricane deck was borne down almost to the water's edge, but it is believed that none were washed off. The tide had turned about two hours before the accident, but the unfortunates on the raft knew not whither they were drifting, until daylight. The wind continued and the rain fell unceasingly, but they were nevertheless slowly but surely drifting towards land. The boat in which Fillmore and eight others were was hardly a more desirable hope for safety. After it had been capsized and he with others thrown out, he swam for fifteen minutes before he reached it and then it was full of water. Bailing was in vain, for every sea would fill it full. They could do nothing with their oars, so they floated with the wreck. Some in despair at finding no life-preservers, and some who had them, threw overboard spars, boxes and bales of cotton, and clung to them with all the desperation of drowning men. About eleven o'clock the wreck was discovered from the Larkin House, and a life-boat put out. At a quarter of eight o'clock the deck was thrown on shore and soon smashed in a thousand pieces by the surf, which was rolling in on waves from ten to twenty feet high. It is believed that all on the deck were saved. The life boat picked up seventeen, fifteen of whom were living. They were in the last stages of exhaustion, and one or two died after reaching the shore, while others are in a precarious situation.

Charles Young, a jewelry dealer of Attleborough, clung to a cotton bale until his stiffened fingers refused to hold on any longer, and was rescued supporting himself by his teeth.

The last persons rescued were saved just as the tide turned and they were drifting out to sea. The schooner A. H. Belden, from Elizabethport for Plymouth, arrived at Newport, having two dead bodies on board, one male and one female, which the crew picked up off Watch Hill. They both had life-preservers on, marked "Metis." From papers upon the body of the gentleman, he is supposed to be Emil Stampe, fresco artist of Newark, N. J. In his pocket was found a stateroom key marked 13, and his watch was stopped at a quarter to one. The lady was about thirty years of age. Upon her left forefinger is a plain gold ring and a chased ring marked "N. A."

One hundred and forty-one of the passengers and crew have been saved. Twenty-two bodies have been found, all there were drowned.

The schooner which collided with the Metis was the Nettie Cushing, from Thomaston for New York. The captain states that he was ran into. He hailed the steamer to lay by, but finding his vessel not sinking made for New London, where he now is.

THE VOTE OF NEW YORK CITY.—The New York Times estimates that about 125,000 votes will be thrown in that city for President. It is assured that there will be no illegal voting and that Greeley cannot receive 25,000 majority, against 61,000 majority for Seymour four years ago, when Seymour carried the State by 10,000 majority. It estimates an increase of the Grant Republican vote to 54,000 in 1872, the same vote polled for the Republican State Ticket last year. The Greeley Republican vote is estimated at 5000 and the Grant Democratic vote at 6000—leaving Grant 55,000 of the 125,000 votes of the city. Allowing 10,000 votes as a margin for erroneous estimates, and counting the Apollo Hall O'Brien Democrats as anti-Grant, the Times says 25,000 is a high estimate of the anti-Republican majority in the city, as many of the Departments are now under Republican control. The article in the Times closes as follows:—

We carried the State last Fall by a majority of 20,000 when there was a Democratic majority in this city of 29,000. We promise to do at least 4,000 better in the City this year.

ILLINOIS.—Senator Logan has completed a speaking tour through southern Illinois, during which he visited ten or twelve counties, and addressed as many large and enthusiastic audiences. Wherever he has been he says he has found the Republicans enthusiastic to a degree unknown since 1860, the feeling fully equalling that of the memorable year when Abraham Lincoln was chosen President over an opposition far more powerful and much better organized than any which now exists. Enrolled among the members of the Tanner and Grant and Wilson clubs, and training with them in the campaign, are many voters of Democratic antecedents, whose disgust for the Greeley fraud led them to pronounce for Grant early in the campaign. A large portion of the Democratic party in the section referred to is for Greeley; but there are nevertheless a considerable number of irreconcilables who are waiting for Louisville. General Logan estimates the number of Democrats who will vote for Grant at five to every one Greeley Republican.

The Latest Disaster.

Steamer Bienville, from New York for Aspinwall, was lost last week. Thirty-four passengers were drowned.

Political.

The best nomination the Republicans of the 6th Massachusetts district can make for a Congressional candidate is Mrs. Livermore. She would honor her constituents and herself.

The New York city delegates to the Louisville Convention represent $20,000,000. The convention will meet tomorrow.

The majority for Davis, independent Democrat, for Congress in West Virginia, is 805. He made the canvass as an avowed irreconcilable opponent of Greeley, and his friends talk of bringing his name before the Louisvill convention as a candidate for Vice-President.

Gen. Hancock is said to sympathize with the Louisville conventionists, and is mentioned for Vice President.

The Hawkeye girls of Iowa, are all for Grant and Wilson. They had a torchlight procession of their own in Burlington on the evening of Aug. 21st.

Much enthusiasm for the Louisville movement is reported in New York.

Mark Stevens, who ran for the Legislature in Craven county, N. C., got 1128 votes, and E. R. Dudley, his father's former slave, got 2660 votes.

Charles O'Conor intimates that he will not run for governor of New York, but says he shall not positively decline until the nomination is offered him. He is equally reticent about Louisville, but his friends say he will accept the nomination.

The Georgia Constitutionalist mentions one hundred and fourteen Southern Democratic papers that refuse to support Greeley.

The New York Times, which has taken the place of the New York Tribune as the leading Republican paper of the country, gained 15,280 daily and 70,200 weekly subscribers in the past three months. Glad of it.

A subscription to help on the Greeley campaign, says the Buffalo Express, was recently taken up in Morrissey's gambling den, at Saratoga. The handsome sum of $1400 was collected.

The Maine Republicans will hold two hundred meetings this week. The congressional districts are looking finely and we shall sweep them all with majorities ranging from 1000 to 3000. Our friends in Knox county are confident that they will carry the county, giving us a clear Republican senatorial board.

Hon. D. W. Gooch is said to have the inside track for the Republican Congressional nomination in the fifth Massachusetts district, though the friends of Messrs. Alley and Buffum are not without hopes.

The straight Democrats of Iowa held a mass convention in Des Moines city Wednesday night, and selected delegates to the Louisville convention. Resolutions were adopted protesting against the sale of the party to Horace Greeley, and declaring that defeat on true principles is better than victory on an inglorious policy.

The New York Independent says of General Dix: His nomination is equivalent to his election, and that too by a large majority. There are thousands of war Democrats in the State whose natural place is with the Republican party, and who under the leadership of General Dix will this fall give it their cordial support. This we regard as settling the question for Mr. Greeley, so far as the State of New York is concerned. The Greeley and Fenton faction having gone over to the Democracy, Republicans are now a unit in respect to both national and State politics. With General Grant for their standard-bearer in the one relation, and the honored name of General Dix in the other, they will sweep the State.

Gen. W. L. Ward, an old Democrat, is doing great good in the central part of Kentucky, in the canvass for the Republican national ticket. His meetings are reported as large and enthusiastic.

Private letters from North Carolina state, in reference to the frauds which are so generally charged by liberal papers, that an examination shows that in the very counties in which the vote is declared in excess of the legitimate number of voters, the Democrats made their largest gains, while the Republicans have merely held their vote of 1868. An instance of this kind of fraud occured in Halifax county, in which the Democratic majority was largely increased, the Republican vote continuing at nearly its previous figures, this being one of the counties in which the liberals claim the largest frauds on account of the impossibly large number of votes polled.

—Henry Winton, a St. Louis mulatto, has turned completely white.

—The St. Paul papers address the Mississippi as the great "paternal drainer."

—The Louisville Courier-Journal speaks of a well-known newspaper man, as assistant idiot on the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

—A Southern woman became so frantic in her religious zeal at a camp-meeting that she managed to dislocate her left arm.

—The inhabitants of Rhode Island are wasting time in going up by small detachments in a balloon, when, if they'd just pass the blade of a penknife under the State, they might all go up together.

AN ESSENTIAL OF LOVELINESS.—To be entirely beautiful the hair should be abundant and lustrous. This is absolutely essential to complete loveliness. The most regular features, the most brilliant complexion and pearliest teeth fail of their due effect if the hair be thin, dry, or harsh. On the contrary the plainest face, if it be but surmounted by luxuriant and silken tresses, is apt to impress the beholder with a sense of actual beauty. That crowning ornament of her sex is, happily, within the reach of lovely women and being as discriminating as she is lovely, she long ago discovered that Lyon's Katharion was the sure means of securing it. No preparation for the Hair ever enjoyed a tithe of its popularity, and no wonder, since it produces such gratifying results. Applied to the waste and barren places of the scalp, it fructifies and enriches them with a new and ample growth. It is not, of course, pretended that it will do this if the capacity for reproduction is extinct, but so long as it remains that wonderful rehabilitant will assuredly propagate the germ of the hair into life and activity.

THE STOMACH AS AN AVENGER.—For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthful solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact on all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organ.

CASTORIA.—A substitute for Castor Oil—is a physic which does not distress or gripe, but is sure to operate when all other remedies have failed. You may confidently rely upon the Castoria in Stomach-ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Cloup, Worms, Piles or deranged Liver.—It contains neither Minerals, Morphine, Opium nor Alcohol, but is purely a vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless, and above all, pleasant to take. The Castoria soothes and quiets the system, and produces natural sleep. It is a wonderful thing to assimilate the food of children and prevent them from crying. A 35 cent bottle will do the work for a family and save many doctors' bills.

THE PEOPLE'S STAMP OF VALUE.—The Government endorsement, which legalizes the sale of Plantation Bitters, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous Vegetable Tonic. It bears, in addition to that official sanction, the still more valuable stamp, public approbation. This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a tonic, Corrective and Alterative, is of much earlier date than the Government credential; for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the Grand Specific of the Age long before Congress thought of taxing proprietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail, the properties of this wonderful Vegetable Invigorant. The best reference that can be offered to those who desire the full particulars of its virtues, is the General Public. Ask those who have tried it as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, intermittent fevers, nervous debility, rheumatism, sea sickness, low spirits, or loss of vital power, what Plantation Bitters has done for them, and be governed by the response they make to your inquiries.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

THE THIEF who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article, he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and grey heads, it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

DECAY'S EFFACING FINGER.—Will never mar the teeth that are brushed daily with Odenferous SOZODONT. It lends a floral fragrance to the breath as well as protects the teeth from corrosion and decomposition.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases. For sale at the Union Store.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. n12

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY

Second Grand Gift Concert.

DAY OF THE DRAWING FIXED.

No Postponement from Sept. 28.

To the Public:

The Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky being satisfied from the large sale of tickets already made, and the daily increasing demand for them, that there will be no occasion for postponing the second drawing in the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky, have instructed me, as their agent and manager of the Gift Concert, to say to the public and ticket-holders that the drawing will positively take place on September 28th prox., and will not be postponed. An active demand for tickets comes from every State and Territory of the United States, and from the Canadas, giving assurance to the Trustees that no circumstance can prevent a drawing at the appointed time.

A sufficient clerical force is engaged to keep up with the orders for tickets, and in order that this office may be relieved of the immense pressure incident to the business for the week or two immediately preceding the drawing, agents especially, and those desirous of procuring tickets, are requested to send in their orders immediately, as sales will have to be closed in time to make the necessary preparation for the drawing. It is the wish of the management to fill every order for a ticket, as well as to sell all the tickets, but those who apply first must first be supplied; and, if those who put off buying until sales are closed, have their money returned, instead of the tickets ordered, as in the first Gift Concert in Louisville, when thousands of dollars that came too late were sent back, they will have none to blame but themselves. Laconics.

The Greeleyites are to organize a company of "Tumble Bugs," to-morrow evening, for street parade.

Steamer Appledore made two trips on Friday, though the sea was so heavy at the Shoals that her cargo could not be landed. On the way out, in the forenoon, a boat containing a man and boy was picked up, having been out all night and lost sails.

A splendid Grant & Wilson flagstaff one hundred and fifteen feet high was erected by Mr. Albert Batchelder at Little Boar's Head last Thursday.

Mr. Carl Meinerth of Newburyport, formerly of this city, has a card in Saturday's Herald declaring that he was surprised at seeing his name among the vice presidents of a Greeley club. Mr. Meinerth says he will wait until there is but one Republican party in the land before taking any interest in politics.

A road in North Hampton has a sign naming it "Greeley avenue." As the road ends at the salt water it is considered to be emblematic of the road which Horace is now travelling.

Mr. Poore of Somerville, Mass., of the well know firm of Stickney & Poore, is the gentleman who has purchased Star Island.

At Little Boar's Head, on Friday afternoon, John H. Brown of North Hampton and James Keith of Covington, Ky., took a dory and started from the beach to remove a wherry which was lying at the moorings bottom up. In attempting to right the wherry their dory capsized, the oars washed overboard and they began to drift to sea. Mr. Ambrose Batchelder at once started to save them in a dory, but while trying to take them off his own boat became nearly filled. Mr. Batchelder then returned to the shore, and, with two other gentlemen, Messrs. Nash and Brown, took a whaleboat and again went to the rescue. The dory was overtaken at a distance of about a mile from the shore and its occupants removed to the whaleboat, which then returned in safety to the beach. The heavy sea running, Friday, made the launching and landing of boats exceedingly hazardous and the daring rescuers deserve great praise for their courageous deed.

G. A. Finkelnburg, M. C., from St. Louis, Mo., is stopping at the Ocean House, Rye Beach.

If any Republican or Democrat deserves pay for campaigning, it is the editor of a daily newspaper who is obliged to open campaign documents and—drop them into the waste basket. It is estimated that 1440 minutes each day are wasted in the United States in this unprofitable undertaking.

Cyrus Eastman's flagstaff at Little Boar's Head leans strongly to the eastward. The cause is supposed to be the bricks in the brown hat nailed to that side of the pole.

A Pullman car is now attached to the 12.30 train from Boston to Portland on the Eastern railroad.

A dispatch from the Sea View House says schooner Boston, which went ashore in the gale of Friday opposite the Sea View, is loaded with lumber and will probably be a total loss.

Those Spars.

One Sylvester Hanscom of Eliot, Me., strives to make Greeley political capital by the statement in the Lyre that the Navy Yard officials have allowed Republicans to take spars from the Yard from which to suspend campaign flags. The facts are that these spars were long ago condemned and that the first spars obtained for raising flags were loaned to Ephraim C. Spinney, Esq., of Kittery, a life-long Democrat, who took them from the Yard three or four weeks ago by consent of the officers in charge, and had them raised in Kittery. No spars that can be of any use to the government have been taken, and a Republican who knows the particulars of the whole affair informs us that all the condemned spars kindly loaned by the officers of the Yard to both parties are not worth over $4.50 for firewood—and will be worth no less than they are now when returned, after the November election. So much for Mr. Hanscom whose front name is Sylvester and his absurd charge of "squandering the public money."

—An observant tourist says that the municipal authorities of Knoxville run that city as cheap as an Irish poor house, and with similar happy results.

—There has been another victim in New York to the careless administration of ether.

A Sad Accident.

A sad accident occurred in Eliot, on Friday last, the circumstances of which are as follows: A young lady named Sargent whose parents reside in Boston has been spending a few weeks with her aunt in Eliot, and on Friday evening took a ride with an uncle as far as Eliot post office to deposit a letter. On their return, when near home, the man got out, and leaving the young woman in the wagon, climbed over the wall to pick up some apples when the horse became frightened and ran away at a furious rate towards the house, leading to which was a gateway where there was a large and small gate, the former being closed and the latter open. The affrighted animal dashed wildly through this small aperture wide enough only to admit the horse, bringing the carriage so forcibly against the large gate posts as to throw Miss Sargent some fifteen feet into a wood pile by the road side, striking her head and fatally injuring her so that she died on Saturday at noon.

It is said that the victim of this sad accident was a young lady of remarkable sweetness of disposition and beloved by every one who knew her. Her mother had a premonition of the death of her daughter, insomuch that she warned the relatives at whose house the young lady was stopping not to leave her child in a carriage alone with the horse attached, as she feared that some accident might thereby befall her.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—Friday afternoon, during the height of the storm, a party of gentlemen and a party of ladies took backs and rode out the Portland Head to enjoy the grandeur of the scene which is presented at the place during a gale. Both parties arrived about the same time, and alighting proceeded to the rocks to get a better view of the angry waves as they roared and broke upon the ledges. The hackmen, who were acquaintances, named Augustus Williams and Freeman Bean, went together, with the party, and while the gentlemen and ladies were standing in two groups on the top of the rocks the hackmen passed around a point down on a lower shelf where the spray broke furiously. Both were dressed in long rubber coats, boots and cape caps, and they sat there a few minutes allowing the spray to dash over them and laughing to see the water run away. Some of the party attempted to warn them of their danger, but the force of the wind prevented them from hearing what was said. Soon a great roller came in and rose over the rock, lifting the men up and carrying them off into the awful tumult of waters. The people on the rock were paralyzed with fear. It was a terrible sight and they knew that ten thousand men could not have stayed those terrible elements. One gentleman from Cape Cottage, who chanced to be present, threw off his coat and ran to a little cove close by, hoping that the men might be swept in there and possibly saved. But he arrived just in time to see them disappear. The party on the rock saw the men swept away, and brought back on the top of the wave and dashed against the rocks. As one of them was borne toward the shore, the undertow uncovered a rock a little distance from the base of the cliff. He attempted to grasp it, but he was powerless against the force of the waves. He seemed to be dashed against the ledge and hurled back into the seething waters; and almost before one could tell the story both men had disappeared. Horror-stricken and almost overcome with the awfulness of the scene, the party returned to their carriages. Some drivers were procured at Cape Cottage, and they came back to the city with the sad news. Augustus Williams was the owner of his hack, while Bean drove for William Sweet. The former was a married man and lived on Merrill street. He had no children. Bean was a single man, about 25 years of age. The accident occurred at just fifteen minutes past four o'clock.—Press.

SEA LIONS.—The San Francisco Chronicle says, "There is an old salt hereabouts known as Captain Eastman, who makes a regular business of catching sea lions alive. There is a large and constantly increasing demand for these pets from Eastern showmen, and Captain Eastman now has a schooner out on a hunt for a whopper for a man named Barnum, who runs a small side show in New York. The animals are usually lassoed, though sometimes chloroform is used. A great many are killed after being lassoed—if they reach the water—the lassoes stopping their breath and drowning them. The captain has one now caged which weighs nearly 2500 pounds. The best plan of catching them is by the use of chloroform, which renders them powerless, but they require an immense amount of this costly drug. The captain is now making a mammoth net, with which he believes he can capture them cheaper and better than by any other method.

—Richmond, Va., rejoices over a herd of African goats. These goats can propel a 200 pound negro nineteen rods when they have a fair chance at him.

—Sentiment in New York is rapidly drifting in favor of having the judges appointed, and not elected.

Mr. Dawson, the well-known geographer, has returned from Zanzibar. He reports having been in communication with Dr. Livingstone, and states that the latter does not regard the Geographical Society as wholly friendly. He expresses himself as dissatisfied with its refusal to accept certain of his statements regarding the Nile question, which he claims to have been the fruit of actual and laborious investigation.

THE DAIRY.—We lately saw a recipe for keeping dairy utensils pure and sweet, which we think cannot but be advantageous. Keep close by the table on which the milk things are washed a small tub or large one, according to the size of your dairy. In this, slack some quick lime, enough to make a thin white wash; fill with water, cover closely to keep out dirt and dust. The lime will settle, leaving a saturated solution of lime water over it, as clear as spring water. Wash the utensils as usual; then dip each article into the tub of lime water, giving them a quick turn so that every part will be immerged in the lime water; then set them up to drain and dry, and the purification is complete. We presume, in the case of a churn, cheese tub, cheese press, or other large article, that pouring the lime water over it will answer the purpose just as well, though using the lime water up sooner than by dipping into the cask. The lime in the clear water instantly neutralizes the acidity of the milk which may yet remain in the seams or cracks of the milk vessels. The lime keeps the water pure all summer, and the loss of water by evaporation may be made up by adding clear water when needed, as the lime settled at the bottom will keep up the strength of the saturated solution.

KEEP THE HEART ALIVE.—The longer I live the more expedient I find it to endeavor more and more to extend my sympathies and affections. The natural tendency of advancing years is to narrow and contract these feelings. I do not mean that I wish to form a new friendship every day, to increase my circle of intimates—these are very different affairs. But I find that it conduces to my mental health and happiness to find out all I can which is amiable and lovable in those I come in contact with, and to make the most of it. It may fall very short of what I was once wont to dream of; it may not supply the place of what I have known, felt and tasted; but it is better than nothing. It seems to keep the feelings and affections alive in its humanity; and till we shall be all spiritual, this is alike our duty and our interest.—The Moravian.

AYER'S PURGATIVE PILLS.

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and vigor to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED. It runs lighter, speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

—There are eighty lady students in the University of Zurich—most of them studying medicine, and undergoing the same sort of disreputable treatment from their male fellow-students and the professors that they have had to endure here. How it must make gentlemanly physicians blush to think of the disgrace brought upon their noble profession by such savages! The movement for the medical education of women has gone too far now to be checked by bluster.—Hearth and Home.

—"Would you take the last cent a person has for a glass of soda water?" asked a Kankakee youth. "Yes," responded the unthinking proprietor; whereupon hopeful pulled out the cent and got the drink.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians, as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Limbs, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely represents more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1872.

Loss of Steamship Bienville.

Capt. Jefferson Maury, of steamer Bienville, arrived at Havana on the 30th ult. He reports that his vessel was burned on the 15th, having left New York five days previous. Fire was discovered below at 3.45 A. M.; steam and water were immediately turned on, but the steam-pumps, after a few revolutions, broke down and could not be worked. Captain Maury then ordered the hatches to be battened down, hoping thereby to smother the fire, and at the same time fire-extinguishers were used below and steam kept on. The fire gained, however, rapidly, and at six o'clock the captain, fearing an explosion from powder stored in the hold if they remained in the ship any longer, ordered the six boats out, and the crew began to embark. At half-past seven Captain Maury was forced to leave the ship, being the last one on board. One of the boats capsized after leaving the ship, and from seven to ten of the inmates, including two women, were drowned. After sunrise a fresh breeze sprang up. The capsized boat was righted and bailed out and reached Cat Island in safety. The other boats, except one, reached, Eleuthera Island a distance of 150 miles from the scene of the disaster. The missing boat has not been heard from, but it is supposed was picked up by a passing vessel, as an empty boat was seen drifting by Eleuthera Island, with a life preserver in it. One of the boats in attempting to land at Eleuthera Island was capsized, and more drowned. At 1:30 P. M. the Bienville exploded and immediately sank.

There were 92 persons on board. Sixteen were drowned; thirty-six are missing.

The Louisville Convention.

On Monday morning about 150 delegates had arrived. Senator Bayard is spoken of for Chairman. Hon. A. H. Stephens is strongly supported for Vice President.

THE TRIBUNE'S WAIL.—Elsewhere we copy from the New York Tribune an article that has a very doleful sound, in view of Mr. Greeley—who is, no doubt, the author of it—tells his friends to conduct the campaign in his behalf. As we have read the Tribune in its better days, and learned from Mr. Greeley the character of the men to whom he now looks for support, we think the following suggestions would be much more appropriate than those contained in the Tribune article.

1. Don't drink too much rum just now. It is very well known that all Democrats love rum above everything else, but the hot weather co-operating with the delirium tremens may reduce the vote unless precautions of sobriety be taken at once.

2 Don't kill any niggers. The Democratic party hates niggers, but the present is a bad time to kill them. Postpone your intentions for the present, for the good of the cause. There will be plenty of time to kill niggers, and plenty of niggers to kill, after we have won our triumph in November.
